TURKS FORDE BRITISH BACK IN MESOPOTAMIA

TOWNSHEND WITHDRAWS IN FACE OF MOSLEM REINFORCEMENTS, SAYS LONDON.

SERBIA NOW SNOW-COVERED

Reported Austria Wants Separate Peace, Presumably With Italy, but Report is Discredited.

London.—The campaign in the Near East is about to enter a new phase, upon which the visit of Lord Kitchener to Paris and Emperor William to Vienna, it is believed, will have an important effect.

Winter Stops Operations. So far as Serbia is concerned, winter appears virtually to have put an end to any important movements, although the Austrians are proceeding to deal with the Montenegrins, whose frontier they have crossed, while the Bulgarians are attempting to advance to Pristina and Monastir.

With heavy and continuous snow storms, reaching the proportions of a blizzard, these operations must be slow, especially as the Serbians and Montenegrins are still offering stubborn resistance.

Snow has completely stopped operations on the Anglo-French front in Serbia, the Montenegrin forces, who are separated by a valley a mile across, having lost sight of each other.

The desperate fighting continues on the summit around Gorizia; the Italians claim to have captured more Austrian trenches, but the Austrians declare that the attacks all along the Isonzo have been repulsed.

British Forced Back.

The British victory over the Turks at Ctesiphon, 18 miles from Bagdad, as reported last week, has not, as many persons believed, sealed the fate of Bagdad. An official report says that having successfully completed the removal of his wounded and prisoners, General Townshend, the British commander, in the face of the arrival of Turkish reinforcements again has withdrawn his force to a position lower down the Tigris river. The Turks report that the British were forced to retire by reason of counter attacks after suffering heavy losses.

Austria Wants Separate Peace?

It is reported from Rome that Austria is seeking a separate peace, apparently with Italy. This is not generally credited here, although in some quarters the German emperor's visit to Vienna is believed to lend some color to the rumor.

The recent successes of the allies in Kamerun, German West Africa, are considered likely forerunners of the complete defeat of the Germans there. They are now concentrated at Jaundo and although well supplied with guns, find it difficult, owing to the British blockade of the coast, to get munitions.

15,000,000 BUSHEL WHEAT SEIZED.

Canada Commandeers All High-Grade Grain in Elevators From Lake Superior Eastward.

Ottawa, Ont.—The Canadian government has commandeered all high-grade wheat in elevators from Fort William, Ont., on Lake Superior, to the Atlantic coast.

The action was taken under the special war act by the Canadian grain commission. The wheat seized was of No. 1 hard, No. 2 and 3 northern. It was the property of grain shippers and millers.

A revised estimate places the amount at about 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels. A considerable amount is the property of American grain dealers.

The grain was taken Saturday night so that grain exchanges would be affected as little as possible. It is officially stated that the price will be fairly adjusted and the grain owners promptly paid by the Canadian government.

100,000,000 Bushels Remain.

It is estimated that there is still in Canada in the hands of farmers and dealers west of Fort William 150,000,000 bushels of wheat available for export. It is expected that most of this will be taken in the future for the use of Great Britain, France and Italy.

The domestic supply of Russia is more than sufficient to meet the demands of that country.

Had the Dardanelles been forced the supplies of Russian wheat would have made the present action unnecessary. While the wheat just taken was commandeered to fill an order from the British government for a large quantity of wheat, it is understood that most of it will be shipped to Italy.

GERMANS CONCLUDE CAMPAIGN IN SERBIA

OFFICIAL REPORT SAYS SERBS ARE DRIVEN INTO ALBANIA AND MONTENEGRO.

BULGARIANS WERE HALTED

Roumania Declines German Request to Open Danube and Attitude of Country is Regarded as Pro-Ally.

Gorizia Reported Taken. Geneva, via Paris.—Reports from Chiasso, on the Swiss-Italian border, say that Gorizia has fallen, the Italians having entered the town from the north. There is no official confirmation.

London.—The greater portion of what remains of the Serbian northern army is believed to have crossed into the mountains of Albania and Montenegro, where the Serbs are continuing with the aid of King Nicholas' troops and supplies which are reaching them from the Adriatic, to offer stern resistance to the Austro-German and Bulgarian invaders.

"With the flight of the scanty remains of the Serbian army into the Albanian mountains," says the latest official German communication, "our operations against this army are brought to a close, our object of effecting communications with Bulgaria and the Turkish empire having been accomplished."

Bulgarian Advance Halts.

For some reason, variously explained, the Bulgarians have halted their march on Monastir. It is said in some dispatches that, having recaptured Macedonia, largely inhabited by their fellow-nationals, the Bulgarian people and government are disinclined to push any further west and on this point are in disagreement with their Austro-German allies, who are determined to drive not only the Serbians and the Montenegrins, but the French and British troops out of the Balkans.

Black Sea Threatens.

The Austro-Germans also have had to divert part of their armies down the Danube to the Roumanian border, Roumania having refused the German request for the opening of the Danube throughout its entire length to enable the Germans to send supplies to Bulgaria and Turkey. With the concentration of the Russians, too, the attitude of Roumania is becoming daily more pro-ally.

Russian warships, including new dreadnoughts, have again been seen off the Black sea coast of Bulgaria, but there is no news of any landing or movement of troops.

On the Italian Front.

Aside from Serbia the Austro-Italian theater is furnishing the most violent fighting of any of the war zones. Artillery bombardments and sapping operations have prevailed everywhere on the French line, French aeroplanes have bombarded German aircraft hangars at Habsheim, east of Muehlhausen, and French and German aviators have had thrilling flights in the air, in which four German machines were brought down.

On the Russian front, except for a small engagement in the Riga district, there has been no fighting, while on the Gallipoli peninsula only artillery actions and mining operations have been in progress of late.

Japanese Naval Estimate.

Tokio.—The Japanese naval estimates for 1916 total about 160,000,000 yen ($9,000,000), a decrease of $6,000,000 yen from the 1915 budget. A supplementary expenditure of 45,000,000 yen for the construction of new warships will be spread over a period of four years. The allotment for 1916 is $6,000,000 yen.

COTTON CROP 21,990,000 BALES.

New Orleans Times-Picayune Presents Report From its Correspondents.

New Orleans, La.—The Times-Picayune presents its correspondents' final report on the cotton crop of 1915. The consensus of opinion points to the following results, in bales:

Alabama 1,100,000, Arkansas and Missouri 225,000, Georgia and Florida 2,300,000, Louisiana 265,000, Mississippi 1,600,000, North Carolina 300,000, Oklahoma 700,000, South Carolina 1,200,000, Tennessee 300,000, Texas and California 2,500,000; total 11,990,000.

These figures relate to actual growth in commercial bales, exclusive of linters, rags and similar additions.

The crop has been picked and ginned with great rapidity, as a rule, in consequence of an abundance of labor and exceedingly favorable weather conditions.

AN EPITOME OF EVENTS

DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN HAPPENINGS SERVED UP IN ATTRACTIVE STYLE.

EUROPEAN WAR HAPPENINGS

Everything Important That Could Be Confined to a Small Space is Here Found.

Italian troops have begun landing on Albanian territory, according to a Chiasso dispatch forwarded by the Central News correspondent at Zurich.

The copper roof is being taken from the Imperial castle at Donaueschingen, Germany, and will be used in the manufacture of munitions of war. This roof weighs many tons.

Turkish troops resisting the British advance in Mesopotamia are falling back, according to an official announcement reporting a Turkish retirement on Dialah, 10 miles from Bagdad.

The German protected cruiser Frauenlob has been sunk by a submarine of the entente allies, according to a semi-official announcement made at Petrograd. The Frauenlob was of 2,672 tons and was built in 1901.

Meager details have been received at Laredo of the dynamiting of a train on the National lines at some point between Monterey and Tampico, Mexico, on Nov. 23. Eighty persons were reported to have been killed.

Officers' casualty lists for the fortnight ending Nov. 3 show losses in the British army of 356 killed, 609 wounded and 69 missing, a total of 1,034. Since the beginning of the war the number killed amounts to 6,389, wounded 12,561 and missing 2,762, a gross total of 20,702.

Cordial relations between Greece.

And the entente powers have been established with the Greek government's assurances that no attempt will be made to interfere with the allied troops should they under any contingency be forced to cross the Greek frontier and that, as heretofore, railway and other facilities will be afforded them.

Representatives of a group of Russian banks are negotiating with New York bankers for a new credit to the amount of $60,000,000 to be used to pay for Russian purchases in the United States. The Russian government earlier this year borrowed $25,000,000 here on bankers' acceptances.

Announcement was made that it is proposed to tremendously extend the Canadian capacity for producing projectiles, to have a large proportion of the Russian, British and French shell orders filled in Canada and to have the business financed by financial institutions of the Dominion. Shell orders in Canada have reached the total of $300,000,000. More than 250 manufacturing firms are engaged in the work and it is estimated that Canadian firms have installed over $30,000,000 worth of special machinery.

Increases in internal taxation rather than issuance of bonds to meet the first year's expenses of the administration, defense program are advocated by Secretary McAdoo of the treasury in a formal statement giving an estimate of the federal government's revenues and expenditures up to the end of the fiscal year beginning next July.

The White Star liner Baltic arrived from Liverpool with $10,000,000 in gold, which is said to be the largest shipment that has arrived in New York on a single vessel since the outbreak of the war.

The first year of the collection of monetary levies from that part of Belgium occupied by the Germans expired Nov. 10. A new law continuing the cash requisitions merely specifies the monthly payments of $4,000,000 will be forced.

Sinking of a Turkish transport which was carrying 300 soldiers across the sea of Marmora is reported in a message from Zurich, forwarded from Amsterdam. The message says the transport struck a mine and nearly all were drowned.

A victory for the French forces in Serbia in an offensive movement undertaken Tuesday is reported in a dispatch from Saloniki. The French are said to have captured the town of Brusnik, west of Krivoak.

Colonel Dario Silva, military secretary of Gen. Francisco Villa, has renounced further revolutionary activity in Mexico.

Reports show that 10 persons were killed and about 25 injured outside the Hot Springs district in Thursday's storm. This, with the 10 dead and 36 injured near Hot Springs, brings the total for the state to 20 dead and more than 60 injured.

A wireless dispatch announced that the Chesapeake bay steamer Tivoli, bound from Baltimore for Crisfield, was burned to the water's edge off Thomas Point, about 55 miles down the bay. The 25 passengers were rescued.

A financial report of the Louisiana state fair, held Nov. 3-8 at Shreveport, shows that the fair made $10,739 net over all expenses. Receipts this year totalled $49,380. The increase over last year's attendance was around 20,000.

The abolition of the minimum prices imposed at the outbreak of the war did not lead to much selling pressure in London Tuesday on the stock exchange. Consols, which have been quoted at the minimum of 65, changed hands soon after the opening of the market at 68. The quotation for consols was the lowest for more than one hundred years.

Carrying out threats that they would fight Americans before they left the border, snipers posted in Nogales, Sonora, after Francisco Villa evacuated the town, opened fire Friday on soldiers of the Twelfth United States Infantry posted at the border. The Americans, who endured taunts of cowardice for a week; returned the fire. More than 40 Mexicans were killed.

The proposal of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to lay a tax against crude and refined oil will meet opposition from the Oklahoma delegation, as indicated. Senator Gore was quick to announce his opposition to the taxing of oil, one of the reasons being that practically one-half of the revenue would fall upon Oklahoma, because it is producing in that proportion, if not greater.

The main building and seed and mill houses of the Trio Cotton Oil mill at Eastman, Ga., burned with a loss estimated at $215,000. The cause of the fire, which was the second within 24 hours, is undetermined. About 2,200 tons of cotton seed, 600 tons of meal and cake and 50 bales of linters were consumed. The first fire resulted in small damage. The property was insured for $175,000.

Advances in the price of crude oil and gasoline, the discovery of gas in paying quantities about four miles south of Shreveport, the development of plans for additional tests in the Shreveport territory, and the report of the United States grand jury commenting on the operations of a number of concerns conducting oil stock sales on the market, were the features of the Northwestern Louisiana oil fields during the last several days.

Efforts to win President Wilson's support for a conference of neutrals to initiate peace proposals in Europe reached a climax when Mme. Rosika Schwimmer of Hungary, and Mrs. Ethel Snowden, wife of a member of the British parliament, called at the White House with a personal appeal and word that they had definite information that the majority of the belligerent nations would not turn deaf ears to suggestions from a neutral gathering. The women talked with the president for more than an hour and went away much pleased over their reception, though the president had made no promises.

The federal chamber at Rio Janeiro, Brazil, has appointed a commission of nine members to consider the question of the reorganization of the national defense.

The committee of bankers which recently was organized in New York to perfect an additional British commercial credit announced that a six months' loan for $50,000,000, bearing 4 1/2 per cent interest and secured by 11,000,000 pounds sterling British government bonds had been arranged.

Activity in the Healdton oil field continues. The production is something like 120,000 barrels a day and 40 strings of tools are running day and night.

The Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railway was refused permission by the Kansas public utilities commission to issue $71,000,000 in stocks and bonds to pay off outstanding debts and reimburse stockholders of the old company, according to announcement of the commission.

WE HAVE OFTEN HEARD IT SAID: "Yes, I would like to save some money and deposit it regularly in some good bank where I know I can get it when I wish to invest it or use it for other purposes, but I cannot afford to lose valuable time from my work, nor do I care to entrust my affairs to others." For these reasons we believe many people neglect this opportunity to lay by something for a "rainy day". They can easily start an account by sending their money through the mail to the

Message from Paradise Valley

I took a stroll about the other day along the side of the Capitan admiring the beauties of nature about, around above me:

I heard a woodpecker pounding on a pine-top shell, I heard a partridge whistling a call to the covey down under the hill,

I saw a squirrel squatted on his haunches on a big round rock Tauntily barking as I passed him by.

These called to mind my boy-hood days, When I wandered through the woodland And over the hills; Rested in the shades And drank from the rills.

The beautiful and spacious Paradise Valley, lately covered with its carpet of green and diversified with flowers of a thousand tints, is now transformed into a coat of yellow, which the sun these fine mornings makes appear radiant as pure gold.

"Is there no land that Saxon has not ravished yet?"

The Paradise Valley school has had a change of teachers. Miss Edith Wells resigned some two weeks, and Mr. S. R. Moss, whose school at Encinosa was just out, was employed to teach out the term.

Dode Burch is moving to White Oaks for a few months, where he will be employed to work on the mines. Geo. Hillis also moving to White Oaks.

We learn that Boston Wright has bought a moving picture show and expects to spend a good portion of his time on the road the coming year.

That fellow "Rube White" who is writing for the Mountaineer from "Luke's Corners," has no people over here wondering and guessing about his identity. Is it possible that we have had a silent genius among us all this time and is just now coming forth through the columns of the Capitan Mountaineer with productions worthy of Mark Twain or Artemus Ward.

We hope that "Rube's" genius will continue to shine "with steady and penetrating rays" and not give a brilliant but momentary meteor.

Bill Evans failed to show up at Sunday school last Sunday; he said he had to go to Give-a-Damn Canyon and help Uncle John Burch get his ox out of the ditch. Bill thinks that he has discovered a case of the Oklahoma Itch "Rube White" speaks about, and thinks there should be precaution taken to prevent its spread.

Mr. Traylor is temporarily living in Roy Stewart's new house until he gets his own ready for occupancy.

One of W. H. Sellers' work horses died one day last week.

Cattle are doing well on the range; in fact, they are fat as they were two months ago.

John Littleton and family were over in Capitan Tuesday.

The prospects are that it will not be long until we have a new school house in the valley.

D. J. R. Walker has returned to Alto, after spending a week with his friend Sellers. The doctor talks of locating Paradise Valley in the spring, believing that it will be good field for a doctor.

Roy Stewart and family are expected to move to their place in the valley this week.

Everybody are invited to attend Sunday school at Mr. Foster's.

Mr. Bruce, our road man, is working the White Oaks and Encinosa road, and is to be congratulated for the work he has already done. The road behind him is in fine condition.

Mr. Isler has bought the improvements on young Hood's claim and filed on the land.

Upper Ruidoso Breezes.

The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power, And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave, Await alike the inevitable hour; The paths of glory lead but to the grave. - Gray.

The burning question of the hour is where is "Luke's Corners?" also, who is "Luke?" (Of course we don't mean to be inquisitive.)

Alfred Hunter and J. P. Allison have sold and delivered their steers to L. F. Ayent.

J. V. Tuily shipped a car of cows and steers to the Kansas City market. He accompanied the shipment.

Mrs. Elzy Perry spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Coe.

Harry Allen and H. S. Brown were trading in Capitan last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jackson and children spent Thanksgiving day with relatives at Hondo. They were accompanied by Miss Olivia Kennady and Mrs. Peck.

J. H. Jackson went hunting Wednesday. Mr. Jackson has always boasted of his hunting prowess and says his heretofore lack of success at the feet of hard luck and scarcity of game. This time he saw the game but did not bag it. Next time he had better come through with the grapes or he will cease to be believed.

Mrs. Will T. Coe is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wells, of White Oaks. She was accompanied by her children and her sister.

B. I. Bonnell moved Friday to the Poole place recently vacated by W. L. Chapman and family.

Mrs. A. E. Hunter is again ill. Mrs. Hunter has just been convalescent after an attack of Typhoid and has had a slight relapse.

Dr. Rimmer, the resident Missionary, has been having his tent house repaired and will this winter remain at the Tabernacle on the Bible Conference grounds.

Attending later to build a residence on his newly acquired lots.

A. J. Gilmore and wife went to Tularosa Thanksgiving day in the new car to take dinner with their son Matt.

Koderick Johnson has returned to school at Roswell, after having spent a week with his parents at Ruidoso. Herick will remain with his mother until after the Xmas holidays, after which the entire family expect to reside in Roswell.

J. W. Sellers, until recently of Texas, has filed on a tract in the Barjarity Flats adjoining the Indian Reservation fence. Mr. Sellers immediately began the erection of a residence.

J. P. Perry, who has a contract to put down some wells in the White Trail country in the Reservation, reports a misfortune in the nature of a cave in in one of the wells.

Come! Come! Come!!

And see the big Xmas Tree in the window at The Titayorth Co's. Store. Everything new and attractive. Bring the children along, too.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Doyle Murray, of Tinsle, were in town today.

J. H. Green, the Hondo met-chanism partner, paid the Mountaineer a visit while in town last Saturday. This was the first time we had met Mr. Green, although he has been a strong supporter and worker for the Mountaineer ever since it was started. We hope to meet him frequently hereafter.

Notes from Luke's Corners.

Abner Weeks, from some place near Wild Cat Draw, passed through the Corners today enroute to town with his side crank, chain drive Automobile to put in the shops there to have an operation performed (on the car) for the rattles. He says it don't pay to own a car, for he had to mortgage his two ponies and his wife's sewing machine to get the money to have his car fixed.

Nigger Joe, that works for Callaway Stokes, had a stroke of something, and the old Needle Doctor was called in and pronounced it a well defined case of Lewreectetus of the Osophegus and quarantined the Nigger on the spot. But Joe died without further effort and the neighborhood talk is that he died of fright from the alleged name the Doctor gave the malady. They haven't decided who will bury him, yet. He's been dead now going on near a week.

A play party was pulled off at one of our neighbors not many days ago, wherein the names of some are hereby omitted for various and personal reasons. But what I want to say is that the grown ups put the little kids to one side and took charge of the full performance as soon as the old time blindfold kissing game came on the program, and every young man and girl, and some of the married ones, still have their lips from over exertion.

Natt Nabours' old adule Pete died either with the lambers or the colic I am not sure which. He told me about it this morning and I come very near forgetting to put it in these notes. Say, I wish you would send me the stamps on this mail so I can get this matter to you at once.

I'm not a bit gratitically turned, but I must tell you that this community is well pleased with my correspondence and the Englishman that boards with widow Stokes says I should have lived when Moses wrote the Ten Commandments. I don't think he was insinuating that I should have died in the early ages; do you think so?

That's all for this time, I believe.

As ever yours truly, RUDY WHITE, Official Correspondent from Luke's Corners.

LADY, BLINDED BUT CONSCIOUS

Said She Would Turn Blind and Fall When Nervous Spells Came on, Yet Remained Conscious.

Odessa, Fla.—"About 2 years ago," writes Mrs. J. D. Powell, of this place, "I took several bottles of Cardui as a tonic, for I was run down in health. In fact I could hardly do anything at all, could only drag around and couldn't do my work. Life was miserable to me and I knew I must have some relief, as I was so very weak. I would suffer with aching pains in my right side, back and shoulders. I would have such terrible nervous spells, which would come on me, and I'd fall down wherever I was standing. I would turn blind, as though I had fainted yet kept my consciousness. My friends would rub me... circulation was extremely poor, and the arms, hands and limbs would be cold.

"My friends... recommended that I try Cardui. I began using it and soon both saw and felt a great improvement. My appetite became good. I ate so my husband teased me about it. I could rest well at night, and got so I could do all my housework in a short time. I praise Cardui to all my friends."

If you suffer from any form of womanly weakness, or irregularity, try Cardui, the woman's tonic. For sale by all druggists.

Watching the Seals.

Visitors at the Aquarium never tire of watching the harbor seals, and one thing that pleases them particularly is to see the seals fall off their table when they go to sleep. In the middle of the pool for the seals there are two low tables, their tops are just above the water, on which the seals climb out to sleep or to rest. And sometimes one or another of the seals will climb out of the water to one of those tables and lie there on it, maybe close along the edge of one side and perhaps with its head and forward part of its body hanging over the edge of the table in front, apparently all the time in imminent danger of rolling off the table at the side or of pitching off head first into the water in front. And when a seal lies on a table like that, sleeping or dozing, people stand around the pool watching and waiting for the seal to fall off. He won't hurt himself when he does fall, he will simply fall off into the water; but old and young men, women and children, will stand there with keen interest all night watching and waiting for that seal to fall. And if they stay long enough, as they are pretty sure to do, they are rewarded.—New York Times.

A Boer Den at Cambridge.

Christ's, which has just elected to an honorary fellowship General Smuts, who was graduated there with exceptional brilliance in the law tripos, is not the only Cambridge college which has paid this academic compliment to a prominent South African statesman. Some time ago Downing conferred an honorary fellowship on the Hon. W. P. Schreiner, who was also graduated with the highest distinction in the same tripos, and was formerly a fellow. Hitherto Christ's college has proved more prolific of barbs than lawyers, having been the Alma mater of six poets of such diverse types as Milton and C. S. Calverley.—Westminster Gazette.

Treasure for Antiquarians.

In a recent issue of the London Times an announcement is made of the discovery at Caerboron, on the Roman wall, three miles east of Gillingham, in Northumberland, of a remarkable bronze measure of the Roman period. Such officially certified measures are very rare. On the present specimen the name of Emperor Domitian, in whose consulate in A. D. 83 the measure was tested, has been obliterated, owing to the hatred felt toward him after his death. The measure contains 17 1/2 pints, or rather more than two gallons, and eight pounds have been allowed as the weight of the material. Professor Haverfield is uncertain whether it was really certified under the order of the emperor, or whether it is a private venture, made up as official. In any case, there is no question of the date, and the discovery is of considerable antiquarian interest.

BLINDED SOLDIER TRADES STRENGTH OF BODY FOR WOUNDED MAN'S SIGHT

Canadian, Who Recovered Use of His Eyes When the Hesperian Sank, Tells of Reaching Hospital, Guided by Injured Comrade He Carried on His Back—Unit Almost Completely Wiped Out at Battle of Ypres—Canadian Valor.

St. John, N. B.—"I was stone blind," I heard the moaning of a wounded man near by, and I groped and stumbled along until I found him. He had been shot in the side. I stuffed his wound with bandages. Then I told him that if he would direct me on the way I would carry him on my back to the dressing station.

"The way was very long and extremely rough. I fell many times. Often my guide became unconscious through the shock of the fall. There was always the danger that he would not recover—that both of us might fall for the last time on the shell-swept field. Without him I was alone and helpless in a darkness blacker than I had ever known. Without me his life would ebb fast from the gaping hole which opened his vitality in a crimson stream."

Faintly he whispered where the way was safe and gasped encouragement as I staggered on. Then I, in turn, encouraged him when I brought him back to the world gone mad time and again, after pain and shock of a fall had given him release from suffering in unconsciousness. At last we came to the end of the road of horrors and gentle hands cared for us at the dressing station.

In these words, Stanley Chambers, who has already been proclaimed a hero of the fight at Ypres, told the people of St. John, N. B., to which he has just returned, of his experience on the field of battle. How Mr. Chambers was blinded by gas and did not recover his sight until plunged into the waters of the Atlantic by the torpedoing of the Hesperian, already has been told. But the detail of how the Canadians so gallantly accounted for themselves was not told until the people of St. John gathered to welcome their hero home.

Valer of the Canadians. No words can so vividly tell the gripping story of the fighting as those in which Mr. Chambers described the valor of the Canadian contingent to the audience, so moved by the story that the only applause was an occasional sobbing by those who had friends or relatives in the battle zone of France. In telling the story, Mr. Chambers said:

"During the first nine weeks we were on the firing line we did not see a German. We were inspected by General's French and Smith-Dorian and the latter complimented us on our appearance. We were afterward told that this meant we were soon to see some excitement. We later were sent to Ypres, where we relieved a French unit and the Frenchmen, seven hundred of them, with great courtesy, shook hands, each in turn, with us and wished us well. The farewell of the French soldiers occupied one and a half hours.

"On the morning following our arrival at our new position some of the boys peaked over the parapet and saw the bodies of one hundred and fifty Germans lying beyond our trenches. The dead had been on the field from November to April. After a survey of our new position we decided there was an excellent chance to secure trophies and two hundred of us climbed over the parapet and started collecting. We were soon subjected to machine gun fire, the Germans probably thinking that a charge was about to occur, but we returned to our trenches without the loss of a man.

"Shelling of our positions by the Germans continued for five days. We then were relieved. Some of our troops were quartered in a brewery, and one of our number, son of a Methodist clergyman, announced one night when the firing was heavy that he would have to leave the building, as 'dad would never forgive him if he were found dead in a trench.'

"One afternoon the Tenth and Sixteenth battalions formed up at dusk on the canal bank to make a stand against the Germans. Our unit went into action 1,050 strong. We were ordered to charge in an effort to capture some gas taken by the Germans. We were cautioned to go the distance, 500 yards, in short dashes. It was a ghastly night. We eventually cleared the woods of Germans and retook the guns, but they were useless, as they had been spiked.

Leave Fifty Wounded Behind. "We held the position for half an hour and were then forced to retire, leaving fifty wounded behind. Three hours later we again swept the Germans before us and we found that the wounded men had been bayoneted. We fought from Thursday to Sunday night without letup for food or sleep. We did not mind it, as we were in action all the time and we were excited. After being relieved we had 1,050 strong and only 100 answered the call.

"After a short rest we were ordered to the firing line again. It was in a thick fog, but soon the fog lifted and we saw a German aeroplane overhead. Soon our location was signaled to the enemy's artillery and then we were shelled with deadly accuracy. Finally an order to retire to a better position was given to us. A comrade and myself decided to remain where we were, and our decision proved disastrous, for we later had to make up our minds to join the others.

"As we prepared to go back my comrade said, 'Wait until I light a cigarette.' But the world went wrong

MUFFS FOR TEUTON SOLDIERS

General Von Buelow Suggests Appropriate Christmas Gift for the Men in Trenches.

Fur muffs for soldiers are the latest recommendation of the versatile General von Buelow.

The recommendation is made in reply to an inquiry which the Tagblatt addressed to all the German army commanders, asking for suggestions as to the most appropriate Christmas gifts for soldiers at the front. Von Buelow replied that muffs would be very useful on the eastern front, to be used by men on duty in the trenches. Old worn-out muffs, he adds, would be just as useful as new ones. "There must be a cord attached," he explains, "so that we can hang the muffs round our necks."

Mackensen, from Serbia, asks for cocoa, chocolate, fat and butter. Gallwitz replies only: "We don't want any wool; we are richly provided with that." Admiral von Koster urges against the sending of spirits or any alcoholic beverages. The crown prince suggests light red wine and smoking materials.

Other commanders mention slippers, warm socks, handkerchiefs, candles, old carpets, toothbrushes, writing materials and suspenders.

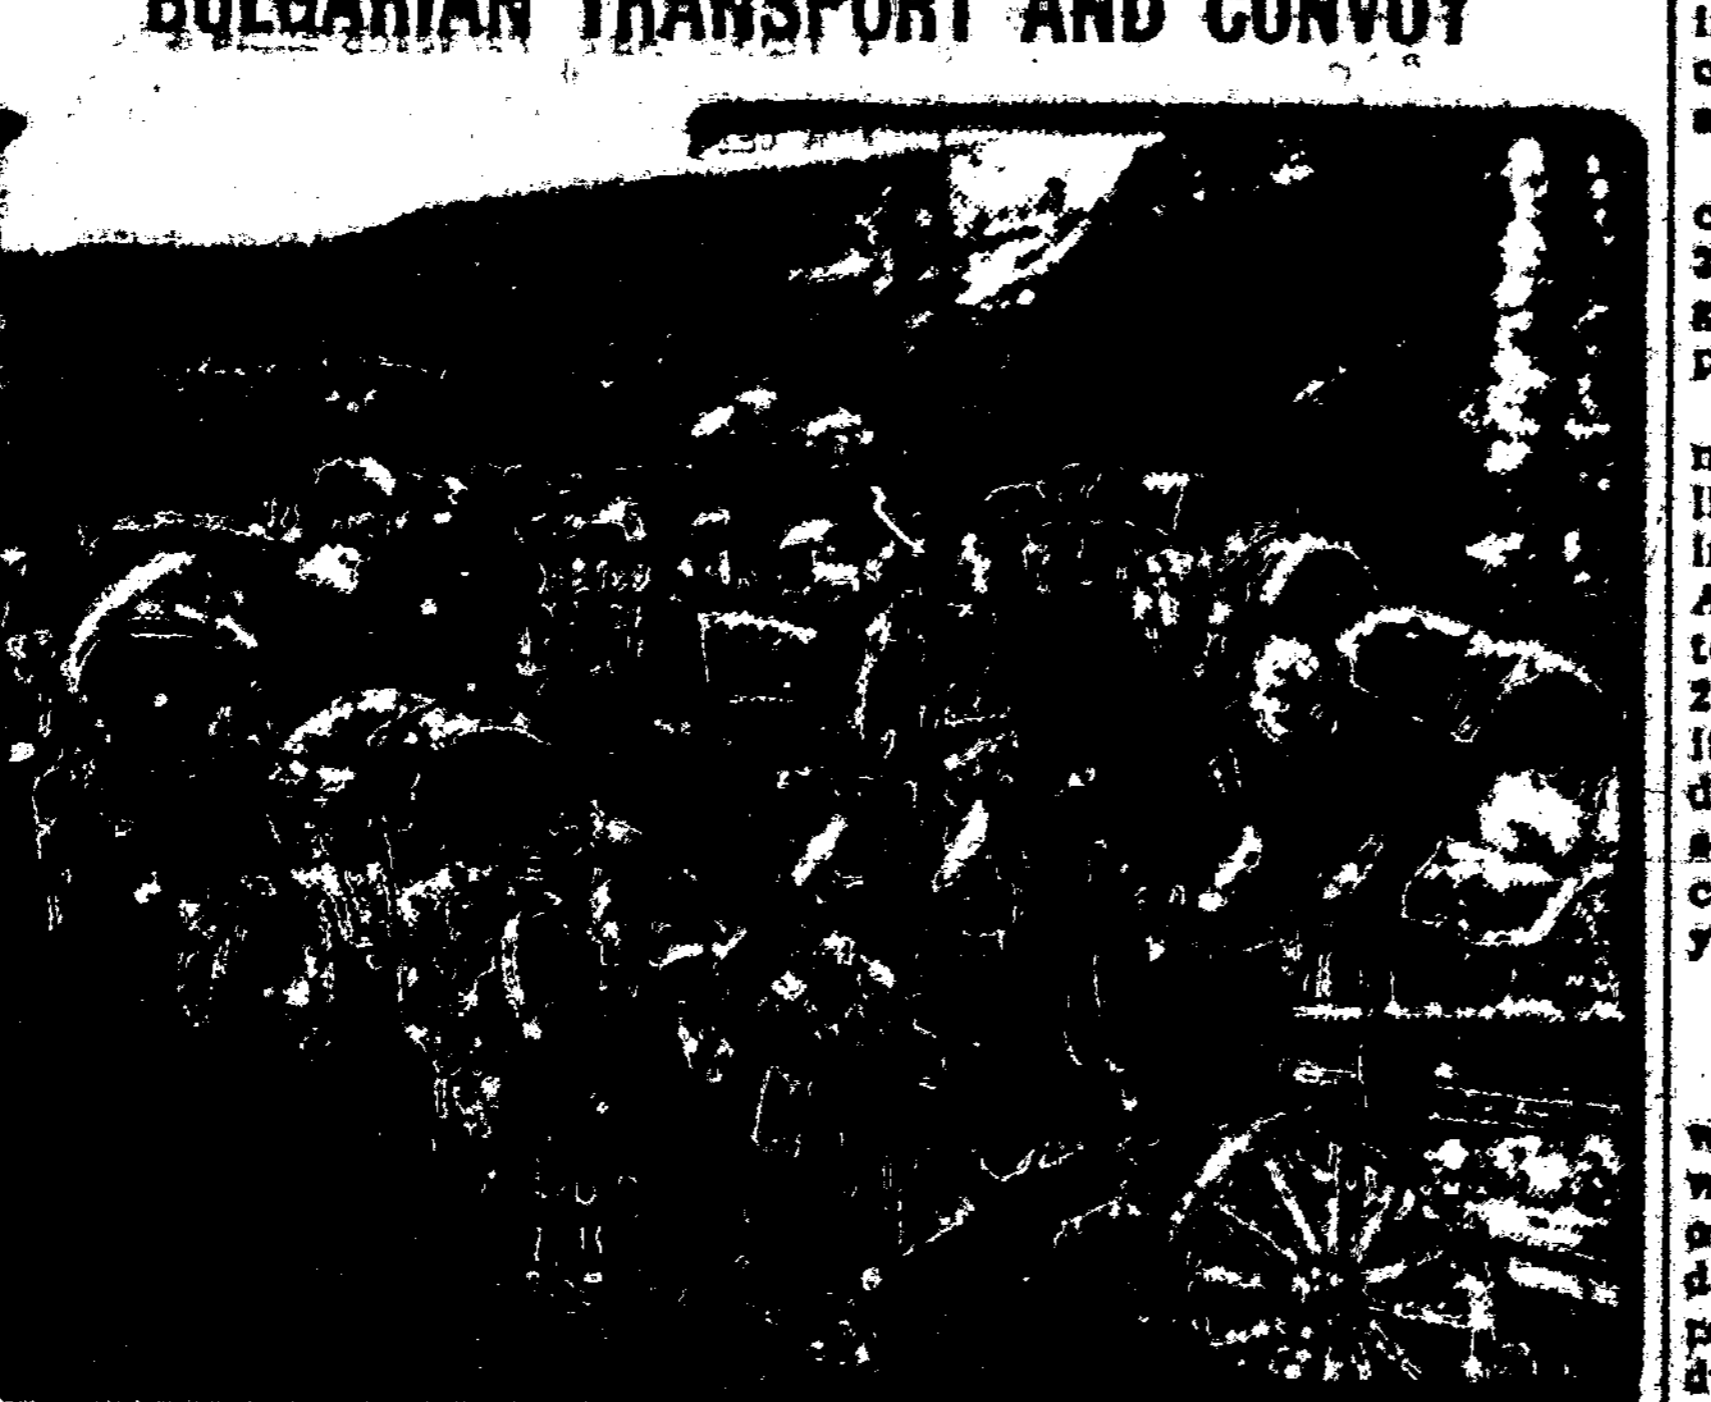

CLIFF DWELLINGS ROT AWAY

Archaeologist Pleads for Preservation of Ancient Ruins in Southwest.

Santa Fe, N. M.—Immediate action must be taken to preserve the cliff dwellings and other ancient ruins of the Southwest, according to Prof. Nels C. Nelson, a widely known archaeologist, who reached here after an 800-mile journey, during which he visited ruins lying between Mesa Verde, Colo., and Zuni, N. M.

The famous Chaco canyon ruins of New Mexico are in a lamentable state of deterioration, and steps should be taken at once to prevent further decay, Professor Nelson declared. He has conducted extensive excavations in various parts of New Mexico.

just then, for a German shell struck and exploded almost upon us. My companion was blown to pieces, and when I crawled from the mass of earth at the bottom of the huge crater which the explosion made I found my eyesight nearly gone from the gases generated by the explosion.

"I realized that my only hope of safety was to reach the boys in the rear. My sight was falling fast and, if blind, I might wander into the German lines. In any case, my sight, blind and alone in the gas zone, would be most desperate. I finally made my way to the new position held by my comrades and told them what had happened. They were unable to assist me on my way, as they were then preparing to charge.

On Board the Hesperian. After telling how he found a wounded companion and traded his strength of body for the other's strength of sight, Mr. Chambers continued: "I was sent to England and remained there four months. Then, as I was still blind and of no more use as a soldier, I was ordered home. I took passage on board the Hesperian. I was nearly asleep when the explosion occurred in the evening. The vessel listed badly and I hastily dressed.

"Later I was led to the upper deck and placed in one of the lifeboats. Besides men of the crew only a lady and myself were in the boat. The captain threatened to shoot if the men did not leave the craft. 'Get out, you cowards!' he said. I thought I might be shot with the others, supposing the captain did not know I was blind and had been put in the boat. Suddenly someone cut the ropes and we were thrown into the sea.

"When I arose to the surface I could see the Hesperian. I did not realize that my eyesight had been restored. I thought I would not be picked up and was not bothering about whether I could see or not. I was picked up within half an hour. I took the next ship home."

After making a tour through Canada in the interests of enlistment, Mr. Chambers will return to join his comrades, if any still survive, on the French front.

Dec. 6, 1914. Dikens Draw From Life. Smike, Charles Dickens' character in Nicholas Nickleby, seems to have been drawn from life. Said the author in a letter apropos of that novel: "The rascality of those Yorkshire schoolmasters cannot be easily exaggerated. I have kept down strong truth and thrown as much comeliness over it as I could rather than disgust the weary reader with its squalid aspects."

Pool's Paradise. Originally, in Christian mythology, a region "near the abode of the blessed," but not a part of it, a sort of borderland, "where dwell the prizeless and the blameless dead." Today used to denote the mental condition of those who, by their vain hopes, are "pooling" themselves.

Then there are counters full of things suitable for presents for the children. Everything seems to have been selected with the greatest care and a knowledge of what the public will want for their Xmas gifts. It is a wonderful display, but it is only for a few days. For that reason, so it is advisable to come early to get the goods you want.

The department's inspector, under the supervision of Mrs. Adams, will take special pains to show the goods and help you select just what you want.

Bring Yours Cars to Capitan.

Messrs. T. Z. Lowrie and J. O. Loving, recently from Wellington, Texas, are putting in a garage in Capitan, which is located in one of the Williamson buildings, opposite the lumber yard. These gentlemen understand their business and are prepared to do all work that may be needed on a car, on short notice. They will keep a complete line of fixtures for the Ford cars, and those who own Fords need not be at the trouble nor experience the delay of sending away for fixtures when their cars get out of commission. These gentlemen are supplying a want badly needed in Capitan and we believe they can build up a splendid business in that line here. We hope that they will receive the patronage of all interested as well as the encouragement of the entire community. They will have a regular advertisement in next week's paper.

HAD PELLAGRA; IS NOW CURED

Hillboro, Ala.—J. W. Turner, of this place, says: "I ought to have written you two weeks ago, but failed to do so. I got well and then forgot to write you. I can get about like a 10-year-old boy; you ought to see me run around and tend to my farm. I can go all day just like I used to. I am so thankful to know there is such a good remedy to cure people of pellagra.

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucus and choking; indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., box 2080, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—Adv.

There Was Danger.

A rather heavy storm burst over a suburban town, and a young wife, startled by a peculiarly sharp crash, made a dive for the porch to the darkened parlor.

"I won't stay here another minute!" she exclaimed in a terrified voice. "You can't tell what may happen next."

"You are foolish, dear," responded the hubby, following her into the house. "Don't you know that thunder cannot hurt anybody?"

"You are mistaken, Harry," positively rejoined the young woman. "Haven't you ever heard of people being thunderstruck?"—Philadelphia Record.

Economy.

"I'm through with the penny wise, pound foolish policy," said the young wife on her return from the grocery.

"That's fine," replied her husband. "You are just the dearest little economist in the world. By the way, how do you go about it?"

"I never buy less than two pounds of anything. I've just bought two pounds of nutmegs."

As Indicated.

WONDERFUL HOW QUICKLY RESINOL STOPS ITCHING

To those who have endured for years the itching torments of eczema or other such skin eruptions, the relief that the first use of resinol ointment and resinol soap gives is perfectly incredible. After all the suffering they went through and all the useless treatments they spent good money for, they cannot believe anything so simple, mild and inexpensive can stop the itching and burning INSTANTLY! And they find it still more wonderful that the improvement is permanent and that resinol really drives away the eruption completely in a very short time. Perhaps there is a pleasant surprise like this in store for you. Resinol ointment and resinol soap are sold by all druggists.—Adv.

LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO

DESCRIPTION OF THE RESOURCES AND INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS, ETC.

Capitan a Trading and Shipping Point for a Large Territory.

Lincoln county is just a little southwest of the center of the state. Its altitude ranges from about 5,000 feet at its lowest parts to the top of Sera Blasco in the Mesalero Indian reservation, which reaches an elevation of 11,852 feet, said to be the highest point in the state. The elevation at Capitan is 6,348 feet.

Lincoln county has an area of 4,659 square miles, approximately 3,000,000 acres, of which 634,000 acres lie in the Lincoln National forest, which covers the central part of the county—it's mountain ranges.

Lincoln county has a population of about 10,000. Settlers are furnished free of charge from the National forest all of the timber that they need for every purpose (wood; post, building logs, etc.), the principal timber is pine, cedar, piñon and juniper.

The soil of the mountain valleys is a dark, rich alluvium, almost bottomless, the wash of ages from the surrounding mountains.

There are many springs in the mountains, running streams in some of the valleys and in many of the others an abundance of well water may be had at a depth of from 10 to 20 feet, while in some parts of the county there are wells in use several hundred feet deep. Not only does the water vary in depth but also in quality. However, very little would be considered bad, usually the nearer the mountain the better the water.

There is a flowing artesian well one and one-half miles northwest of Capitan, depth 300 feet.

Lincoln county has 86 miles of railroad, one line passing through the county from north to south, with a branch line running out from this main line at Carrizozo terminating at Capitan, which is the trading and shipping point for more than half the people of the county.

In addition to the railroad service we have daily, two mail and passenger autos running through Capitan.

The Lincoln county high school is located at Capitan. The building is a two-story brick. In addition to the regular course, domestic science, manual training and the commercial branches are taught.

All schools in the county run seven months or longer.

There are two church buildings in Capitan which have just been completed.

Capitan is surrounded by rolling prairie and forested mountains, the nearest point of Lincoln National Forest being four miles out.

The office of the supervisor of the Lincoln National forest is located at Capitan.

We have no hot winds, cyclones, nor sand storms here.

Where running water may be had, irrigation is practiced and in such districts apples and alfalfa are the principal crops, while in the non-irrigated districts beans, oats, barley, corn, potatoes, etc. are the principal crops.

The extent of the stock industry of the county can best be estimated by the number given in for taxation (it is safe to say that this will not be an over estimate), which is as follows: 4,823 horses, 239 mules, 32,118 head of cattle, 308,547 sheep, 17,130 head of goats. All hogs valued at $3,114. The tax roll also shows 3,275 acres of coal land in the county valued at $31,947, and 2,285 acres of other mineral land (gold, silver, copper, lead, zinc and iron) valued at $71,187. The above valuation does not cover the improvements on the mineral lands.

Climatic-Health Conditions: Altitude, aridity and preponderance of sun shine, combined with its latitude, gives Lincoln county one of the best climates to be found anywhere. From season to season, from year to year, it is one of the most attractive features that the county has to offer. Generally the winters are short and mild, the summers cool and delightful, and, except in the higher altitudes, the people follow their usual pursuits throughout the year. It is on account of these wonderful climatic and health conditions that the United States government located their great Marine hospital and sanatorium at Ft. Stanton, only five miles from Capitan.

From observations taken at Ft. Stanton covering a period of 25 years are shown the following facts concerning temperature, rainfall, snowfall, etc.: Annual mean temperature, 53 degrees; highest temperature, 96 degrees; lowest temperature, 20 degrees; annual snowfall, 22 inches; annual precipitation, 17 inches. Average date of frost in spring, May 6th; average date of frost in autumn, October 5th. Average hourly wind velocity, 6 to 10 miles.

The altitude at Ft. Stanton is 6,231 feet. The figures taken here will perhaps be a fair estimate of conditions over the county at that altitude, the lower the altitude the lighter the precipitation, and at the higher altitudes the heavier the precipitation, as will be seen from records kept at the following places: Nogal Lake, altitude 7,144 feet, annual average precipitation 21 inches; South Fork, altitude 7,725 feet, annual average precipitation 23 inches. (Ft. Stanton, five miles south of Capitan, Nogal Lake, seven miles west, and South Fork, fourteen miles southwest.)

We have from reliable sources the following data on the annual average yield of some of the non-irrigated crops grown in the mesa district, west of Capitan, for the past five years: Corn, 25 bushels per acre; beans, 600 pounds per acre; barley hay, (fed on the farm not weighed) estimated at two tons per acre.

There are instances of a much heavier yield than that given above, one farmer producing on 28 acres of land 25,200 pounds of beans one year, and another producing 5,000 pounds of four acres last fall.

We have a good local market for all farm products grown here, the price of beans ranging from $3.50 to $7.00 per cwt, with an average price of $4.00, and corn ranging from $1.55 to $2.00, with an average price of $1.65, and other farm products in proportion.

MANKIND UNFAIR TO HORSE

If Beasts of Burden Could Talk Inhumanity Might Well Be Subject of Indictment of Their Masters.

If horses could talk those of us who know them best have no doubt as to some of the things they would say. Man's inhumanity to them would be the chief subject of their conversation, at least if they are half as human as we think they are.

To require a locomotive to haul a train of cars over a track that wrecks it before half the days of usefulness should be over and then send it to the scrap heap, is an economic folly. To ask a horse to drag our heavy loads of coal, ice, iron, lumber—the merchandise of all sorts by which cities grow rich and great—over streets that wear it out even before it has reached its prime, is not only an economic folly, it is a cruelty that not only horses but all decent men must condemn.

There are streets where, no small part of the year, the pavement is so slippery that it is torture for a horse to travel on them. There are others so full of holes, so uneven, so wretchedly out of repair, that no self-respecting horse, left to himself, would ever set foot upon them.

To be jerked and pulled, now this way, now that, because the loaded wagon you are straining to drag to its destination sinks into a hollow here, or bangs into an elevation there; to go home at night with feet bruised and shoes torn off by pavements, with legs aching in every muscle because no clean level surface has been provided where the feet could get a grip—if we were horses, who of us would not start a union for self-protection, and strike before the week was over?

But horses do talk. Their language is not audible, it is visible. You see it in that swollen joint, that sprained tendon, that limping gait, which speak of the roads over which men have made them travel.

Money? No money to put our streets in order? We are robbing our taxpayers of their money by refusing to do it—saving at the spigot, and wasting at the bung hole. We are being more. We are treating with positive cruelty, every working day of the year, thousands of the most faithful servants of our cities, without whom we would have had no cities worthy the name.—Exchange.

Prices of Gems Soaring.

If anyone notices a broad and becoming smile on the fair countenances of their favorite actresses, there's a reason. It is because the prices of precious stones are soaring to the sky. Nearly every prominent stage favorite has acquired a bushel or so of diamonds, rubies, emeralds and other valuable stones. That is the reason they are happy. Under present conditions they are not required to go before the footlights and sing and dance or do whatever their specialty is. What's the use when they can attain wealth without effort? Diamonds are as valuable as "war babies." The war has sent the price of precious stones way up and dealers say they are still soaring. This is because very few stones are being imported. Then again there has been a boost of ten to twenty per cent in the tariff on cut stones, and another thing, the diamond mines in South Africa are shut down. If you have promised your lady friend a diamond ring or a bauble with precious stones you may as well be prepared to see your bank roll fade away.

Achieving Civilization.

To achieve civilization a race must conquer itself and each individual must master the savage existing within him. The fact that we have not yet succeeded in doing this, Doctor Mayer advances as the reason why cultured man has never civilized a primitive race. Under our domination, as is well known, the savage either dies or becomes a worthless parasite or a helpless slave.

SUDDEN DEATH

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uræmic poisoning occurs, and the person dies and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.
