A CHRISTMAS STORY

By a Once Wild and Woolly Cowboy.

Block Ranch, Dec. 25, 1916. Christmas of 1916 in little old Lincoln county. How different from a Christmas spent at White Oaks in 1880, and another spent at the Jones ranch on Seven Rivers in 1881. Thirty-six years have passed and gone, but that same spirit of good cheer remains—even on Gov. W. C. McDonald's Block cattle ranch, where white-faced cattle roam, us of yore, on a thousand hills, and where the man with the hoe is fast crowding these same white face cow-brutes to the top of the hills.

Lincoln county of today is not what it was thirty-six years ago. Then she had one hundred and fifty miles square of free range, and not more than ten cow brutes to the square mile. Then she only had two towns—Lincoln, the county seat, and White Oaks, a mining camp of one thousand souls. Within her borders, were, also, the most daring young outlaw of the age, "Billy the Kid," and one of the most fearless law-officers, Pat Garrett, who ever trod in shoe-leather.

In those days Lincoln county was almost as large as the state of Kansas. Within her, then, borders are now located the wide-awake little city of Roswell, Alamogordo, Carlsbad, Artesia, Dexter, Portales, Fort Sumner, Texico, Hope, Lovington, Carrizozo, Capitan, Corona and Tularosa. The latter was a village, and so was Roswell in the early '80s, but the others were not on the map then.

That Prince of cooks, Jack Hodo, made Christmas of 1916 come one day ahead of time, by serving the turkey dinner on Christmas eve. And you can bet your last dollar it was "some" dinner. Everything which the stomach could desire was on the table. It was a feast for the gods—and then some.

Around the table sat Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Taylor and their little daughter Ruby, and her chum, little Miss Long. Then, there were Mr. and Mrs. John Moehn and baby girl; also, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harber and their three kiddies.

The Block boys who dug into the fat turkey and chickens were Frank Ellis, "Red," Dale, Tom Wilders and Jim Woodland, alias Jim Redman. Could you have seen the pile of turkey bones on the wrier's plate, you would know he, also, was present.

During the afternoon Jim Woodland and the writer harked back to the hurrah days of White Oaks, when we were chums together.

Now that Mr. Hodo's Christmas dinner has passed and gone, and the genuine eye has come, we are fixing to take another shot at Christmas turkey. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and daughter, and Mr. Hodo, go to Capitan to sample Mrs. Julian's egg-nog and dinner, while the writer will hike down to the U. S. Forest Ranger Station, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Parks' cozy home, to fill up again. Thus, will this sanctified Christmas day pass into oblivion so far as a few of us mortals are concerned. Yours truly, "DRILL KNIFE"

To the Public.

Forest Ranger Ben F. Nabours is now settled in his office, and is prepared to attend to the wants of the public in regard to any Forest Service business. The Ranger will be in his office only on Tuesdays and Fridays of each week. His hours of office are from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. will be strictly observed. Please do not ask him to work on Sundays as it is against the rules. The office is the first door to the right after entrance to the house. As many people know, the flying flag is the sign that the Ranger is in his office.

C. C. Cleveland and L. R. Keeling, ranchmen in Baca Canyon, were in Capitan last Saturday buying supplies.

Another Wampus Creek Dance

(Written by Request.)

Everybody balance and all shashay, And premonade from now 'till day; Now vacinate that heifer calf, And swing her 'till you make her laugh, Tickle your corners under the chin, Onto your partners and goli' agins, First couple out—dance the figure eight, Pop your wax like a candidate; First four forward and Doxy-doo, Flank your partner and let her go, Turn right back and right and left hand, Rope that Maverick and start you a brand; Wave the ocean, wave the sea, Wave that pretty girl back to me; Bird hop out and crow hop in, Dance 'till you brake that safety pin; Watch your partners, watch 'em close; When you meet her double the dose, Feed your corners on cold corn bread, Now ride the range 'till you're almost dead, Six hands 'round and cage that bird; Thumb your steeds and hold the herd, Grab your partner by the gizzard And romp around like a loaded lizard; Six hands up and dance your best, Pass the bottle and I'll do the rest, Shake the leather and rattle your spurs, Give her gas and don't change gears, Crank your Ford and grab your still-son, Name your babies Woodrow Wilson, Ladies drink the beer and gents drink the foam, Shoot the fiddlers and waltz back home. RUBE WHITE.

New Prohibition Measure.

There is likely to be several prohibition measures introduced in the coming legislature, but it is understood that there will be one which will materially differ from any prohibition measure heretofore proposed. This one is to be a bill to protect the school interest from the influence of saloons. The bill will provide that intoxicating liquors shall not be sold within five miles of any County High School or Graded School within the State New Mexico. It is to be provided that the same restrictions will apply to pool rooms. Such a law would apply to Capitan and probably to Carrizozo.

Capitan Cream.

Capitan will ship $50,000 worth of cream. Every road leading to the depot will be a cream highway. This year will see begin. The feed possibilities the good pastures, the climate conditions, the good rear money and the limitations of the homesteaders all fit in to do this. Where he now has sense he will have dollars. He will not raise more cows but better cows. The "honey ponds are fritter trees" of his dreams will come to pass in cream and cash. He will be a contented, prosperous citizen. Other centers have done it, and we have them before us to conditions. Ask us about it. L. W. CALETON.

Mr. Chas. S. Osborn and Miss Gladys Murray Wed.

Mr. Charles Osborn, of San Angelo, Texas, and Miss Gladys Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Doyle Murray, of Tinnie, were married last Friday evening at 7:30, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. J. M. Gardner, of Carrizozo, officiating. There were many nice and costly presents given the bridal couple by neighbors and friends, by Rose friends, and relatives and friends in Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Osborn left for Carrizozo immediately after the ceremony where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Baird, Uncle and Aunt of the bride.

We are glad to know that Mr. and Mrs. Osborn will make their home in Lincoln county. Mr. Osborn will have charge of the Murray store at Hondo.

ABOUT THE WAR

In the Verdun sector the French and the Germans Tuesday fought spirited artillery duels.

Berlin records attacks favorable to Turia and Bulgarians in the Struma region of the Macedonian front.

Lloyd's announces the sinking of the Danish steamer Michell Outchoukoff and the British schooner Constance May.

Russian and Roumanian troops seemingly are at a point where they either must make a stand or cross the Dabube into southwest Bessarabia or into Moldavia.

Gen. Joffre handed over the command of the French armies of the north and northeast to Gen. Robert George Neville, recently appointed commander-in-chief.

French forces have taken a total of 11,387 German prisoners on the Verdun front since Dec. 15, according to the announcement made by the French war office.

Teutonic forces make an infantry attack after bombarding Russian trenches in Galicia, southwest of Brody, but are forced by the Russian fire to return to their own lines.

Berlin says that in Dubrudja the Russians have retreated, although the Teutonic allies are advancing toward the lower Danube. Berlin also announces the capture of more than a thousand Russians and Roumanians and quantities of provisions. In the Carpathians the Russian and Teutons continue fighting, but with no great victories falling to either side.

Russians and Roumanians face about and give battle to the Teutonic forces in northern Dubrudja. Petrograd reports that attacks by the invaders near Partia, on the left bank of the Danube, have been repulsed. British troops carry out successful raids on the German trenches near Gommecourt and Arias. Germans shell the British line north of the Somme near Festubert. Austrian artillery is especially active on the Carso front in the Austro-Italian theater of war.

According to London reports seventeen Americans were killed in the sinking of the British home transport Russian, Dec. 14. Berlin estimates losses on the western front at 1,300,000 for the British and 3,800,000 for the French and states that the German drive alone cost the allies 734,000 t. c. Germany claims successes for the Teutonic forces in northern Dubrudja. Petrograd declares the official of the central powers in Russia has been checked.

Lotter Burbank, famous piano virtu, was married in San Francisco to Miss Elizabeth Waters, who has been his private secretary for ten years. Miss Waters' home is at Hastings Mich.

"Go out and kill them," was the advice Governor Williams gave to the people of north-west Oklahoma, who are overrun with bandits, since the $20,000 bank robbery at Skatook, Okla. The governor placed the blame for crime in this section upon the officers of the law.

J. D. O'Donnell, federal supervisor of irrigation, issued calls at Billings, Mont., for three conferences of reclamation officials on operation and maintenance of government projects. The dates follow: Boise, Idaho, Jan. 15, 16 and 17; Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 22, 23 and 24; and Fort Collins, Colo., Feb. 15, 16 and 17.

WASHINGTON

America's plea to Russia, repeated about ten days ago by Ambassador Francis A. Pickens, for prompt forwarding of large relief supplies held at Tien-Tsin, China, for German and Austrian prisoners in Siberia, has brought results.

The emergency appropriation bill providing $1,250,000 for dependent families of guardsmen and regulars, passed the House and was taken up immediately in the Senate. It carries $2,000,000 for the Philadelphia mint, $27,000 for Denver, $25,500 for San Francisco and $45,000 for the New York assay office to care for extra work on account of the unusual demand for coins.

TO ECONOMIZE DIGESTION

The Eating of Vegetables Without Mastication is Productive of Gastric Rebellion.

Indigestion is often attributed to hasty eating, and people are reproved and rightly so, for bolting their food; but it is interesting to observe that while the bolting of meat is always severely censured, one never hears any blame attached to those who swallow fruit by the mouthful, and devour uncooked vegetables without any attempt at mastication. Nevertheless, it is the hasty swallower of vegetable fiber who is really the inciter of gastric rebellion. Vegetables are, at all times, very imperfectly digested by the stomach, and require their tough fibers to be thoroughly broken up by the teeth if they are to be dissolved even in the bowel.

There is a well-known saying which avers that digestion waits upon appetite, and there is no doubt that of all the helps to digestion a keen desire for food is the most powerful and important. But appetite itself often depends upon conditions which are independent of the body's absolute necessities. Thus the aspect of the food, its smell, taste and even the manner in which it is served, all help either to stimulate a desire for it, or to induce a sense of aversion, while the environment of the diner often exercises important influence, beneficial or otherwise. Brain work of any kind interferes with the rapid digestion of food, and even the habit of reading during meal times, practiced by so many, is conducive neither to appetite nor digestion. A well-lighted room, music and frivolous conversation will often permit a chronic dyspeptic to enjoy without remorse the pleasures of the table, while a depressing atmosphere, ungenial company and quizzing glances will induce a fit of indigestion in the most healthy individual.—Food and Cookery.

POULTRY POINTERS

As the chicks grow, they need more room. It does not pay to let them crowd.

Be aware of dirty, moldy, sour or decayed food. It is sure to cause trouble.

Tough grass is of no value as a green food. Better sow some quick growing crop.

Feed hoppers greatly reduce the loss. If they are kept filled, the birds will never go hungry.

Clean fresh water lessens disease causing toxic. In dry or freezing winter the source of much trouble. Clean and drink plain frequently.

Steady light and excitement at once tell on the egg crop. Never mix strange dogs about where hens are.

Carefully conducted experiments have proved that eggs packed in salt do not keep perfectly in majority of instances.

The best way to "plump" a dressed bird is to dip it for ten seconds in water, hot or quite boiling hot.

Our best birds this year are those that are hatched from cocked and a great deal of hen hatching. They are the best for early eggs this year. To produce early hatched birds, get them to laying now.

You will find that your hens if fed for eggs will eat their food, unless they have ample space for exercise.

A balanced ration is essential, to insure but it will be of no purpose unless provisions are made for exercise.

Remember that advertising is the surest way to success in all lines, and that is true in the poultry business. You have good birds.

LET THE IMAGINATION LOOSE

Well for Many of Us Would Be a Return to Belief in Gods and Fairies.

When the world was young, people believed that spirits dwell in trees, in storms and in mountains. When the land first they heard the voice of a great spirit against the rocks they knew Neptune was angry with them. Phœton the glorious son of Helios, daily drove his chariot sun across the heavens; Jove flashed his displeasure at the lightning, and gods looked down from the stars at night or dwelt on earth disguised as flowers of the meadow.

Nowadays there is a growing tendency, fortunately for art and poetry, to again let the imagination loose. There has been a conscious effort being made by many grown-ups to stay young by keeping in touch with youth, with the lore of the gods and legendary folk. We cannot when we no longer believe in beauty, in gods and fairies, when we deny fancy for what we are pleased to call fact, when we no longer permit ourselves the flowers for their spirit, but that their spirit that we may count their petals, or to how their stamens are found.

Now the first people to enter our minds to so far forget themselves as to forget the gods, made images of them and set them about their gardens or in their houses, where they could be consulted. To this very day a saint or wooden Buddha sits under a thatched shelter at the head of the rice fields in Japan that the laborers may see him and thus remember to take the soil with their crops, and every Buddha garden has a shrine or an image of a god or goddess. Thus the world of worship, imagery, legend and history is kept in remembrance.

The Aim of Christian Education

By REV. WALTER SCOTT

Christian education aims to make life a glory instead of a grind, to open a little wider the door of a narrow life, and to add power to the lens of the microscope or the telescope.

It aims to take the drudgery out of life, to push one's horizon a little wider, to give a clearer vision of life. It stands for high pleasures that wealth cannot buy. It means character, wealth, and property which no disaster or misfortune can wreck or ruin.

It makes you familiar with science and history and teaches you how to live life healthily and successfully. It gives us an enlightened citizen and imparts intelligence as to political and economic problems. It brings the joy of self-discovery, opening up rare possibilities in individuality.

It has a mentality stirred by the passion of expansion, the desire of growth, the indescribable satisfaction which comes from consciousness of perpetual enlargement.

It is a life at a few years with the most delightful associations and ambitions at an age when ambitions and high ideals have not been shattered by disappointment, or the unbounded faith of youth checked by violated pledges.

Simplicity Chief Charm in the Furnishings of This Home

This picture shows what can be accomplished with inexpensive materials in making a home delightful to the eye. By the use of out flowers, chintzes and rag rugs this home has been made a delightful retreat, especially for the summer season. Its simplicity is its greatest charm.

Sixth, it will make it possible for the homemaker to practice more efficient and less wasteful buying methods.

Seventh, it will guarantee to the consumer that the goods which she buys are made under honorable standards of manufacture, fair pay and sanitary conditions.

In her argument for identified articles Mrs. Frederick said it was admitted that cut prices tend to drive such articles from the market and she was merely showing the interest that the consumer has in having articles she buys so marked and branded that they can be identified.

"Suppose, for the sake of argument, that there is no such thing as an identified article," said Mrs. Frederick. "If there is no means of identifying, say, a pound of butter or a pair of hosiery, then every purchase of one of those necessities becomes an experiment. In each case I must make a test which takes time, trouble and money and which is worthless in the end because, should I find the article satisfactory, I can't be certain of getting the same thing again; and if it is unsatisfactory I can't be certain of avoiding it. I do not see how you can have a standard quality without a standard price. The trade mark on an article, the approved standard price and standard quality, protect the consumer because they are a guarantee that the manufacturer will continue that standard.

"Price juggling destroys the standard which manufacturers have set and tempts them—sometimes almost forces them—to lower the quality. What incentive can a manufacturer have to keep up a high standard of quality if he can get away with a low price?"

Asks for "Movie" Censor.

The Madrid Society for the Study of Penitentiaries and Upholding of Delinquents has petitioned the Spanish government to create a censorship of moving picture films, as it declares that a number of the criminal offenses committed nowadays by the youth of the Spanish capital are directly traceable to the portrayal of crime in moving picture dramas.

Cherry Core.

Half dozen apples, half pint water, one cupful canned cherries, one cupful sugar, six candied cherries. Pare the apples and remove the cores; put into a deep pan with sugar and water, cover tightly and boil until the apples are tender. Turn often, as the syrup will not cover the fruit. Put each apple into an individual serving dish, about the edges place the jelly formed by the syrup, and let cool. Fill the center of each apple with cherries and serve with whipped cream topped with a candied cherry.

His Motive.

Fresh from his vacation, the minister faced a large congregation, who were very kind in their praise of his sermon. The next Sunday a larger congregation came and listened with growing concern to the same address as before. The next Sunday he preached the sermon again. The officers of the church after much consulting together, asked him why. The minister replied, "Why, yes, it was the same sermon. The first Sunday you told me how fine it was, and how it was just what you needed. I watched you all week, and you lived just as before, so I preached it again. All the following week I watched, and you lived just the same; so, remembering that you all had said it was just what you needed, I preached it once more. Unless there is some sign of improvement, don't you think I'd better plan to repeat it again?"

Custard.

Beat slightly the whites of four eggs with one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, add a speck of salt, a few drops of almond or vanilla flavoring, and one pint of scalded milk. Strain into molds and steam or bake until firm. Seal another pint of milk and add to the beaten yolks of four eggs, cook until it begins to thicken and add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar and strain; flavor when cold.

MRS. CHRISTINE FREDERICK SAYS IT WILL AID CONSUMERS.

INSURES STANDARD QUALITY

Consumers in Small Towns and Rural Communities Are Victims of Discrimination by Big Store Methods, Which Encourage Substitution of Unidentified Goods at High Figures.

Mrs. Christine Frederick, household efficiency expert and consulting household editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, the New York Evening Sun, Successful Farming, and various other publications, recently appeared before the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of the House of Representatives in Washington in support of the Stephens-Ashurst bill. This measure, according to its title, is designed "To protect the public against dishonest advertising and false pretenses in merchandising."

The bill will legalize standard uniform prices and prevent price cutting of trade-marked goods by big city stores for the purpose of giving the false impression that all their other articles are proportionately low. Price cutting is merely bait to lure customers so that articles of inferior merit may be substituted at high prices.

"I appear before the committee purely in the interest of the consumer," said Mrs. Frederick, "and I do not care about the rights or wrongs of retailer or manufacturer except as they affect the consumer. There is great proof that the woman consumer, who spends most of the family income for articles used in the home, should be able to buy with the least extravagance, the least inefficiency and the least waste. I believe that a uniform price on an identified article is one of the chief means by which this most desired end can be obtained."

Mrs. Frederick declared that the passage of the Stephens-Ashurst bill will result in greater household efficiency in buying for the following reasons:

First, it will help the consumer establish a standard in all purchasing.

Second, it will guarantee to the consumer a continuance of those standards once they are established.

Third, it will give a wider distribution to more kinds of products that the consumer daily buys.

Fourth, it will save the consumer's money because the fixed price will guarantee a permanent, dependable supply of articles.

Fifth, it will be especially helpful to farm women and small town consumers who are now victims of discrimination.

Figuring the Profits.

"I suppose," remarked the horse reporter to his friend the humorist, "that you make a good thing out of your paragraphs."

"Well, some days I make very little and other days not quite so much," replied the funny man. "Now, take yesterday, for example; I only penned five lines, but it represented twelve big round dollars."

"Well, that isn't so worse for one day's toll," said the horseman. "By the way, what did you write?"

"An order to my grocer for interior department supplies," explained the joke carpenter.

Rapid Transit.

"Are those colors fast?" asked the woman at the cheap dress goods counter.

"They are the swiftest ever, madam," replied the truthful clerk. "After they once get started they run so fast you couldn't catch them with a racing automobile."

As Suggested.

"Since leaving college," said young Supton, "I am at a loss to find anything to take up my mind."

"If you will permit me," rejoined Miss Knox, "I would suggest that you try a small piece of blotting paper."

Doubtful Honor.

Little Lennet—Say, paw, what is an empty title?
Paw—An empty title, son, is your paw's way of referring to me as the head of the house when there are visitors present.

Paralyzed Him Anyway.

The One—Our friend, Butinski is suffering from an athletic stroke.

The Others—You mean a paralytic stroke, don't you?

The One—Oh, either is correct. He was struck by a professional boxer.

Possible Explanation.

Parker—Mrs. Howells evidently practices her pieces at home before singing them in the choir.

Inker—Why do you think so?
Parker—Because her husband never attends church.

As Others See Us.

Hazel—Don't you think Mr. Canso has rather an arch look?
Almee—Yes, now that you mention it, he is awfully low-legged.

Just So.

"Why do you call life a hardle race?" she inquired.
"Because we are always jumping at conclusions," he replied.

Tax Protect of Roman Matrons.

The earliest deputation of women to parliament was organized close on two thousand years ago. Under the triumvirate of Augustus, Antony and Lepidus it was proposed to tax the property of 1,400 wealthy Roman matrons in order to meet part of the expenses of the civil war then raging. They refused to submit to this imposition, and sent Hortensia, one of their number, to plead against it before the senate. In the course of her speech she asked: "Why should we be compelled to pay for a war into which we had no wish to embark, or, for the support of a government whose policy we have no means of controlling?" This argument proved so effective that the tax on women was reduced to one-third of the amount originally proposed.

Just a brother to the breeze.

And singing on the way,
Where the tresses of the trees
Are falling o'er the day;
And a brother to the sky, brow-haired beneath the blue,
With a feeling that the angels are not higher up than you.

Just a brother to mankind.

In mansion and in street,
To feel the friendliness of life and hear the world's heart beat!
Still tolling on together, and when the goal is won.

Resting beneath the smile of God,
blest by the work well done.

CAN AND WILL SELL YOU

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats, Shoes, groceries, Hardware, Leather Goods Etc., at astonishing low prices taking into consideration that these are the days of unparalleled high prices on every commodity that used brought about directly by the mighty conflict—THE HORRORS OF WAR—which every American sternly realizes is now transpiring in unhappy Europe— we would gladly rectify these deplorable conditions if we were in our power, but on the other hand it behoves us as loyal Americans to manfully accept the situation.

We buy wool, mohair, hides, pelts, etc.

Lumber! Lumber!

BACA CANYON MILL.

We are turning out mill at full capacity and can fill all orders for lumber in full. First class lumber eighteen dollars per thousand.

JIM HUTCHISON, Proprietor.

Henry Corn has been spending several days in Carrizozo.

Mr. H. G. King, of Mountain View, was transacting business in Capitan Tuesday.

W. W. Slack, the Alto saw mill man, was in Capitan Monday on his way to Estancia Valley.

Bony Kibrell of Picacho is in town today and reports everything in good condition on the Hondo.

C. C. Merchant and family have been spending Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Yates in Boca Canyon.

Miss Nina Talley, of Tinnie, has been spending Christmas with her sister, Mrs. Banty, in Capitan.

Gene Banty has gone to work on a ranch near El Paso. His family will join him as soon as winter is over.

Hon. Mrs. Wetmore and wife passed through Capitan Tuesday on their return from Roswell where they had spent Christmas.

Mr. P. G. Peters has sold his interest in the Peters and Norton ranch in Paradise Valley, to Mr. Norton. The sale includes land and cattle.

Geo. W. Smith remembered the Mountaineer family this week by the presentation of some choice spare ribs. Such substantial remembrances are highly appreciated.

Mr. John Clarkson and family, who have been living in Capitan for the past two months, left today for Lake Arthur, where Mr. Clarkson will engage in farming.

The railroad company has assigned a Mr. Hoover to the Capitan station and is expected here this week. Mr. Palmer and family will then return to Alamogordo. Mr. Hoover comes from Tucuman.

Going to buy some property? Is the title good? Quien sabe? Write to Mrs. Banty, the Abstractor, Carrizozo. Better be safe than sorry.

J. E. Koonce goes to Carrizozo today, which will be his residence for the next two years. He will qualify as county school superintendent next week.

Wm. Peters and Miss Mary Howard, Jim Howard and Miss Dora Clements were among the young people who attended a ball in White Oaks last Saturday night.

William Peters has the district agency for the Pathfinder Automobiles, and is now making a trip through the country soliciting sales. The Pathfinder is a high grade car and one of the very best on the market.

M. U. Findley, one of the Mountaineer's much appreciated subscribers, who is ranching in the west end of the county, passed through Capitan Tuesday on his return from Roswell where his family are spending the winter.

O. L. Patterson, of Mountain View Community, was in town last Saturday making application to make final three year proof on his homestead.

A letter from the Block ranch appears in this week's paper, which describes a Christmas eve dinner at the ranch, recalls old times in Lincoln county, etc. It is an interesting letter and will be relished by many readers of the paper.

An advertisement was printed in last week's Mountaineer, announcing cows for sale. Next morning after the paper was mailed a buyer came to the office wanting to know all about the cattle, and will probably buy them.

Mr. C. C. Bollnap has been given a better station than Mosquero where he was first sent. He now has charge of the station at Roy this state. He writes that he and Mrs. Bollnap are well pleased with their new home, which will be good news to their many friends in Capitan. He states that Roy has four good stores, a bank, newspaper, etc.

How is your title to the real estate you are supposed to own? Have you ever looked into the matter? A little cost for investigation now may save a big loss in future. Write Osborn, the Abstractor, Carrizozo.

The editor of the Mountaineer has been laboring with a case of grip this week, and several things had to be omitted, among them a report of them a report of the Christmas eve dinner at the Gap School House. It will appear in next week's paper.

Notes from Luke's Corners

Jim Brimberry drank a pitcher of his wife's yeast by mistake, thinking it was sour butter milk, and he rose so quick and fast that they had to anchor him down until the swelling subsided. They measured him while he was at his worst and say that he was the size of a feather bed.

Our Merchant Prince says he was scared out of his wits completely yesterday. He came very near selling one of his ladies' hats.

A patent medicine man or a patent leather man, I'm sure which, sold the local hotel man a soup receipt which he claims will make soap, soup, sop and Star Tobacco, all at one sitting at a cost cheaper than Villamency.

Old Sandy Hanover, the well known miser, has taken himself up a homestead in Rattlesnake Bend in the Wampus Creek Valley, and expects to use the banks of the creek for part of the fence, and says that he will stand in the narrow place in the bend to keep stock out, thus saving fence posts, wire and worry, not counting fence staples and visitors.

Hump Hoods, the Slim Jim of this neighborhood, says his old blue cow has had the misfortune to have sixteen calves this year and if she don't let up he will be cow poor in a few more years.

The Topographical Surveyor reports the finding of another bunch of grass and a newly married couple on Panther Draw. Quite a number of our inhabitants have claims on that draw since the discovery.

Slop Bucket Dick reports the finding of a pocket of ore in his Calsomine, but refuses to divulge the name of the owner of the pocket.

RUBE WHITE, Official Correspondent from Luke's Corners.

From Fort Stanton.

Mr. Nichols and family left the Fort today enroute to Alamogordo where they intend to make their future home.

Father Frund the Chaplain at Fort Stanton has on a vacation which he will spend at El Paso.

A special Xmas dinner was served at Fort Stanton on Xmas day which was enjoyed by every one. Presents were given away and in the evening a movie show was held in the Post Amusement Hall.

The new Lincoln Bridge near the Fort has been completed and is now in use.

The first real snow storm this year visited Fort Stanton Christmas Day eve giving it a very wintry appearance.

Work on the new irrigation reservoir at the Fort has been temporarily suspended on account of the heavy snow fall.

Mr. E. F. Rock, machinist, U. S. Coast Guard, paid the Mountaineer a visit while in Capitan last week.

Mrs. McKeon who spent several days at El Paso has returned to the Fort.

A son was born on the 16th to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kinney, of Tularosa. The little one died on the 23rd. Their Capitan friends sympathize with them in their bereavement.

Monroe Howard's barn was completely wrecked by Monday's wind.

Chaplan Frund of Fort Stanton passed through Capitan Tuesday on his way to El Paso to attend a gathering of the Catholic Clergy in that City.

The Humphrey family moved to their farm this week.

R. D. Kingston and family, who have been spending the past three months in Texas, returned last Saturday and will reside in Capitan.

Mrs. de Nisson and daughter are spending the holidays on their ranch on Carrizozo Flats.

In last week's Mountaineer there was published an item stating it had been intimated that Jas. A. Hannah would have a job in the sheriff's office after Mr. Hyde qualifies. We have received a note from Mr. Hannah, stating it is a mistake; that such a thing has never been discussed between Mr. Hyde and himself and that he will not hold a job in the sheriff's office nor any other county office.

W. W. SLACK Dealer in all kinds of native lumber. Mill near Alto, New Mexico. Prices as low as any other mill in the County. All orders filled promptly.

Mrs. Lena Morgan will move next Monday. The Province home, which she has recently bought. She will call the place "The Cottage Hotel," the name of the house she has been running for the past two or three years. It will be conducted a regular hotel and boarding house and Mrs. Morgan spare no pains to give the public good accommodations. Remember the place, on north Lincoln street opposite the wagon yard. The name of the house will probably be changed later on when Mrs. Morgan's patrons have learned where she is located.

If you are a subscriber to The Mountaineer and fail to receive it, please let us know.

Mr. W. A. Smith, of the clerical force at Fort Stanton in company with Mr. Fred Ficus, paid the Mountaineer a call while in town last Friday. He is recording secretary of the Seafarers Social Club at the Fort, and is a very popular young man among his associates.

Mr. Geo. W. Latta, of Ada, Oklahoma, has been in Capitan several days prospecting for a ranch. He left on today's train, but expects to be back in January. Mr. Latta has been a reader of the Mountaineer for a year and a half.

THE RIGHT PLACE. The Mee - Ah! Mister, what would you do if you lost the you didn't have a friend in the world? The Rich Man - What would I do? Why, I'd apply for a job as baseball umpire.
