A Visit to Roswell.

I paid a visit to the furniture store of Mr. Clark Dilly. If you have never been in Dilly's furniture store, the first time you go to Roswell you should go through that immense establishment, whether you wish to buy anything in the furinture line or not Mr. Dilly showed me shrough all the departments of his store and every line pertaining seemed full and complete. thing that impressed me most, uside from the size of the establishment, is the superior quality of the goods. In that store everything that bears any relation to the furniture trade can be found and the prices are right in all lines

Mr. Dilly took me to the rear portion of his store, where there are several separate departments, among which is his undertaking busi ness. There is a dressing room, a cliapel for the use of funeral services, both elegently furnished. There I saw burial caskets of beautiful designs, with prices ranging as high as $1,500. Mr Dilly has a large trade and it is continually extending. He told me that he had recently sold the full outfit to furnish the large hotel now being built in Carri zozo and of several other large bills at a distance. He is one of the most pleasant gentlemen I with whom you can come contact and to meet lim is to appreciate his social and busi ness qualities. Clark Dilly is 'live wire"-he believes in Ros-
