This Is The Hour Of The Progressive Man

It is also the hour of the man who saves a part of his earnings, with the realization that his earning power is gradually diminishing with every year of his life. But he is amply rewarded in the evening of life with the consolation of knowing that he has wisely accumulated a competence for this period.

Slackers and Slackers.

The able bodied young man between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one and physically sound, who tries to evade service in the army is termed a slacker. He is more or less despised by all loyal citizens, severe penalties are prescribed for him and he is given little sympathy is given him from any source. There may be many reasons for his seeking to evade service. He may be obliged to give up his business that he has spent years in building up, or has to leave a good position. He may have a wife and some small children that he does not want to leave, knowing that he may return to them crippled for life, possibly not return at all. A few are simply not interested in the war, and the thought of leaving to make their own way causes them to shirk everything else to evade service. In fact these men have many reasons for being slackers; they are physically feeble, healthy, fortunate in that they are risking everything.

But there are other kinds of slackers who should be denounced in the most scathing terms. How about you, old money bags, who can count your wealth by tens of thousands of dollars and have profitable investments galore? What would your wealth be worth to you in the event Germany should win? Your money would go to help pay Germany for her expenses during the war.

How about the farmer and ranchman of moderate means with a family. This class who are the backbone of our nation; do you know that in the event of crushing the Prussian military system will result in you being taxed heavily to maintain a large standing army, and that your sons will be obliged to spend several years of their lives in the army training to get ready for the next war. If this conflict is not settled right this time there will be a next war, and our country will be prepared for it, but think of the cost of keeping our country on a war basis indefinitely.

How about you, Mr. Mechanic, who can demand and get the best of wages—a condition caused largely by the war. Are you going to comply with the requests of Mr. Hoover in regard to food conservation, or are you going to fill up three times a day on such things as you are requested to save, then the first time something occurs that does not please you, threaten to strike and thereby interfere with production.

How about you Mr. High School boy? Are you going to continue buying as much candy for yourself and the girls as formerly? Are you going to blow a few dollars on a dance occasionally? Or are you going to help out the Red Cross and buy some Thrift Stamps?

What are you doing Mrs. Housewife? Are you doing your utmost to eliminate all waste and to use substitutes for food products so urgently needed abroad and which may be the one deciding factor in winning the war, or you going along as usual in consuming those articles in the usual quantities despite the fact that your son or brother is now or soon will be on the firing line risking his life and is possibly on short rations.

What about you, young lady? Are you aware of what this war means, or are you spending long hours over some fancy embroidery work or giving much time and thought to some dress or wearing apparel that may make you more attractive or improve your personal appearance? Are you spending your money and time on such things when the best of the manhood of our nation is fast going to the front and to the training camps, and unfortunately some of them are urgently in need of essential articles of clothing that you should be producing and sending to them with all possible haste. Just consider what any young man's thoughts are likely to be when he is in the trenches or on the firing line with insufficient clothing and short rations, fighting your battles when he realizes that you are comfortably situated and enjoying the usual comforts and making no sacrifice whatever, especially as he is protecting all of us, and you in particular. If you do not think this is true, you had better read up a little as to the fate of the non-combatants in the countries of Europe that have been over run by the savage Huns, paying especial attention to the fate of the young girls in those parts of France and Belgium that were over run by the Kaiser's cultured savages. Perhaps you can think of some reason why you would be accorded better treatment were the Germans able to break the forces opposing them on the western front. There is not much else to prevent them from coming to this country. If you and others fail to change your habits and customs to comply with the various laws and requests in regard to the many things demanded of us who of the slackers do you think deserves the most severe condemnation. Is it the young man who is compelled to risk everything, or is it those who refuse to back them up and assist them by giving up what in most cases can be done without even serious inconveniences. There are different kinds of slackers.

Telegram.

[From the National Council of Defense.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17, 1918.—Walter, M. Danburg, State Council of Defense, Santa Fe, N. M.—Time for soldiers and sailors insurance expires Feb. 12th. One million men remain unprotected. We join War Risk Bureau in urging you to publicity campaign to reach soldiers and sailors families and through them urge action by the men. See our letter of November 12th. W. S. Gifford, Director Council National Defense.

The Editor—Dear Sir:—The above copy of telegram is self explanatory.

Some weeks ago the Council of Defense planned to send a representative to Fort Riley, Kansas, and to Camp Kearney, California, for the purpose of having the soldiers make the necessary allotments of pay to dependents, and to explain the matter of insurance and see that the New Mexico men made out their applications without delay. Early in December, Adjutant General James Baca went to Camp Kearney for the purpose carrying out such plans. Gen. Baca, on his arrival at Camp Kearney, was officially informed that officers had been detailed to fully inform all men and to see that they made the necessary allotments of their pay, as well as applications for insurance, and that it would be unnecessary for him to take any action.

The trouble and delay experienced by dependents in securing the allotments of pay and Government allowances, coupled with the information given in the above telegram, emphasizes the importance of the insurance matter being taken up directly with the soldiers by their dependents or relatives.

We trust you will give this telegram as much publicity as possible, and make such additional statements in your paper as will call the matter to the attention of those interested.

Yours Sincerely,
W. M. Danburg,
General Secretary.

AMERICAN SUGAR SENT TO FRANCE

American Price Rigidly Regulated by United States Food Administration.

CONSUMERS HERE PAY 9c.

Sugar Cost 35 Cents a Pound During Civil War—Refiners' Profits Now Curtailed.

Sugar is selling today throughout America at from 5 1/2 to 9 cents a pound to the consumer, even though there is a world shortage which has reduced the nation's sugar allotment to 10 per cent of normal.

Through the efforts of the United States food administration the sugar market has been regulated as far as the producer, refiner and wholesaler is concerned. The food administration has no power to regulate retail prices except by public edict. It is on through more than 8,000 tons of sugar have been shipped to France in the last four months the retail price a sugar price is around 8 to 9 1/2 cents. It should be noted that sugar at 10 1/2 cents the food administration believes and asks the American housewife to pay no more than this amount.

As soon as the food administration was organized the price of sugar rose suddenly to 11 cents a pound. During the Civil War sugar cost the consumer 3 cents a pound. The regulation of the sugar market and the price to 10 1/2 cents and 10 cents. It is from advancing to 20 cents the food administration has saved the American people at least $150,000,000 in the last four months.

If our stern duty to feed the army and navy is to be carried out in any way it is to ourselves. Mr. Hoover declared: "There has not been a day since the war began when our ships have not been full of sugar. If we are to feed our army and navy we must feed our ships. If we do not feed our ships we will have done damage to ourselves to win this war."

"If we send the ships to Java for 250,000 tons of sugar next year we will have necessitated the employment of eleven extra ships for one year. These ships, if used in transporting troops, would take 150,000 to 200,000 men to France."

Reason for World Shortage.
 As Mr. Hoover pointed out, the United States, Canada and England were sugar exporters before the war. The United States and Italy were very nearly self-sufficient. The main sources of the world's sugar supply were Germany and neighboring powers, the West Indies and the East Indies. German sugar is no longer available, as it is used entirely in Germany, which also absorbs sugar of German origin.

England can no longer buy 1,400,000 long tons of sugar each year from Germany. The French sugar production is reduced from 7,000,000 to 2,100,000 long tons. The French production has fallen from 10,000,000 to 2,000,000 long tons. The West Indies cannot produce more than 1,000,000 long tons of sugar to maintain their sugar industry.

Because of the world's shipping shortage the United States started shipping sugar to the West Indies for sugar. Last year the United States shipped three times the number of ships since the shipping shortage was a great deal. The shipping shortage is a great deal. The shipping shortage is a great deal. The shipping shortage is a great deal.

In spite of these shipments, Mr. Hoover stated the shipping shortage. The English government in August reduced the total of sugar exports to a basis of 14 pounds per person per capita. And in September the French government reduced their household ration to 13 1/2 pounds a year, or a bit over 1 pound of sugar a month. Even this meagre ration could not be filled by the French government. It was found early in the fall America was then asked for 100,000 tons of sugar and succeeded in sending 85,000 tons by December 1. The French request was granted because the American household consumption was then at least 55 pounds per person, and it was considered the duty of maintaining the French morale made our course clear.

Today the sugar situation may be summarized by stating that if America will reduce its sugar consumption 10 to 15 per cent, this nation will be able to send 200,000 more soldiers to France.

Sugar today sells at seaboard refineries at $7.25 a hundred pounds. The wholesale grocer has agreed to limit his profit to 25 cents a hundred plus freight, and the retail grocer is supposed to take no more than 50 cents a hundred pounds profit. This regulation was made by the food administration, which now asks the housewife to reduce sugar consumption as much as possible, using other sweeteners, and also reminds her that she should pay no more than 9 cents a pound for sugar.

New Saw Mill

J. F. Betts has installed a new Saw Mill in the Tucson Mountains near Capitan. He will manufacture first class Native Lumber at reasonable prices.

Control of Cane Refiners' Profits. Immediately upon the establishment of the food administration...

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HELPS PAY FOR BREAD

There has been much misunderstanding about the bread program in England. It is true that the English government has a loaf of bread for every man, woman and child. It is poorer bread, and the British government is paying $200,000,000 a year toward the cost of it.

All the grain grown in Great Britain is taken over by the government at an arbitrary price and the imported wheat purchased on the market at the prevailing market price. This is turned over to the mills by the government at a price that allows the administered war bread loaf of four pounds to sell at 12 cents, the two pound loaf at 6 cents and the one pound loaf at 3 cents.

In France, under conditions somewhat similar, but with a larger exportation, the four pound loaf sells for 16 cents.

MAKING MEATLESS DAYS PERMANENT.
 If the conditions exist there is a fertile field for developing new and nourishing dishes, according to E. H. Snow, writing in the Hotel Gazette, who believes that the present shortage of meat and fish will not end with the coming of peace, but may grow more acute. It is possible for five or six years, this shortage will be able to develop methods of getting vegetables and fish on a more or less permanent basis. Meat can be replaced by cereals, other protein foods or may be served in very small portions as a factor in the diet. In making up menus for the future, it is better to make up menus for the future, it is better to make up menus for the future, it is better to make up menus for the future.

WHOLESALE BISCUITS.

Parted argument is the feature of the day. The argument is a half a cup in put in a shallow pan placed in the oven and stirred frequently until it is a delicate brown. The other ingredients are a teaspoon of salt, a cup of peanut butter and one and a half cups of water. Mix the peanut butter, water and salt and heat. While this mixture is hot stir in the meal which should also be hot. Beat thoroughly. The dough should be of such consistency that it can be dropped from a spoon. Bake in small cups in an ungreased pan. This makes 10 biscuits, each of which contains one-sixth of an ounce of protein.

DELICIOUS CORN MUFFINS.

Here's an old-fashioned recipe for corn muffins that has recently been revived and used with unusual success in several of the larger New York hotels. To make one and a half dozen muffins take one cup of corn meal, six ounces butter, six ounces sugar, two eggs, pinch of salt, two ounces baking powder, one and a half pounds cornmeal and one and a half pounds rye flour. The butter and syrup should be thoroughly mixed, then the eggs gradually. Pour in the milk and add the rye flour mixed with cornmeal and baking powder.

CAN AND WILL SELL YOU

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats, Shoes, groceries, Hardware, Leather Goods Etc., at astonishing low prices taking into consideration that these are the days of unparalleled high prices on every commodity that used brought about directly by the mighty conflict--THE HORRORS OF WAR--which every American sternly realizes is now transpiring in unhappy Europe--we would gladly rectify these deplorable conditions if were in our power, but on the other hand it behoves us as loyal Americans to manfully accept the situation.

We buy wool, mohair, hides, pelts, etc.

A Hard Road to Travel.

Farmington Enterprise.—District Judge Reed Holloman has issued injunctions closing up five saloons at Rosa, a little hamlet in Rio Arriba county near the San Juan county and the Colorado boundaries, which have been doing a land office business because of prohibition in the adjoining county and state, giving rise to disorder. The injunction was issued on the ground that Rosa had less than a hundred inhabitants and that the saloons are violating the law and are a public nuisance because of the manner in which they carried on their business.

This was the first time that this process has been used for closing a saloon.

From Fort Sumner Leader.—Judge Holloman, of Santa Fe, has used one of his famous little injunctions on the saloon men of Rio Arriba county who have so persistently violated the state laws meant for their regulation. The easy way with which he has closed the saloons run by the violators has brought it forcibly to the notice of all that it only requires the right kind of a judge in New Mexico to enforce the laws of the state. Holloman issues his little injunction and if the law is again violated he puts the saloon man in jail for a year, which generally closes the saloon. He has closed more saloons in his district than all the local option elections of the past, and he is still going strong. He has the right idea.

American Soldiers in France Not Drunkards.

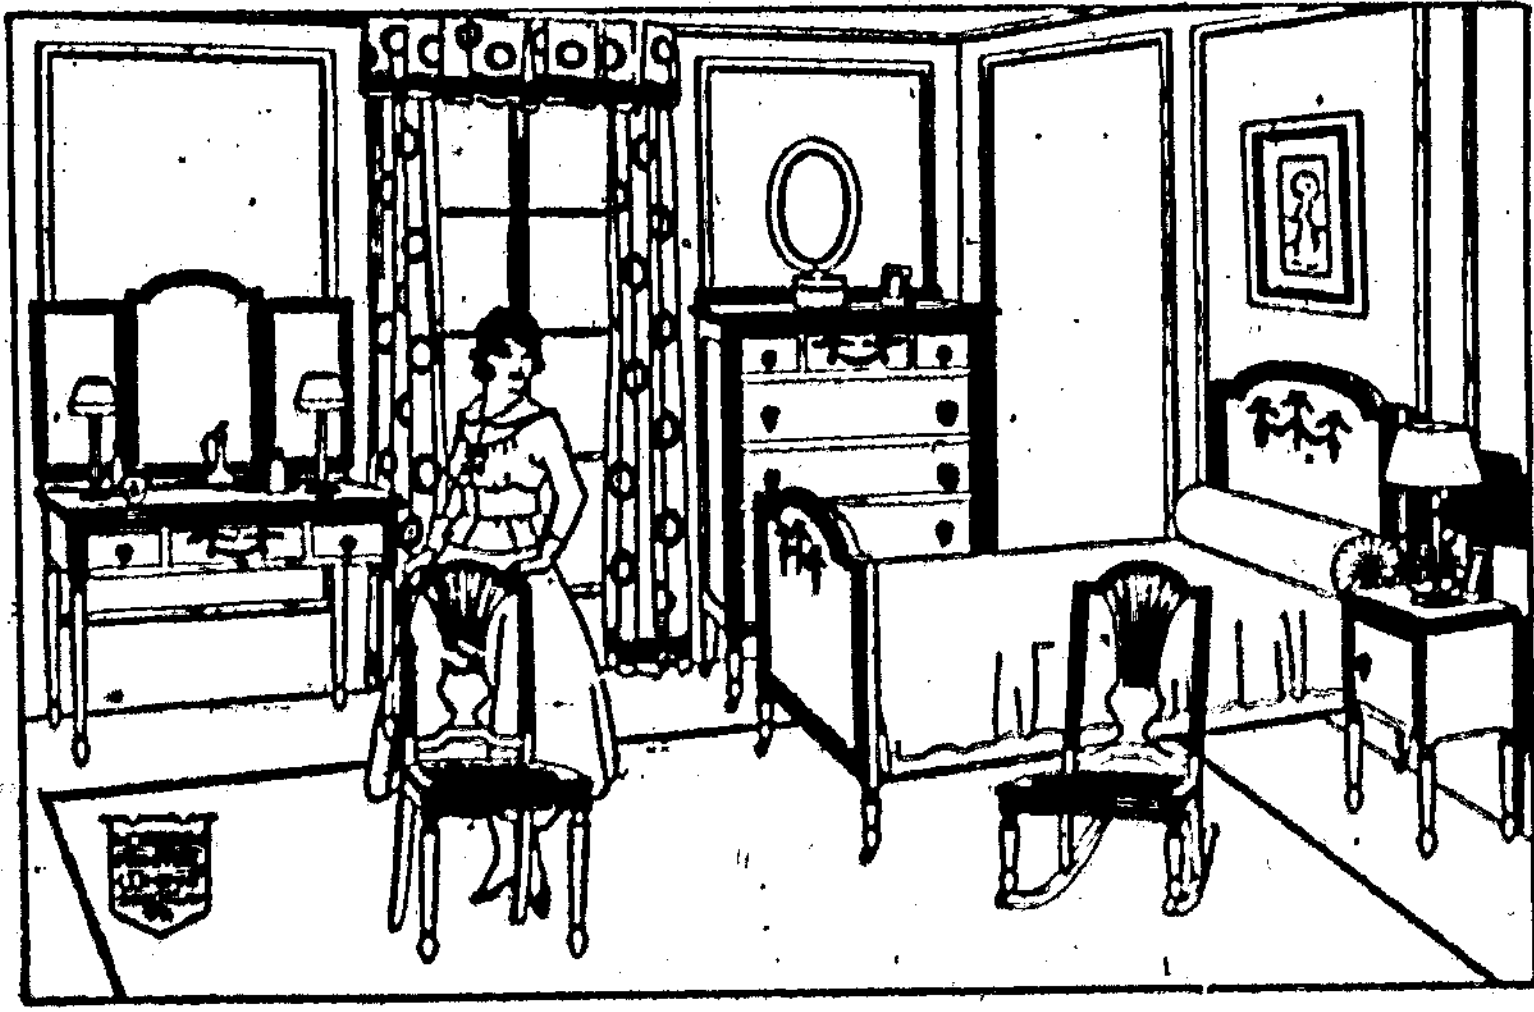

President Foster, of Reed College, Oregon, has a good word for the American Army in France. He says: "I visited every camp in France where American soldiers are quartered, and I never saw any drunkenness. The morals of the American soldiers are good, too."

President Foster is a competent observer. He has had a good deal of experience with the training of young men and the report can be depended on. There are always alarmists and sensationalists who take pleasure in painful exaggeration, but we may be sure that the vast majority of our soldiers in Europe are clean-living youths and that earnest efforts will be made to keep them so.—Providence Journal.

Easier to Protect than it is to Produce.

Why wouldn't it be good business to guard more effectively against the fires that are destroying millions of dollars worth of food and provisions every week instead of urging people who produce food to go hungry and save. We don't mind saving for the army or for the starving Allies or for any other worthy cause but to stint ourselves that food may be stored in huge sacks and burned or sunk in the ocean don't appeal to sympathy at all.

Accidents will happen, but it is possible to be careful as well as economical.—Roy Spanish-American.

FACE the FACTS

LET us face the facts. The war situation is critical. Unless the Allies fight as they never yet have fought, defeat threatens. Hungry men cannot fight at their best; nor hungry nations. France, England, and Italy are going hungry unless we feed them.

Wheat Savings—They must have wheat. It is the best food to fight on. It is the easiest to ship. We alone can spare it to them. By saving just a little—less than a quarter of what we ate last year—we can support those who are fighting our battles. And we can do it without stinting ourselves. We have only to substitute another food just as good.

The Corn of Plenty—Corn is that food. There's a surplus of it. Providence has been generous in the hour of our need. It has given us corn in such bounty as was never known before. Tons of corn. Trainloads of corn. Five hundred million bushels over and above our regular needs. All we have to do is to learn to appreciate it. Was ever patriotic duty made so easy? And so clear?

America's Own Food—Corn! It is the true American food. The Indians, hardest of races, lived on it. Our forefathers adopted the diet and conquered a continent. For a great section of our country it has long been the staff of life. How well the South fought on it, history tells. Now it can help America win a world war.

Learn Something—Corn! It isn't one food. It's a dozen. It's a cereal. It's a vegetable. It's a bread. It's a dessert. It's nutritious; more food value in it, dollar for dollar, than meat or eggs or most other vegetables. It's good to eat; how good you don't know until you've had corn-bread properly cooked. Best of all, it's plentiful and it's patriotic.

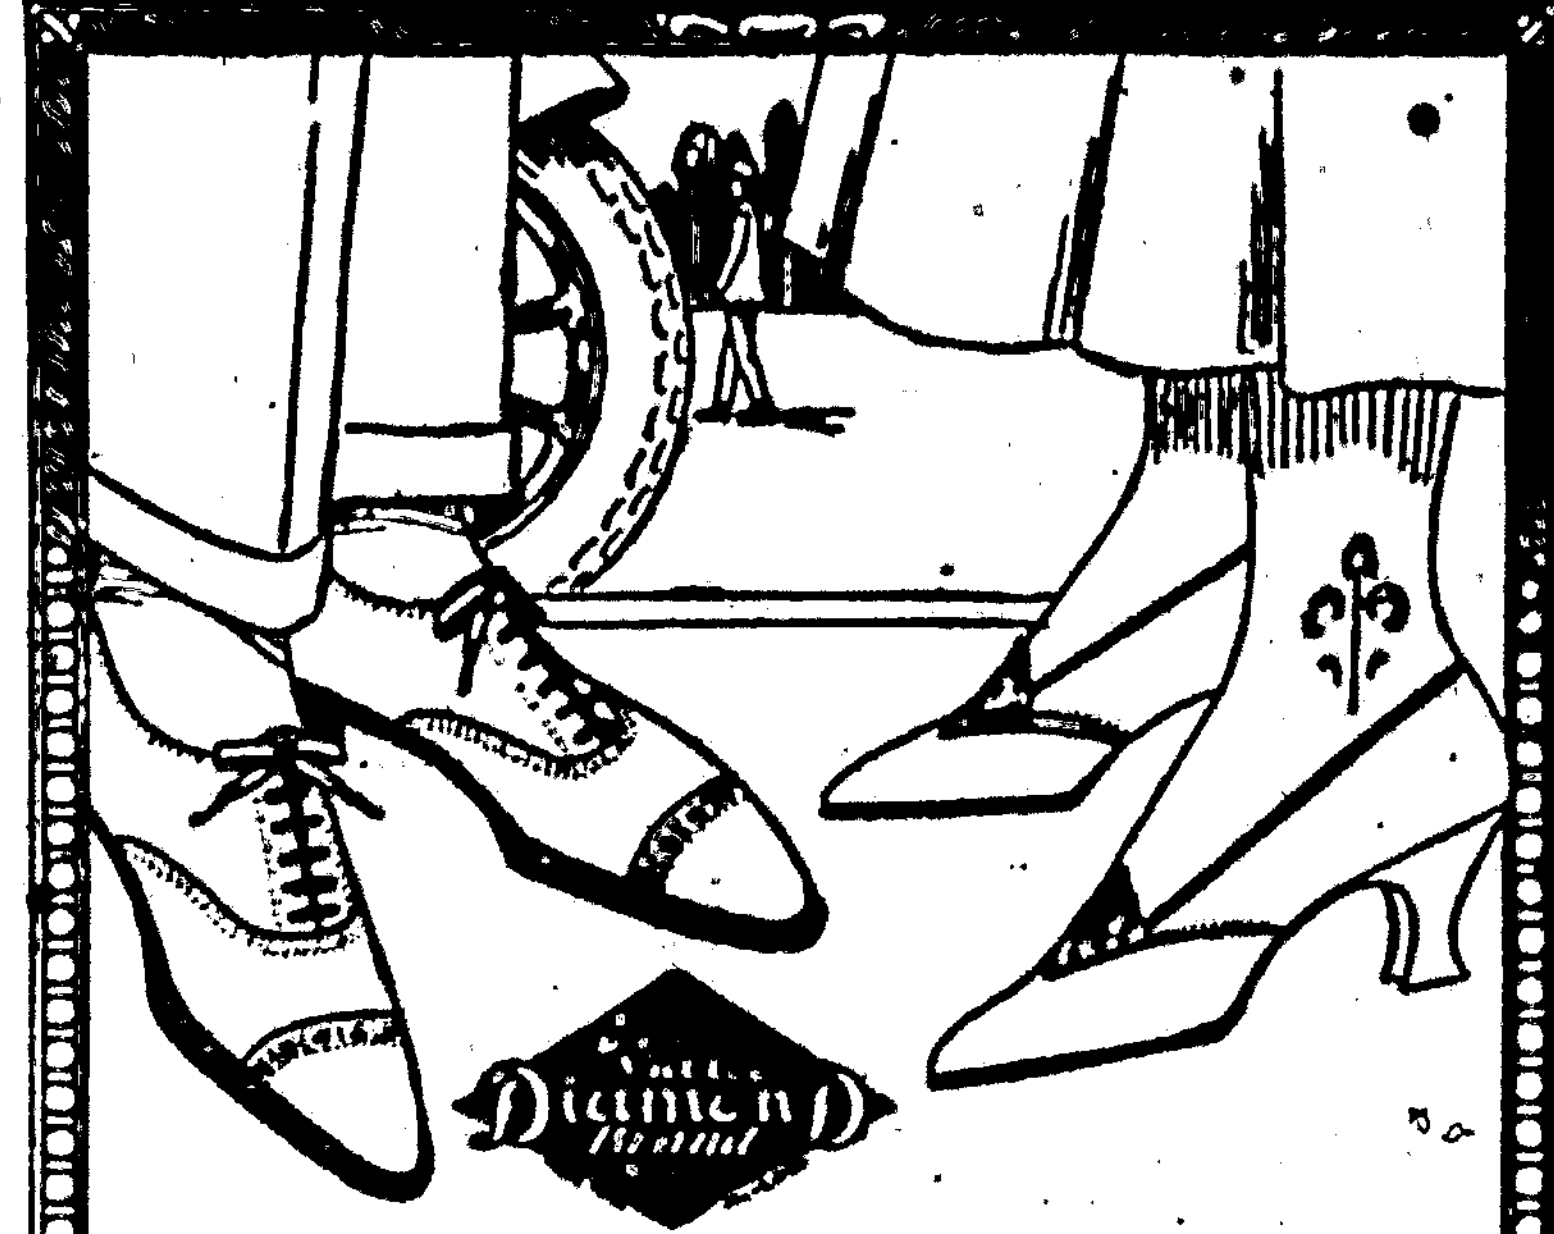

Corn's Infinite Variety—How much do you know about corn? About how good it is? About the many delicious ways of cooking it? And what you miss by not knowing more about it? Here are a few of its uses:

There are at least fifty ways to use corn meal to make good dishes for dinner, supper, lunch or breakfast. Here are some suggestions:

HOT BREADS	DESSERTS
Boston brown bread.	Corn-meal molasses cake.
Hoccake.	Apple corn bread.
Muffins.	Dumplings.
Biscuits.	Gingerbread.
Griddle cakes.	Fruit gems.
Waffles.

HEARTY DISHES
Corn-meal croquettes.	Corn-meal fish balls.
Meat and corn-meal dumplings.
Italian polenta.	Tamales.

The recipes are in Farmers' Bulletin 565, "Corn Meal as a Food and Ways of Using It," free from the Department of Agriculture.

Splendid Short Order House. From the Dark Corner.

W. B. Payne has opened his short order house on Lincoln street. It is a splendid place...

Judge Medler has ordered grand and petit juries summoned for a term of district court in this county to begin February 19th.

J. C. Robinson, now living near Arabela, was here Monday. It was Mr. Robinson's first visit to Capitan for a year or more.

Frank Salazar, of Lincoln, was a visitor to Capitan Tuesday. It was Frank's first trip here for some time.

W. H. Marr was in town Monday. He made it a point to hand in another year's subscription to the Mountaineer.

There was a daughter born in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Norton, in Chicago, a few days ago. They have the congratulations of many Capitan friends.

The law firm of C. A. Perkins of Carrizozo will be found in this paper. Mr. Perkins, not only has been practicing in the district court, but has recently obtained license to practice in the supreme court of the state.

Mr. J. C. Holman of Roswell, brother of the Misses Holman, who are teaching the High School, stopped here this week to see his sisters on his return from California. Mr. Holman has just taken a law course in the State University of California, and was motoring all the way home.

O. T. Nye, of Carrizozo, accompanied by Mr. W. A. Franklin, a Chicago man was in Capitan last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Franklin is a thing of the county for oil and gas, and expects to do some prospecting in a short time.

Mrs. Ben F. Nabo returned Tuesday from Albuquerque, where she had been at the bedside of her father, Mr. C. D. Johnson, who died on Friday of last week. Mrs. Nabo was accompanied home by her mother who will spend the rest of the winter here.

The Taylor and Roy Stewart are putting in a new garage at Capitan. They have their building nearly finished and will open for business early next week.

Mr. A. H. Dorsey, of Capitan, was in town last Saturday.

J. F. Boyd is fitting out his gasoline engine and putting in a 20-horse power steam engine to operate his saw mill on the Lincoln street. He says the ground did not give him sufficient power is the reason for the change. The mill will be shut down a couple of weeks while the change is being made, but he has a supply of good lumber on hand and can guarantee the public with most any kind of lumber they want.

W. H. Sellers, who a short time ago bought Dr. Johnson's Sierra ranch property at the foot of the Capitan mountain is putting up a stone building on the property with a view of moving there in the near future. E. V. West, a good stone mason, is doing the work on the building and it is to be a good ranch house, which will add much to the value of the ranch.

E. F. Puryear, who is teaching the Picacho school, sent the Mountaineer a subscription this week, and wrote the editor some words calculated to "cuddle his vanity." The editor knew Mr. Puryear several years ago over in Texas where he had established a reputation as an excellent teacher, and it is said he has maintained that reputation since coming to New Mexico. The editor will further state that when a boy out in old Missouri, he knew E. F. Puryear's father, Mr. Francis Puryear, and five Puryear uncles. These Puryear boys were all teachers, except Francis who was a lawyer.

Well, the white fact deer trial will begin as soon as the officer can summons a special venire of 150 men white. Judge Pendergrass has ordered. He has ruled that any one who has worked the road is a qualified juror in this case, but a road washer is disqualified to set on this case, or in any other case which may hereafter be tried in this court. Jesse VanWinkle has had all the help in the neighborhood working on the road which has somewhat interfered with Judge Pendergrass' court, but the road work will soon be over and then the wheels of justice will run more regularly.

Joe M. McCoy and family left Mountain View this week for King, Texas. Their little girl was sick when they left. We all wish them the best of luck. Uncle Jim Woodland says the Block's lost a good hand and the neighbor hood a fine family when the Mobleys left the country.

The weather has been very cold here. The coldest the old soldiers ever experienced.

Another Jewel Gone from the Home.

On January 23, the death Angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Read and killed to sleep their infant son Ramon Blake. He was born Dec. 31, 1917, and left us Jan. 23, 1918. His stay in this world of sorrow was short, but we loved him so much. Our hearts are darkened by his passing, but he is living in peace, and all forever.

We had a little treasure gone. He was all our joy and pride. We loved him oh, perhaps you well. For soon he flew and died, God needed one more Angel child.

And with his shining band, And so he went with loving hands, And clasped our darling hand, And all is dark within our dwelling.

Sheiff's Practical Patriotism

From the Los Angeles Times. A sheriff in Mohave has ordered record tables removed from all the saloons, bars and pool halls in his county. Justice requires it as a war measure, and he declares that they are not here to dig potatoes, and when dozens of them bodied officers of record and pool halls day it is time for action. The sheriff's brand of patriotism is the kind that counts.

Take Notice.

Mr. R. C. Stamey of the Internal Revenue Department will be in Carrizozo from the 18th to the 24th of February, 1918, for the purpose of assisting parties in Lincoln county to make out their Income Tax Report. While there his headquarters will be at the First National Bank. During the time Mr. Stamey's stay in Carrizozo the bank will have open to the public all its office rooms and will provide pens, ink and stationery and any assistance that may be needed free of any charge.

Cotton Seed Cake.

The Tittsworth Co. have a large supply of cotton seed cake. Those who have stock to feed will do well to see them.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Read wish to express their thanks to many friends and neighbors for kindness and attention shown them during the sickness and death of their infant son.

Mr. Riley McPherson has purchased the interest of his partner Mr. Albert Rohde in the Capitan Garage. Mr. McPherson wishes to announce that he will have a skilled mechanic in his employ in a few days who will do all kinds of automobile repairing.
