The Kaki Stag Dance.

[Written for the New Mexico Boys at Camp Funston by request.]

BY ROBE WHITE, Navjo Bend.

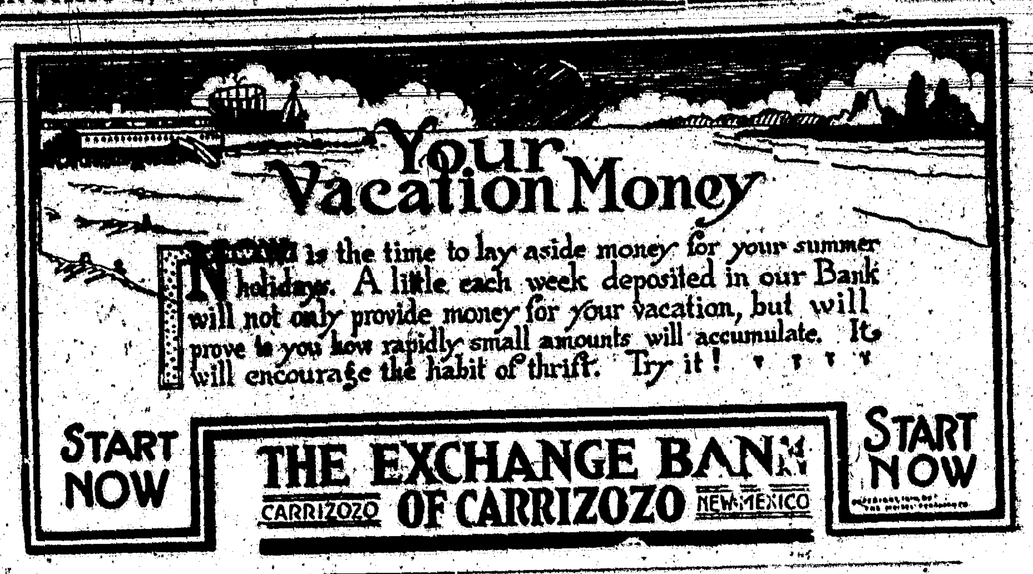
From hill and vale of New Mexico
Camp Funston drew her boys,
To train them wiser against the Kaiser
With all his bombs and toys;
In muddy drills and dusty hikes
With knapsack, gun and lance,
They decided to break the monotony—
So they staged a big Stag dance.
Ed Nelson was floor manager
In his true western masquerade,
Assisted by Stumpy Lucas
Who placed the boys on dress parade.
Morgan Riley sang for music,
Charley Shannon jumped with glee;
Then they went cutting capers
Like wild cats on a spree—
At last they got a good line-up
And every soldier ready;
Johnnie Hobbs, he stopped the music
Till he could get his pedals steady.
On the faces of these good old chaps
Real health and vigor beamed,
As the horn and drum, with its Tum, Tum, Tum;
Then Eddie fairly screamed:
"Rub your gout and face about,
All salute the flag;
All attention and let me mention
We are going to have a rag;
Now left face then right face
And keep your steps together,
Change and swing that pretty thing
That wears the patent leather;
First couple balance to the right
And balance back to Har y—
Grab your kit and do your bit
And march to Tipperary.
Four hands up and one foot down,
Swing that Mal Pais yearling;
Grab your cartridge belt and gun
And promonade to Berlin,
Balance the Hondo Two Step;
Don't mind that tangled wire,
Waltz right across the trenches
And take good aim and fire;
Quit your drooping and get to hooping—
I know you are hard weary
Raise your gun and call it fun
And sink that sub-marine;
Let her dip, just ride the ship
And keep that one step motion.
Now Possom trot—till you get a shot
At Fritz across the ocean;
Now make ready and stand real steady.
Now everybody dance;
There's not a weak knee in our bunch
And there's lots of girls in France."
Then the bugle call—a just reminder
They had no thought of sorrow,
But to stop the dance for rest time—
And another drill tomorrow.

A Fine Enterainmednt.

The entertainment given at the garage building last Friday night by Professor and Mrs. May was a most interesting oue in every particular. They had their new piano, which is a very fine one, and the music was something to be appreciated. This may be the last show that these people will give in Capitan before warm weather on account not being able to get a comfortable building in which to show. There certainly can be no reasonable objection to having such shows as this one in the school house. It is moral, educational and elevating and something appreciated by every one. The home talent shows are admitted to the school building and why exclude this one when these people are willing to give 25 per cent of the proceeds of the show for the use of the building. The building belongs to the public, the people, and not to any individuals, and the people should have the full benefit of it when opportunities present themselves.

Much Skim Milk Saved,

One creamery in the State of New York is condensing every day 25,000 pounds of skim milk, much of which formerly was run into the sewer, and several creameries now make their entire supply of skim milk into cottage cheese. These examples are cited in the annual report of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Dep rtment of Agriculture, as showing savings effected through the campaign for conse vation of all products that can increase the supply of food.



To Win This War.

The year of 1918 commences under conditions of the most serious character. Our country has been brought into the world war from which there was no alternative. Upon what America can and does do depends the final result, and no one should allow their thoughts to get way from this all predominating proposition. It has come to the point where every one, old and young, should be aroused to the gravity of the situation and exert their efforts in whatever direction possible to help win the war. It is firmly believed that Germany will be whipped in the end, but the final result should not be prolonged one day longer than possible. A great many people seem to only know that we are in a war and that we will win in the end and by this apathy or unconcernedness say let the other fellows look after it. If we should lose in the fight, Germany would not only maintain the prestege she has held for years; she would hold all that she fighting for, but she would acquire more. Then she would commence preparations for another world contest or conquest, and our country would be compelled to keep a standing army of millions of men to protect it. All our preparations should be pushed forward with hegreatest rapidity to bring this war to a speedy and successful close, to so completely whip Germany that her Rulers will never again be a world disturbing element Many of our young men have already gone to the front, many more will follow, and some of them we will never see again While we can't all be soldiers fighting in the trenches, we can all do something that will effectively aid the fighting men. We can be frugal, we can economize in our living that the more meat and flour can be sent to the army in France; our people can go to raising a greater variety of products, things that they know are adapted to our soil and climate. We can encourage the children to be saving and to invest their pennies and their nickels in saving stamps; extravagance can be curtailed in many ways and living can be reduced to the minimum. This is unselfishness, thisis patriotism, and will the people of Lincoln county practice it. In a recent address the Attorney General of the United States gave expression to some wonderfully forceful words and spoke them with authority. He said the time had come when the gover ment needs the help of every one; that it is a time when the government will not tolerate idleness, and that every one able to work must do so or suffer a penalty. Let us all realize the situation more seriously, let us put forth greater efforts in helping to prosecute the war in every avocation in which we are engaged and in every other way within our power.

Jude Seth F. Crews, of Oscuro, passed through here Wednesday on his way to Roswell. Some of Judge Crews' republican friends are talking strongly of getting him in the race this year to succeed Judge Medler.

Theft is Theft.

[From New Mexico State Record]

An injunction now in effect restrains the International News Service, a Hearst organization from pirating news that is gathered by the Associated Press. The Capitan "Mountaineer" of last week contains an editorial on the bad habit of pirating and exploiting news stories, a habit which obtains in the sanctums of some of the New Mexico newspapers. We agree with the "Mountaineer" that if a news story is good enough to be used in some other paper, it is good enough to receive credit. It is bad enough to steal the story, using it in any form without credit, but to run it under a date line as "By Special Correspondent," is adding insult to injury. There is no remedy that we can suggest. Laws provide prison terms for him who steals real property, or who obtains goods under false pretenses; but there is no penalty for obtaining credit for having brains, when the impressions are created in the minds of readers through the use of false pretenses. The principle involved is the same, however. It ought to be some consolation for the "Mountaineer" to realize that the newspaper pirates deserve prison terms, even though they remain unpunished."

The President's Definition of Germanism.

Innumerable articles and many books have been written to define "Germanism" and show to the world what it means.

In his message to Congress December 4 President Wilson defines it as follows:

This intolerable Thing of which the masters of Germany have shown us the ugly face, this menace of combined intrigue and force which we now see so clearly as the German power, a Thing without conscience or honor or capacity for covenanted peace."

This thing must be crushed, and if not truly brought to an end, at least shut out from the friendly intercourse of the nations, says the President, and it is only when this Thing and its power are indeed defeated that the time can come when we can discuss peace with the German people.

Thrift Stamps.

It is pointed out by the Treasury Department that Thrift Stamps are not made redeemable in cash for the reason that these stamps are simply intended as a convenient method for the small savers to accumulate enough to purchase War Saving Stamps, which bear interest and are redeemable in cash.

In addition, to provide for redemption for these Thrift Stamps would involve such an amount of detailed accounting and labor and expense as to impair the practicability of their use. In fact, they would be more trouble and expense to the Government possibly than they are worth.

The American Red Cross is now operating forty dispensaries in the war zone.

A rest station is being operated by the American Red Cross at the new American Aviation Field.

American nurses and other Red Cross women workers in France are to have a club with rooms in Paris, to include a library, reading room and a meeting hall.

Old phonograph records are being collected among friends of the American Red Cross in Paris to entertain soldiers at rest stations.

No Call Now For Quota's Deficiency.

Governor Lindsey has been informed by wire by Provost Marshal General Crowder that there will be no more formal calls for deferred percentage of the present draft quota until after February 15. It is asked that the greatest publicity possible be given to this new ruling. The telegram to the governor is as follows:

"Washington, D. C., Dec. 26, 1917, Gov. W. E. Lindsey Santa Fe, N. M —Number A sixteen forty. It has been decided that there will be no more formal calls for deferred percentages of the present quota before February 15. While boards should, until they have enough men finally classified in Class one, send forward promptly men selected under the old regulations to make up deficienciss in calls already made, the result of this decision will be that we shall be able to give the benefit of the new classification system to all men whose order numbers are so late as to place them within the deferred percentages of the present call. Calls, however, will be made very shortly under the provisions of Section 149 for the special class of men there mentioned. For the sake of composing the public mind and for the convenience of registrants this information ought to be given wide dissemination.

To Be a Hot One.

Along with the news that a gentlemen named Williams is to start a democratic newspaper at Willard comes the announcement that he will construct a fire proof building for his plant. He must expect to get out a hot one, and he might improve it some by printing on asbestos. —Los Cruces Citizen.

Williams hails from Tatum. New Mexico, where he published the "Plains Democrat," and if he is going to set the pace for improvement of New Mexico newspapers he is making a long jump to reach the front of the procession. The Plains Democrat under his management was evidently the poorest thing called a newspaper printed in the state.
