To Correspondents:

The editor of the Mountaineer greatly appreciates eulogies derived from different parts of the country, as news is furnished which adds interest to the paper, and it is hoped that those who are now sending in news items will continue doing so, and an effort will be made to secure more country correspondence. But all correspondents are kindly requested not to send in items that reflect on the character of others. Such items are liable to cause neighborhood strife, start scandals and bring about family troubles. People will form opinions about the conduct others, but a newspaper is not the proper medium through which they should express their opinions. Aside from being wrong in principle, the publication of items that reflect on people in the correspondent's community is something an editor can not afford to do. The party who feels injured or aggrieved nearly always places the blame on the editor. An enemy is made and whatever influence the party or parties may have it is used against the editor and his newspaper, besides it sometimes leads to serious trouble. Will our correspondents bear these facts in mind.

Quick Results.

To show that advertising brings results, attention is called to the following instance where it did. On last Saturday Mr. Roy Black, who has justly settled on the upper spots, placed an advertisement in the Mountaineer of a Ford car for sale or to trade for stock. On Monday afternoon Mr. Black came in and told us to take ad. out of the paper as it had already brought results. When Mr. A. G. Merryfield got his paper Sunday he read the advertisement and on Monday morning went to Mr. Black's and traded stock for the car. When you want to sell or trade something or buy something place a want ad in Mountaineer.

School Teachers Employed.

The school board at a meeting last Saturday evening employed the following named teacher for the next term of school:

W. J. Klopp, superintendent; Miss Ellen Smith, of Roswell, head primary department; Miss Mildred Peters in the grades, and Misses Mary Fritz and Ruby Bryan in the primary do portraits.

There are to be four more teachers employed, but the selections have not yet been made. The position of principal has been dispensed with. The teachers yet to be employed are manual training and mathematics, domestic science, history and music.

The Mountaineer will have a good deal to say from time to time about the school and do what it can to boost it.

A. G. Merryfield has bought residential property in Tularosa, consisting of a four room house and a block of land, and also leased a farm near the town, and moved his family there. He will remain on his farm near Capitan until he finishes his crop. Mr. Merryfield is a good farmer and industrious man and the people of Tularosa have gained a good citizen.

RAILWAY NEWS IN WASHINGTON

Excessive Labor Costs and Working Conditions Chief Causes of Trouble.

NO CONTROL OVER EXPENSE

Prices and Wages Fixed by Government Leave Little Scope for Management.

Washington, D. C.—In testifying before the Senate Committee on Inter-state Commerce in the general investigation into the railroad situation, witnesses for the railroads contended that:

(1) The costs of operation are abnormal, owing chiefly to wage scales established by the government which exceed wages paid for similar work in other industries, and to wasteful labor costs, often for work not done, enforced upon the railroads by the so-called "National Agreements."

(2) That 43 cents out of every dollar of operating expenses in 1920 were at prices fixed directly by the government, or by general market conditions and even when the railroad management had no control.

(3) That the general business depression was not due to the high freight rates, but to the lack of buying both here and abroad.

One of the most striking facts brought out in the testimony presented by the first witness, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific, was the following, in explanation of the chief reason for the increase in operating expenses since 1919:

"The labor bill of the carriers in 1919 (which was before the Adamson law took effect) stood at $1,463,670,624.

In 1920 it was $1,602,210,331, an increase of $2,220,630,037.

"The increase by years since 1919 has been as follows:

Increase in 1919.....$270,605,748

Increase in 1920.....$174,331,208

Increase in 1921.....$22,315,081

Increase in 1922.....$55,067,918

Exhibits were placed before the committee showing that for the railroads of the whole country, increased expenses in 1920 over 1919 were as follows:

Actual expenses for 1920 $4,163,138,241

Actual expenses for 1919 $4,667,774,181

Inc. for 1920 over 1919 $1,498,364,210

Mr. Kruttschnitt, in showing how little control the railroads had over necessary expenditures, said:

"Sixty-four cents out of every dollar of operating expenses were in 1920, paid out to labor, and the wages of labor are fixed by the government.

"Fifteen cents out of every dollar of operating expenses was paid for materials and supplies at prices fixed by the government.

"Three and one-half cents out of every dollar was paid for other expenses incurred by the government in the first two months of 1920.

"A total, therefore, of 62½ cents out of every dollar of operating expenses for 1920 was paid out at prices directly fixed by the government.

"The remainder, up to 37½ cents, was for materials and supplies, purchased at prices fixed by general market conditions and beyond the power of the railroads to control."

To illustrate how labor costs were inflated by the "National Agreement" entered into during federal control, fixing rates and working conditions, the following examples were cited:

1. The Pecos Margarita Railway was compelled to pay $5,000 in back pay under these agreements when they were changed by a decision of the Director General while the nature of their duties and the volume of their work remained the same.

2. A car painter on the Virginia Railway was paid $100 for work he never did. He was laid off with other employees because there was no work available under his "seniority rights" until after he received back pay and overtime.

3. The Shop Crafts Agreement provides that certain employees are required to check in and out on their own time, they will be paid for one hour extra at the close of each week, no matter how few hours they may have worked. This rule in the first year cost the railroad $5,000,000 at rate of $10,000 a year.

4. On the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Decowork car painters decreased 25 per cent in efficiency under a guarantee of a fixed minimum rate per hour.

5. On the abolition of piece work on the Union Pacific, the time required for the same work was increased 31.5 per cent and the output was cut down 24 per cent; and in coach-cleaning yards at Denver the time required for the same work was increased 28 per cent.

6. Southern Pacific employees, whose sole duty was to keep watch on steam engines, were required to change shifts at night. The time required for the same work was increased 31.5 per cent and the output was cut down 24 per cent; and in coach-cleaning yards at Denver the time required for the same work was increased 28 per cent.

7. Under the present classification rules of the shop crafts in order to change shifts at night, it was necessary to call a police master and his helper to open the doors, because that is the master's work; to call a policeman and his helper to remove the broken pipe, when it became necessary to do so.

Willie Hightower Sells His Dairy Business.

Willie Hightower sold his dairy cows and stock cattle and leased his ranch this week to Mr. W. A. Jones, late of the Corona country. Mr. Hightower was compelled to take this step on account of Mrs. Hightower's health. She has been in El Paso under treatment several weeks and her physician advised that she be taken to California to spend several months; that it would not do for her to return to this altitude for some time. Mr. Hightower left for El Paso yesterday morning and they will leave for California in a few days. He will probably return here in about sixty days, but Mrs. Hightower will remain there longer.

We are glad to have Mr. Jones and family come among us and hope they find their surrounding pleasant and their business will prove profitable.

Mrs. Geo. A. Titsworth returned Wednesday from Roswell where she spent several days attending the commencement exercises at the Military Institute where her son, Geo. A. one has been a student for the past three terms.

W. E. Payne has established a confectionery business at Fort Stanton. He will continue his meat, restaurant and confectionery business in Capitan which will remain under his personal supervision.

Feliciano Lojou, of Encino, a stone and adobe mason and plasterer has been in Capitan quite a time working at his trade. He plastered and pebble-dashed the outside walls of the drug store building for Mr. Shorty Deary, which is a very fine job of work; is also finishing plastering the walls of the new adobe house of Edwin Read, which is a splendid piece of work, and preparing to plaster exterior for Amado Jirou. Mr. Lojou thoroughly understands his business and always does good honest work and people wanting anything done in his line of work would do well to see him.

Ex Sheriff Porfirio Chavez of Lincoln, was in Capitan a couple of days this week. Since going out office Mr. Chavez has engaged in farming.
