Cleveland Ready for Big Conventions

Cleveland is now in the ring for the honor of being the city chosen for the next national conventions of the Democratic and Republican parties. The picture shows the new Cleveland Public Hall, which has a seating capacity of 12,000. The building cost $6,000,000 and has 15 front entrances.

Leviathan Real American Craft

Manufacturers Forgot Profits and Labor Its Rules in "Naturalizing" Big Vessel

New York.—The American liner Leviathan, once the Hamburg-American's Vaterland, will sail from New York for Southampton on her maiden voyage in our transatlantic passenger trade within the next four months. And when she clears Sandy Hook on that first eastward journey she will be in every sense an American ship, a ship in the reconstruction and reconditioning of which every state in the union has had a share.

The work of reconditioning the greatest ship that has ever sailed under the Stars and Stripes cost the government between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. Two years ago the Leviathan, which had transported more than 110,000 American soldiers to the war zone, was slowly setting into the Hoboken mud.

Then the government decided that it might be good business as well as a fine sentiment to save this ship for the American overseas passenger trade. So the Leviathan was towed to the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock company, and the transformation was under way. There will be nothing on the seas more completely American than this 62,000-ton passenger ship, and there will be no ship under any flag in which the appointments are more luxurious or the comforts and safeguards more numerous.

Outwardly the Leviathan is the Vaterland of 1914, but that is about all the resemblance. Under the German flag, and as the backbone of the A. E. F. transport fleet, she was a coal burner. In the American merchant service she will be the greatest oil-burner on the seas.

The interior decorations have been entirely changed. Under the Germans they typified the last word the German idea of the decorative art. The smoking room was as gaudy a compartment as could be found on the seven seas. The stained glass windows recalled the glories, on land and sea, of the old German empire. In the new Leviathan these artistic reminders of the Fatherland have been replaced by stained glass panels, 49 of them, one for each state in the union, and in the center of them all the great seal of the nation itself.

Luxury Everywhere.

Three great public gathering places on the promenade deck are the outstanding features in the architectural arrangement of the new Leviathan. These are the social hall, the palm court and restaurant and the main dining saloon.

The social hall has an area of 4,000 square feet, its great dome of glass an area of 2,400 square feet. Through this apartment, as fine as any ever built on a ship, is finished in oak panel work, from floor to ceiling. The lighting effects are concealed in the ceiling, and on the walls will be four oil paintings by an Italian artist of an earlier century. These four paintings are among the few decorative features retained from the time when she was under German control.

When the navy took the Leviathan in 1917 these pictures were not handled tenderly. They were ripped out, rolled up and some, unexplained way became soaked with water. It was believed at first that they had been ruined beyond repair, but in their restored state only an expert will be able to recognize that like the ship herself they have been made over.

A stage with all the necessary scene equipment is another feature of the social hall.

The palm court or garden, resembling the patio of Spanish courtyards, is another of the luxurious apartments which is a revelation. When the Germans owned the ship, it was in many respects not unlike a high-class beer garden. But it is different now. Ionic columns with lattice work in light green and gold give the whole what may be described as a porch effect,

Around the World by Motor

WESTERN

The assembly body of the California Legislature tabled a bill for the abolition of capital punishment. One of the speakers for the bill was Ward Johnston of San Quentin prison, who said he did not believe in capital punishment.

Marshall Kent, alias Kent Marshall, alleged to be the head of a national organization of confidence men, is under arrest in Los Angeles on a federal charge of using the mails to defraud. Kent was arrested at the request of federal authorities in New York, who stated that he was wanted in Jacksonville, Fla.

Spokane, Wash., police are seeking a man whose advances caused a young girl to leap from his speeding car, and when pursued, shot and wounded the motorcycle officer pursuing him.

The girl, Gladys Homer, is in a hospital with a fractured skull, possibly dying. The motorcycle officer, J. R. Cuthbert, is in another hospital, with a bullet in his right lung.

Actual construction on the first half mile of grade for the new Montana-Wyoming Railroad Company has started. The three sections of the locations have been completed for a distance of two miles and work is steadily progressing. The contractors all expect to be working within two weeks between Miles City, Mont., and Ashland.

Twenty-three hundred miles will be covered by the representatives of Omaha wholesaling, jobbing and retailing firms who will make the 1923 trade extension tour now being planned. The boosters will leave Omaha on May 20 and visit ninety western Nebraska and Wyoming cities. Principal cities in Wyoming which will be visited are Cheyenne, Rock Springs, Laramie, Rawlings and Green River.

WASHINGTON

Although pointing out that in some cities there was great need of new government buildings, Secretary Mellon stated in a letter to Chairman Madden of the House appropriations committee that it might be well to consider the advisability of restricting government construction as much as possible in view of the present boom of home building.

Business conditions are steadily getting better, Secretary of Labor Davis announced recently. He based his observations on reports to the Department of Labor from 5,400 manufacturing establishments for March, showing an increase at 21 per cent in number of men employed, 5 per cent increase in total wages, and 2.8 per cent increase in average weekly earnings.

Numerous applications for the job as prohibition director for Colorado have been sent to the United States Treasury Department at Washington. The office was left vacant when the resignation of Emmett H. McClelland was accepted by David A. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue in Washington. Recommandation by United States Senator Lawrence C. Phipps will be awaited before an appointment is made.

The first social function of any importance since Mrs. Harding's illness last fall was held a few days ago at the White House. The President and Mrs. Harding entertaining informally 100 friends in official and unofficial life. The guests included the members of the cabinet and Supreme Court, several members of the Senate and House and a few representatives of the diplomatic corps.

State Department agents designated to investigate charges that Turkish soldiers had mutilated the body and destroyed the coffin of George Dilby, an American soldier to whom a congressional medal of honor was awarded after he met his death in the World War, have confirmed them. In a preliminary report the agents said "those responsible for the profanation were apparently actuated by cruelty rather than by malice or any intentional act."

The grain futures trading act was declared valid and constitutional by the Supreme Court. It was the second time the court had passed on the validity of a grain futures trading law, a previous statute based on the taxing power of the federal government having been held unconstitutional. The law upheld was based on the right to control interstate commerce.

Establishment of seaplane mail service between New Orleans and Pilot Town, La., has been announced by the Postoffice Department. By this service late mail for foreign countries will be placed on outgoing steamers, at Pilot Town, 100 miles down the Mississippi river, saving from a day to two weeks' time in delivery at Cuba, Panama, Vera Cruz, and other points. Similar service has been successfully operated between Seattle and Vancouver for two years.

FOREIGN

The authorities of occupation have been tightening the hold on the Ruhr noticeably the last few weeks.

Germany's floating debt in discounted treasury bills at the end of March was 6,600,000,000,000 marks, representing an increase of 800,000,000 marks during the last ten days of the month.

It is reported from Berlin that that town has been fined 50,000,000 marks and that all street traffic at night is forbidden on account of the blowing up of the militarized railway between Berlin and Recklinghausen.

Members of the British admiralty board told International News Service they believed the spirit of the Washington conference treaties limiting naval armaments prevented elevation of gun turrets on warships to increase firing range.

The capture near Dublin of Austin Stack, chief colleague of Eamon de Valera, while important in itself, is overshadowed by the discovery on his person of a document indicating that the complete surrender of the irregulars is at hand.

Somewhere in the mountains of Scotland, Major and Mrs. Max Geor, the latter formerly Miss Mathilde McCormick, 18 years old, granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, are enjoying a brief honeymoon before returning to Switzerland, where they will live.

Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer of England, making his budget statement before a crowded chamber in the House of Commons, said the past year's surplus of £101,000,000 had gone to reduction of the debt. The financial year just closed had become steadily better as it proceeded, trade at home and abroad had improved and unemployment had diminished considerably.

A Constantinople dispatch to the London Daily Mail says that Elia El Grossi, an American relief worker, has arrived in that city from Tiflis where, he said, he spent eighteen days in solitary confinement in a Soviet prison on a charge of spying. The charge was based on the discovery among his papers of an insurance policy, which the Soviet police mistook for an incriminating document.

Howard Carter, the American who assisted Lord Carnarvon in finding the tomb of King Tutankhamen and who was said to be ill, was reported improved in dispatches received in London from Cairo. Lord Carnarvon's remains will be interred on the top of a big hill on his estate and not in the family vault, according to one of his last expressed wishes, says an announcement in London.

The correspondent of the Sunday Express at Weisungen, Germany, states that there are increasing indications that the former crown prince of Germany is becoming insane. The correspondent declares that two of Berlin's most famous alienists recently visited Weisungen and found the former crown prince suffering from progressive dementia. The correspondent adds: "The former crown prince has turned religious minded and forces the servants to listen for hours to sermons conducted by him on a wheezy organ."

GENERAL

J. M. Davis, chief of immigration to Juarez, has received an order from Mexico City instructing him to bar all Americans from entering Juarez after 8 o'clock every night unless every form of gambling was stopped.

An automobile accident killed 14,000 persons in the United States in 1922, an increase of 1,600, or 12 per cent, over 1921, according to figures issued by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters at New York City.

Ceremonies impressive by their simplicity were conducted at the funeral of the Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in America, who died at his residence at St. Louis, Mo. In accordance with the wish of the deceased prelate, no provision was made for a sermon.

Fire at Harry F. Sinclair's Hancock stable at Jobstown, N. J., destroyed property and horses valued at more than $1,000,000. The fire was in the breeding stables and the horses destroyed were brood mares and the stallion Inchape, for which Sinclair paid the record price of $150,000 a 2-year-old.

Seven Points of Supremacy

1. The sole leather used in "FOOT-FITTERS" is of the best quality obtainable. Even the leather is cut from standard outside leather.

2. "FOOT-FITTERS" shoes are the only shoes in the world having full length vamp and sole made of one piece. This feature prevents ripping at the toe and makes a smooth color and finish surface.

3. The insole is shock absorbent, channeled so that they fit tightly against the instep. There is no need for robin for a cork collar. A small piece of duck is used to prevent squeaking.

4. The Calfhair inside counter pocket is of great value, for it saves the wear on the socks.

5. "FOOT-FITTERS" shoes are 1-inch thick, thus generally dead. They give additional room in the arch and increase the comfort and wear of the shoe.

6. The vamp is reinforced with 8-oz. duck. This absorbs the moisture from the foot, thus keeps the vamp from cracking and holds the shoe in shape.

7. Extraordinary "FOOT-FITTERS" shoes are called "FOOT-FITTERS" because they fit the foot snugly. Built on combination lasts, they support the foot like a doctor's bandage. "FOOT-FITTERS" give comfort, service and appearance.

C. K. Hash and wife of El Paso, were in town this week and made the Mountaineer a call. Mr. Hash is traveling salesman for the Western Woodenware Company of El Paso, and makes this territory once a month. The Woodenware Company is an old established firm and has always done a large business in this part of the country.

Now Kemp is now road overseer for this district, and has a force of men grading the Norton Hill just north of town.

Witt Sears made a trip to the Ruidoso, to visit friends.

Wm. Myers, of the Michaels, was here Monday making application to make final proof of title to his land.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pfingsten were visiting in Capitan Monday from Lincoln.

Ed. Pfingsten and Wiley Divins were down from the Nogal Meader Monday.

Judge George Kimrell, the sage of Picacho, was among his Capitan friends Monday. The Judge reported fruit prospects good-on-the-Hondo.

Leopoldo Gonzales, of San Patricio, was here this week. He reports good rains on the Ruidoso, and the prospects for a fruit crop good. He was accompanied by L. W. Adams the nursery man and strawberry raiser, of Glencoe.

Report has reached here that William Brady, of Carrizozo, died this week of apoplexy. Mr. Brady was the son of Major Brady, an early Sheriff of the county, and was killed by "Billy the Kid" while in office. William Brady was born in Lincoln and has lived here all of his life.

A Good Move.

There is a movement on foot looking to the organization of a Commercial Club in Capitan. This is a movement in the right direction, and something we have been advocating a long time. It can be made a great means of boosting the town and community. Everybody should work together in getting the club organized and in working order.

The Estancia Valley country in Torrance county, just north of us, has received fine rains. That is a great boon growing country, but owing to the drought there was almost a total failure last year, but it is learned the farmers there are preparing for a large crop of beans this season, as well as other crops.

Prospects are very promising for a bumper fruit crop in Lincoln county this year.

Sheepmen in this part of the country report prospects good for a good lamb crop.

P. Givit residing near Nogal, was here this week trading with merchants. Mr. Givit is native of bunny Italy and a baker by trade and during the prosperous coal mining days at Calora just a short distance west of Capitan, he worked at his trade. He also baked bread for the firm of Welch & Titsworth, now The Titsworth Company who were then furnishing bread to Government at Fort Stanton. This was years ago.

We have just received a straight carload of mobiloids. The Titsworth Company.

There are several cases of measles in town. Several students had to quit school on that account.

Billy Sevier is having work rushed on his house, and it will be ready for occupancy in about three weeks.

G. S. Hoover is having the finishing touches put on his residence building. It not only shows good workmanship, but good taste in every particular, and will serve Mr. and Mrs. Hoover as an elegant home.

Mrs. Boone expects to have her new hotel building ready to open to the public by July 1st.

The Klan Cracks.

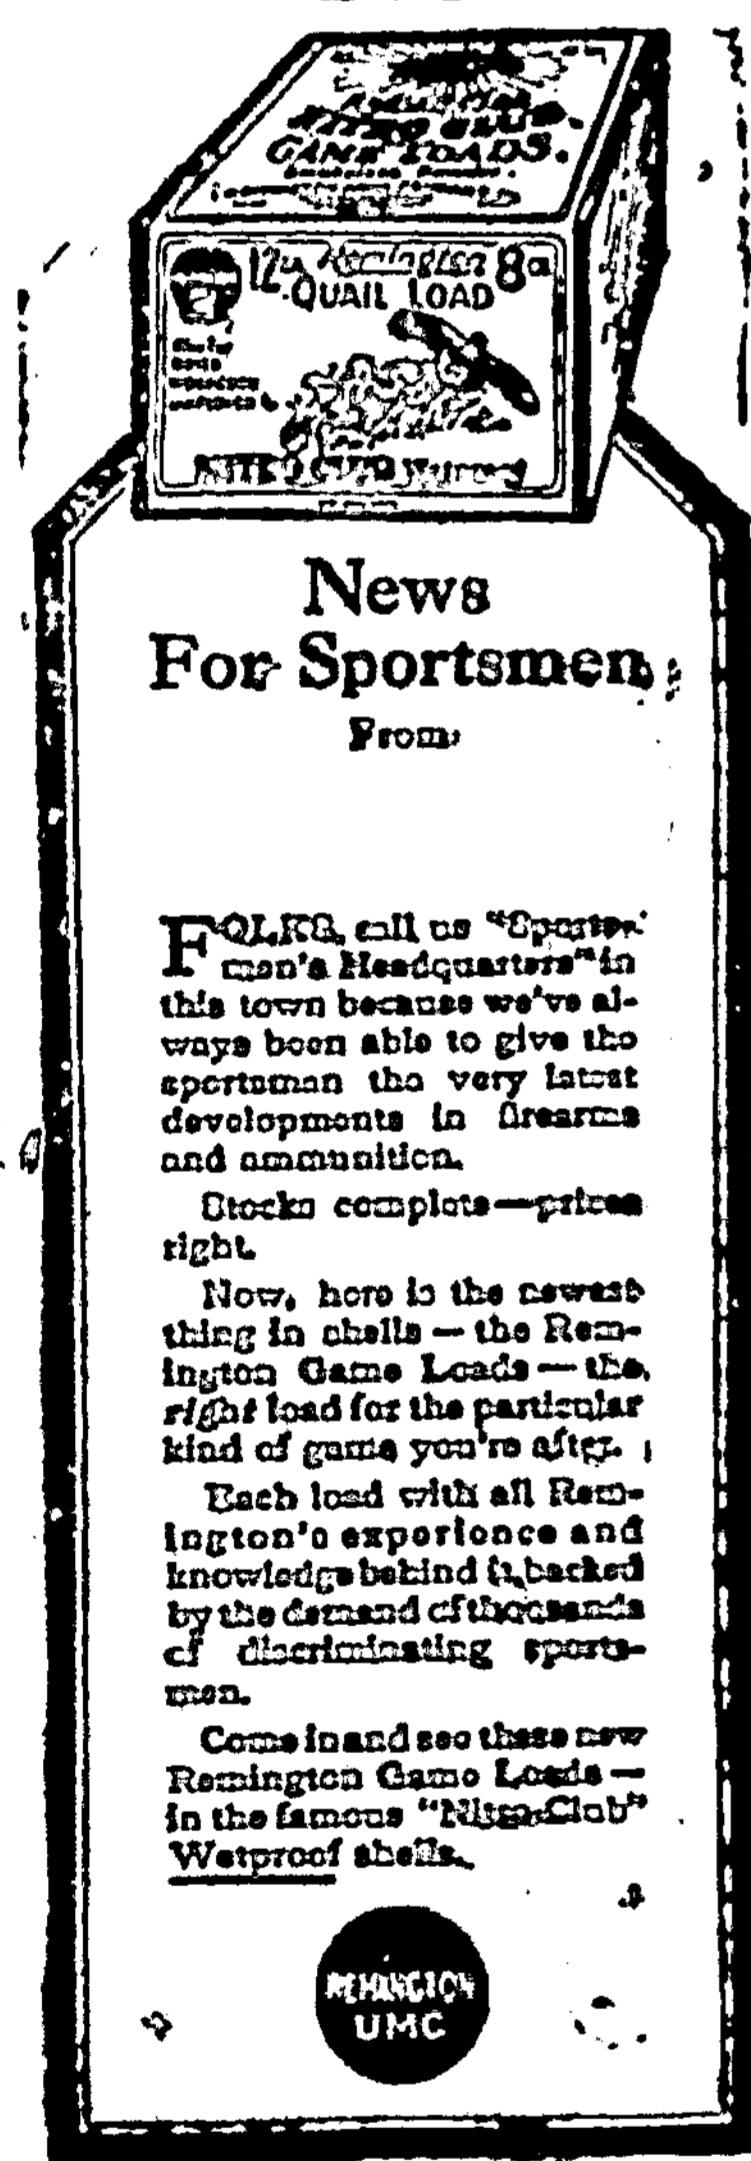

While rivals for control of Ku Klux Klan funds are fighting out their quarrels in Georgia courts, branches of the order in Louisiana are quietly breaking up and dissolving.

At two towns in the Palmetto State Klansmen, Protestant ministers and Knights of Columbus directed by Catholic Priests have met around compact tables, exchanged views and published statements touching the process of the Klan's dissolution.

Briefly, these statements consist of declarations by Klansmen that they joined the order for patriotic purposes and without prejudice against Catholics or Jews, and of assurances by Catholics and Protestants alike that these avowals should be accepted in good faith by the community. The pronouncements close with an appeal for all good citizens to forget the past and unite on the old ground of a citizenship free of religious or racial intolerance.

Signs like those indicate that the end of the Ku Klux Klan is not far off.

From the outset The Courier-Journal has not doubted that the organization would wear itself out against the ingrained conservatism of American character. The order's misguided members are recognizing that this order has no rightful place in American life. The wonder is that it ever gained a foot hold in the conservative South, where inter-relations of Jews, Catholic and Protestant have been exemplary for more than a century.—From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

CASH

We must either have the cash or keep our goods. Our finances are limited, which makes it impossible to do any extensive credit business and the small amount we have attempted to do, has been a source of weary to our selves and of very little assistance to the people whom we have attempted to help.

On and after March 15th there will be no more credit to any one. Our terms will be strictly cash.

Which Is Larger the Sun or a Cent

The sun is the largest but you can hold the cent so close to your eye that you'll lose sight of the sun. Don't let a cheap price or a big can baking powder make you lose sight of quality.

CALUMET

The Economy BAKING POWDER

Is the quality leavener—for real economy in the kitchen, always use Calumet, one trial will convince you.

The sale of Calumet is over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

Famous Puritan Writer.
Sir Thomas Brown (1615-1642) was a physician and writer of the Puritan age noted for the staleness and rhythm of his style. His leading work is "Urn Burial."

A few drops of linseed oil applied with a cloth to the outside of the gas stove or the inside of the oven will keep the stove from rusting and will make it easier to care for.

Methodist church in Mountainair has been started by a large crew of men and half a dozen teams. The new structure will be 63x83 feet in size.

Fire which broke out in the old ice house near Floersheim Mercantile Company at Springer for a time threatened the entire business section of the city. Prompt work on the part of the fire department extinguished the flames.

At the regular monthly dinner of the Roswell Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to stage the annual cotton carnival Oct. 10, 11, 12 and 13. The carnival is to be made the biggest celebration of the year and a committee has been appointed to work out the details and get up the program for the event.

Excellent progress is being made with the financial arrangements for the erection of the new Elks' home at Silver City, and it is hoped to have the building under way in the next six weeks. Exclusive of the site the proposed building will cost over $800,000 and will be one of the finest in the southern part of the state.

Licut. Thomas Thompson, reserve officer in the air service, held a record of flying from El Paso, Texas, to Albuquerque, N. M., 250 miles, in 1 hour and 55 minutes. Thompson made the flight a week ago. He is a student of the University of New Mexico and earns his way through school by giving air "joy rides" in his plane.

The Gallup Gas and Oil Company, formed at Gallup some time ago, will soon start on its first test well in San Juan county on section 10, township 23 north, range 8 west in the southern part of San Juan county. This test will be drilled on a small but very promising structure and the chances of getting oil are very flattering.

At the weekly luncheon of the Albuquerque Rotary Club, Kenneth Baldridge, who has been vice president of the club for the past year, was elected president for the ensuing year. Harry Strong was elected vice president and Clinton Anderson secretary and treasurer. Several Santa Fe railroad officials, who were in Albuquerque were guests of the club.

With the enrollment already over the 100 mark the management of the big Montezuma College at Las Vegas is making plans for a class of over 300 students to the summer session. Letters and personal visits from all parts of the state show the increasing interest in the big school and there is every indication that in the next year or two the institution will be filled to capacity.

With the assistance of the county agent the farmers of San Miguel county will soon start a campaign to kill off the pests of the farms with poison grain. Prairie dogs, gophers, ground squirrels and kangaroo rats are reported to be doing great damage to the crops of the county and the farmers will make a special effort to rid the land of these pests during the coming summer.

Fruit growers of the San Juan valley held a big meeting at Farmington to start a campaign on the San Jose escarp on the orchards of that section of the state. The work will be carried out under the direction of the county agent.

The appropriation has been made and government surveyors will start soon on the survey for the big dam and reservoir on the Pemaseo river west of Hope. If the project goes through it will mean that most of the land between Hope and the Pecos river will be irrigated from the big storage reservoir. Much of this land is said to be equal to the best in the agriculture sections of the Pecos valley, and the only thing it needs is water.

Governor Hinckley has granted a pardon to W. D. Alston, who was sentenced to serve four months in the county jail of Grant county in September, 1921, but took an appeal to the State Supreme Court which has sustained the lower court. The pardon is granted because of the petition of Grant county citizens of prominence asking it, and because there appears reason to doubt the guilt of the defendant, the governor states in his pardon order.

Stanford Alcorn, an employee at the Santa Fe shop at Matoe, was seriously injured when the wheels of a large truck under which he was working passed over his body. He was carried past the office of Dr. Elliott on a stretcher and given first aid and then taken to the hospital.

Work in the oil fields around Artesia is going ahead rapidly and by the middle of the summer it is believed that several more wells will be drilling. The Illinois number 3 has reached the depth of 200 feet and the big drill is pounding away in a clay formation.

The Phelps-Dodge Company has let the contract for fifty houses in Waycross for the employees which are employed in the mining camp of the company. Most of the houses will be four and five rooms and will be located on Captain hill. Owing to the shortage of houses in the camp, the work will be started at once and the contract completed by early fall.

The Bloomfield ditch, the most important in the San Juan valley, is reported in good shape for the opening of the irrigation season and the outlook for water is the best in years.

New Mexico State Items

The Shiprock Oil Company is erecting buildings on the peninsula near Farmington. The houses will be on stilts so they can be moved to any new location.

The Aztec Oil Syndicate of Aztec, reports the finding of a good showing of oil in the borer at the No. 1 well. The oil has increased since drilling has been suspended.

Development work at the Chloride mining camp is going ahead rapidly and the camp is rapidly coming to the front as one of the busier in the southern part of the state.

The work of excavating for the new Methodist church in Mountainair has been started by a large crew of men and half a dozen teams. The new structure will be 63x83 feet in size.
