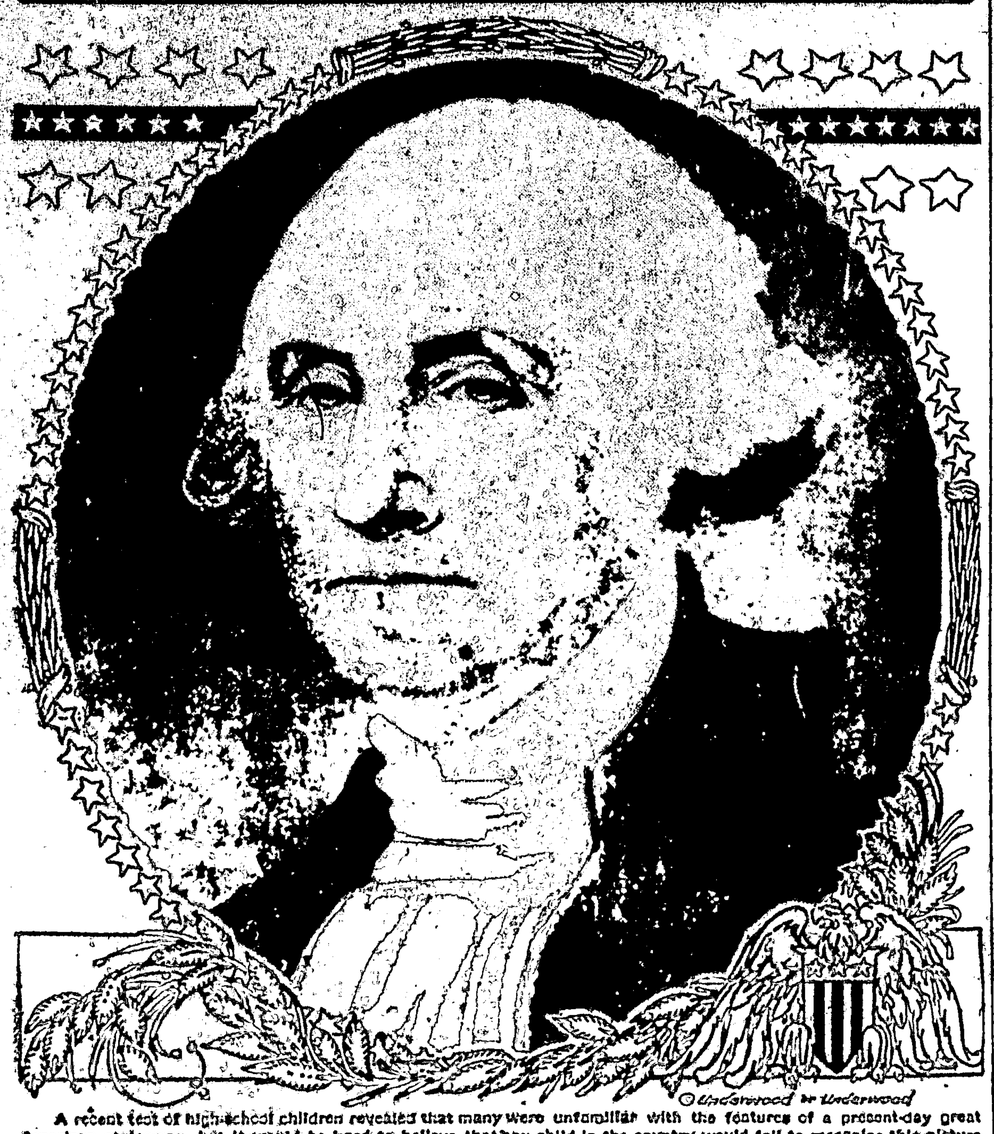
PICTURE THAT NEEDS NO LABEL



A recent test of high-school children revealed that many were unfamiliar with the features of a present-day great American statesman, but it would be hard to believe that any child in the country would fail to recognize this picture of George Washington.

Majestic Figure in Nation's History Is That of Washington

Set in the forefront of the nation's history, the figure of Washington loses none of its majestic proportions as the years recede. Rather, to our perception of him clearer, as when moving out from the city streets into the distance of perspective we realize the grandeur of a noble edifice. Moreover, the recent international conferences have done more to bring to the front the full purpose of his utterances and his personality.

Yet the very fact that his august figure suffers naught in the passing of the years, while his fame resists oblivion, may blind us to the helpful symmetry of his full humanity. He was so well balanced an organization of body, mind and spirit that we are apt to dwell upon his lofty serenity and majestic poise, forgetting those phases of his personality that cheer and uplift the average man. For this otherwise praiseworthy representation of Washington our art is largely responsible. In literature, also, the historian rightfully dwells upon and sets in high lights those traits that allure the populace and those mental acquirements that are as rare as snowy peaks.

Yet, there are fertile valleys and flower-bordered paths through the level meadows. While we say, Away with Weems! it can be proved that Washington, because he had the cherry heart that doeth good like a medicine," was very near to the people who called him Father. In this case family traditions are not to be despised. There are persons living who talked with eyewitnesses who themselves saw and talked with Washington. These have told us that whether in military or in civic life Washington won the admiration not only of warriors and statesmen but even of little children and rosy maids.

Washington Very Human.

We have the story from those reared in the same household with those who as very young girls had seen Washington at Valley Forge. Later as eager maidens robed in white and standing in the throng along the Old York road they welcomed with music and garlands the President-elect on his way through Philadelphia to New York. As young ladies they later attended the receptions of the Chief Executive on Market street. No White House then, but a commodious dwelling when the Quaker city was the nation's capital. As true as anything committed to formal documents is this testimony of the contemporaries on both sides of the house in their commonplace fireside talk of old experiences to their grandchildren.

They saw or served the commander in chief when he was in the vigor of his early forties and the President when in the wisdom of his late sixties, and all of them told the same intimate story of a gentleman at perfect ease without affectation. When these little girls of Valley Forge went to Philadelphia for their education they used to slip out of the Lutheran church at Fourth and Cherry streets and file across the then green fields to Christ church at Second and Market streets with double hope: They might see the President put Lady Washington in her carriage and they might catch his smile and bow to the people. Then—and how they did tell it with girlish volubility interlarded with many superlatives—they attended the presidential receptions on Market street where the Republican court assembled.

When Great Man Unbent.

Did the Father of His Country unbend? Yes, and literally so. Nothing better did these circle love than toward the end of the formalities to get his excellency in a corner, tell him stories and even make pert remarks about the visitors and social appraisements which were not always reverent. Then it was that an august form assumed more and oftener the curve of a bow than the rigidity of a ramrod. When Washington went sleighing, a pastime in which he indulged often, it is remembered that his laughter could be heard rods away.

Of other emotions—not hidden in that armor of reserve with which he froze the all too numerous climbers and impostors—sympathy with his soldiers and tears even when, without condescension, but himself suffering the pain of a comrade's sorrow, he visited the unlucky financier of the Revolution, Robert Morris, then shut up in a debtor's prison, contemporaneous testimony tells.

Of Washington's sense of humor, one who reads his dispatch to congress comparing fault-finding gentlemen in armchairs with real patriots shivering on the bleak slopes of Valley Forge, or the letter to Colonel Reed, when in Boston the premature calves of the British and Tories revealed their misunderstanding of the hauling down of the crossed flag at Cambridge and the raising of the thirteen-striped flag, critical readers know well. Washington enjoyed a joke. Indeed, while in outward mien and methods, with perhaps extreme formality of dress and manners in the end easy and easy nonchalance in the other, the two men differed greatly to the eye, they were in soul one.

Lessons From His Life.

But enough of the past. What voices sound out for the present? What lessons for the hour? Surely these are plain enough.

While thankful for what has been settled in the conference of nations in the city named after our chief, was it not in a large sense done at the call of Washington, who said: "Let us erect a standard to which the good and honest may repair"? In a still more generous invitation he besought Americans to "impart all the blessings we possess or ask for ourselves to the whole family of mankind." Did he not possess true democracy of soul and action?

To the average man or woman, or boy or girl, what is Washington's message? No psychoanalysis, metaphysics or esoteric philosophy is needed here. Everything lies on the surface. Hard work, faithfulness, honesty, self-control, perseverance were his. Out of the common carbon of character was this flawless diamond crystallized. It was because he made his own opportunities that men saw in him initiative and called him to high station. Now the world waits for men like him, called and gifted not by advantage of birth or wealth but by the right use of such talents as the hope which our Maker has given to all.—New York Herald.

Statue at West Point

West Point has an equestrian statue of George Washington which is a duplicate of Brown's famous statue in New York. It was given to the West Point academy anonymously.

Mount Vernon Estate.

Mount Vernon contained 20,000 acres, about fifteen square miles. It was divided into farms of convenient size, which were under the personal supervision of Washington. In 1787 he had 500 acres in grass; sowed 600 acres of oats, 700 acres of wheat, as much more in corn, barley, potatoes, beans, peas, etc., and 60 acres in turnips. His stock consisted of 140 horses, 112 cows, 223 working oxen, heifers and steers and 600 sheep. In 1793 he slaughtered 150 hogs for the use of his family and provisions for his negroes.

History Says He Did.

I hope I shall always possess firmness and virtue enough to maintain what I consider the most enviable of all titles—the character of an "honest man."—Washington.

All but fourteen bodies of the 122 miners entombed in mine No. 1 at Dawson, N. M., following the recent explosion, have been removed by rescue crews. The list of official dead now numbers 108, two of the entombed men having walked out uninjured.

J. E. Chilberg, former president of the defunct Scandinavian-American Bank of Seattle, stands cleared of a charge of illegally borrowing $65,000 from the bank. An indictment against him was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney, who said there was no evidence to substantiate the charge.

Felipe (Little Phil) Alguin, recently deported from Mexico after a continent-wide search for him, has confessed to Chief of Police Louis D. Oaks of Los Angeles the slaying of Detective Sergeant John J. Fitzgerald eighteen months ago, according to a report printed in the Los Angeles Times.

A storm, marked by every characteristic of extreme winter weather from below zero temperatures to mile-a-minute gales, swept the Pacific coast from the "cradle of storms" south of the Aleutian islands to the plateau regions west of Denver, prostrating wire communications and crippling train service.

Assurances that Japan and the United States have no vital mutual problems that conflict or any that are serious which cannot be adjusted by better understandings and a desire to be fair were given in San Francisco by Masanao Hanihara, Japan's ambassador to the United States, and by Charles B. Warren, United States ambassador to Japan.

Firing without warning, two bandits in Los Angeles shot and killed Sam McGee, negro chauffeur, held up and armed automobile of the First National bank, in charge of O. L. Callan, bank guard, and W. Blizzard, head of the bank's mailing department, and escaped with a canvas containing registered mail, the value of which was estimated at $100,000

Predicting that the United States in the future would begin to export gold, Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger in his annual report declared this would represent a long step in the restoration of world economic equilibrium.

The American foreign policy was raked over the coals in caffical vein at the midwinter dinner of the Gridiron Club of Washington newspaper correspondents. Several hundred guests, among them authors, artists and cartoonists, mingled with statesmen, diplomats and leaders of finance and industry enjoying the fun.

The British debt funding bill unexpectedly was given a clear field in the Senate, and the administration shipping bill was formally sidetracked, temporarily, and possibly permanently. The shipping bill was voted aside as the result of a parliamentary situation, which developed suddenly, and Democratic opposition to the measure.

Charles Beecher Warren in quitting as United States ambassador to Japan because he has accomplished the purpose for which he was sent to Tokio, he declared on his arrival in San Francisco, on his way to Washington.

Administration leaders in all branches of the government have expressed confidence that speedy and favorable action would be taken by Congress on the British debt funding settlement since it is submitted by the President. While it was generally admitted that opposition to the plan would develop considerable strength, administration spokesmen argued that a free discussion of the plan would win support for it both in Congress and throughout the country.

The Norris amendment to the federal constitution eliminating the present session of an old Congress after election of a new Congress and changing the date of inauguration of President from March 4 to the third Monday in January has been approved by the Senate. The resolution embodying the amendment was adopted after brief debate and by a vote of 63 to 6. It now goes to the House, with approval there before adjournment of Congress regarded as problematical.

Another effort to have Congress provide funds for the distribution of free seeds by its members failed, the House agricultural committee on a tie vote refusing to report out a bill by Representative Langley, Republican, Kentucky, proposing an annual seed appropriation of $500,000.

The application of the Southern Pacific Company to retain its present control of the Central Pacific railroad by ownership of its stock and lease of its lines was granted in full, by a decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Dr. Thomas O'Higgins was assassinated at Dublin. Dr. O'Higgins was the father of Kevin O'Higgins, minister of home affairs in the Free State government.

The council of state in Manila has amended regulations governing exploration and drilling for petroleum in the Philippines in an endeavor to encourage oil prospectors in the islands and the investment of outside capital.

Liam Lynch, Republican chief of staff, issued a proclamation in Dublin, declaring that "the war will go on until the independence of our country is recognized by our enemies, foreign and domestic," and calling upon the army to "continue activities with vigor."

Six women and a man, arrested at Limerick, are reported to have attempted to obtain the release of thirty prisoners from the jail there. They bribed the sentry to allow the prisoners to escape over the wall. This he agreed to do, but soldiers in disguise came over instead and captured the waiting plotters.

A violent cyclone swept Portugal recently, causing numerous deaths and great material damage. Numerous wrecks along the coast and in the rivers have been reported. Nine barques loaded with merchandise foundered at Oporto and hundreds of fishing boats went down in the Tagus river with a loss of seven lives.

Roy H. Finch, assistant director of Kilauea volcano observatory, in charge of the seismograph at Hawaii, said that he was inclined to accept the deductions of those mainland scientists who placed the origin of the recent disturbances, which developed the tidal waves that swept the islands, as somewhere northwest of Hawaii.

Metal and other products from the Ruhr and the Rhineland will not be permitted to go into unoccupied Germany. The French and Belgian governments served notice that in consequence of the efforts of the Germans to create difficulties for the occupational forces, this further embargo is to be imposed on exports from the two regions.

Lieut. Walter Hinton, the American aviator, arrived in Rio Janeiro, completing his seaplane flight from New York for Rio Janeiro, a journey of more than 5,000 miles, undertaken as a mark of friendship between the United States and Brazil on the occasion of the latter nation's centennial celebration. He was beset with difficulties almost from the start.

GENERAL

As the culmination of a family quarrel in a remote village of the far north Edward O'Brien is dead; his son, Clifton, is dangerously wounded, and Canadian police are searching for Frederick O'Brien, an 18-year old son and brother, who is alleged to be responsible for the shooting, according to reports received in Winnipeg, Canada.

A rate war among stockyard commission men was forecast with the announcement by the Progressive Live Stock Commission Company of Chicago of a 40 per cent reduction in their charges for handling cattle and hogs in carload lots. The reduction takes effect immediately. A saving to the farmer and live stock producer of from $600,000 to $400,000 a year will be effected if the reduction becomes general.

An amazing story of intrigue and deception was unfolded when Frank P. Walsh, attorney for twenty-two communists who are facing trial at St. Joseph, Mich., for advocating criminal syndicalism, began taking the deposition of Albert Bailin, alias Balanow, self-confessed spy and agent provocateur. By Balanow's testimony Mr. Walsh is seeking to show that radical organizations and "red" scares were invented at will by private detective agencies to assist them in collecting large sums of money from banking and other interests for the purpose of investigating the imaginary radical menace.

Kansas City.—Coal miners and operators negotiating a new contract at Kansas City, Mo., for the southwestern coal fields have agreed on continuation of the present wage scale for one year, but the operators are seeking certain other concessions, D. W. Lukins of Kansas City, chairman of the joint conference sub-committee, announced.

Chief Gabriel White Horse, a Cherokee Indian, went to the happy hunting grounds recently in New York City by a self-inflicted bullet wound through his heart. He had just learned, police said, that the pale face girl he adored had been merely "kidding" him. The cause of it all, according to the police, was Mrs. Norma Smith, 27 years old, cashier in a lunch room.

Charges that a letter sent to the postmaster of New York City in October, 1920, threatening to kill him and blow up the Woolworth building was inspired by an official of the W. J. Burns Detective Agency were made by Albert Bailin, alias Balanow, confessed spy and agent provocateur, continuing his sworn deposition for use by the defense in the trial of twenty-two alleged communists at St. Joseph, Mich., Feb. 20.

Earl B. Mayfield, United States senator-elect, and Silliman Evans, staff correspondent of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, came to blows at Austin, Texas, in a hotel lobby. The clash followed an argument about a news story, in the room of a mutual friend, it is said. Both went to the floor.

Joseph N. Self, night watchman at the University of Kentucky at Lexington, is dead, and William H. Middleton, 19, of Paducah, Ky., a student at the university, is dying, as a result of a pistol battle fought on the university campus.

Seven Points of Supremacy

1. The sole leather used in "FOOT-FITTERS" is of the best quality obtainable. Even the insoles are cut from standard outsole leather.

2. "FOOT-FITTERS" are the only shoes in the world having full length vamps and extra leather box toes. This feature prevents ripping at the tip and makes a smooth outer and inner surface.

3. The insoles are shoulder channelled so that they fit tightly against the outsole. There is no need or room for a cork filler. A small piece of duck is used to prevent squeaking.

4. The Calfskin inside counter pocket is of great value, for it saves the wear on the socks. There is no rough surface to rub against.

5. "FOOT-FITTER" heels are ¼-inch longer than generally used. They give additional support to the arch and increase the comfort and wear of the shoe.

6. The vamp is reenforced with 8-oz. duck. This absorbs the moisture from the foot, this keeps the vamp from cracking and holds the shoe to shape.

7. Edmonds' "FOOT-FITTER" shoes are called "FOOT-FITTERS" because they fit the foot snugly. Built on combination lasts they support the foot like a doctor's bandage.—"FOOT-FITTERS" give Comfort, Service and Appearance.

The following is a copy of the law as to the observance of Arbor day.

2726 Arbor Day.

The second Friday in March of each year shall be set apart and known as Arbor day, to be observed by the people of this State in the planting of forest trees for the benefit and adornment of public and private grounds, places and ways, and in such other efforts and undertakings as shall be in harmony with the general character of the day so established. Provided, that the actual planting of trees may be done on the day designated or at such other most convenient times as may best conform to local climatic conditions, such other time to be designated and due notice thereof given by the several county superintendents of schools for their respective counties.

The day as above designated shall be a holiday in all public schools of the State, and school officers and teachers are required to have the schools under their respective charge observe the day by planting of trees or other appropriate exercises.

As a result of the meeting of of the executive committee of the Lincoln County Teachers Association, the next meeting of said Association will be held in Carrizozo, March 30 and 31, 1920. We appreciate the hospitality accorded in the past, and look forward to this meeting with much pleasure. Dr. Lyman Abbott editor of the Outlook for forty years, noted in his diary that he deeply rejoiced in the fact that his greatest asset was his host of faithful friends and supporters of the principles of humanity which he tried to spead among his fellowman, and that his enemies were his barometer registering at all times his weakness.

It is not my purpose here to condemn my enemies but emulate my friends who have been the faithful supporters of the principles which I, through them and my worthy board and faculty, have endeavored to broad cast in our school and community. I have been asked frequently to explain the advantages of an accredited school in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. To do this I will have to give in substance the aim of this great Educational Association. The Association was founded twenty nine years ago credited high school is accepted by over two hundred standard colleges for entrance into the freshman class. There are other reasons why a school should belong on this accredited list. One which appeals to me first is; that the standards, which the Association has worked out so carefully, are the product of the strongest educators in the country, who have spent years of time in studying the many problems which confront our boys and girls in their pursuit for a higher intellectual life where they might gain for themselves and their fellowman a better understanding of their respective duties and responsibilities of citizenship. Spencer said, "Happiness consists in complete living," and it is the purpose of educators today to assist posterity in formulating a program which will lead to this high aim. What we need in our school today is not so much of arbitrary selection of courses for our pupils to pursue but a deeper understanding of their needs and a wholesome desire to break away from the pedagogical orthodox and enter upon

(By Louise H. Coe.)

The following is a copy of the law as to the observance of Arbor day.

2726 Arbor Day.

The second Friday in March of each year shall be set apart and known as Arbor day, to be observed by the people of this State in the planting of forest trees for the benefit and adornment of public and private grounds, places and ways, and in such other efforts and undertakings as shall be in harmony with the general character of the day so established. Provided, that the actual planting of trees may be done on the day designated or at such other most convenient times as may best conform to local climatic conditions, such other time to be designated and due notice thereof given by the several county superintendents of schools for their respective counties.

The day as above designated shall be a holiday in all public schools of the State, and school officers and teachers are required to have the schools under their respective charge observe the day by planting of trees or other appropriate exercises.

As a result of the meeting of of the executive committee of the Lincoln County Teachers Association, the next meeting of said Association will be held in Carrizozo, March 30 and 31, 1920. We appreciate the hospitality accorded in the past, and look forward to this meeting with much pleasure. A meeting of the program Committee of the above association has been called to meet in the office of the County School Superintendent on Saturday February 24th. As soon as the program is arranged it will appear in all the County papers.

On account of illness, the upper Ruidoso school was closed during the week of February 2 to 9 inclusive, but since that date school has been in session with only fair attendance.

Corona High School received the Attendance Banner for the month of January, having one hundred per cent attendance.

The Basket Ball Tournament of the Southeastern Counties will be held at Roswell February 25 and 26. We are expecting the Carrizozo team to win the Championship.

The Committee on Legislature of the New Mexico State Legislature are now preparing a bill which will comprise all school laws, and will be a complete revision of the present school laws. This bill will be introduced, I understand, by our Senator, E. M. Brickley some time this week. Watch the papers and see what he has done with this educational bill, which is one of the most vital questions before this session of the Legislature.

I shall be glad to receive news from any of the County schools.

Given Bond.

The Habeas corpus trial of Hunter Hobbs, T. J. Simer and Will Titsworth closed last Monday. Judge Edwin Mechem granted the accused parties bond in the sum of $15,000 each to await the action of the grand jury. The defense submitted no evidence.

We learn from a letter recently received from Mr. John B. Burch, who is now at Winslow, Arizona, that a fourteen year old daughter of his brother Lazarus Burch, was killed lately near that place. She and other little girls were playing, making a play house under a shelving rock. Suddenly the rock dropped on two of them and they were instantly killed. The letter states that it required fifty men to remove the stone.

Roy D. Skinner, formerly engaged in the restaurant business in Carrizozo, is now owner of the City Market in that town. The City Market is a grocery store and a meat market combined. It is one of the best grocery stores we know of. The groceries all look to be fresh, and kept in splendid order. A full line of fresh and dried meat are kept on hand, and it is one of the best places to trade in that town.

A snow fell all over this country last Thursday night and Friday. In Capitan the snow was 6 inches deep and in other places in the surrounding country it was much deeper. It is of much benefit to the farming interest of the country, and farmers will be plowing in a few days preparing their land for the coming years crop.

Ed Kelly, the Hardware and Furniture man of Carrizozo and Mrs. Kelly passed through Capitan this week enroute to Roswell where Mr. Kelly will attend the "Winchester" Dealers' Meeting for New Mexico. They were accompanied by Miss Geo. Dingwall of Carrizozo.

Married.

Mr. Perry Hightower and Miss Julia Artiago were married last Sunday the 15th at Hondo, by Justice of the Peace Clement Hightower performing the ceremony.

Perry is the son of Clement Hightower a well known citizen of Lincoln county and is a young who has many friends in the county and is at present employed at Fort Stanton by the Government.

Julia is a nice and attractive girl and is liked by all who know her—she like Perry was raised in our midst and are strictly Lincoln county products. Mrs. Hightower is the daughter of Mrs. Lola Artiago.

This paper wishes them lots of happiness.

Mrs. Mary Berry and daughters Ella and Amano were visiting friends in Capitan this week. Mrs. Berry lives on the Gallo, 20 miles northeast of Corona, where she and her daughters have established themselves a nice ranch well stocked with cattle, where they have not only made a good living—but accumulated considerable means. This was accomplished by good management, honesty and hard work.

James V. Tully was a business visitor in Capitan Monday from his home at Glencoe.

(By W. J. Klopp)

Dr. Lyman Abbott editor of the Outlook for forty years, noted in his diary that he deeply rejoiced in the fact that his greatest asset was his host of faithful friends and supporters of the principles of humanity which he tried to spread among his followman, and that his enemies were his barometer registering at all times his weakness.

It is not my purpose here to condemn my enemies but congratulate my friends who have been the faithful supporters of the principles which I, through them and my worthy board and faculty, have endeavored to broad cast in our school and community. I have been asked frequently to explain the advantages of an accredited school in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. To do this I will have to give in substance the aim of this great Educational Association. The Association was founded twenty nine years ago by a little group of farsighted educators representing but a few institutions and a very limited territory. Now it is represented by eighteen states. Nearly two hundred colleges and universities and approximately fourteen hundred high schools are now on this accredited list, twenty-six of which are from New Mexico, and Lincoln County High School has been on this list since 1921 and is the only accredited high school in the county. The aim of this association is first to bring about a better acquaintance, a better sympathy and a heartier cooperation between the Colleges and secondary schools; second, to consider common educational problems and to devise the best ways and means of solving them; third, to promote the physical, moral, and intellectual well being of students by urging proper sanitary conditions of school buildings, adequate library facilities, and higher standards of scholarship and remuneration of teachers. The Association is the most generally recognized standardising agency of the North Central States and ranks first in prestige in the United States. To be a member of this Association requires College graduates, with degrees from standard colleges, in the academic department; it requires definite time periods; standard texts; adequate laboratory equipment; standard courses and not less than sixteen units for graduation. The reward is worthy of the effort because a diploma from an accredited high school is accepted by over two hundred standard colleges for entrance into the freshman class. There are other reasons why a school should belong on this accredited list. One which appeals to me first is; that the standards, which the Association has worked out so carefully, are the product of the strongest educators in the country, who have spent years of time in studying the many problems which confront our boys and girls in their pursuit for a higher intellectual life where they might gain for themselves and their followmen a better understanding of their respective duties and responsibilities of citizenship. Spencer said, "Happiness consists in complete loving," and it is the purpose of educators today to assist posterity in formulating a program which will lead to this high aim. What we need in our school today is not so much of arbitrary selection of courses for our pupils to pursue but a deeper understanding of their needs and a wholesome desire to break away from the pedagogical orthodox and enter upon the new conquest of helping the boys and girls find themselves. Can we have a little less politics in our school administration and a little more honest and efficient cooperation in finding the actual needs in equipment and housing of our school systems? If we can then we can have an equitable distribution of funds in every school district. No one wants to spend more money in education than is reasonable but everyone wants that money spent well, so that every dollar spent represents an investment upon which real dividends may be realized. Our first great duty as citizens and taxpayors lies in the future welfare of our nation. What we do today will be realized in effect tomorrow. What is left undone today will add a new burden to posterity tomorrow.

What Lincoln County wants and needs is better schools with better equipment and we can get this by taking an honest entory of our stock and cut out waste where there is waste and supply needs where needs are evident, then and only then can we hope to bring New Mexico out of its lethargy into the brightness and glory of a new intellectual era.

St. Paul Woman Says Stomach Trouble Is Gone and She Has Gained 10 Pounds.

"Tanlac has meant health and happiness to me, and I think it has no equal," declared Mrs. Albert Kaping, highly-respected resident of 29 E. 10th St., St. Paul, Minn.

"I was so terribly run down my housework seemed like a mountain to me, and lots of times I had to give up and rest. I was nervous, weak, and had splitting headaches and awful dizzy spells. My stomach was so badly out of order almost everything I ate would sour and I suffered terribly from gas, heartburn and a distressing smothering feeling. I could not sleep nights, my back ached terribly, I lost weight till my clothes didn't fit, and was in a generally wretched condition.

"But now I get real joy out of caring for my house. Since taking Tanlac I have gained ten pounds, never have indigestion and all my aches and pains are gone. I take pleasure in recommending Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

MANY WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

Through the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Two Interesting Cases

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the common ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Mrs. Edwards Avoids Operation

Wilson, N. C.—"For about a year I was not able to do anything, not even my housework, because of the pains in my sides and the tearing-down pains. I could only lie around the house. The doctor said nothing but an operation would help me, but I tried different medicines which did no good, until my sister insisted on my trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She said there was nothing like it. I know that she was right, for I began to improve with the first bottle and it has done me more good than anything else. I am able now to do anything on the farm or in my home and I recommend it to my friends."—Lillie Edwards, R.F.D. 5, Box 44, Wilson, N. C.

Another Operation Avoided

Akron, Ohio.—"I can never praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for what it has done for me. I had such pains and weakness that the doctor told me nothing but an operation would help me. But my mother had taken the Vegetable Compound and she told me what it had done for her, and so I took it and I am glad to tell every one that it made me a strong woman, and I have had two children since then."—Mrs. R. G. Wertoven, 825 Grant Street, Akron, Ohio.

He Could Make It.

Early one morning before the new traffic towers were erected, one of the traffic policemen was rolling his "Stop and Go" sign to his station in the center of a street, when a mob drove up on a heavily loaded hay wagon and proceeded to turn "left."

"Hey, you can't do that!" shouted the policeman, wrathfully.

"Oh, yes, I think I can make it," called back the man, cheerfully.

And it was necessary for the policeman to leave his post of duty to explain that although he possibly could "make it" the man had better keep to the right.—Indianapolis Star.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything.

It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

CHARACTER TELLS THE STORY!

People throughout this country are giving more thought to hygiene and to the purity of remedies on the market, but no one doubts the purity of Doctor Pierce's vegetable medicines, for they have been so favorably known for over fifty years that everyone knows they are just what they are claimed to be. These medicines are the result of long research by a well-known physician, R. V. Pierce, M. D., who compounded them from health-giving herbs and roots long used in sickness by the Indians. Dr. Pierce's reputation as a leading and honored citizen of Buffalo, is a sufficient guarantee for the purity of that splendid tonic and blood purifier, the Golden Medical Discovery, and the equally fine nerve tonic and system builder for women's ailments, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Winter Find You Tired and Achy?

DOES winter find you miserable with an aching back? Do you get up lame and stiff—lag through the day tired, weak and depressed? Do you know why you are so run down?

There's good reason for your condition and likely it's weak kidneys. Winter's colds and chills throw a heavy burden on the kidneys. The kidneys fall behind and poisons accumulate. It's little wonder, then, that you suffer backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and bladder irregularities.

Don't risk serious kidney disease. Use Doan's Kidney Pills before it is too late. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Good Folks:

A. C. Sammon, railroad station agent, Main St., Buena Vista, Colo., says: "I caught cold and it affected my kidneys; the kidney secretions were highly colored. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills and two boxes regulated my kidneys."

OVER SEVEN YEARS LATER Mr. Sammon said: "I have had little need of a kidney medicine now, but I use Doan's occasionally and they keep my kidneys in good health."

Mrs. H. W. McGuirk, 623 S. Ruby Ave., Deming, N. M., says: "After I had typhoid fever my back began to hurt and my kidneys acted improperly. I had a dull ache across the small of my back and sharp twinges of pain frequently stabbed through my back. I felt weak, run-down, and lifeless. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they practically cured me. This was many years ago and I have had no further trouble."

FREEDOM FROM LAXATIVES

Discovery by Scientists Has Replaced Them.

Pills and salts give temporary relief from constipation only at the expense of permanent injury, says an eminent medical authority.

Science has found a newer, better way—a means as simple as Nature itself.

In perfect health a natural lubricant keeps the food waste soft and moving. But when constipation exists this natural lubricant is not sufficient. Medical authorities have found that the bland lubricating action of Nujol most closely resembles that of Nature's own lubricant. As Nujol is not a laxative it cannot gripe. It is in no sense a medicine. And like pure water it is harmless and pleasant.

Nujol is prescribed by physicians; used in leading hospitals. Get a bottle from your druggist today.—Advertisement.
