EX-PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON

PRESIDENT WILSON WAS HUMAN PHENOMENON OF GREATEST WAR

At 54 No More Than a University Professor and Political Writer; at 63 In a Place of Power and Fame and Honor Unsurpassed in History—Defended His Unsuccessful Peace Policies to the Last:

History, in determining the place of Woodrow Wilson, 28th president of the United States of America, will pass judgment upon the most prominent world-figure of the events growing out of the most momentous war of all time. From the viewpoint of hundreds of millions of layers of liberty Woodrow Wilson stands at the zenith, as the emperor stands at the nadir.

The great war brought to the front many men whose names will live in history. In the last half of the three years stand out Wilson, Lloyd George, Clemenceau. Of these three, it was Wilson who held the avera-gae eye—Wilson, the human phenomenon of the time, until fifty-four no more than a college professor and political writer and at sixty-three on a plane of fame and honor and power unsurpassed if ever attained by any man in history.

It is impossible now to differentiate between Woodrow Wilson the man and Woodrow Wilson the head of the most powerful nation on earth in wealth, material and fighting men. Certainly he could not have reached the place he did without great ability and extraordinary capacity for leadership. By virtue of his place he became a focus of world attention and soon as the great war began. Before the armistice was signed he had become a great moral leader with the ear of the peoples of the world. Only as such could he have forced upon the allied world the unfeigned acceptance of his project of a league of nations, with its fourfold points as set forth to come January 19, 1918.

Ahead and at Home:

The enthusiasm evoked by President Wilson's visits to Paris, London and Rome was proof of his critical place in the regard of the people. It was evident that he was to Europeans not so much a man as a voice—a voice putting into words what they wanted and had not been able to express; the ideals and ideals were a sort of religion to them.

But he showed himself a statesman as well as a voice. He played the game masterfully. He established sympathy between himself and his men or his crowd. He made few if any mistakes in taste or judgment. He "watched his mind," to use his own expression, with the best of Europe and got his ideas of nations before the peace conference and got it adopted.

President Wilson's two months in Europe may be divided into phases. When he landed the attitude toward the League of Nations was this: The government of France was antagonistic; Great Britain was suspicious; Italy's was skeptical. The first phase, his triumphant progress through France, England and Italy opened the eyes of these governments to his hold on the people. The second phase, the preliminary work of the peace conference, convinced these governments that President Wilson had an idea rather than a set plan which he proposed to force upon them. This simplified the situation and the men to climb on the bandwagon began.

Contemporary estimates of President Wilson at home were as wide apart as the poles. Senator W. Thomas Hedin (Dem., Ga.) when representative spoke on the floor of the Senate: "Woodrow Wilson, the greatest apostle of world liberty and democracy since Jesus Christ."

Senator Thomas W. Hardwick (Dem., Ga.) said January 21 in the Senate: "I believe in a written constitution. I believe in a strict interpretation of it . . . and I believe that unless we leave and abandon this mad autocracy of imperialism here at home and return to the ancient principles of our fathers there will be no safety nor honor for us."

Mr. Wilson's last public utterance was last fall, November 10, 1923, the eve of Armistice day, he spoke by radio to the American people, defending his peace policy and saying that the American people had withdrawn into a "solitary and godless isolation which is deeply ignoble, because manifestly cowardly and dishonorable."

Armistice day Mr. Wilson briefly addressed thousands from the front steps of his home, concluding thus:

"I am not one of those that have the least anxiety about the triumph of the principles I have stood for. I have seen tools resist Providence before and I have seen their destruction, as will come upon these again—utter destruction and contempt. That we shall prevail is as sure as that God reigns. Thank you."

Chronology of Wilson.

Woodrow Wilson was born December 28, 1856, in Staunton, Va. He was the son of Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, a Presbyterian minister, and Jessie (Woodrow) Wilson. In 1883 he married Ellen Louise Axson. They had three daughters—Jessie (Mrs. Francis B. Sayre), Eleanor (Mrs. W. G. McAdoo) and Margaret. Mrs. Wilson died August 19, 1914, in the White House. December 18, 1915, Mr. Wilson married Edith (Bolling) Galt, a descendant of Fochonian. The first 20 years of Mr. Wilson's life covered his boyhood and education. The next 25 were devoted to teaching and writing. With his election to the governorship of New Jersey in 1910 began his active political career. His chronology follows:

1856—Family removed to Atlanta, Ga. Student in private schools.

1875—Student at Princeton.

1879-82—Law student at University of Virginia.

1882-3—Practicing lawyer in Atlanta.

1883-5—Post-graduate course at Johns Hopkins University in history.

happiness for the people of this republic."

Senator Albert B. Cummins (Rep., Iowa) expressed the half-way view when he said in the senate January 23: "I think President Wilson is the most intensely practical statesman of this or any other day." He began his administration in the belief that the executive office had not the power that it ought to have. He has accomplished more in the direction in which he set his face and his mind than any other man within this generation in any former generation; and the only criticism, if it be a criticism, is that he has not marched in the right direction and has done things that he ought not to have done."

In the process of wresting from control all the powers he believed the Constitution conferred upon the executive, President Wilson made many political enemies who questioned not his ability, but his motives and methods. To particularize would be largely to review the political history of the last six years. The railroad situation, however, may be cited as an example. Representative E. D. Denison (Rep.) of Illinois said January 15, 1910, "Government ownership of railroads will be the dominant political issue in the next national campaign and Mr. McAdoo will of course expect to be the candidate of his party. He will hope to capitalize what has been done for the railroad men."

President Wilson was re-elected in 1916 upon a peace platform. October 23, 1918, just before the congressional elections, he issued an appeal to the voters of the United States asking them if they had approved of his leadership and wished him to continue to be their unembarrassed spokesman in affairs at home and abroad, to defend themselves unhesitatingly to that effect by returning a Democratic majority to both houses. The result of the elections was to change the political complexion of both houses as follows: 63rd Congress—Senate, 51 Democrats and 45 Republicans; house, 215 Republicans and 210 Democrats. Elected president over Taft and Roosevelt.

1910—Nominated by acclamation by Democratic national convention in St Louis in June. Elected president over Charles E. Hughes.

Woodrow Wilson's Ph. D. thesis was "Congressional Government: A Study in American Politics" (1883). His later works include:

"The State: Elements of Historical and Practical Politics" (1900); new edition, 1911.

"An Old Master, and Other Political Essays" (1913).

"Divorce and Remarriage" (1913).

"Literary and Other Essays" (1913); new edition, 1919.

"Constitutional Government in the United States" (1903).

"Civil Problems" (1909).

"History of the American People" (4 vols., 1902; new edition, 1912).

"The New Freedom" (1913).

"When a Man Comes to Himself" (1919).

Tax Returns Show More Women Are in Business

Washington—Women are more active now in the business world than ever before in the history of the nation. Treasury department statistics show that since the war the number of women who earn incomes large enough to be taxed has tripled.

For the tax year 1923 there were 83,334 wives who filed income tax returns separately from their husbands' returns, upon which a tax of $42,511,249 was paid. For the same year women who were heads of families filed 115,036 income tax returns, on which $10,219,457 was collected in tax, while all other women filed 603,136 income tax returns, on which $5,010,664 was taxed.

For the tax year 1920 there were 77,533 wives, separate from their husbands, who filed income tax returns; women who were heads of families filed 115,036 income tax returns, on which $10,219,457 was collected in tax, while all other women filed 603,136 income tax returns, on which $5,010,664 was taxed.

More than 2,000 furniture dealers from all parts of the West gathered in San Francisco for the furniture dealers convention which was held in connection with Furniture Market week.

Fire of mysterious origin in Los Angeles destroyed a large portion of the Lincoln park amusement zone and did damage estimated at $18,000, according to investigating officers. The fire is believed to have started in the magic carpet concession, when it was discovered by a night watchman.

Many Catholic dignitaries, including the Most Rev. Piciro Fiamant-Baldi, apostolic delegate to the United States, and prelates from practically every diocese in the West, participated in the formal reopening in Los Angeles of St. Vibiana's cathedral, built in 1910, but closed last year for extensive repairs and enlargements.

Six employees and depositors of the Seventeenth and Market street branch of the Bank of Italy in San Francisco were held up and locked in the bank's vault by three bandits, who then looted the institution of $7,000, escaping in a white automobile driven by a fourth bandit, who waited outside. The alarm was given by a janitor, who cluded the bandits by hiding in a closet. He released the imprisoned employees and depositors.

The principals of eight high schools in Oakland, Calif., sent out a joint letter to the parents or guardians of all high school students warning them against "joy-riders, the perversion of modern dancing, the illegality of smoking by minors and the danger of an over-supply of spending money" and asking them to impose modest dress on the girls at all times. The letter was approved by Fred M. Hunter, city superintendent of schools.

GENERAL

A verdict in favor of the defendant was returned by a jury in Federal Court at Atlanta, Ga., in the half-million-dollar heart balm suit of Mrs. Oneida de Bouquet against Am. C. Candler.

One man is known to have been killed and eight injured, one dangerously, in a gas explosion at Kansas City, Mo., which shook the entire downtown district and wrecked the four-story building of the Bailey-Riley-Donaldson Company. The loss was estimated between $100,000 and $160,000.

Speaking for a committee of former students of Valparaiso University, reported to have been taken over by the Ku Klux Klan, F. A. Miller, editor of the South Bend Tribune, issued a statement declaring the school to be "open to the education of all without thought of race, religion, social standing, wealth, politics or influence."

William Sacher, wealthy St. Louis oil operator, and defeated candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Indianapolis before United States District Judge A. H. Anderson on an indictment charging him with conspiracy to use the mails to defraud, and the use of the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud. Trial date will be set later.

Conservative trade unionism has scored a marked triumph over "the doctrinaire influences of communism," International President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America, declared after adjournment of the miners' biennial convention at Indianapolis. He spoke of the convention's work as a whole, and of the repudiation for the second time of Alexander Howat, defeated Kansas district president.

In its latest search for valuable mineral wealth the government is sending a party of expert engineers on a mid-winter expedition to the tip of Alaska on the Arctic to survey some 50,000 square miles of uncharted wilderness, rugged mountain chains and large stretches of unbroken treeless plains.

More than one-eighth of the entire land area of the country was used to grow grain crops last year. The Department of Agriculture calculated the total acreage of all crops at 672,620,000 acres, or 1,029,603 square miles. Farm crops produced, not merely those sold, had a hypothetical total value of $2,470,070,000 in 1923, or almost a billion dollars more than in 1922.

The funeral of former President Wilson consisted of a brief private service at the U. S. street residence last Wednesday. This service was followed by another at Bethesda Chapel, in the cathedral at Mount St. Albans, where the body was placed in a vault until arrangements are made to go to a final resting place. It was decided not to hold a state funeral to be prepared by time, or to have the body lie in state at the Capitol.

Senator Walsh of Montana will try to send Albert B. Fall to jail unless Fall agrees to tell the Senate public lands committee the full story of the naval oil reserve leases. Walsh filing this challenge at Fall after the former secretary of the interior had flatly refused to answer any questions before the committee, which took testimony on the unpaid loans aggregating $25,000, made to him by E. L. Nichols and Harry E. Sinclair, whose oil companies obtained leases of naval oil reserves from him while he was secretary of the interior.

Signature of the Russo-Italian treaty has been postponed to give Lentini's successor, Alexey Rykov, time to study it.

The coming trial of Gen. Erich Ludendorff and Adolf Hitler, Bavarian "Fasces" leader, who are charged with high treason, is casting dark shadows of political unrest before it.

Former Emperor William was observed a day ago at Dorn walking in the grounds of his castle accompanied by his physician. The ex-Emperor appeared to walk with some difficulty. The chief of the gendarmes assured inquirers that William was recovering from a slight attack of influenza.

Alexander Ivanovich Rykov, vice president of the council of people's commissars, was elected to succeed Nikolai Lentini as president of the council of people's commissars (Russian premier). The new head of the Moscow government has conducted much of Lentini's work since the latter was incapacitated by illness.

Norway made a runaway race of the last two old events in the Olympic winter sports at Chamonix, France, winning first place in the whole series with a total of 134½ points, 59 points to spare over Finland, which finished second with 70½ points. Great Britain took third place with 30 points, and the United States was fourth with 29 points.

The high cost of living problem still is on the tap in England. The Ministry of Labor Gazette announces that the average level of retail prices of commodities, including fuel, food, rent and clothing, still in 77 per cent above that of 1914 and has increased 2 per cent in the last month. Food prices alone have increased 3 per cent in the last month.

General Pepelevay, former commander of the Siberian white army, and twenty of his followers have been sentenced to death by the military tribunal at Chita for their counter revolutionary activities in Siberia after Kolchak's defeat. Fifty-seven others were given various prison terms. The sentences have not yet been carried out, as General Pepelevay has asked for mercy, which it is thought will be granted.

Adopting the Walsh oil lease amendment by the unanimous vote of the eight-state senators present, the Senate plunged into violent bickering to be it blotted out entirely after eight hours. The Radical resolution requesting the President to call immediately for the resumption of session.

The adoption of the amendment, with which the late Woodrow Wilson was regarded as having testified in favor of measures which passed into the American calendar at Taft from leading Japanese citizens and Americans and diplomats from other nations

Random Thoughts Along
The Way.
Clément Hightower.

The recent exhibition of unrelenting vengeance on the part of the German government and people in refusing to show respect to the American Nation upon the death of President Wilson serves to disclose a national trait of character that most of the world—except France—had forgotten.

This incident however coming up at a time when the American people as individuals are giving millions of dollars to save their starving women and children and our government is extending the moral support of the nation to sustain the credit of their government is conclusive evidence of the ingrateful, revengeful spirit of the Hun. At the first opportunity presented they savagely smash the hand that feeds them and malignly gloat over the dead body of a great American who was their friend.

It would seem that other nations living under monarchical form of government cannot grasp our ideas of democracy and imagine when a great political leader is defeated by an opposing political party, that such leader is repudiated and detested by the whole nation.

This mistaken idea may have influenced Germany in this incident.

Our County School Superintendent has for some time been urging the taxpayers to "dig down" and come to the rescue of the public schools of the county to assure a full-time month's term.

It appears, however, that the tax payer is "all in"—it has come to a "show down" with him. Bad seasons, bad banks, bad county officials and bad business all coming on at once has about put good old taxpayer out of the game.

Some inquisitive folks are asking why it is that colligation is not made of some of the official and indemnity bonds while the taxpayer gets big wind for another pull, or are these bonds merely "scraps of paper"?

The selection of Prager Miller of Roswell as State Chairman of the Republican Central Committee was a mighty sane action. Prager will surely lead the G.O.P. to victory if efficiency and clean political methods count for any thing. He has all the qualities requisite to a good leader, a good mixer, a good organizer and a good republican, free from the petty jealousies, selfishness and sectional bitterness that has had such a dire influence upon party leaders frequently in the past. The party shows signs of pulling itself out of the hole.

A preconvention estimate recorded by a prominent newspaper man at Santa Fe, indicates a Coolidge delegation from New Mexico to the Cleveland convention. That is the proper spirit and it is to be hoped that by the twentieth of March absolute unanimity for Mr. Coolidge will prevail. As a matter of fact the party has no other candidate and the middle of the river is no place to swap horses. Let's have an instructed delegation for Coolidge-COOLIDGE and CAPPER. How does that sound?

A labor shortage during the coming season in New Mexico is by no means a remote possibility. A series of unfavorable seasons, bank failures and general hard times have all contributed to a breaking up of communities of native New Mexican farmers who last season drifted out of the State to find employment.

Many of these went to the cotton fields of West Texas and soon became expert cotton pickers, making good money and friends as well. I say friends, because the average Texan is strongly prejudiced against "Mexicans" and his prejudice has blinded him to the difference between the people from New Mexico free born citizens of the United States, and the poor class of southern Texas and the republic of Mexico. A closer acquaintance with our people has to some extent dispelled that prejudice; consequently west Texas farmers are urging these people to return and work their land this coming season; many who won't last year remained and many others who returned for the winter are going back.

Governor Offers Reward.

The Governor of New Mexico this week sent us for publication two proclamations offering a reward of Five Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who ever they may be, who burned the Titworth and Peters stores here last October. Governor Hinkle also offers a reward of Five Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction of the unknown party, or parties who burned the Titworth Co's apple house at Tularosa last November.

The Governor says the state has no reward funds—but certain citizens of Lincoln county have placed reward funds in his hands for the above stated purpose.

Is Winter Time Your Backache Time?

DOES every cold, chill or attack of grip leave you lame, achy and all worn out? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going another day? Do you know these troubles are often due to weakened kidneys?

Winter's colds and chills throw a heavy strain on the kidneys. The kidneys are apt to weaken and fall behind in filtering the blood. Poisons accumulate and upset blood and nerves.

Then comes constant backache, rheumatic pains, headache, dizziness and kidney irregularities.

Don't wait! Delay is often serious. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. They are recommended by users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Good Folks:

Mrs. E. F. Ellis, 1433 W. Third Ave., Durango, Colo., says: "My kidneys were weak and I felt languid and tired. When I moved I had darting pains across my back. I was wondering what to do to get rid of the trouble when a friend told me about Doan's Pills. I purchased a box and relief came quickly. Since then, I have kept Doan's in my home. Whenever my back bothers me, I use a few, and they relieve me every time."

J. B. Rose, R. V. D., No. 3, Box 122, North Delta, Colo., says: "It was so sore over my right kidney it seemed as though it were being torn from me. When I lay down at night I could hardly stand the pain. My kidneys acted too often. I consulted a doctor and he said I had failing kidneys. I began to use Doan's Pills and in a short time I got better. I kept on using Doan's until I was cured as well as ever."

Operation Avoided

Elkhart, Ind.—About two years ago I began to suffer so with pain and sickness in both kidneys, (especially my right side,) that I was almost unable to do any housework. I was also very sensitive. Doctors advised an operation, but this I wished to avoid if possible. So I turned to Dr. Pierce's Invalid Hotel, describing my condition, and was advised to take Dr. Pierce's favorite prescription, from Tablets and before I had finished one bottle, each I was feeling much better. I took seven bottles of the "Prescription" and two of the "Irricin Tablets" and weighed more and felt better than I had for some time. There is no doubt about it. Dr. Pierce's medicine cured me, for I took no other."—Mrs. W. E. Dean, Elkhart, Ind.
