"GODS WILL BE DONE."

A Touching Tribute to McKinley from Bryan, in "The Commoner."

These were the last words of President McKinley, as he bade farewell to the loving companion of his life, to whome his kindness and devotion have been so constant and conspicuous. It was with the beautiful spirit of resignation that he turned from the realities of earth to explore the mysteries of the world beyond.

The struggle was over—the struggle of a week during which hope and fear alternately gained the mastery. The book of life is closed, and his achievements are a part of history. After he became conscious that the end was drawing near, but before the shadows quite obscured the light, he was heard to murmur some of the work of "Nearer, My God to Thee." This sacred hymn contains several lines inspired by Jacob's night at Bethel:

"Though, like a wanderer,
The sun gone down,
Darkness be over me,
My rest a stone."

Thus do the lines immortalize the pillow which to Jacob must have seemed hard indeed—the pillow which when morning came, the patriarch would not have exchanged for the softest one on which a weary head was ever laid.

It is still true that one's sorest afflictions and most bitter experiences are sometimes stepping stones to higher rewards.

The terrible deed at Buffalo, rudely breaking the tie of family and friendship, crowns a most extraordinary life with a halo that cannot but exalt its victim's place in history, while his bravery during the trying ordeal, his forgiving spirit and his fortitude in the final hours, give glimpses of his inner life which nothing less tragic could have revealed.

But, inexpressibly sad as is the death of McKinley, the illustrious citizen, it is the damnable murder of McKinley, the president, that melts 72,000,000 hearts into one, and brings a hush to the farm, the factory and the forum.

Death is the inevitable incident of every human career. It despises the sword and shield of the warrior, and laughs at the precautions suggested by science; wealth cannot build walls high enough or thick enough to shut it out, and no house is humble enough to escape its visitation. Even love, the most potent force known to man—love, the characteristic which links the human with the divine—even love is powerless in its presence. Its contingency is recognized in the marriage vow—"until death do us part"—and is written upon friendship's signet ring. But the death, even when produced by natural causes, of a public servant charged with the tremendous responsibilities which press upon a president, shocks the entire country and is infinitely multiplied when the circumstances attending it constitute an attack upon the government itself. No one can estimate the far-reaching effect of such an act as that which now casts a gloom over our land. It shames America in the eyes of the world; it impairs her moral prestige and gives the enemies of free government a chance to mock at her. And it excites the indignation which, while righteous in itself, may lead to acts which will partake of the spirit of lawlessness.

As the president's death overwhelms all in a common responsibility, namely, to so avenge the wrong done to the president, his family and the country, as to make the executive's life secure without bringing insecurity to freedom of speech or freedom of the press.

Missionary Work Needed.

Way up the forests of the Sacramento mountains a baptist preacher some weeks ago fell in with some people who seemed to be well fitted for the missionary efforts on which he was bent. He had been riding nearly all day, and late in the afternoon came upon a cabin set in the midst of a woodland. Near the door was a spare straight haired woman, who gazed at him curiously. The minister spoke to her courteously and made some inquries concerning the neighborhood. Her husband was a hunter the woman said.

"And is he a God-fearing man?" asked the preacher.

"I reckon so," came the slow reply, "cause he always takes his gun with him."

The visitor hastily changed the subject and inqured if there were and baptists in the neighborhood.

"I duno," said the woman, simply; "but there's a lot of skins hanging up in the cabin; you can look at 'em and see if you can find any."—Alamogordo News.

Commendable Action.

The action of the board of county commissioners of this county at their last regular meeting of insisting that the tax rolls of Lincoln county be accepted by the territorial auditor as submitted is certainly commendable. The board at its July meeting when sitting as a board of equalization had occasion to examine the assessment rolls very closely and the fact that they regarded the assessments as highly satisfactory is pretty good evidence that Lincoln county taxpayers are honest and made honest returns of their property.

The excitement incident of traveling and change of food and water often brings on diarrhoea, and for this reason no one should leave home without a bottle of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Robt. Hurt.

MONEY

By Rev. S. L. Thomason.

Money may be defined as a standard by which all commodities are valued.

First I want to show what money will do.

Money will cause sleepless nights and the man, upon his restless bed, will turn and toss from one side of the bed to the other, racking his tired brain to plan how he may make a dollar. Money will also wake the gardener at 4 o'clock in the morning to load his cart for the city market and lead him through storms to reach his destiny before the market is glutted.

Money will dot these western plains with numberless cattle and cause the silent lake's waters to flow down through the desert giving moisture to the plants and groves of trees that will be pleasing to the eye of the passer by. Money has build railroads so man may travel from one part of this grand old country of ours to the other in a fortnight, also constructed the electric street car line that is "convenient for the city folks," and you may ride from the busiest street with extensive walls on either side, shutting out the golden rays of the sun, out to the suburban city park for five cents, where you may enjoy the inviting shady lawns and the flower beds, as the fresh breeze wafts the sweet odor of the rose and lily to the care worn soul that has been struggling for the essence of the subject "money."

Money will open the shaft that will go down into the bowels of the earth and uncover the gold and silver in their crude state. It will send the man along the uneven formation of mountain peaks to search for beds of minerals. It will drive the mother's only boy from the family fireside into the darkest and roughest parts of the earth hoping to find the rubies and diamonds that will give him the title of "Diamonds King" in this world. Money will remove the mountains into the valleys below and fill up the canyons, change the course of streams, cut canals, connect the Pacific ocean with the Carribean sea. Money has constructed underground street car lines in New York and it also constructed the great Brooklyn bridge.

This legal tender has built cities, hamlets and boroughs and equipped them with all the modern conveniences. We have the telephone to talk with our neighbors over without leaving our office, we have the telegraph line from one side of the globe to the other. As the result of money we may send a message hundreds of miles in a few moments

Money has constructed college, academies and the country school where the young receive their intellectual and moral training that is to fit them for the duties of life and prepare them for the responsibilities of the home, state and nation. Money has planted the charitable institutions, such as hospitals, orphans home, training schools, bible socities, Christain socities etc., throughout the length and breadth of the land for the relief of the poor and the elevation of mankind.

But, now we come to the turn of the tide in the money question. A chasm—a chasm of utter darkness awaits the man that puts his trust in money and makes it his god. Men dash headlong in the race for money and are lost in this chasm before a hand can be outstretched to save them. Friends stand by and watch them perish, yet without taking warning for they too plunge into the mad race for money and are carried over the terrible precipice and are lost before they realize their danger.

Money brings sorrow, sad and heavy hearts, gray hairs and an early grave. It makes unhappy homes, helps to fill up the penitentiaries and asylums, causes false pride and selfishness, which are the thieves of happiness. It causes men to close their eyes to the suffering in the world and turn a deaf ear to the cry of the hungry and homeless.

I will tell you a few things which money will not do. It will not give us happy contented hearts, a cheerful disposition, nor a smiling face. Money can not build a railroad from earth to heaven for us to ride on into glory, nor build a cable or telegraph line from the soul to the throne of God to convey the message of God's love to the world. Money will not put the light of Christ in our souls, but Christ with one touch of his divine finger can turn on the current that will enable us to outshine the any earthly light.

May God help the children of men to see the true purpose of money, and use it for the glory of God and the elevation of mankind instead of making it a tool in the workshop of the devil.

Pushing Work.

Authentic information from the Bonito country says Messrs. Byrd & Collard have to shifts of men at work developing their mine and getting ready to place machinery for treating the ores. Messrs. Byrd & Collard have one of the most promising mines in that district and they are losing no time in putting it in shape to become a producer.

Getting Ready For Large Products

The Fuel Company has just installed another large boiler at Mine No. 4 to furnish power for the hoisting engines. This mine is the deepest mine in operation at Capitan and the other boilers were unable to furnish steam enough for the large hoisting engines, pumps etc., which are neccessary for the operation of the mine.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT insists on running presidential affairs to suit himself and as a result Chairman Hanna of the Republican party threatens all kinds of things. Teddy never was bossed and he seems to be of the opinion that he is too old to learn now.

THE editor of the Las Vegas Review, while not saying anything at present, has the air of a person who knows a good deal which he does not wish to tell. He is probably reserving his fire for a more opportune time. When that time comes it is needless to say that he will make it pretty interesting for those who came so near doing him up and who are trying to accomplish the same thing for the territory.

THE statehood question is becoming a rather important topic just at this time and Delegate Rodey is kept pretty busy replying to letters from those who do not feel that statehood is the remedy for existing evils in the territory. It is true statehood may not make taxes any lighter nor cause taxdogers to come up and return their property at its true value nor rid the territory of the gang that is now plundering the territorial treasury, but it will be the means of rectifying a wrong that has been done New Mexico and her citizens for the past half century. New Mexico should have statehood if for no other reason than that it is the will of the majority of the citizens of the territory.

WITH the exception of one or two Capitan has as liberal, enterprising and progressive merchants as are to be found in any town in New Mexico. They are continually adding to their lines of merchandise making them more complete so that now any one can get anything they want in Capitan from a paper of pins to a mowing machine. Within the last few months every merchant in town, with the aforesaid exception, have increased their stock, some adding new lines to their business, while others found it advisable to enlarge their present stocks in order to meet the demand for goods which seems to be becoming greater and greater in Capitan every day. All that is needed to make Capitan the largest trading point in the county is merchants who will reach out for the trade of the surrounding country and as Capitan has just this sort of businessmen it is bound to pull the trade.

IT SEEMS that the territorial board of equalization is in a fair way to have a fall taken out of it owing to its recent arbitary action in raising assessments. The taxpayers of some of the southern counties have already served notice on their respective collectors that they are not going to pay this extra tax until the highest courts in the land say they must. The board in its effort to cover up the large deficit which it seemed would exist in the territorial treasury unless something was done has stirred up a hornets nest which may result in a disater to the plunderers. At any rate the honest property holders do not propose to be bulldozed in any such manner in order that any man or set of men may hold their graft upon the people of the territory. If the action of the territorial board is upheld by the courts it follows that every man affected by the order is a perjurer to contest the payment of this additional levy have the weight of justice upon their side for to say the least of it the board was presuming a great deal when it constituted itself a body to appraise property which it had never seen and knew nothing whatever about.

THE merchant that does not advertise has come to be regarded as a sort of a back number by the public. As a rule he is a sort of penurious kind of individual whose wares have become covered with cobwebs from laying on the shelves so long and would be dear at any price. He has nothing good to offer hence he does not advertise. But on the other hand the merchant whose "ad" is a familiar sight in the newspaper, generally always has something good to offer his patrons. His goods are fresh and he feels no hesitancy in calling the attention of his patrons to them and does so in a manner which shows that he not only wants the trade of the people but that he is willing to offer a few extra inducements in order to gain new customers. In fact the kind of an "ad" a merchant carries in his home paper may justly be considered an idex to his liberality and public spiritedness. If his "ad" is stuck away in some out of the way place simply because he can get that space cheaper it is a pretty sure sign that he is non-progressive to say the least of him and hard to trade with because he is close and penurious. But the merchant that takes his space according to his means in a place where it will be noticed, even though he does have to pay more for it, will almost invariably be found to be enterprising, up-to-date in his business method and liberal in his dealing with his customers. Moral: Trade with the merchant who advertises if you want the best goods for the least money as he is always the man who has the bargains.

INDUSTRIES OF LINCOLN COUNTY.

Providence has done more and man has done less for Lincoln county than for any section of the southwest. We can say it without fear of successful contradiction, that Lincoln county is richer in natural resources than any other section in the territory.

Lincoln county includes the largest and richest mineral belt in the territory, which has not yet been prospected, let alone being developed. The deepest mine in the county is the Old Abe at White Oaks and not to it outside of White Oaks is the American mine at Nogal. The American is only 170 feet in depth and has yielded over a half million dollars in gold. The Old Abe has produced nearly a million dollars in gold retorts. There are hundreds of prospects in the county that are more promising on the surface than either of the above mentioned properties, that are lying idle for a lack of capital to develop them and place them among the list of rich producing properties.

The mines and prospects of Lincoln county include gold, silver, lead, copper, cobalt, nickle, woolframite, etc., and vast deposits of both bituminous and anthracite coal, adjacent to these vast beds of coal is the largest and best deposit of iron ores to be found in the United States to day. The high character of this iron and its close proimity to an unchaustable supply of fuel, makes possible the establishment of iron and steele works at Capitan at no distant day.

There are other valuable and rare minerals and precious stones not mentioned above to be found in Lincoln county, but up todate no prospectors have bothered to prospect for these.

The county will soon take the lead as one of the heavy producers of as first class quality of lumber. The timber is here in abundance. Just as soon as the demand is made upon us for building material large sawmills will be erected and lumber manufactured and shipped from Capitan. At present small sawmills in the White and Capitan mountains supply the local demand.

The country is covered with a most luxurious growth of grass that serves to fatten thousands of heads of cattle yearly. No country in the southwest excells this as a stock growing section.

Water "the God of all harvest" which is a most important factor, is here in abundance, and is distributed throughout the country in the form of springs and running streams. The streams which flow down from the White mountains are the purest water found in New Mexico. It is a pure and healthful draught of life saving liquid, fresh from the brow of nature.

The climate is the most perfect to be found anywhere or at least that is what competent government experts say. The United States Government recognizing this fact has located the National Marine Hospital for consumptives at Fort Stanton, five miles from Capitan. In the mountainous parts which include two thirds of the country, springs reigns perpetually. The thermometer rarely ever registers as low as zero in winter or reaches the eighty degree mark in summer. The rainfall averages from ten inches per annum, on the plains to one hundred and twenty inches high up in the mountains. The average rainfall at Capitan is about sixty inches per annum. In most parts of the county the average rainfall is ample for the growing of crops.

All of Lincoln county is a veritable health and pleasure resort. One can find most any climate or scenery desired within a few miles of Capitan. Large banks of snow are to be found in the months of July and August, in sight of Capitan, some of which never melt the year around, while here we have a semi tropical climate in mid winter.

Hundreds of pleasure and health seekers visit the White and Capitan mountains every year. They come in wagons buggies, etc., and it has only been within the past year that they could reach them by railroad, which is now completed to Capitan and Nogal. They come here to take an outing in the mountains, catch a string of trout from the mountain streams and get a "whiff" of pure air.

In Lincoln county is some of the most wild and enchanting scenery to be found in all the southwest. The country abounds game and fish. There are more bear, deer, antelope, mountain lion, wild turkey, etc., found in the mountains of Lincoln county than in any other section of the territory.

Horticulture and agriculture are among the most important industrie. Lincoln county has taken the prizes on her fruits wherever exhibited, for years. All the cereals and vegetables that grow in the temperate zone grow here, and with excellent markets agriculture and horticulture are very paying employment.

In conlcusion, there is no county in all the southwest that can excel Lincoln county in natural resources, and the time is not far distant when capital, combined with enterprise and labor will convert these hills and vallies into veritable mines and it is here that thousands of people will be enabled to build up comfortable and happy homes.

The Capitan coal fields are the largest in area of any in New Mexico, covering over four hundred square miles. All experts who have examined these coal fields agree that there are at least five strata of coal of commercial value. These coal measures vary in thickness from three to seven feet. Aside from being a first class coal for steam and domestic purposes, it is also an excellent coking coal, and is comparatively very free from ash. It is claimed that the coke made from Capitan coal is equal to the famous Connellsville article. There are now two large coal companies operating at Capitan and employing hundreds of miners. This coal finds a ready market at fancy prices.

Within five miles of Capitan are the greatest deposits of iron ore in the southwest. There are mountains of this iron ore that gives an average of .65 per cent iron and a trace of gold, taken from over one hundred sample tests. The ore is comparatively free from tanic acid and other objectable matter, making it a desirable quality for manufacture of Bessemer steel.

An eastern company has secured options on about ten thousand acres of this iron land and we expect to soon see large iron and steel manufacturing plants established here.

Stood Death Off.

E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a gravedigger. He says: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills diseased germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50c at Robt. A. Hurt's drug store.

Geo. W. Lane, Pewamo, Mich., writes: "Your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the best remedy for indigestion and stomach trouble that I ever used. For years I suffered from dyspepsia, at times compelling me to stay in bed and causing me untold agony. I am completely cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. In recommending it to friends who suffer from indigestion I always offer to pay for it if it fails. Thus far I have never paid." Robt. Hurt.

When you want a pleasant physic try the new remedy, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at Robt. Hurt's drug store.

INFORMATION FOR BIDDERS.

No bid submitted under this advertisement will be considered unless the bidder shall agree in his bid that in the event of the service being awarded to him he will give his personal supervision to the performance of the same, and will reside on or contiguous to the route.

In addition to carrying the mails to the various postoffices on the star routes covered by this advertisement, the carrier on each route (except where otherwise specifically stated) will be also required to deliver mail into all boxes and small bags or satchels containing mail on cranes or posts that may be erected along the route, under the following conditions:

Any person living on or near any star route herein described, and not within the coroporate limits of any town or within 80 rods of any postoffice, who desires his mail deposited at a given point on the line of the route by the carrier on said route may provide and erect a suitable box or crane on the roadside, located in such a manner as to reached as conveniently as practicable by the carrier without dismounting from the vehicle or horse, and such person shall file with the postmaster at the postoffice to which his mail is addressed (which shall be one of the two postoffices on the route on either side of and next to the box or crane) a request in writing for the delivery of his mail to the carrier on the route for deposit at the designated point, at the risk of the addressee. The small bag or satchel above described, as well as the box or crane, must be provided by the person for whose use it is intended without expense to the Department.

It shall be the duty of the postmaster at every postoffice, upon a written order from any person living on or near the star route, to deliver to the proper mail carrier for that route any mail matter—placing in the respective satchels belonging—with instructions as to the proper mail box by the addressee in his written order. No mail matter so delivered to a carrier shall be carried past another postoffice on the route before being deposited into a small box or hung on a crane or post.

Proposals will be received at the office of the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Postoffice Department, Washing, D. C., until 4 p. m., December 3. 1901, for carrying the mail of the United States on the routes and by the schedules of departures and arrivals, as shown by the advertisement to be found at all postoffices in New Mexico and Arizona.

A Communication.

MR. EDITOR—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. BROCKMAN, Bagnell, Mo. This remedy is for sale by Robt. Hurt.

A Filndish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man.. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at Robt. Hurts Drug Store.

"I have long suffered from indigestion," writes G. A. LeDeis, Cedar City, Mo. "Like others I tried many other preparations but never found anything that did me good until I took Kodol Dyspepsia cure. One bottle cured me. A friend who had suffered similarly I put on the use of Kodol Dyspepsia cure. He is gaining fast and will soon be able to work. Before he used Kodol Dyspepsia cure indigestion had made him a total wreck. Robt. Hurt.

A Typical South African Store.

O. R. Larson, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmere within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All tes'ify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by Robt. Hurt.

W. T. Wesson, Gholsonvill, Va., druggist, writes: "Your One Minute Cough Cure gives perfect satisfaction. My customers say it is the best remedy for coughs, colds, throat and lung trouble." Robt Hurt.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It's simply wonderful for burns, boils, piles and all skin eruptions. It's the world's champion healer. Cure guaranteed. 25c. Sold by Robt. A. Hurt.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They are safe, prompt, gentle, effective in removing all impurities from the liver and bowels. Small and easy to take. Never gripe or distress. Robt. Hurt.

Josh Westhafer, of Loogootee, Ind., is a poor man, but he says he would not be without Chamberlain's Pain Balm if it cost five dollars a bottle, for it saved him from being a cripple. No external application is equal to this liniment for stiff and swollen joints, contracted muscles, stiff neck, sprains and rheumatic and muscular pains. It has also cured numerous cases of partial paralysis. It is for sale by Robt. Hurt.

VIEWS OF BOER ENVOYS.

Refuse to Consider Surrender—Idea of a Republic Not Given Up.

Messrs. Fischer and Wessels, the Boer peace envoys, who were given a public reception recently at St. Paul, were shown a synopsis of the New York World's editorial to the effect that the Boers had established their honor, that further resistance under the circumstances would be insane and that guerrilla warfare is only a form of barbarism, and concluding by advising the South African patriots to accept the inevitable and close the war on the best terms the British will concede.

Both the commissioners, after reading it, expressed their appreciation of the kind intentions of The World.

"It has been our greatest difficulty to make the American people understand the deep rooted patriotism that prevails among the Boers. We do not know the condition in the Transvaal today; we do not know that the Boers have suffered defeat. Each movement of the British is heralded as a victory, while every movement of the Boers is recorded as a rout or retreat. I do not believe these reports are true. But this is not the vital question.

"Conceding, which I do not, that the Boer forces are or will be crushed, the idea of a republic for the Transvaal has not been given up and never will be. Though it may be a hundred years before another opportunity is given to strike for independence, it will be done. I shall not talk of terms of peace. The English can never conquer us so long as a man or an ox remains alive in the country."

Mr. Wessels said that the party had fixed upon June 20 as the time for leaving the United States, but were not sure of that, as events might prolong their stay. Concerning the suggestion that the Boers make new homes for themselves in America, Mr. Wessels says:

"While we believe that the Boers will obtain freedom, or at least partial freedom, within a year or so, if not at once, we are very uncertain as to the future. If any definite offer is made to us as the official representatives of the people in South Africa, we shall be glad to lay it before our people and give them an opportunity to decide. We like the country and the people. Were the Boers to come to America their trials would never be repeated.

"But I do not think that all Boers would come, and I doubt whether a majority of the Boers in the Orange Free State and in the Transvaal would be ready to leave their adopted home. They are willing to trek farther into the interior if they have any assurance that the British flag will not follow them."

The envoys say that since they started on their mission they have been under constant surveillance by detectives and secret service agents of the British government.

Ensilage For Horses.

As many people have an idea that ensilage is not a good food for horses, we will call attention to the fact that the Virginia experiment station has been testing it and reports that the trouble from its use has arisen from too much having been fed at the beginning, and as the horse likes it he is tempted to eat too much of it, as he might of green grass or clover. This is more apt to be the case when it contains a large amount of corn. When the station began by feeding small quantities and increased very gradually is the amount given, no injury resulted, and after the horses were well accustomed to it we they would not eat too heartily or it ever when given opportunity.

Southern Corn Bread.

A favorite southern dish is Virginia corn bread. It is served in a deep earthen baking dish and is dipped out with a spoon. As a breakfast dish it has no equal. Break two eggs into a bowl, add about one-half cup of flour, one cup of meal, one-half cup of milk, one spoonful of lard and butter mixed and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat thoroughly. Then add a cup or more of hot water. It should be very thin and should be poured into a deep earthenware dish to bake.

MOTHERHOOD
The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead organs, but Wine of Cardui does regulate derangements that prevent conception; does prevent miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.
WINE OF CARDUI
141 Market Street,
Memphis, Tenn., April 14, 1901.
In February, 1900, I took one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one package of Thedford's Black-Draught. I had been married fifteen years and had never given birth to a child until I took Wine of Cardui. Now I am mother of a nine baby girl which was born March 21, 1901. The baby weighs fourteen pounds and is just as well as any pounds could be. Now my home is happy and I never will be without Wine of Cardui in my house again. Mrs. J. W. C. SMITH.

A Lover of the Beautiful Pays a High Tribute to White Mountain Scenery.

The love of nature finds a perpetual feast to the eye in the mountain scenery of this part of New Mexico.

The writer recently spent a week on the Bonito, enjoying the hospitality of the people, taking in deep draughts of pure ozone, and revelling in all that generous nature yields for the gratification of the senses of man.

The apple crop was being harvested, and the heavy laden trees were a prophecy of good times around the winter's fireside for all lovers of the succulent fruit. Talk about flavor! Why, when New Mexico sunshine, air, rain and soil conspire to produce anything in the way of fruit, the result is marvelous, rivalling the famous nectar of the gods.

And not only the apples are superior to those raised any where else, but also the vegetables. Those who have not eaten cabbages grown at an elevation of from 6,000 to 9,000 feet, do not realize how much they have missed. They are so crisp and tender that unless care is taken they will actually fall to pieces in handling.

While these and other luxuries minister to the physicial wants of man, the grandeur of the mountain scenery appeals to his higher nature. Search the world over and we doubt whether a more glorious panarama was ever spread for the delight and inspiration of lovers of the beautiful than that which the mountains have presented during the past two weeks. These mountains are grand in themselves bold and rugged in outline, seamed and scarred by some tremendous force, crowned by majestic ever green pines, they tower to the clouds braving all shock of tempest or decay of time. They stand, silent, awful monuments of Almighty power.

But nature, as if fearing she might repel by such exhibitions of rugged grandeur, has hastened to cover her handiwork with a beautiful garment. Her principal agents in this work are Sunshine and Frost. In the silence of the night the Frost steals in amid the green foliage of the trees and bushes. All through the darkness, with invisible fingers and magic art he touches each leaf in the tangled wood. Morning dawns and the Sunshine completes the task. What beauty! All the colors of the rainbow in riotous profusion deck the mountain side. The brilliant green of the pine and cedar is unchanged, but other trees and bushes are clad in bright yellow, flaming scarlet, brown and all intermediate tints. No human art could assemble and arrange colors with such matchless skill. The general effect is indescribably grand. When you walk through the woods in the early morning of an October day, the air exhilerating and fragrant, the hazy sun bringing out every beautiful effect, when you listen to the chatter of the squirrel overhead and the song of happy birds, every nerve answers with a responsive thrill, new life and energy pulsates with every throb of the heart, and you are glad to realize that you are a part of such a glorious world.

ARTHUR G. BURLINGAME.

Organize Sunday School.

A. G. Burlingame will organize a Sunday school at North Capitan next Sunday. A school was formerly conducted at that place but was disbanded on account of the small pox scare there several months ago and since that time it has never been revived. Mr. Burlingame however hopes to be able to resuscitate this very essential part of divine worship at that place.

place, was striken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured. GEO. R. MCDONALD, Man, Logan county, W. Va. Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by Robt. Hurt.

It Caused Night Alarm.

"One night my Brother's baby was taken with Croup," writes Mrs. J. C. Snider, of Crittenden, Ky., "it seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from Croup and Whooping Cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve." Infalliable for coughs, colds, throat and lung trouble. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Robt. Hurt.

A new remedy for biliousness is now on sale at Robt. Hurt's drug store. It is called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. It gives quick relief and will prevent the attack if given as soon as the first indication of the disease appears. Price 25 cents per box. Sample free.

Kodol Dyspepsia cure is not a mere stimulant to tired nature. It affords the stomach complete and absolute rest by digesting the food you eat. You don't have to diet but can enjoy all the good food you want. Kodol Dyspepsia cure instantly relieves that distressed feeling after eating, giving you new life and vigor. Robt. Hurt.

Stepped Into Live Coals.

"When a child I burned my foot frightfully," writes W. H. Eads, of Jeneavilly, Va., "which caused horrible leg sores for 30 years, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured me after everything else failed." Infallible for Burns, scalds, cuts, sores, Bruises and Piles. Sold by Robt. Hurt 25c.

Mothers ever praise One Minute cough cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. Strikes at the root of the trouble and draws out the inflammation. The children's favorite cough cure. Robt. Hurt.
