SUPERB TRAIN SERVICE

The El Paso-Rock Island Route is Put on Solid Vestibuled Trains.

T. B. S. Braisted, general agent for the Rock Island in the southwest, returned home this morning from Chicago, where he has been on business relative to the opening of the El Paso-Rock Island route. He was seen by Link and Pin this afternoon and in answer to questions in regard to the train service of the new route he said:

"Yes, my visit to Chicago was in connection with the opening of train service between Chicago and El Paso. We will have a daily, through, limited train service between these cities as soon as the line is completed. We do not know just when that will be but we are hoping that it will be by the first of the year.

"We have not arranged a schedule for that train, but we intend to make the trip between Chicago and El Paso in about forty-three or forty-four hours. The limited train will be solid vestibuled, with elaborate sleeping cars, a dining car, buffet, library and smoker. It will be the finest train ever running through this section. Besides the limited we will run a regular daily passenger for local travel.

"We have been considering the idea of opening up the line with a big excursion. It may be that it will just come right to open it with an excursion to the carnival. —El Paso Herald.

What the Preacher Got.

"You must be on your good behavior this evening George, for the minister is to dine with us," said a Hyattsville lady to her worse half, as he got home from his office in the city last Thursday.

"What have you for dinner?" queried the husband.

"Well, I know he is fond of fish, so I bought quite a string of small river fish and several large ones from the dam."

Half an hour later they were seated at the table, and a blessing had been asked by the minister. A little nervously the head of the family began dishing out the vegetables, and, turning to his guest, said:

"Will you have some of the little river fish, or would you prefer some of the dam big fish?"

The warning kick under the table from his wife was unnecessary. He knew he had blundered, and cold beads of perspiration started out on his forehead:

"I mean," trying to repair the error, "will you have some of the dam river fish or some of the big fish?"

Worse and more of it. His daughter shyly pulled his coat tail to bring him to his senses.

"That is, would you like some of the river fish or some of the other dam fish?"

The deep carnation spreading over the good lady's face didn't mend matters a bit, and, with a gasp, he plunged in once more:

"Ahem! Which of the dam fish do you prefer anyway?" —Washington Star.

Oratory Under Difficulties.

"In 1896 I had the pleasure of sitting through a session of the New Mexico legislature, which had convened at Santa Fe," said a Bohemian yesterday, "and it proved to be a very interesting experience. I was there in a clerical capacity, and witnessed all the wrangles that came up on the floor of the house. It was amusing and instructive. Talking about men speaking under great difficulties, why the experiences of the average man are nothing when compared to the difficulties under which the New Mexico statesmen had to labor. Part of the members could speak English and part of them could not. They knew nothing but Spanish, and consequently made their speeches in Spanish. This condition made it necessary for the government to employ men specially to act as interpreters, and so the process of translating Spanish into English and English into Spanish went on from the beginning of the session to the end thereof. A member would rise, roll out a sentence in the language he spoke, and the interpreter would tell the member who did not understand the tongue what was said. There were a few of the English-speaking members who could speak Spanish and when they wanted to get the Mexican vote they would blaze away at these members in the language they understood. Whether the argument was good or bad made no difference. It was a species of flattery which the Mexican members could not resist, and they would vote any way the speaker wanted them to if he would address them after their own way of speaking. There was one hot-blooded, sandy-haired fellow who generally had much trouble and furnished much amusement for the other members. He spoke English. He always had the interpreter by him. He would get excited, and would not make the usual pauses for the interpreter. The result was that an excited speech was generally off in two languages at the same time, and the members got no small amount of fun out of it."

"Now Johnny," said the teacher to a small pupil in the grammar class, "you may compare the word 'sick.' " Johnny hesitated a moment, then blurted out, "Sick, Sicker, Dead." —Glasgow Evening Times.

Three Cent Sugar.

Mr. W. A. Havemeyer, Chicago representative of the sugar trust, has begun his campaign against beet sugar by publishing interviews in which he talks of refined sugar at 3-cents a pound if the duty be taken off. The hope of 3-cent sugar is expected to influence the minds of the people of the Middle states so that their representatives in congress will vote to remove the duty on sugar.

The suggestion of 3-cent sugar is alluring, but it isn't true. The trust wouldn't sell sugar for 3 cents a pound under any circumstances, even though it had the whole of Cuba for a plantation, operated by contract native labor, at starvation wages.

Of course, the price of sugar probably would be lowered somewhat by removal of the duty, but at the most it would give cheaper sugar only a few years ahead of the beet sugar producers, whose methods are constantly improving and who will be able, before long, to reduce the price of sugar considerably below the present level.

And if the price of sugar is to be lowered by removal of the duty, why not also lower the price of steel, iron and a thousand manufactured articles by taking them off the tariff sheet and placing them on the free list? The domestic sugar grower certainly is as much entitled to the protection of a tariff as the iron, cotton or woolen goods maker. It's about time for the farmer and the west to get some sort of good out of the tariff. —Roaky Mountain News.

Modesty.

Modesty is something all young ladies should practice. There are some young ladies who are always talking and laughing and are not at all virtuous. There is always a time for modesty. If a young lady has ugly features and is modest she is dotted on by all who know her for her beauty. If a young lady has pretty features and is not modest she is not liked so well as her friend, modesty. There are so many ladies who get into ugly habits. This is not modest. Young ladies should always train themselves not to get into ugly habits for if they get into habits it is so hard to get out.

CAPITAL UNJUSTLY ABUSED.

Two men whose cooperation means the investment of a million dollars in the White Oaks country had to face uncalled for insults while quietly going about their own affairs in Capitan last week. They were Chicago men and had just closed a deal covering a mining and development proposition of great importance to the entire White Oaks country. There were other men in the room—one a Lincoln county officer of the law, another a prominent business man of White Oaks fresh from the session of the Lincoln county grand jury where he had aided in securing a number of indictments.

The Chicagoans were in the McCorkle's hotel in Capitan discussing the final details of mining developments that means more for the community involved than any move that has been made since the Capitan coal mines were opened. The two White Oaks men stood watching the Chicagoans a few moments in the hotel dining room.

Then one spoke up: "These northerners are robbing the south at every turn," he said.

"Yes," said the other. "It has been the same story ever since slavery days."

The two kept up this colloquy for some time, each interchange becoming more personal. Finally an El Paso man who was with the Chicagoans remarked wearily to the others:

"I hope this doesn't cost us anything."

"That's an insult," roared the White Oaks business man. "Get your six shooter and come out. Nobody can talk to me that way."

"Oh, I'm not a six-shooter man," said the El Paso man soothingly.

"Well, then, get an axe or anything you want," yelled the White Oaks representative.

The visitors declined the invitation but the two White Oaks men kept up their abuse. Finally one of the Chicagoans faced about and said to the pair:

"Now you hush up, and go about your business if you have any. I am not a fighting man but I want to be let alone and I intend to be."

The White Oaks man apparently thought well of the advice and became less belligerent.

"Oh, come on; you can whip him tomorrow," said one to the other, and they went off into the night.

Capitan men expressed themselves very forcibly on the affair when it was brought to their attention. They realized thoroughly the consequences of so rank an exhibition of discourtesy toward a prospective investor. - Herald.

Why men should so far forget themselves as to be guilty of such unbecoming conduct before strangers is hard to say. The Progress does not know who any of the parties referred to are but the fact that the parties who brought on the trouble are from White Oaks their object is thus humiliating these men is obvious. The people of White Oaks have watched the steady progress of Capitan and the surrounding country with a jealous eye ever since the railroad was built into this place and have freely prophesied the complete collapse of the town and are now chagrined because this part of the county is receiving the larger share of eastern capital.

The citizens of Capitan are

Capital with these people. As was only natural these people imagined they were being assailed by citizens of Capitan and the incident might have resulted in much injury to the town had not the Chicagoans inquired into the matter and found out that the remarks came from men of another town. The people of Capitan are nothing if not courteous and no visitor to the town has ever had any cause to complain of the treatment he received at the hands of the people here and it is for this reason that they wish it distinctly understood that the offenders in this instance were from another part of the county.

Although thousands of dollars have been spent by the territorial bureau of immigration in publishing pamphlets and otherwise advertising New Mexico but little for the general good has been accomplished. All that has been done has been in the interest of a few counties while the rest of the territory has been wholly ignored. Lincoln county which probably pays more money into the territorial treasury than any other county in the territory has never even come in for so much as honorable mention from this body.

Even though the court of inquiry completely exonerates Admiral Schley of the charges made against him the wrong that has been done him will be only partially righted. A vindication to be sure will forever silence his enemies and remove the odium which envious foes attempted to fasten upon him but it will not give back to him the savings of a lifetime which to him has been the price of his vindication.

One noticeable fact in regard to the court of inquiry which has just completed taking the testimony in the Schley case is that the ones who were the least responsible for the destruction of Cervera's fleet are the ones who had the most to say derogatory to Schley.

The recent grand jury while accomplishing much good over stepped its duties as little when it went out of its way to reflect upon the treasurer by trying to dictate to him where the county funds should be kept.

An Appreciative Patron.

"Did you annoy my predecessor on the bench as much as you have annoyed me?" inquired the judge of the frequent offender.

"No, judge," said the tough one. "I always thought so much of you that just as soon as I heard you was elected I made up my mind to give you all by legal business and I've done it." - Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Deputy Sheriff Brown, Tuesday arrested James Walker, who it will be remembered shot a Mexican about four years ago up at the Block ranch in Lincoln county. Since the shooting Walker has eluded the officers, being mostly in the counties adjoining Lincoln but recently he came to Chaves. Upon learning that he was here, a warrant was sent to Sheriff Brown who arrested Walker and took him back to Lincoln today, where he will stand trial for assault with intent to kill. - Roswell Register.

INDUSTRIES OF LINCOLN COUNTY.

Providence has done much and man has done less for Lincoln county than for any section of the southwest. We can say it without fear of successful contradiction, that Lincoln county is richer in natural resources than any other section in the territory.

Lincoln county includes the largest and richest mineral belt in the territory, which has not yet been prospected, let alone being developed. The deepest mine in the county is the Old Abe at White Oaks and not to it outside of White Oaks is the American mine at Nogal. The American is only 170 feet in depth and has yielded over a half million dollars in gold. The Old Abe has produced nearly a million dollars in gold returns. There are hundreds of prospects in the county that are more promising on the surface than either of the above mentioned properties, that are lying idle for a lack of capital to develop them and place them among the list of rich producing properties.

The mines and prospects of Lincoln county include gold, silver, lead, copper, cobalt, nickel, wolframite, etc., and vast deposits of both bituminous and anthracite coal, adjacent to these vast beds of coal is the largest and best deposit of iron ore to be found in the United States today. The high character of this iron and its close proximity to an inexhaustible supply of fuel makes possible the establishment of iron and steel works at Capitan at no distant day.

There are other valuable and rare minerals and precious stones not mentioned above to be found in Lincoln county, but up to date no prospectors have bothered to prospect for these.

The county will soon take the lead as one of the heavy producers of as first class quality of lumber. The timber is here in abundance. Just as soon as the demand is made upon us for building material large sawmills will be erected and lumber manufactured and shipped from Capitan. At present small sawmills in the White and Capitan mountains supply the local demand.

The country is covered with a most luxuriant growth of grass that serves to fatten thousands of heads of cattle yearly. No country in the southwest equals this as a stock growing section.

Water "the God of all harvest" which is a most important factor, is here in abundance, and is distributed throughout the country in the form of springs and running streams. The streams which flow down from the White mountains are the purest water found in New Mexico. It is a pure and healthful draught of life saving liquid, fresh from the brow of nature.

The climate is the most perfect to be found anywhere or at least that is what competent government experts say. The United States Government recognizing this fact has located the National Marine Hospital for consumptives at Fort Stanton, five miles from Capitan. In the mountainous parts which include two thirds of the country, springs reigns perpetually. The thermometer rarely ever registers as low as zero in winter or reaches the eighty degree mark in summer. The rainfall averages from ten inches per annum, on the plains to one hundred and twenty inches high up in the mountains. The average rainfall at Capitan is about sixty inches per annum. In most parts of the county the average rainfall is ample for the growing of crops.

All of Lincoln county is a veritable health and pleasure resort. One can find most any climate or scenery desired within a few miles of Capitan. Large banks of snow are to be found in the months of July and August, in sight of Capitan, some of which never melt the year around, while here we have a semi-tropical climate in mid winter.

Hundreds of pleasure and health seekers visit the White and Capitan mountains every year. They come to enjoy the beauty, the coolness and the only best within the past year that they could reach them by railroad, which is now completed to Capitan and Nogal. They come here to take an outing in the mountains, catch a string of trout from the mountain streams and get a "whiff" of pure air.

In Lincoln county is some of the most wild and snobating scenery to be found in all the southwest. The country abounds game and fish. There are more bear, deer, antelope, mountain lion, wild turkey, etc., found in the mountains of Lincoln county than in any other section of the territory.

Horticulture and agriculture are among the most important industries. Lincoln county has taken the prizes on her fruits wherever exhibited, for years. All the cereals and vegetables that grow in the temperate zone grow here, and with excellent markets agriculture and horticulture are very paying employment.

In conclusion, there is no county in all the southwest that can excel Lincoln county in natural resources, and the time is not far distant when capital, combined with enterprise and labor will convert these hills and valleys into veritable mines and it is here that thousands of people will be enabled to build up comfortable and happy homes.

The Capitan coal fields are the largest in area of any in New Mexico, covering over four hundred square miles. All experts who have examined these coal fields agree that there are at least five strata of coal of commercial value. These coal measures vary in thickness from three to seven feet. Aside from being a first class coal for steam and domestic purposes, it is also an excellent coking coal, and is comparatively very free from ash. It is claimed that the coke made from Capitan coal is equal to the famous Connellsville article. There are now two large coal companies operating at Capitan and employing hundreds of miners. This coal finds a ready market at fancy prices.

Within five miles of Capitan are the greatest deposits of iron ore in the southwest. There are mountains of this iron ore that gives an average of .65 per cent iron and a trace of gold, taken from over one hundred sample tests. The ore is comparatively free from tanic acid and other objectionable matter, making it a desirable quality for manufacture of Bessemer steel.
