A Journal Devoted to the Interests of Lincoln County.

VOLUME 3. CAPITAN, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1902 NUMBER 14

Territorial News Notes.

Mrs. Annie Davis, of Raton, was found dead in her bed last Faiday morning. The funeral services were held on Sunday.

The young son of H. D. Bowman, of Las Cruces, Dona Ana county, recently fell from a tree and had the misfortune of breaking his arm

Joseph Addington, who is charged with the shooting of William Hunter at Portales recently, at the preliminary hearing was held over for the action of the grand jury. His bail was fixed at $1,500.

While trying to climb under a standing train of cars at Lordsburg, Grant county, Fred Peel was caught under the wheels and had one leg badly crushed and the other broken at two places. He was sent to the Grant county hospital at Silver City.

The case of the Territory vs. J. E. Laverty at Carlsbad, Eddy county, was decided recently in favor of the defendant. The complaint was based on the refusal of Laverty to work the streets, after having been notified three times by the supervisor.

Raton is to have the most complete and modern electric light plant in New Mexico. The present capacity of the plant is 3,000 lights and it is found to be insufficient for the increasing demands of that city, and a plant of an improved system with a capacity of 5,000 lights will be added to the 150 and 50 horse power engines now in use. A new building 100x40 feet will be erected at once to house the new machinery. The cost of the improvements will exceed $20,000.

Andrew, nee Jack Messer, was arrested at Alamogordo, Otero county, recently and was held for the Texas authorities, who have been trying to get hold of him for the last six years. A Texas sheriff took Messer into custody and escorted him to that state to stand trial. He is charged with cattle theft.

The board of regents of the Military Institution at Roswell, Chaves county, has ordered the remainder of the school grounds enclosed with a neat fence. The barracks, and parade ground as well as the campus are to be enlarged. After this tract has had the attention of the gardener and gets well covered with grass, it will improve the outside appearance of the school very much.

James McGrory accidently walked off the high depot platform at Roswell, Chaves county, recently and painfully injured himself. McGrory and his wife and child were at the depot awaiting the train and while walking down the platform with the child in his arms he walked off the platform. The child was uninjured and it is due to his trying to save the child, that McGrory was injured so severely.

The proposition to issue bonds to the amount of $8,000 for an additional school school building at Alamogordo, Otero county, was recently defeated. The large increase of children of school age in that town has made made it very necessary to provide proper facilities for the children, and in the present building, it is impossible to care for them comfortably.

THE PROPHECY.

A Story Founded on the Recent Volcanic Disturbances in the West Indies

The heaviness in the air presaged some ill—vague, indefinite and uncertain. The oft told prophecy that fire would destroy the Carbin nation had been the subject for the talk of the camp fire and the small councils of the few Indians gathered on the side of Soufriere.

"Death to all will come soon, soon," wheedled out the old medicine man, whose phophecies were no longer accounted of any value by the young and old of the tribe. "Deep down in the earth beneath old Soufriere is a rumbling and a boiling. My children beware of the source of the fire."

But the tribe heeded it not. The Carib people had been told by soothsayer after soothsayer that their noble race would be wiped out by the dread wrath of the fire god. It was told so often that it became a furtile tradition in the minds of these Indians, whose life for century upon century had been going on undistured in this tropic island of the Caribbean.

Of all the tribe the young son of the chief, by name Moozic, laughed long and loudest at the unfulfilled prophecy. According to their Indian rites he had been wedded to the girl of the people, who had been set as the jewel of the people, who had been set as the jewel of her race. He was brave, strong, handsome. She seemed to have the blood of royal leaders in her veins. The two made a couple that drew forth the constant admiration of both native and foreigner. Even the few tourists who strived close enough to Mount Soufriere's crater came away with a picture in the mind's eye of this fine, handsome couple—a physical and human representation of nature's rarest development.

Wandering through the woods and over the mountains, during these days of unrest the young Indian girl and her lover tasted life with all satisfying contentment and pleasure. The young heir to his father's chieftainship seemed to be exalted in this new life of love. The girl was a little less so, but always responded to the mood of her lord and master.

Then came the iteration of the dread prophecy by the soothsayer. The young woman, more sensitive to the presaging of evil, found her soul troubled, her pleasures clouded with the prognostication of destruction that had blanketed the tribe in a general sorrow. She tried to fight it off, but without success.

"I cannot help it, my dear one," she said to him as they sat hand in hand on the mountain side. "It seems to enter my soul and strive as I will it overwhelms me."

"Tis nothing but fancy. It will pass away."

"Ah, I hope so," was he answer.

For some time they sat, silent and looking out over the country to the sea.

"God of our people, what's that?" the girl cried in a tremor of fear.

"Why, it's nothing, dear one," said he, comfortingly. "Your fancy is running fast. What is it that frightens you so?"

She clung tightly to her husband, and as soon as she recovered sufficiently for speach she brokenly replied that she felt some fearful trembling far down in the earth.

That evening upon their return to their homes Moozic himself heard strange sounds and felt the earth moving under his feet. There was no doubting now. Old Soufriere, known before to have belched fire and hot molten earth through its gaping mouth, was active again. The prophecy of the soothsayer was a prelude and the day had come.

* * *

For life, nay for breath they fought. Down the sides of the mountain came the white hot lava in streams. Panic filled the breast of all. Women who were worn with work and age suddenly regained some of their youthful strength in their attempt to escape, but they were buried by the flowing lava. Old men and the young were cut down as if there was no hopes from the fearful deluge. With an invocation on his lips the soothsayer of the tribe met his fate. The chief of the councils, with his face towards old Sourfriere, met death, bravely. True to the instincts of their race, the majority of the Carib people bore the last visitation of the god's wrath with equanimity. After the first panic had subsided they stood ready to receive the fiery embraces of their destroyer.

They were fatalists.

To young Moazic and his bride life was never dearer. They had wandered in the opposite direction from the outburst that seemed to fall upon the land with scorching, depleting effect. On and on they moved. It seemed as if safety might lay in their path. After a sight of Soufriere nubosoming itself upon the land of their tribe, they fled as only those who are filled with fear and a desire to avert the hands of the supernatural.

"Would it be their fate to give the lie to the prophecy and build up anew their once noble rrce," was the thought running through their minds. Gaining a clear vantage ground they stood and paused for breath. Life might still be theirs. Again they hurried on.

"We shall live," cried Moazic. The girl did not respond. Turning around, she faced the vomiting mountain. With a roll of the earth and a roar of a thousand demonds. Soufriere shot her fierce, growling insides heavenward. The young woman saw the sheet of fire that seemed to detach itself from the general outpouring, and move straight in her direction.

"My lord! My lord! Look, look!" The blast of hell was upon them.

Embracing, they met their fate together. The prophecy had been fulfilled.—Rocky Mountain News.

NATIONAL IRRIGATION BILL BECOMES A LAW.

After a Hard Fought Battle the Friends of the West are Victorious.

The Measure Provides for the Building and Maintaining of Irrigation Works from the Proceeds of Public Lands.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Government aid in the arid lands of the West is now an assured fact. The national irrigation bill was passed at 4:30 p. m. by a vote of 146 to 55. The Democrats presented practically a solid front on the measure, and largely to their untiring efforts to bring enlightenment to the house must be credited the handsome vote which was accorded the bill. The house leaders for the second time this session went down to defeat. They argued and harangued, threatened and cajoled, but the fates were against them.

The bill as passed creates a reclamation fund from the sale of public lands in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, less the amount paid to local officers and 5 per cent due the state under existing laws for educational purposes, the reclamation fund to be used for the construction and maintenance of irrigation works in the states and territories enumerated. Provision is made for the payment out of the treasury of any deficiencies in the allowances to agricultural colleges owing to this disposition of public lands. The secretary of the interior is authorized to examine, survey and construct the irrigation works and report the cost thereof to congress at each session.

Section 4 provides for the letting or contracts for the works contemplated in sections when the necessary funds are available in the reclamation funds for such section.

Section 5 provides that "no right to the use of water for land in private ownership shall be sold for a tract exceeding 160 acres to any one land owner and no such sale shall be made to any land owner unless he be an actual bona fide resident on such land or occupant thereof, residing in the neighborhood of said land."

Section 6 authorizes the secretary to use the reclamation fund for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation works.

Section 8 requires state control over waters of non-navigable streams such as are used in irrigation.

Sunday Closing at Socorro.

District Attorney George W. Prichard has given out the statement that he will enforce the law that all business places must be closed on Sunday at Socorro. There is considerable opposition to the proposed action by citizens including the business men, as they claim it an injutsice to Socorro, as long as this statute is disregarded in nearly every other part of the territory.

LABOR, through the agency of unions is becoming a formidable foe to trusts. The principle of community of interests seems to work about as well with labor as it does with capital.

THE only war in all the world is now being waged by this country in the Philippines. For shame that the government that has stood for so long as the friend of the oppressed everywhere should now become the oppressor.

THE New York "swells" have decided that ping pong is plebian and will therefore cut it off their list of favored games. This announcement, howeve, has not had the effect of decreasing the popularity of the game.

THE powers at Washington have decided that New Mexico must again show her loyalty to the republican party by rolling up a good majority for that ticket next November before her fitness for statehood can be determined.

THE fruit crop of Lincoln county promises to be one of the heaviest ever known. There have been no hails or late freezes to injure the young fruit so far and as now practically all danger is past the orchardists throughout the country are already begining to congratulate themselves over what the harvest will be.

THE political pot which for the past eighteen months has been extremely quite now shows considerable signs of becoming active again. Quite a number of candidates who have had their ears to the ground listening for the first signs of activity, report having heard detonations which indicate an early eruption.

MAXIMO GOMEZ, the Cuban patriot and general, has refused to accept a pension of $6000 a year which the insular government would provide for him, on the ground that it would be unfair to the soldiers who fought along side of him and for whom no provision was made. It is such unselfish actions as this that reveal the truly greatness of the man.

THE PROGRESS has recieved two hundred copies of the Bulletin on Lincoln county issued by the Territorial Bureau of Immigration a short time since. The Bulletin is a thirty page pamphlet well illustrated and treats of the resources and industries of the county in a masterly manner. It is teeming with information from cover to cover. These copies are for destribution and are free for the asking. If you have any friends or acquantances who are interested in New Mexico you can do them no greater service than to try to guide them to Lincoln county as this is without doubt the banner county of the territory. One of these little pamphlets may be the means of bringing them here. Call and get a copy today.

THE house committee on mines and mining is evidently in hard straits for something to do. It has reported an amendment to the present laws regarding the location of mineral lands which if passed will materially affect the locations of claims. The amendment gives the locators the exclusive right to possesion of all surface land within their lines Location of not to be more than square in all cases in which previous locations do not prevent. The existing legal provisions concerning tunnels are repealed. The present law in regard to locations gives an area of 600 by 1,500 feet, but permits the owners to follow the vein outside their lines. The effect of the proposed amendment would be to extend the area and confine the mining within the surface lines vertically extended.

What good could come from the adoption of the proposed amendment is not at all clear, and to say the most of it is of rather a doubtful quantity. The good that would accrue from increasing the width of claims from 600 feet to 1500 would be more than offset by the provision confining the locators to the boundaries of the claim vertically extended. The amendment therefore seems to be an abridgement of the right of the locator rather than an extension and will hardly meet with the favor of mining men in general.

Grabbed By Rock Island.

Two new roads were added to the Rock Island system this week. One is the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern, which gives the Rock Island a direct outlet to St. Paul and Minneapolis, and the other is the Rock Island & Peoria, which has been operated by the Rock Island company for a number of years. The Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern has been under Rock Island control for some and it has been understood that ultimately it would be made a part of the Rock Island system. Henceforth it will be known as the Cedar Rapids division of the Rock Island system.

"I suffered from dyspepia and indigestion for fifteen years," says W. T. Sturdevant of Merry Oaks. M. C. "After I had tried many doctors and medicines to no avail one of my friend persuaded me to try Kodol. It gave immediate relief. I can eat almost anything I want now and my digstion is good. I cheerfully recommend Kodol." Don't try to cure stomach trouble by dieting. That only forther weakenes the system. You need wholesome, strengthening food. Kodol enable you to assimulate what you eat by digesting it without the stomach's aid.—R. A. Hurt.

How to Avoid Trouble.

Now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Choler and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over, and if procured now may save you a trip to town in the night or in your busiest season. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful medicine in use for bowel complaints, both for children and adults. No family came afford to be without it. for sale by R. A. Hurt.

Spring Fever.

Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more seridus than most people think. Atorpid lier and inactiver bowels means a poisoned system. If neglected, serious illness may follow such symptoms. De Witt's Little Early Riers removed all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. Safe pills. Never grip. "I have taken De Witt's Little Early Risers for torpid liver every spring for years," writes R. M. Everly, Moundsville, W. Va. MOTHERHOOD
The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead organs, but Wine of Cardui does regulate derangements that prevent conception; does prevent miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.

Judging by the past successes of the Knights of Pythias in this direction it is safe to say this one will be a "howling success."

One of the best Fourth of July celebrations ever held in this part of New Mexico is to be pulled off at North Capitan if all plans are carried through. Already nearly $200 has been collected for prizes which will be destributed to those taking part in the many contests which it is proposed to have on that day.

Sheriff Alfredo Gonzales and Deputy Isidro Analla, the present probate clerk of Lincoln county, New Mexico, delivered Demacio Griego to the penitentiary today, sentenced to one year for larceny of a horse. Griego is the man who some weeks ago, after being sentenced, attempted to commit suicide by drinking concentrated lye. He is still in a very weak condition, but will recovar.

Roswell-Torrance Railway.

The construction of a railroad from Roswell, on the Pecos Valley division of the Santa Fe railway system, to Torrance, the terminus of the Santa Fe Central railway also located on the El Paso-Rock Island railroad, will be of the greatest benefit to to the thriving city of Roswell, the county seat of Chaves, and the citizens of that town should lose no time in organizing a company for the construction of such a road and if necessary voting county bonds in aid thereof. The distance between Roswell and Torrance is about ninety miles and railroad building there is reported, by those who have traveled over the route and who are familiar with that section of New Mexico, as easy and cheap. There is no bridging to be done and the grade is of very easy ascent towards the northwest until Torrance is reached. Such a link will give the people of Chaves and Eddy counties another eastern outlet via the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific railroad. It will give them a ten-hours connection with the capital of the territory and will enable them to reach El Paso in twelve or thirteen hours. That this connection will pay from the moment of its completion is not doubted by those best posted. Chaves county could very well afford to vote bonds to the amount of $150,000 for the construction of such a road.—Santa Fe New Mexican.
