COAL MINING INDUSTRY IN NEW MEXICO REVIEWED

J. E. Sheridan, Mine Inspector, Speaks Freely of This Important Industry.

New Mexico has Enough Coal to Supply Every Demand of the Entire Nation—Lincoln County Third Among the Coal Producing Counties of the Territory.

The annual report of Jo E. Sheridan, United States mine inspector for New Mexico, shows among other things that there has been a falling off in the production of coal in the territory as compared with the year previous. This temporary decrease in the production of coal the inspector attributes to several reasons, chiefly to a dearth of coal miners. He also discusses the bearing fuel oil has had upon the production of coal. While oil has supplanted coal in many instances, the inspector thinks coal will continue to be king and that the competition will only be temporary. According to his report Lincoln county ranks third among the coal producing counties of the territory, being outranked only by McKinley and Colfax counties. The following are the salient features of his report:

The magnitude of the coal fields of New Mexico is little understood and their importance still less appreciated. As is shown in the summary herein below, a very conservative estimate places the aggregate area of these coal fields at 1,365,480 acres, or 2,133.3 square miles, and the coal contained therein at 8,173,840,000 tons, an amount more than twice as great as all the tonnage of coal ever produced in the whole United States, and which has supplied the wants of every industry of the nation since its birth.

Of what vital importance then will this, the nearest coal field, become to California, with its mining and manufacturing industries, in the near future, when oil reservoirs are drained and coal will again be in demand for fuel? Arizona, as its vast mineral resources are developed, will be dependent upon her neighbor, New Mexico, for cheap fuel with which to prosecute this development. And New Mexico, with like mining industries at home, will be independent, having the necessary energy stored in its coal fields to cheaply develop its other industries.

Cheap transportation across the continent of the products of the East and West to their respective markets will depend upon the New Mexico stores of coal to replenish fuel for the machines engaged in transportation.

Labor troubles at the mines have been amicably settled and a full force of men is at work upon a majority of the mines; yet there is a dearth of coal miners and a few mines are still short of men.

The gross production of coal for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1902, was 1,132,944 tons; amount used at mines 30,898; net product 1,102,046 tons; estimated value of net product on board cars at the mines $1,609,893.90. The gross output, 1,132,944 tons, shows a decrease of 24,396 tons from the product of the preceding year. This decrease was attributed to scarcity of miners during the past two years and a consequent restricted development of the mines.

During the year seventeen fatal accidents occurred, or one life was lost per 66,643 tons of coal mined. Twelve hundred men were employed underground and 410 men outside, total 1,610 men; fifty-three boys were employed underground and 19 outside, total of 72.

Oil was substituted for coal as fuel upon the Southern Pacific railroad from San Francisco, Cal., to El Paso, Tex., a distance of 1150 miles, and upon the Santa Fe-Pacific railroad from San Francisco, Cal., to Seligman, Arizona, and branch lines, a distance of 911 miles, a total of 2061 miles. Besides the substitution of oil upon these railroads, fuel oil has also replaced coal for domestic and manufacturing uses in many parts of California, Arizona and Texas where New Mexico coal formerly found a market, yet the coal production of the mines most affected by competition with oil, McKinley county mines, show an increased production of 30,222 tons over the preceding year.

Never before has so much substantial development and equipment been put upon the coal mines of New Mexico in a single year, and the results of development are beyond the most sanguine expectations of the operators. Taking every condition and circumstance bearing upon the coal industry of New Mexico into consideration, it is evident that a very prosperous era is close at hand for the coal miners of the territory.

The area of coal lands in the territory is given approximately as 1,365,480 acres and the available tonnage at 8,173,840,000 tons. McKinley county stands first among the coal producing counties of the territory, showing a production of 561,436 tons, of a value of $779,182, against 531,215 tons last year; 700 men being employed. Colfax county is second with 264,364 tons, valued at $290,197, 467 men and 29 boys employed, against 332,046 tons last year, a decrease of 67,682 tons, caused by lack of labor and consequent restricted development. Lincoln county is third with 121,902 tons, 153 men and six boys employed, against a production of 173,782 tons last year. Santa Fe county is fourth with a product of 103,461 tons, 177 men and seven boys employed. This shows a decrease of 11,895 tons, due to fire in Cerrillos bituminous mine curtailing the product. Rio Arriba county produced 50,600 tons, giving employment to 48 men and 3 boys. Socorro county produced 29,681 tons, 62 men employed, against a product of 14,116 tons last year. San Juan county produced 1500 tons, three men employed. During the year eleven new mines were opened—nine in Colfax county, one in Santa Fe county and one in Socorro county. Four mines were abandoned—three in Colfax county and one in Lincoln county. Three mines in Lincoln county temporarily suspended on account of lack of demand.

Slight Wreck on the E. P. R. I.
Wednesday morning there was a slight wreck on the El Paso-Rock Island line near Ancho, about twenty miles beyond Carrizozo.

A couple of cars in a freight headed south jumped the track.

The wrecking crew was hurried out from Alamogordo and in a few hours the line was open for traffic.

This wreck caused No. 1 to arrive in El Paso several hours late and the limited about an hour late. To serious damage was done except the delay to traffic.

New Mexico Corporate Wealth.
The record for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1902, shows the corporations chartered in the territory to number 205, with a total capitalization of $100,480,140. Of the corporations so organized 110 were for the purpose of mining, milling and smelting, having a combined capitalization of $73,017,530; 63 for manufacturing and other industrial pursuits with a capitalization of $4,796,500; 6 bank, building and loan associations, with a capitalization of $4,830,000; 6 railway companies, with a capitalization of $15,825,000 to construct 834 miles of new road; 10 irrigation and land improvement companies, with a capitalization of $2,011,000, and 10 benevolent and charitable associations.

To Play Chess by Telegraph.
A chess tournament between El Paso and Albuquerque for Sunday has been arranged. The contest will be played by wire over the lines of the Postal Telegraph company. The local players will have their tables in the respective local offices in their towns. The play will begin shortly after noon and probably be finished by night fall.

Operators Playing Deep Game.

It now seems likely that the differences between the miners and the operators arising from the recent great strike in the anthracite region in Pennsylvania will be settled amicably between the parties to the controversy without the aid of the arbitration committee. As soon as it was known that an effort was being made to get the miners and operators together to adjust their differences between themselves the commission announced that it would take a recess until December 8 in order to give them time in which to effect an agreement. The proposition to settle the controversy in this manner was made by the operators upon the plea that at the present rate of hearing testimony by the commission the matter would drag along indefinitely, keeping business conditions in the coal region unsettled all the while. While all this may be true, there is a much deeper reason for this conciliatory action on the part of the coal trust. It is not so much a desire on their part to expedite matters as it is to keep the full facts from the public that impelled them to come to the miners with this proposition to adjust matters outside of the commission. To allow the real conditions in the anthracite region to become known would reveal too much of their despotism and array public sentiment too much against them. While the public has every reason to believe that the miners have been subjected to every hardship that their monumentally selfish taskmasters could impose upon them, the people have no absolute proof of it, as the operators insist that their men are well treated and shown every consideration possible. As it is now the people only have the views of each side upon this question and it is about a stand off. If, however, the commission was allowed to complete its work the public would have something tangible to base its opinions upon and the blame could be fixed where it justly belongs. But this is just exactly what the coal barons wish to prevent. So long as the real facts are withheld from the public they do not fear any interference, but let the real conditions once become understood by the public, their lot would not be quite so easy. The cudgel thus obtained would be a powerful one in the hands of the people in destroying monopolies and throttling the greed of the trusts. That the people would use it to this end when once obtained the trusts know only too well. The people should therefore see to it that their prey does not escape them and insist that the commission be allowed to complete its labors. As it was the public that had to bear the brunt of the recent strike they are entitled to have the full facts of the situation placed before them and should not be thwarted in this by the selfishness of the coal trust in wanting to come in at this late hour with a counter proposition.

TUCUMCARI is to have a telephone system. A company was incorporated there this week with a capital of $5000 for the purpose of putting in the system and work is to be started on it immediately. There is not a town along the Rock Island that has a brighter outlook for the future than Tucumcari. With the Dawson line running out from there and the Rock Island cut off building in from Amarilla that place should soon take a place alongside many of the up-to-date towns of the territory.

BEYOND the election the only thing necessary to secure statehood was to elect Rodey. It now transpires, however, that congress has a little say so in the matter and the people are beginning to wonder whether or not they acted wisely in falling so readily into the Republican scheme to return Mr. Rodey to congress.

THE prospects are that the members of the house of representatives of the 58th congress will one and all have to face the cannon. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois will in all probability be speaker of that body.

GOVERNOR OTTUM's annual report shows that there are more than 3,000 miles of irrigating ditches in the territory, the cost of which has been over $6,000,000.

ROPER's majority in the territory, according to the official count in the various counties, is placed at 9,446.

NEW MEXICO this year has 42,925 pupils enrolled in the various schools of the territory.

Wants Damages for Injuries.

George Richardson of Alamo-gordo has brought suit against the El Paso & Northeastern Rail-way company for $20,000 in the district court for damages for personal injuries sustained by him while a passenger on defendant's road.

The plaintiff alleges that on February 2, 1901, he was a pas-senger on defendant's train run-ning from Carrizozo to Alamo-gordo, when the train stopped suddenly at Tularosa without warning, throwing him from the platform to the ground, thereby injuring him about the shoulders and spine and cutting him about the head.

He claims that the injuries are permanent and that they were caused by the negligent stopping of the train.

More Expansion for Rock Island.

A report is current in Silver City that the Rock Island con-templates building an extension to the Pacific coast. The report says the new road will leave the Rock Island just north of El Pa-so, thereby saving considerable time in making the run to the coast, and build west to Las Cru-ces, thence to Silver City. This would open up some of the best mining, cattle and farming coun-try in the Southwest. The road would in all probability if built run through Arizona north of the Southern Pacific touching impor-tant mining camps and going through some good country. This point alone, with its sur-rounding mining camps and large cattle ranges would be enabled to furnish such a new road with an enormous business annually. The freight receipts to the Santa Fe from this city alone amount to something over a quarter of a million dollars per year. If the Rock Island should build through this section it would enable them to touch numerous mining camps such as the Burros, which is con-ceded by prominent mining men who have examined this district to contain the largest bodies of mineral deposits in the South-west. Clifton and Morenci would also be on the direct line of the route. The railroad through this district would enable the Rock Island to open up some country that in a few years would bring them a handsome business.—Silver City correspondence El Paso Herald.

The Best Remedy For Croup.

This is the season when the woman who knows the best reme-dies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup reme-dies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burg-lars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mother says that Chamberlain's cough remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Robt. Hurt.

A Thanksgiving Dinner.

Heavy eating is usually the first cause of indigestion. Repeated attacks inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach, exposes the nerves of the stom-ach, producing a swelling after eating, heartburn, headache, sour risings and finally catarrh of the stomach. Kodol relieves the inflammation, protects the ner-ves and cures the catarrh. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, all stomach troubles by cleansing and sweetening the glands of the stom-ach. Robt. B. H. Moeller of the Aragon-Moeller company of Lincoln was in town last Sunday on his way to El Paso on business.

H. Dickison informs the Progress that he has a very promising mining claim near town which he is working. He is down about ten feet on it and in good ore. He is now cross-cutting in order to ascertain the width of the vein. He says he has exposed the vein for six feet and has not encountered either wall. He thinks he has something valuable.

The Thanksgiving exercises held at the school house yesterday attracted quite a crowd and proved exceedingly interesting. The pupils of the public schools had arranged an appropriate program for the occasion consisting of recitations, dialogues, music, etc., which was highly enjoyed by all who attended. Candies, fruits and nuts were generously distributed.

Capitan entertained a large crowd from the surrounding country at a horse race last Sunday. A race between Ira O. Wetmore's bay and a black owned by Bob Swan had been matched for that date and was successfully pulled off in the presence of a large crowd. The purse was $250 and was captured by the black. Both of the horses were known to be swift and considerable local interest was manifested.

The mask ball given at North Capitan last night by Columbine Lodge No. 3, Select Knights and Ladies, was a decided success, the crowd being large, the music excellent and the music superb. Barring the accident caused by upsetting one of the hanging lamps, an account of which is given elsewhere, the affair was one of the most enjoyable social functions ever held in Capitan. The Select Knights and Ladies realized a neat sum for their order from the entertainment.

Quite a serious accident occurred at the masquerade ball given last night by the Select Knights and Ladies. One of the masqueraders who was dressed to represent "Uncle Sam" wore a high hat and while dancing his head gear came in contact with one of the hanging lamps, knocking it over and causing it to explode. Miss Kittie Snirbly who happened to be under the lamp at the time was covered with oil which soon ignited, burning her severely. Her injuries were promptly dressed by Dr. Fuller, and though now in a critical condition she will recover. Had it not been that every one present vigorously assisted in extinguishing the flames the entire building would undoubtedly have burned. As it was, however, but little damage was done to the building.

For sick headache try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets; they will ward off the attack if taken in time. For sale by R. A. Hurt.

A TOMATO DISEASE.

Press Bulletin from the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, at Mesilla Park--by Fabian Garcia.

Except for the blight, which is well known to most of the tomato growers of this section, the tomato has been free from serious diseases in the past. However, it is now desired to call attention to a disease which has occurred on the tomatoes in this locality during the past season. This has been the first time the disease has appeared in such abundance as to be particularly noticeable and cause considerable loss to tomato growers in some parts of the Mesilla valley. The disease is a fungus, but not being sure of its specific name the writer sent some diseased tomatoes to Professors Atkinson, Dugger, Pammell, Smith and others. While some of these authorities differ as to the exact specific name, most of them class the fungus as a Macrosporium Alteruaria.

The disease was especially bad on tomato fields that suffered from drought. On one of Mr. Theo. Rouault's fields that suffered from drought the fungus was very abundant. It is estimated that this field produced less than one-fourth of a crop and the loss due to the fungus was close to thirteen hundred dollars. At the Experiment Station the tomatoes suffered very little from drought. The disease first appeared on these tomatoes during the first week in September and at the time it was found only on a very few fruits. The disease spread very slowly at first, but about the last of September it was very abundant, especially on the weak plants.

The disease usually occurs on the green tomatoes first. It begins as a small light brownish circular spot, surrounded by a darker ring. The spots are hard and slightly sunken and as they get larger and older they extend into the flesh of the tomato. The individual spots do not grow large but as they increase in number rapidly frequently, almost the whole tomato is covered with the spots. The disease is likely to occur on any part of the tomato. It attacks the leaves and stems as much as it does the fruit, and if abundant enough the leaves drop and the plant stops growing and bearing.

The remedies for fungus diseases are the various kinds of fungicides. The favorite remedy both on account of its efficiency and cheapness is the Bordeaux mixture. It has been used on this disease quite successfully at other places, especially in the South. It may be quite well to state in this connection that a fungicide is not so much a remedy as a preventative. For this reason, in order that the fungicide may be most effective, the spraying should begin before or immediately after the disease starts. Spraying is about the best and surest remedy that can be recommended at present. If there are any indications of the disease going to attack the tomatoes it is advisable to begin to spray then and there. Do not wait till the disease has gained a strong foothold. If the plants are kept in a vigorous growing condition the fungus will probably not have the same chances of developing as it has in the weaker plants. This disease may attack other plants. About the last of September it occurred on the melon vines at the Station and was so bad many of the vines soon stopped growing.

Stepped Against a Hot Stove.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Benson when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Keller, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for burns, cuts, bruises and sprains. For sale by Robt. Hurt.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that catarrh. Hall's catarrh cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
