Canada and the Award.

In arbitration as in war both sides cannot win. Naturally there is irritation in Canada over the decision adverse to her claims on all points touching the Alaskan boundary with the exception of the Portland Canal, and this feeling found expression in the refusal of the Canadian Commissioners to sign the findings of the board. Fortunately this childish action cannot effect the decision of the majority of the commission, which the treaty provides shall be "final and binding upon all parties."

Goodwin Smith's soothing suggestion to Canada that "if the British Government has not got for her all to which she was entitled it has got for her more than she would have got for herself" is well founded. His further remark that the British people would never consent to a war with the United States for anything on this side of the Atlantic, and that "no British Government that proposed it could live for twenty-four hours," is undoubtedly true. That our Canadian brethren have on the whole profited by British influence is especially true at this time, when for one reason or another there is more friendly understanding between our Government and Great Britain than at any time since 1860.

A small nation negotiating with a great one is strengthened by the support of some other great nation, even though, as in Canada's case, it is understood that the supporting great nation would not think of carrying its friendship to the point of war. The truth is that Canada, by reason of her peculiar position, has always got better treatment from Great Britain because of the United States and more consideration from the United States because of Great Britain. She may well be content to make the most of this situation without inviting coolness on the part of the mother country and indifference this side the border.

APPLE TAXES.—I have at my ranch on Little Creek, 8 miles southwest of Fort Stanton, ten varieties of fine apple trees, from 3ft. to 5ft. high, two years old, at 15 cents each or $12.50 per 100.

A Spanish Class.

By request of a number of people who desire a speaking knowledge of Spanish, Acacio Gallegos has consented to act as tutor to a class about to be formed. Mr. Gallegos has taught in English and Spanish schools, and has a quick method of imparting a speaking knowledge of the language without the aid of books. First learn to converse, then if you wish to become perfect study grammar. We had a man in our midst this week, Capt. Curry, of Manila, who has held some of the highest positions in the Philippines, due in a large measure to having a knowledge of Spanish. Those wishing to join the class should leave their names with Mr. Gallegos, and commence with the first lesson. This is an opportunity that should not be overlooked.

We regret to announce that J. N. Coe, an old and respected citizen of this county, is in a dangerous predicament at his home at Glencoe, suffering with pneumonia. Two doctors are attending him. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Pfingston Bros., of Nogal, the boss house movers, this week moved the Meirs hotel from Fourth street to Lincoln avenue, without disturbing a nail. It was a big job, calling for considerable engineering skill. The building in its present position, greatly improves the appearance of the town.

Jim Brent of Silver City came in from White Oaks Saturday, where he had been looking after business. Mr. Brent is well and favorably known throughout the county, having been sheriff about 1896, and was the wheel horse of the democratic party of Lincoln county. While in Capitan Saturday he was kept busy exchanging greetings with his old friends.

Attention is directed to Zeigler Bros.' ad. which appears in this issue. Zeigler Bros. have built up a large business by fair dealing—selling genuine goods at reasonable prices. White Oaks is rather dull at present, but this firm continues to do a large country business, which is constantly increasing. Like all successful business men they are firm believers in printers' ink.

The local fruit crop being a dead failure, the people are indebted to Tularosa and Three Rivers for supplying the want. Scarcely a week passes that several wagon loads of delicious fruit is not disposed of here. On account of the distance it has to be hauled it comes a little high, but we've got to have it. The apple and peach crop was exceptionally heavy in the Tularosa valley.

Glencoe Cleanings.

Cattle are in fine condition and will winter well.

F. B. Coe is building a new house on his ranch above Glencoe.

Bro. George Coe and family have moved to Alamogordo where the children might have access to the schools there.

It is reported here that Cannon English, the goat man, has taken upon himself the obligations of a wife since he returned from Missouri.

J. P. Perry is still drilling for water near the head of Sanchez Canyon. He has attained a depth of 100 feet and hopes to get water within 50 feet more.

Ross Coe, who has been with us for some time, will leave for Artesia in a few days. He is making arrangements to ship a carload of horses.

The farmers of Glencoe have about all completed their fall harvest. Corn, hay and beans made a splendid yield this season, and, although there were no fruit crops this year, the Glencoeites will not starve.

J. N. Coe has been confined to his bed for about three weeks. He has been, and is yet, quite low. The trouble seems to be pneumonia. Drs. Carrington and Trask, of Ft. Stanton, have been in attendance.

White Oaks.

Old Parker, who has been seriously ill, is improving.

Joe White's little boy, who had his arm broken sometime since, is getting well.

Miss Alice McMains has been elected to teach in the public school here.

A small fire occurred here Saturday night. A frame building east of the postoffice, until lately used as a barber shop, caught fire. Contents were saved.

The entertainment at the opera house Friday night was well attended, well received, and a financial success. The play was followed by a ball.

HORSES.—Thirty-five head of Stock Horses. Cheap.—Address J. P. Dodson, Capitan, N.M.

A newspaper will be established at Estancia on the Santa Fe Central about November 1st. The News will be an eight-page five-column paper, and will appear every Thursday. Six pages of the paper will be in English and two in Spanish. In politics the sheet will be avowedly republican. M. Speckman will be the proprietor of the Estancia News.

U KNEAD IT.—The Southwestern Mercantile company received this week a carload of the famous "U Knead It" flour. Prices right.

"Many an honest man," says John Wanamaker, "failed because he is a poor advertiser." In view of the fact that Mr. Wanamaker is one of the most successful advertisers in the world his statement is worth considering by our local merchants. Every successful business man will tell you that judicious advertising always pays—provided you have the article the people want.

NOTICE TO HAYMEN.—Make hay while the sun shines. Go to the S. W. Mer. Co., where you can save money on your baling ties.

The new union depot at Torrance, erected for the joint use of the El Paso & Northeastern (Rock Island system) and the Santa Fe Central, is under roof, and will be ready for occupancy by November 1. The depot building which is a two-story frame structure, is situated directly opposite the Cottage hotel, and will do away with the long walk now entailed upon passengers in transferring from the Santa Fe Central to the Rock Island and vice versa.

Teachers' Examination.

The regular examination for first, second and third grade certificates will be held at Capitan, on Friday November 27th, 1903.

All persons who do not now hold good certificates, and wishing to teach during the winter and spring months, are requested to present themselves upon the above named date, as this will be the last examination until the next Friday in August 1904.

How. J. Cox, County Sup't. of Schools.

SEEK ANIMAL KILLER

ENRAGED FARMERS ROUSED TO DESPERATION.

Fland or Lunatic is Poisoning Live Stock of Attleboro, Massachusetts. Agriculturists—Foeses, Well Armed, Seek His Life.

Education, science and the general spread of knowledge have let in light on many a common darkness that existed even so late as fifty years ago. What nineteenth century thinking person but shudders at the recollection of the Salem witchcraft, that blot on America's pure pages of history? Yet right at the very doorway of Boston, the center of advanced ideas and mind culture, there is one mind so steeped in darkness, some one so soul warped that for some unfathomable reason has wreaked vengeance on dumb animals.

Who is the fiend who has so relentlessly and persistently poisoned cows, cats and fowls?

This is a vital question with the people of Attleboro, who with blood in their eyes are on the qui vive for the miscreant.

It began a few weeks ago, when one night all was still on the Don Accord farm, the home of Dr. George Mackie, who is an ardent nature lover, and who usually walks about his farm until midnight. On the night in question he went in the house rather earlier than usual, having first whistled to his pet peacock perched aloft in a massive elm and received in reply a fall throated call from the bird. Out in the stable was comfortably housed his prize oxen and several valuable cows.

The next morning the doctor was horrified to find an ox dead and the other dying, the result of Paris green poison, as an examination later proved.

A few days later the peacock was found dead, then came in rapid succession the deaths of two Angora cats, a pea fowl, and many cows belonging to a neighbor.

Many theories are rife as to what object any person could have in mind, if he possessed a mind, in perpetrating such a deed.

Some allege that the food of the animals may have been mixed with Paris green, but this theory was disproven when on examination it was found the animals had been given a...

Others claim the perpetrator...

time, that writhed in agony and looked appealingly and wonderingly at its irate citizens, before vigilance committees were formed, and farmers armed nail and tooth posted themselves at unexpected places, on borders of fields and behind fences.

And the direct result of this furor of excitement is that Attleboro for the time being is transformed into scenes and actions similar to those of the wild and woolly West, where lynch law prevailed and self-appointed sheriffs dealt out the law.

Private citizens have formed regular posses, which plan out their campaign of action and act accordingly.

Armed men patrol fields and roads from sunset to dawn, listening to every sound, suspecting every shadow, waiting to shoot the man or men who destroy their livestock.

Men suspected of wrong-doing, and knowing that the farmers are armed against them, leave the townships, stealing away for fear they may become victims of the vigilants.

One man, while crossing a lot, just why no one seems to know, it being one where no trespassing was allowed, was charged upon by an infuriated bull, who rushed at him full force, the man barely escaping through the bars in time, for the bull's horns struck the gate with such force that they stuck fast in the wood for a short time.

Old guns that have not been used since the war days have been brought out and new ones have been bought. Men whose business it is to reap and plow have been armed with clubs and every bush contains tonight its determined guardian, ready to hold up marauders who shall approach, and to get them if they can.

Scattered about the fields, hiding in the shadow of barns and sheds, crouched behind hay mows, lying low beside stone walls are the men whose farms have been earned by the sweat of the field and garden. A more determined lot of men never met to guard their property in times of peace. They are awake and alert, and mean harm to any persons they can find about without a valid excuse.

Along the highways others are traveling. Many tramps have been stopped and asked to explain, and then ordered to leave the county by the shortest route. Wives are behind closed doors awaiting the return of their husbands and praying that any encounter they may have may bring no harm to them.

Still the search for the fiend incarnate, the Quixotic demon, or the odd fanatic, whichever it may be, continues ruthlessly and thoroughly without avail.

It may be that the surest proof that the work is that of a mentally deranged person is the fact that no particular person is singled out upon which the revenge has been practiced. Besides Dr. Mackie, there are many other citizens who have suffered a loss from the cruel work of the poisoner.

At night there has recently developed a superstition and fear among the inhabitants only equalled by believers in the occult.

The click of a gun, the call of a sentinel, a man home gathering them the cry of the woman, or a noise in the night, or a sound in the...

result will be a superstitious fear handed down to the posterity of Attleboro as a result of this long, nightly watch and untiring efforts of the vigilance committee.

The citizens wonder whether the person is a stranger, or a native of the town, a sane being or a fanatic, a man or a woman? The ministers expound texts and theological reasons as to the cause of such behavior, the lawyers employ their cool-headed sagacity, their shrewdness, quips and wiles, the farmers exert their natural long-headedness, calculations, and maybes, the village gossips add to each story and jump at conclusions, but all come to the same end, they "give it up in dismay."

Meantime Dr. Mackie and the posse search and the wholesale poisoning continues.—Boston Journal.

PREACH A NEW RELIGION.

Persian Missionaries Seek Converts in New England.

It will doubtless startle many people to learn that Persians, descendants of Mohammedans, are at work in New England trying to make converts; And the religious movement which they represent is not only purely Eastern but Persian, and in a sense Mohammedan, since it originated in a reform movement of Mohammedans. New England has certainly reached an interesting period in its history when Persian monks of a religion that did not exist when the Mayflower came to anchor there are not only preaching but making converts.

The new religion is represented by Mirza Abul Fazl, an eminent oriental scholar, formerly a distinguished professor in the leading college of philosophy and theology of Teheran, Persia, and Mirza Ali Kuli Kahn of the Royal College, Teheran, a scholarly young Persian who is also educated in English, and who acts as interpreter to Mirza Fazl.

The spirit of tolerance, the cry for economic and social adjustment, the efforts toward peace and unity which are abroad in the world at the present time are said to be due directly to the presence of the great prophets of this faith, who have been "manifested" in Persia during the past sixty years. Since the advent of Jesus the western world has been prone to brush aside all such claims as unworthy of notice...

The New Woman

The New Woman, who glorified the closing decade of the last century, has been swept from her bloomers into oblivion, and from the cosmopolitan swirl of the present arises her successor, who wields a bowditching sceptre o'er a wondering world from a throne not made by chance. Aesthetic ever, ascetic never, she is posted in all the higher subtleties of passion as told by yellow journals, yellow novels, and from her own personal experience. A ready wit against the mistaken impressions of others she can unsheathe, and no use has she for the paths of cheap romance. As for her knowledge of the dynamical relations between the emotions and the gastronomical functions it is profound, being in truth, common sense. She believes in roast beef, lollypops, ice cream, as well as in manicures and tooth brushes and from her wonderful health and complexion one notices neither hysteria nor enamel can claim her. She admires the strenuous life, revels in the atmosphere of the stage; the race track, golf, bridge, all fresco concerts, and the ball room, and is not at all averse to smiling encouragingly upon the ancestral countenance of a drowsy simian who condescends to enlighten and civilize society up-to-date with his own peculiar smiles (bless his soul), so patiently expressive of pleasant thoughts unutterable.

With the easy grace of a 2-year-old she will jump any barrier that separates the most exclusive elite from the rest of society, and finds nothing in the presence of plutocrats or kings to be amazed at. She understands. What is more, they understand her, or think they do, which, of course, is the same thing—you understand.

Appreciating the thousand discords of the world and the wild harmonies of the heart, she would throw herself at romance for the mere sensation of the thing rather than at a man's head.

which is, by the way, generally too soft or too hard, and so difficult to depend on. Aware of the fact that Cupid's game is not quite an exact science, she guards her own secret with a merry smile for others whom the artful sprite has smitten. Upbraided her for not having a soul, she will reply that a violin has more of that element than she ever dreamed of possessing; but if you can understand the eye as thoroughly as she, you will discover by a glance at hers that she knows herself and the world very well.

The United States is the producing ground, par excellence, for her species, as well as the happy hunting ground of the titled European for the same, for reasons quite clear enough to the living, dead and dying. Conventionality is a blight upon her spirit, as indeed it is upon the spirit of the European during hunting trips. As for her dislike to forms, it is distinct, inasmuch as she regards them as cunning veneers to hypocrisy, which she abominates.

She believes in marriage, but you have probably observed that their husbands are quiet gentlemen possessed of much latent determination and a very impressive eye, factors not only qualified by a certain intense humor, but altogether eligible with culture. You've probably, like the smiling ladies themselves, observed this, and said nothing.—W. Fabian in Philadelphia Ledger.

Real Deed of Heroism.

Who can imagine a more deliberate and cold-blooded bit of heroism than that performed by Keeper W. W. Griesser of the Buffalo life-saving station, who, in the teeth of an eighty-mile November gale, swam out in the icy waters of Buffalo harbor to rescue a man who was clinging to some piling 500 feet from shore? At times the seas broke over the man so deeply that he was lost from sight, and it was evident that in that awful weather he would soon succumb and go to the bottom. Griesser saw him, and knowing that it would be useless to attempt to launch a boat, determined to swim to him with a line. As he plunged into the lake the mighty surf caught him and hung him stunned upon the beach; but he was up and in again, and this time gained the water beyond the breakers. It took half an hour for Griesser to swim 500 feet against the storm; then, coming to an old pile, he wrapped his arm and legs about it and rested for a few moments. The cold was intense, and his clothes were frozen to him when he let go and slid into the water, again to resume his journey. At times he had to dive through the great combers to avoid being bucketed back to shore, and three times a floating telegraph pole struck him on the back with crushing force, once almost rendering him unconscious. But he fought it out with incredible courage, and at the end of an hour was near enough to throw the line to the poor fellow, who was pitifully crying for help. The half-frozen wretch had only enough strength left to tie the line about his wrist, and then dropped into the water. At that instant a wave caught and fouled the line about the piling, and hurried Griesser back a hundred feet toward the beach. Exhausted, but not dismayed or beaten, he made renewed efforts to regain lost ground, and at the end of another half hour had reached the man again, coated the fouled line, and given the signal to the people on shore to haul in.

In transmitting the gold medal which congress had awarded to Griesser for heroism, the secretary of the treasury said: "It would seem incredible but for indisputable evidence, that you performed the paralytic feat, which was, indeed, effected only at the extreme peak of your life."—Woman's Home Companion.

Senator's Gourmets.

A party of gourmets visited the Scala restaurant in Washington. They peered about in every corner. "So this is the place where the senators and their epicurean friends, in '87" asked a lady with gray ringlets and a determined cast of countenance. "Yes, ma'am," the guard replied. "Probably so that amongst a waiter gave an order for the two senators from Michigan, who were lunching together.

He said: "Senator Burrows wants an apple and a glass of milk and Senator Alger wants a dish of capon pudding."—Saturday Evening Post.

COMMODORE NICHOLSON OF OUR NAVY

Recommends Peruna—Other Prominent Men Testify.

Commodore Somerville Nicholson, of the United States Navy, in a letter from 1837 R Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., says:

"Your Peruna has been and is now used by so many of my friends and acquaintances as a sure cure for catarrh that I am convinced of its curative qualities and I unhesitatingly recommend it to all persons suffering from that complaint."—S. Nicholson.

United States Minister to Guatemala Endorses Peruna.

Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter, U. S. Minister to Guatemala, ex-member of Congress from Kentucky, in a letter from Washington, D. C., writes:

"I am fully satisfied that your Peruna is an efficacious remedy for catarrh, as I and many of my friends have been benefited by its use."—W. G. Hunter, M. D. Member of Congress From Virginia Writes.

Hon. G. R. Brown, Martineville, Va., ex-member of Congress Fifth District, 50th Congress, writes:

"I cheerfully give my endorsement to your Peruna as a cure for catarrh. Its beneficial results have been so fully demonstrated that its use is essential to all persons suffering from that disease."—Hon. G. R. Brown.

The day was when men of prominence hesitated to give their testimonials to proprietary medicines for publication. This remains true to-day of most proprietary medicines. But Peruna has become so justly famous, its merits are known to so many people of high and low stations, that no one hesitates to see his name in print recommending Peruna.

The highest men in our nation have given Peruna a strong endorsement. Men representing all classes and stations are equally represented.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

This town needs a great many things, but nothing half as bad as a decent railway depot.

For a man who has been reported among the politically dead so many times, and tommyhawked, knifed, double-crossed and solar-plexed, Cleveland is certainly a warm number. Senator Mark Hanna has declared that Grover Cleveland is a great democrat, greater than his time or party. What is the matter with Hanna, anyway?

Why don't some of those fellows who go chasing around at night get married, and experience the bliss there is in rocking a cradle, amusing the kid, cutting kindling wood, and telling your wife how much you love her. Welch & Titsworth received this week a consignment of baby rocking chairs and other useful and attractive articles suitable for a nursery. Besides, the days are getting short.

The new town of Torrance on the Rock Island and Santa Fe Central will have a union depot ready for business by Nov. 1., while the comparatively ancient town of Capitan, continues to transact its railroad business on the sidewalk. It is said that everything comes to those who wait, but how long, O lord, how long must the people of this town wait for a building in which to transact their business with the railroad company? There is considerable more traffic handled at Capitan than at any other station on the E. P. & N. E. system with the exception of Alamo-gordo.

Wanted.—Hides, sheep pelts, goat skins, etc. Highest market price paid by Welch & Titsworth.

Back from the Philippines.

Capt. Curry arrived here Monday after an absence of four years in the Philippines; and was the guest of W. M. Riely, an old schoolmate, during his sojourn here. The captain needs no introduction to the people of Lincoln county, as, during his 22 years residence here, he filled the most responsible offices in the gift of the people—having been county clerk, assessor, sheriff and was twice sent to the legislature. He was also first sheriff of Otero county. He joined the Rough Riders, and went to the Philippines where he was on active service until the close. He held many high positions on the Islands, including governor of a province and chief of police of Manila, from which he resigned to engage in the mercantile trade. He was recently appointed Governor of Mantanza, to take effect the first of the coming year, and will take a needed rest among the scenes of his youth for a few months among the scenes of his youth before taking office. He drove to Roswell Wednesday with W. M. Riley to visit his children, who are attending school there.

REMOVAL SALE!

Beginning Tuesday, Nov. 3.

AS we deemed it best to consolidate our Capitan and Coalora stores, moving the entire Capitan stock to Coalora, we desire to announce that everything in the store will be sold at a great reduction. As we are crowded for room, we intend to cut our stock down, if prices will do it.

We don't ask you to take this advertisement for it, but come and be convinced that we mean business.

Thanking you for your past patronage, and hoping for a continuance of the same,

We remain at your service,

Chas. Fox, the bustling salesman for Krakauer, Moyer & Co., an El Paso hardware firm, was working this end of the county this week.

Sunday afternoon while speeding his mustang on the Boulevard, Kid Booth was thrown violently to the ground, sustaining a severe shaking up.

M. Bond, a Roswell sheepman, was in Capitan Tuesday. He has a deep-well drilling outfit at Oscura which is a white elephant on his hands, which he would like to dispose of.

The attention of our readers is directed to the half-page ad. of the Southwestern Mercantile company, announcing a removal sale. Read it. A visit to the store, before they move, will repay you.

The wonted placidity of this village was disturbed somewhat last week by the rounding up of those delinquent in their road tax. The defendants asked for a jury trial, and were acquitted, with the result that the county is out the tax, and has to pay the costs. It was a case of "much ado about nothing."

Seaside Problem Which Worried the Good Man—An Exception to the Rule—Stranger's Criticism of the Church Choir.

Hadn't Heard
 "I understand," said the Philosopher, "that you are financially interested in Stangley's spring machine."
 "Yes," replied the Wise Guy, "he let me on the the ground floor."
 "Well?"
 "Well, I am still there—and so is the machine."
 "Ball ho!" called the lookout.
 "Wheraway?" asked the first mate.
 "Six pints off the lee bow."
 "Make it eight pints," ordered a thirsty passenger. "I can drink a quart myself any time."—Judge.

Attractive.
 "Then you've been to Niagara?"
 "Yes. I was quickly married last Tuesday week, and the next day reached Niagara. Soon as we got there I started out to see the Falls with my wife."
 "Magnificent, eh?"
 "You bet. You should have seen all the other men turning around to look at her as we passed."

Taken Literally.
 "The beauty of this great and glorious republic," said the native, proudly, "is that any boy born here may become President."
 "Fawney!" exclaimed the Britisher. "I was under the impression that the President had to be at least 49 years of age, don't y' know."

Summer Thought.
 "This heat is enough to drive a man to suicide."
 "If he's a fool."
 "I'm not so sure."
 "Well, a good man won't kill himself anyway, and a man who isn't good certainly would be foolish to kill himself to escape the heat."—Detroit Free Press.

Cheerfully Contributed.
 "Say," whispered the stranger in church, "what's this collection for?"
 "This offering," replied the man with the collection plate, "is for foreign missions."
 "That's all right, then," said the stranger, producing a dollar. "I was going to say if it's for the choir it ain't worth it."

A Seaside Problem.

"Ought I to Wait?"
 "The summer resort? No."
 "The head waiter is very obliging and hospitable."
 "I don't observe it," answered the guest.
 "No, he plays everything that one."

Women Suffrage Movement.

Increasing evidence that the cause of woman suffrage is gaining ground throughout the world compel the inquiry whether the "women who want to vote" are not now in a fair way to win a universal victory.

In far-off New Zealand we find Premier Seddon, one of the bitterest opponents of woman's suffrage before its introduction into that colony, now warmly commending the system, having been "thoroughly converted by its practical workings," says the House-keeper. New Zealand was never so prosperous as now and the interest manifested by her women citizens in the welfare of the colony is evidenced by their active participation in public affairs. The compilation of the electoral rolls in New South Wales shows that about 360,000 men and 285,000 women are qualified to vote at the next legislative election.

Pearls in Indian Territory.

Pearls of great value have been discovered recently in Elk creek, near Muskogee. There is much reason to believe that pearl fisheries similar to those which have been developed in Arkansas will be found extensively in Indian Territory. In many of the streams of the territory are immense beds of mussels, which the authorities say are of the pearl-bearing variety.

Texas Finds a Remedy.

Fate, Tex., Sept. 21st.—Texas has seldom, if ever, had such a profound sensation, as that caused by the introduction recently of a new remedy for kidney diseases. This remedy has already been tried in thousands of cases, and in almost every case the results have been wonderful.

Henry Vaughan, of Rural Route, No. 3, Fate, says of it:
 "I suffered with Kidney Trouble for over 12 months. I was very bad and could get nothing to help me till I heard of the new remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. I began to use these pills, and very soon found myself improving. I kept on and now I can say I am absolutely cured and free from any symptoms of my old trouble."
 "I am very glad I heard of this wonderful remedy and I would strongly advise anyone suffering with Kidney trouble to try it, for I know it will cure."

If Eve's mother had been around Adam would have been blamed for that apple business.

Money refunded for each package of PUTNAM FADELESS DYES if unsatisfactory.

Carolina Money Senders.

The income of the British post office from money in envelopes having no or insufficient address is $30,000 to $35,000 a day.

A Guaranteed Cure for Piles.

Itching, bleeding or protruding Piles positively cured or money refunded. ALLEN'S DISCOVERY FOR PILES, a new discovery that absolutely cures all kinds of Piles. Prepared for Piles only. All Drug Stores, 25c. Sent by mail on receipt of price. Address Lock Box 888, La Roy, N. Y.

Mr. Junkin (to leader of orchestra)—Say, we want to be up to date, can't you play that St. Vitus dance they talk about up town?

Mr. Brown—There's just one way to marry me. Marry me—naturally. Any girl would do.

People have had to bear full clothes ever since Adam's time.

Why it is the best is because made by an ordinary person. It is the best and most reliable for it.

FALL KIDNEY CHILLS.

With the chilling air of fall comes an extra tax on weak kidneys. It's the time when correct urines with brick dust sediment, high colored, pain in passing, dribbling, frequency, bed wetting, Doan's Kidney Pills remove calculi and gravel. Relieve heart palpitation, sleeplessness, headache, nervousness, dizziness.

DRUMFIELD, IND.—"It was called rheumatism. I could get no relief from the doctor. I began to improve on taking Doan's pills and got two boxes at our drug store, and, although 65 years of age, I am almost a new man. I was troubled a good deal with my water—had to get up four and five times a night. That trouble is over with and once more I can rest the night through. My backache is all gone, and I thank you ever so much for the wonderful medicine, Doan's Kidney Pills."

TIMELY TOPICS FOR OUR FEMININE READERS.

Girl's Russian Blouse Dress in a New Style—Frocks of White Voile—The Latest Fads in Lingerie—The 1910 Girl.

Girl's Russian Blouse Dress.
The ultimatum that every girl shall have a Russian blouse in her wardrobe has brought out some new styles, are especially practical for this Autumn for girls' and misses' school frocks. In the charming design shown here the suit may be varied by using the blouse with separate skirt and vice versa. The little yoke effect in front is very pretty, and when made of white or light colors livens up a dark suit most wonderfully. The front of the waist is gathered slightly at the yoke edge, this giving a pretty roundness to the waist, and the fullness is confined at the waist by a belt. The lining may or may not be used and the blouse may be gathered and stitched to the waist, or adjusted by the belt. The skirt is flared, the most approved style for misses and girls, and will a good model to follow for either suit or as a separate skirt. The back may be made with an inverted box plait or gathered.

Any of the waist materials of Fall cuttings will make up satisfactorily in the mode, although a serge, mohair, cassimere or light-weight woollens will be exceedingly pretty when combined with a bright braid for decorations.

The Newest Blouse.

Tuckered blouse of cream colored pongee, with plastron and cuffs embroidered in yellow and white.

Latest and Smartest Parasol.
A really perfect for lovely America to shade her pretty face is of cotton in the new yellow shade. The foundation is of yellow silk, all hidden by a mass of cotton frills, mounted by a large rose of yellow chiffon. The fringes hanging from the edge is yellow and every rib, forming a charming, irregular frame for mademoiselle's lovely face.

Latest in Lingerie.

In Europe the latest imported corset is made of the finest material and is the most perfect yet made.

these garments are to be incrustated, to be filled in later with the owner's initial or monogram.

A chemise shown by an importer has a low, round neck, finished off with tiny square scallops done in fancy buttonhole stitch. Below this was a tracery of trailing vines, delicately embroidered. At the left the vines were formed into a sort of empire wreath for the reception of somebody's monogram.

This monogram scheme was seen also in a night dress, where a heart-shaped decoration is embroidered over the left breast, in the yoke. A corset cover had insertions of Valenciennes lace alternating with narrow strips of the muslin, showing a hand-wrought design in mistletoe. At the left the mistletoe formed a sort of inverted wishbone for the reception of the future monogram.

Child's Box-Plaited Frock.
To be made with or without the collar.

Box-plaited frocks are much in vogue for little girls and are shown in a variety of materials. This stylish one can be made with the collar and trimming, as illustrated, or without, as shown in the small sketch, and is adapted to a wide range of materials, but as shown, is made of rose colored linen trimmed with white embroidery.

The frock consists of the fronts and the back, both of which are laid in box plaits, and is shaped by means of shoulder and underarm seams. Extensions at the waist line in the underarm seams are laid in inverted plaits to give extra fullness to the skirt.

The quantity of material required for the medium size (8 years) is 5 1/2 yards 27 inches wide, 3 1/2 yards 44 inches wide, or 3 yards 52 inches wide.

Girl's Frock of White Voile.

The skirt has a wide box plait in the middle of the front, on each side of which are two side plaits. It is fancifully trimmed around the hips, simulating a yoke, with bands of galopure, and is finished at the bottom with tucks.

The blouse is covered with a triple collar trimmed with galopure and finished around the slightly low neck with a band of dotted foulard. This also forms the cuffs and the glands. The cravat is of tulle with unbleached ends.—Wisser Child.

Another Corset.

The polerine and the scarf worn low on the shoulder are in the best possible fashion. The polerine yoke appears in many of the fall gowns. This is a close-fitting yoke, that reaches almost to the underarm, some in width, extends over the sleeve tops and gives an unobtrusive support for the bust. Fitted buttons and buttons are inserted on these yokes. It is the best way to the new style.

Grows a New Head.

A curious characteristic peculiar to the California redwood tree is that if the head is cut off by lightning a new one will gradually grow out in its place as shapely as the first.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. HENNEY & CO., Props. Toledo, O. We, the undersigned, have known F. J. "You can't serve your fellow men unless you are willing to touch them. Charity with a pair of tongs is not the 'greatest of these.'"

Allen's Foot-Ease, Wonderful Remedy.
"I have tried ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, and find it to be a certain cure, and gives comfort to one suffering with sore, tender and swollen feet. I will recommend ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE to my friends, as it is certainly a wonderful remedy.—Mrs. M. H. Guilford, New Orleans, La."

Money may be saved by the miser, but it's generally made by the advertiser.

When Your Grocer Says
he does not have Dettolase Starch, you may be sure he is afraid to keep it until his stock of 12 oz. packages are sold. Dettolase Starch is not only better than any other Cold Water Starch, but contains 16 oz. in the package and sells for same money as 12 oz. brands.

An Indian summer is all right, but no one wants an Esquimaux winter.

"It beats all" how good a cigar you can buy for 5 cents if you buy the right brand. Try a "Bullhead."

Ethel—Yes, dear, George proposed last night, and I took pity on the poor fellow. Her Best Friend—What? You don't mean to say you refused him, after all?

To Cure a Cold in One Day.
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Mr. Thomas Lipton faced the race problem in this country, but failed to solve it.

Insist on Getting It.
Some grocers say they don't keep Dettolase Starch because they have a stock in hand of 12 oz. brands, which they know cannot be sold to a customer who has once used the 16 oz. pkg. Dettolase Starch for same money.

"Do you call that Joko Original?" "Certainly." "I think you must be joking."

The mildest tobacco that grows is used in the making of Dexter's Bullhead 5-cent cigar. Try one and see.

A Hungarian artist is painting Mr. Rockefeller's portrait. It is needless to add, it is being done in oil.

I am sure Pico's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—Mrs. T. M. BOWMAN, Maple Street, Newark, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1904.

Daughter—What is the dead letter office, mamma? Mother—Your father's pocket.

More Flexible and Lasting.
Don't shake out, or blow out; by using Dettolase Starch you obtain better results than possible with any other brand and one-third more for same money.

Nellie—Ma, what is a grass widow? Ma—It usually is the wife of a man who has not got through sowing his wild oats.

If you have smoked a Bullhead 5-cent cigar you know how good they are; if you have not, BUY TRY ONE.

"Yes, out 46 for the rig. The girl told me she was engaged to another fellow."

Mrs. Winslow's Teaching Syrup.
For children's coughs, croup, whooping cough, sore throat, croup, whooping cough, etc. 25c a bottle.

Sensitive Doctor—Do you feel any change? Impetuous Patient—Not a blasted cent.

Those Who Have Tried It will see no other. Dettolase Cold Water Starch has no equal in Quality or Quantity—16 oz. for 12 cents. Other brands cost only 12 oz.

The proverb about leading a horse to water, but not being able to make him drink, reminds us how easy it is to drive a man to drink.

A single 16 oz. package costs with one of Dexter's Bullhead 5-cent cigars.

It is said that Mr. Thomas Lipton was never able to solve the race problem.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1908.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Singer Quaker

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?
