Lantern for New Year.
As the new year sweeps round the world from the one hundred and eightieth meridian of longitude, it gets a bright if silent welcome from the little village of Weldon, near Kettering, in Northamptonshire. There on the tower of the parish church stands a lantern 15 feet high. Erected about 200 years ago, the lantern was lighted on winter nights to guide travelers through the dark forest of Rockingham. The railway and improved roads have abolished the forest dangers, and now the lantern is lighted only once a year, on New Year's eve, to welcome in the New Year.

With the exception of the San Juan region, Colorado missed the heaviest part of the storm that recently swept Wyoming, South Dakota and parts of Nebraska.

Burglars recently entered the station of the Butte, Anaconda and Pacific railroad at Anaconda and escaped with $300 in money and a number of bank railroad tickets.

Mrs. Clara M. Gage, widow of Arthur N. Gage, wealthy resident of Pasadena, is forbidden to remarry by the terms of Gage's will, filed in the Probate Court at Los Angeles. If she disobeys, her share of the large estate will go to her husband's half brother, Walter T. Gage.

Mrs. Frank Lokajek, wife of the vice president of the Denton State bank of Lewistown, Mont., shot and killed both her 13-year-old son and her 3-year-old son. She then went out in the field where her husband was running a seeder, shot him in the head and he fell from the machine unconscious.

Warm spring weather has caused the stream in cañons adjacent to Salt Lake City to overflow their banks and in the Sugar House district basements are flooded and homes, in many instances are completely surrounded by water. There has been no danger to residents, but property damage is expected to reach approximately $100,000.

Governor Neff of Texas has ordered two detachments of state rangers to be sent to Fairfield, county seat of Freestone county, to prevent an uprising of negroes which Sheriff W. M. Mayo of Freestone county said was imminent. The sheriff said the negroes of the county are threatening to avenge the death of the three negroes who were burned at Kirwin.

WASHINGTON

A little black steamer has headed for the sea on the first leg of her run to the British Isles, where, off Kinloch Head, she will attempt to recover gold, silver and jewels which went down with the Lusitania seven years ago. The vessel was the Blakely of the shipping board's wartime fleet.

The Chinese government has ratified the Washington conference treaties to which China was signatory, and the Shantung treaty, negotiated during the conference with Japan, according to advices received by the Chinese legation at Washington. The conference treaties to which China was signatory are the general Chinese policies pact and the convention on Chinese customs.

The report of the special treasury committee which made an inventory of the supplies and equipment of the bureau of printing and engraving following the recent reorganization of the bureau's personnel, is understood to be a substantial vindication of the declaration by treasury officials that no material output of illegal bond, note or stamp issues had taken place within recent years.

The National Amateur Athletic Federation was organized at Washington by representatives of many leading athletic organizations to promote more wholesome sports in America. The action was taken at the suggestion first made by Secretary of War Weeks before the American Olympic Association last November.

The Eighth United States Infantry will be kept on the Rhine until the latter part of June at least, Secretary of War Weeks indicated in a letter recently to Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia. "The exact date of the arrival of the last units of the regiment at Savannah, where a celebration of its return has been planned, can not yet be determined," Weeks stated.

An upward trend in the retail cost of food was noted in statistics made public by the bureau of labor statistics of the Department of Labor. Reports from fifteen cities showed increases from March 15 to April 15, ranging up to 3 per cent, while only four reported decreases and only one of these, Fall River, with 2 per cent, showing more than one-half of 1 per cent decline.

President Harding has asked Congress for an appropriation of $1,000,000 for survey and designing of a dock at Juneau, Alaska, the War Department reporting the construction of a new dock there would materially reduce operating costs and shipping delays.

The experiment of decentralizing the work of internal revenue headquarters, which will be made in the four Pacific coast cities of Portland, Los Angeles, Tacoma and San Francisco probably will be inaugurated within a month, it was said at the treasury.

FOREIGN

Loan by the United States of $5,000,000 to the Republic of Liberia has been authorized in a resolution passed by the House of Representatives.

After an hour's fighting 120 federal soldiers near San Pablo del Monte, Mexico, captured fifty-five Indians, who are suspected of having taken part in a train holdup near Jalapa when a number of persons were killed and wounded.

A dispatch to the London Times from Dublin pictures the outlook for an agreement by the peace conference rather hopelessly. It says that as far as could be learned, the two parties to the conference are as far from agreement as ever.

"France," said a high official of the government, "will not recognize the Russian Soviet government until the United States does. France has kept a free hand in this matter, and it makes no difference what action the Genoa conference may take."

The German reply to the reparations note of April 13, which has been received by the reparations commission in Paris, protests the good will of the German government, but pleads the material impossibility of imposing sixty billion marks new taxes before May 31, or complying with all the conditions laid down on March 31.

Recent inauguration by the Mexican government of the continental system of telling time, by which 12 midnight becomes "twenty-four o'clock," has not met with favor, except in a few government offices. There has been a general reversion to the old system of dividing the day into two parts of twelve hours each.

Pilgrims from the four corners of the world visited the quaint little village of Oberammergau to look on while the simple Christian townspeople redeemed their ago-old vow to God. For the first time since 1910 the Passion play—the famous dramatization of the life of Christ—was enacted. The war prevented intervening production.

King George and Queen Mary, with a suite including Field Marshal Earl Haig and Admiral Lord Beatty recently left London for Belgium to be the guests of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth. Troops lined the breakwater at the eastern pier in Dover as the royal party embarked on the yacht Alexandra, which was escorted across the channel by nine destroyers.

Flood backwaters of the Mississippi and tributary streams have inundated 3,769 square miles in nine Louisiana parishes, leaving 25,000 persons who will need assistance, according to a statement issued at Baton Rouge, La., by Joseph C. Logan, assistant manager of the southern division, American Red Cross.

Several of twenty-five persons, recently indicted by a federal grand jury at Omaha on a charge of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud in connection with promotion of the Guaranty Securities Company of Omaha, Des Moines and Denver, have furnished bond. They included T. H. Matters, Omaha attorney, and the Rev. Charles H. Rogers of Lincoln.

Eli Du Puy, manager of Hotel Margaret in Brooklyn Heights, New York, and Albert Bradler, a vermin exterminator, were held in $3,000 bail on warrants of suspicion of homicide by Magistrate Geismar, as the result of the deaths at the hotel recently of Mr. and Mrs. Fremont M. Jackson, who are alleged to have been killed by fumigating gas. Du Puy and Bradler are alleged to have caused the deaths by negligence in not properly sealing the rooms in which the fumigating gas was used.

Senator Borah demanded in the Senate that Boris Bakshinoff, so-called Russian ambassador, appear before a Senate committee instead of "hiding behind his diplomatic immunity" and attempting through communications to the State Department to clear himself of the serious charges made against him.

Hundreds of delegates and visitors to the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, being held in Hot Springs, Ark., left their beds to watch the "Old City Hall" building burn to the ground, with an estimated loss of $75,000. For a time the entire heart of the business district was threatened. The plant of the Sentinel-Record, a morning newspaper, was located in the destroyed building.

One of the most far-reaching decisions ever reached by the United States railroad labor board came in a ruling that places a ban on the contract system which many roads are alleged to have been evading the board's orders as to wages, working conditions and other matters. The decision, it is said, may serve to avert the threatened strike of 600,000 railway shopmen and switchmen.

James Barnes, veteran pitcher of the New York Nationals, also duplicated the perfect game pitched by Charles Robertson of the Chicago Americans recently when he pitched a hitless game against the Philadelphia team. The Giants winning, 6 to 0. Only six base on balls marred Barnes' great performance.

Fire of unknown origin, starting in the paper storage room of the Des Moines News, wrecked the newspaper plant and gutted the entire News arcade building. Loss to the News plant is estimated at $200,000.

TO RECONVENE ON JUNE 15TH

POWERS' DESIRE FOR UNITED STATES AID PROMPTS ACTION.

CONFERENCE ADJOURNS

PROBLEMS OF RUSSIA TO BE TAKEN TO THE HAGUE FOR SETTLEMENT.

(Western Newspaper Union News Service.)

Genoa.—The Genoa economic conference will be reconvened on June 15 at The Hague to discuss Russian questions, if the plan agreed to at a private conference of the inviting powers be accepted by the subcommission on Russian affairs.

This decision to postpone action relative to Russia is prompted largely by the desire of the European powers to induce the United States to participate, and apparently is merely a means of dissolving the Genoa conference without admitting that the differences between France and Great Britain regarding treatment of Russian problems cannot be reconciled in Genoa.

Sir Edward Grigg announced that this compromise plan suggested by Premier Lloyd George had been accepted by the inviting powers and will be passed on by the subcommission on Russian affairs.

Only vague details are given as to how the proposed commission or commissions to discuss the Russian question will be formed at The Hague, and the entire scheme seems to be still in the twilight zone, awaiting America's decision whether she will help Europe to straighten out the tangle.

In his statement on the proposed mixed commission, Sir Edward Grigg explained that it was practically impossible for all the powers in the conference to have representatives; consequently they would designate a limited number to handle Russian affairs, just as was done at Genoa, and that the Russians doubtless would be allowed more members in their panel than any other single power would have in the mixed panel.

In the meantime, a truce will operate and all the nations are to refrain from making separate agreements with Russia.

The economic conference seemingly will last only a few days longer. Several delegates declared that this week would probably bring it to a close.

Four months will be the maximum time of the truce suggested in connection with Russian affairs. The proposed plan of The Hague meeting provides that a decision must be rendered within three months on June 20 to 26, and an additional month will be allowed within which the powers may reject or ratify the decision. Consequently October 20 will be the extreme limit of the truce.

Millionaire Arrest Is Ordered

Memphis, Tenn.—Immediate arrest of Miles C. ### Explorers Find Peary's Canal

Copenhagen.—Lauge Koch, the Danish arctic explorer, could easily have reached the North Pole, says an article published by the National Tidende, written by Aago Blistrup, a prominent Danish explorer. Blistrup writes that Koch discovered the existence of the much-disputed Peary canal, but says it was much further north than was reported by Admiral Peary. "What Peary saw," he quotes Koch as saying, "was a mighty stretch of valleys, with an immense lake only 200 meters above sea level."

Three Dead in Lough Wreck

Batavia, N. Y.—Three dead, twenty-two in hospitals in this city and a score or more with minor injuries were the casualties in the wreck of the Black Diamond express on the Lough Valley railroad at North Leroy. The wreck, according to Engineer Moser of the Black Diamond, was caused by the attempt of Thomas H. Brodie to get his automobile across the tracks at the Lake street crossing ahead of the train. The train was moving at sixty-five miles an hour, Engineer Moser said.

75,000 Homeless After Floods

The disaster is said to be the most serious since the Ohio river flood of 1913, and the rising waters in the Mississippi are said to have reached the highest points recorded in history.

New Rural Credit System for Farmers?

WASHINGTON.—President Harding's recommendation to congress of legislation providing farmers with credit facilities as favorable as those enjoyed by commerce and industry may lead to the establishment of a rural credit system entirely independent of either the federal reserve system or the federal land banks.

A new chain of banks, which would be linked up with a central corporation at Washington, to take the place of the War Finance corporation, is proposed. The system would be designed to furnish credits on agricultural products and live stock over periods ranging from six months to three years, which are not provided through the agencies which have already been established by federal legislation.

That additional rural credit facilities are needed was urged in the report of the joint commission of agricultural inquiry, headed by Representative Anderson of Minnesota. The bill introduced by him in the house and by Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin in the senate, however, providing for credits of this nature through the federal land banks is meeting criticism. Objection is made to confusing this new type of agricultural credit with the long term loans on land which are provided by the federal land banks. A strong movement appears to be developing for the establishment of an entirely independent system.

Schemes for the creation of a new system are contained in a bill recently introduced in the senate by Senator Simmons of North Carolina and also in another bill just perfected which was presented in the senate by Senator Norbeck of South Dakota and in the house by Representative King of Illinois.

The Simmons bill creates what is called the National Agricultural Credits corporation, with a life of fifty years.

Mr. Dodge said he had discussed the matter with several senators and representatives and was going to fight to get all the facts placed before the public. One contention he makes is that he can show that overpayments made and contemplated on the Pacific coast involved from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000. He says he is prepared to go before a congressional committee and present his case.

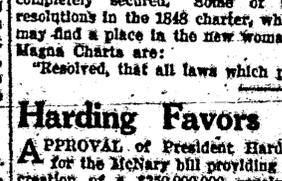

An investigation of the circumstances surrounding the release by the shipping board on April 19 of L. M. Stevens, acting general controller, is sought by Mr. Dodge. Mr. Stevens is from Pittsburgh, and Representative M. Clyde Kelly of Pennsylvania has written to President Harding for information concerning the removal of Stevens.

"If the conditions which Mr. Dodge describes exist," said Representative Kelly, "the facts should be known to the public. I do not want to take snap judgment, and I am going to wait and see what explanation is made. If I am not satisfied then, I shall introduce a resolution asking for an investigation."

Mr. Dodge was with the shipping board during the war and for a time was controller for the Great Lakes district. He has not resigned his present position as a special auditor, and said today he did not intend to do so.

When the attack made upon the board was called to the attention of Chairman Lasker, he said the facts would show that the actions of the present administration of the shipping board in the settlement of claims were not properly subject to audit.

"A 1922 Woman's Charter of Rights"

MISS MARY WINSOR of Philadelphia, member of the National Council of the woman's party, is drafting a "1922 Woman's charter of rights." The rights which American women have not yet won, and are now demanding, will be listed in this charter, based on the charter of rights adopted by the first women's rights convention ever held in America, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., in 1848.

The charter of rights for Twentieth century women will resemble the 1848 document to a large extent, according to Miss Winsor, since, of all the rights claimed by those earlier women, only one—the right of suffrage—has been completely secured. Some of the resolutions in the 1848 charter, which may find a place in the new Woman's Magna Charta are:

"Resolved, that all laws which prevent a woman from occupying such a station in society as her conscience shall dictate, or which places her in a position inferior to that of man, are contrary to the great precept of nature, and therefore of no force or authority.

ready been established by federal legislation.

That additional rural credit facilities are needed was urged in the report of the joint commission of agricultural inquiry, headed by Representative Anderson of Minnesota. The bill introduced by him in the house and by Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin in the senate, however, providing for credits of this nature through the federal land banks is meeting criticism. Objection is made to confusing this new type of agricultural credit with the long term loans on land which are provided by the federal land banks. The Simmons bill creates what is called the National Agricultural Credits corporation, with a life of fifty years.

U. S. Shipping Board Is Attacked Again

CONGRESSIONAL investigation of the procedure followed by the United States shipping board in the settlement of claims growing out of wartime building contracts is demanded by Stiles E. Dodge of Cleveland, a special auditor of the board, who has been making a study of conditions in some of the Pacific coast shippers.

Mr. Dodge said he had discussed the matter with several senators and representatives and was going to fight to get all the facts placed before the public. One contention he makes is that he can show that overpayments made and contemplated on the Pacific coast involved from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000. He says he is prepared to go before a congressional committee and present his case.

An investigation of the circumstances surrounding the release by the shipping board on April 19 of L. M. Stevens, acting general controller, is sought by Mr. Dodge. Mr. Stevens is from Pittsburgh, and Representative M. Clyde Kelly of Pennsylvania has written to President Harding for information concerning the removal of Stevens.

Mr. Dodge was with the shipping board during the war and for a time was controller for the Great Lakes district. He has not resigned his present position as a special auditor, and said today he did not intend to do so.

When the attack made upon the board was called to the attention of Chairman Lasker, he said the facts would show that the actions of the present administration of the shipping board in the settlement of claims were not properly subject to audit.

Members of the delegation, which was headed by Senator McNary of Oregon and Representative Smith of Idaho said the President expressed deep interest in the legislation which is pending in both the senate and the house. Mr. Harding indicated, delegation members said, that he would confer with party leaders on the matter.

The President was told that there was strong support for passage of the measure at this session of congress and that enactment of the bill would result in the reclamation of millions of acres of land and provide homes for thousands of people.

A memorandum submitted by the delegation showed that under the reclamation act of 1902 approximately 2,000,000 acres of desert lands had been reclaimed, more than 40,000 farms had been established on farm land and the national wealth had been increased approximately $600,000,000 and roadsteads valued at $100,000,000 raised each year on these various projects in 24 states—all at an expenditure by the government of approximately $180,000,000 from the fund created from the sale of public lands and from land fees of various kinds.

President Harding was said by his visitors to favor passage of the legislation during the present session. The most difficulty, it was said, was expected in the house, and the President promised to confer with members of the house Republican steering committee and urge them to pass the bill at this session.

Harding Favors Reclamation Projects

APPROVAL of President Harding for the McNary bill providing for creation of a $350,000,000 revolving fund to be used for development of Western and Southern reclamation and drainage projects, was given to a congressional delegation who called at the White House.

Members of the delegation, which was headed by Senator McNary of Oregon and Representative Smith of Idaho said the President expressed deep interest in the legislation which is pending in both the senate and the house. Mr. Harding indicated, delegation members said, that he would confer with party leaders on the matter.

A Few Little Smiles

NERVOUSNESS EXPLAINED

A train on one of the roads running out of Indianapolis struck an old horse at a crossing and one of the passengers became very much excited. Some one finally remarked on his nervousness and he replied, "Sir, if you had $20,000 of stock in this road you'd feel just as I do."

"Why, we only killed an old horse."

"Exactly, but you don't know on what a mighty small affair dividends are passed nowadays."

Expenses of Art.

"The scene is ready," said the movie director. "Step in and we'll turn loose the lions."

"Are you sure those brutes have had their dinner?" asked the star who was to play the role of a Christian martyr.

"I saw 'em fed myself. They are as frisky as kittens."

"All right, but if they show signs of wanting to toy with a little dessert, I'm liable to run over a few camera men."

SHE ALSO WORKED

"Do you always take a morning constitutional?"

"Oh, yes, only I haven't enough leisure to call it a morning constitutional."

From Missouri

"Kind sir, will you give me a dime for a bed?"

"Well, let's see the bed first."

The young freshman said.

In the Spirit of the Times.

Eva—Why, I thought they were about to be married?

Bill—Yes, everything was in shape and they had arranged to have the announcement cards printed when the printers went on a strike and by the time the strike was over their engagement was over, too.

A Warning.

"Why do you keep this stock certificate framed and hung on the parlor walls?"

"Just as a little reminder not to make the same mistake again."

"I know, how it is," said the lady. "I feel that way every time I look at my marriage certificate."

Not Assuring.

An old woman who kept a pig that did not fatten as fast as she thought it should took the case to her physician.

"You must see the vet," the physician told her.

"Oh, doctor," was the answer, "I have no confidence in him; he is so thin himself."

Wifely Caution.

"Why all that storming?"

"I asked my husband for $10."

"Well, if he must kick up a fuss like that, why not ask him for a hundred?"

"Because I need his support. I don't want to see him drop dead."

SKINNER SKINNED HIM

"When you traded cars with Skinner, did you get anything to boot?"

"Yes, I've kicked myself ever since."

Little Things.

Little bits of cardboard, Buckles, milk and glue, Make the very stylish Twenty-dollar shoe!

The Ladylike Habit.

"My wife says she will leave me if I don't quit smoking," said Mr. Meek-ton.

"Going home to her mother?"

"No, her mother smokes more than I do."

Privilege of the Down-trodden.

"Are you on friendly terms with your landlord?"

"Well," said Mr. Gadspar, "we still speak."

"I see."

"But wild horses couldn't drag you are welcome out of me when he thanks me for the rent."

Car Breaks Down.

"Is there a motor mechanic around this village?"

"No, sir. Best I can do for you is to call a horse doctor."

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

NATURELAND NEWS

"Extra, extra," called the fairies. "Get the latest copy of Natureland News."

"How much is it?" asked the brownies.

"A hop and a skip and a jump," said the fairies.

So the brownies all gave a hop and a skip and a jump and the fairies handed out the latest copy of Natureland News.

The Fairy Queen was the editor in charge and the fairies and the Breeze brothers all brought in news.

"Let us see what it has to say," said Billie Brownie.

"I'll tell you what," said Bessie. "Let's each read one item. And then it will be more sociable, reading it aloud that way, than having each of us read to ourselves."

"Good idea," said Billie Brownie.

"You read first," said Bessie.

So Billie Brownie read the first item of news which was:

"Mr. and Mrs. Robin expect to move into their new home at No. 3 Orchard street, this week."

Then Bessie Brownie read:

"Bruce, the dog, who has saved so many lives, added to his record by saving an entire family from fire. Everyone was asleep, but the smell of smoke awoke Bruce, who barked and gave the alarm and awoke every member of the household. When friends congratulated Bruce he wagged his tail with his usual modesty and said, that it was nothing and that it was only the natural thing for a dog to do."

The third brownie read an item which was:

"A costume ball is being given by Miss Springtime next week. It is said that all the trees expect to wear their blossom suits and that the birds are going to furnish the music while Mr. Wind guides the dancing."

The fourth brownie took up his paper after this and read the following:

"The Great Anti-Eater from the Zoo says that in his home in South America he ate ants, but that in the zoo he is satisfied with eggs and milk. He believes that such simple food keeps an anti-eater from having indigestion."

The fifth brownie began to read now, and laughed as he began, for he had looked at the item before reading it. This was what it said:

"Tommy, the Cat, wishes to announce that he will give a song recital on the Back Fence, the first of next week. All who wish to join the chorus will kindly send word to him and all who wish to come to the concert may bring mice instead of flowers for him."

"That's just like Tommy," said Billie Brownie.

"Just like him," said Bessie Brownie.

"Exactly like him," said the other brownies.

Then the sixth brownie read this statement from the Natureland News:

"Leo Lion expects to celebrate his fifth birthday this week in honor of his great mane which is now full grown and at the height of its beauty. Leo will thank every one who gives him birthday wishes for many happy returns of the day by roaring his best roar."

"That is all," said Billie Brownie, "but it is nice to hear of all the latest happenings in Natureland."

"Do you bring this out any special time?" asked Bessie Brownie of the Fairy Queen.

"Only once in awhile," said the Fairy Queen. "There are so many different things we like to do and we only have time for different ones at different times."

"We can only bring out the Natureland News now and again. But we're glad you like it."

"Sometimes it is fun to read things in the paper that we all know perfectly well have happened and are going to happen. And so I got together the birch bark and the pine needle pencils and with all the help I had it was lots of fun to get it together."

"Well now give our papers to the elves," said the brownies, after they had once more looked at the Natureland News, "and we'll let every one see it, but we want to keep our papers after everyone has read them. We'll simply lend them."

And the Fairy Queen was as pleased as she could be that the Natureland News was so well liked!

"Why do freshmen resemble real estate?"

"Because they're such a vacant lot."

Wags Aid Sugar Planters.

Though wags are a pest to grape producers in this country, they are a boon to the sugar planters in Hawaii. The planters have instructed their traveling agents to make large shipments of wags to the island because the insects are necessary to fertilize the banana trees, which in turn are of service in protecting the water-sheds that supply the sugar plantations.—Youth's Companion.

Will Keep Faithful Pup.

Two years ago an English (N. H.) man presented Jay Sweet of Franklin with a hound, telling him that when he got sick of the pup to ship him back to England. Mr. Sweet moved recently to a flat where dogs were unwelcome, so he boxed up the hound and sent him to England by express. The next morning the sweets were awakened by a howling in the front yard, and there was the hound, tired, wet and hungry after his 50-mile jog, but evidently happy. Sweet has decided to move again and keep the dog.—Boston Globe.

RULERS IN EXILE

Trouble-Making Monarchs Who Were "Set Down."

Case of the Late Emperor of Austria and That of the Great Napoleon Similar.

Banishment of trouble-making former monarchs to islands of the sea far from their one-time dominions is an uncommon procedure, but precedent for the plight of former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary, who was recently exiled to Madeira, is found in the banishment of Napoleon I, who passed six years on St. Helena in the South Atlantic, 700 miles from the nearest land, a prisoner, more than a century ago.

St. Helena is not only much smaller than Madeira, but, compared to the latter, is as "a devil's island" to paradise. Five-sixths of its area is devoid of vegetation and, aside from an army garrison, there are no big towns or other evidences of life.

Madiera, five times the size of St. Helena, is an ocean garden spot. Funchal, its chief city, has a population of more than 20,000, and the island, one of a group of four owned by Portugal, produces some of the most famous wine and laces in the world, as well as an abundance of fruits, grains and sugar. Ovens are mainly used for agriculture, instead of draft horses, and other farming methods are primitive. Less than 2 per cent of the people can read and write.

The Portuguese military garrison is very small, and Charles, Zita and their six small children had every freedom except that of an unchaperoned ocean voyage. Napoleon was guarded day and night by soldiers.

Madiera, the Portuguese word for "forest," is directly in the Atlantic ocean trade routes. St. Helena, a British naval coaling station, often doesn't see a ship for days. Madiera is a port of call and, thus, is kept in daily touch with the outside world. The island, 400 miles west of Morocco, has a temperate climate. It is 12 miles wide and 35 miles long and elliptical in shape. Three other islands nearby complete the Madeira group. They are Porto Santos, which, with Madiera, has a population of 170,000, and the Desertas and Selvagens, two smaller islands of volcanic origin. The latter are uninhabited rock formations jutting out of the sea.

Napoleon's banishment in 1814 was no less bitter than Charles'. The former Emperor Josephine had died and his living consort, Marie Louise, with her son, the little prince of Rome, had gone from Fontainebleau to Vienna following the emperor's abdication. Meanwhile the Allied powers had ceded to Napoleon the island of Elba in the Mediterranean, and there as a "sovereign" he might have passed the rest of his life in peace and tranquility. "Eleven months of retirement, however, sufficed to spur him to escape and now adventures.

He had been brought to Elba aboard the British warship "Dauntless" on April 20, with royal dignity and consideration. On the night of Feb. 20, 1815, with 1,000 followers he slipped out of Porto Ferrajo and then began the famous "One Hundred Days" in which he sought to regain the throne of France. He gathered strength in men and guns as he crossed the Alps and marched on Paris, but his reign as a "constitutional monarch" was of short duration. Great Britain, Russia, Austria and Prussia declared him an outlaw and raised 150,000 troops to crush him. The last battle of Waterloo the following June saw the end of his power.

The former emperor threw himself upon the mercy of the British, falling in an effort to flee to the United States. He made overtures to Captain Maitland of the warship Bellerophon, who took him to Plymouth, England, pending disposition of his case by the Allied powers. It was finally decided to send him to St. Helena and there, guarded by a strong British force, he landed on October 17, 1815.

For six years he lived in practical solitude, writing his memoirs and monographs on military campaigns and political affairs, dying on May 5, 1821, of a cancer which had been aggravated by deep periods of hatred and depression. The British General Wilkes, the first governor of St. Helena, proved too lenient with Napoleon and "too amenable to his influence" and, as a result, was displaced some years before the Corsican's death, by Sir Hudson Lowe.

DISHES FROM PRESERVED FRUIT

In an emergency, even in season of fruit, one will find it convenient to use some of the fruit on the preserve shelves.

Berry Flap.—Beat one quart of milk; add one cupful of sugar and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt; when boiling stir in a tablespoonful of cornstarch thinned with a little cold milk; let it boil for five minutes, stirring often, then add the beaten yolks of three eggs; remove from the heat and beat while the mixture cools. Strain the juice from a pint of canned berries and sweeten to taste. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff; add two to four tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and some of the berry juice—very little to color. Spread the berries on the custard, then heap the meringue on top.

Berry Flap.—Beat one quart of milk; add one cupful of sugar and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt; when boiling stir in a tablespoonful of cornstarch thinned with a little cold milk; let it boil for five minutes, stirring often, then add the beaten yolks of three eggs; remove from the heat and beat while the mixture cools. Strain the juice from a pint of canned berries and sweeten to taste. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff; add two to four tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and some of the berry juice—very little to color. Spread the berries on the custard, then heap the meringue on top.

Pear Shortcake.—Make a short biscuit dough and roll it into two sheets one-half inch thick. Bake in buttered tin in a hot oven. Cut up canned pears, sweeten and flavor with lemon rind or juice. Spread the shortcake after covering well with butter, making alternate layers of cake and fruit.

Stuffed Fruit.—Place halves of fruit in a pan, fill the centers with orange marmalade, raisins, dates, figs, or chopped nuts. When thoroughly heated remove to a warm serving dish and pour over them a soft custard or jelly marshmallows. Peaches, pears or apricots are especially good this way.

Pineapple Mousse.—Take one cupful of sugar or less, the juice of half a lemon, a tablespoonful of gelatin and one cupful of water. Soak the gelatin in cold water for ten minutes, then set in hot water to dissolve. Add the pineapple and lemon juice. Pack in ice until ready to serve. The jelly will harden if placed on ice.

Bran Fruit Roll.—Make a bran biscuit dough, roll out into two sheets. On one sheet, well buttered, place a cupful of raisins; place the other on top with a cupful of dates or figs. Roll the whole like a jelly roll, pinching the ends together. Bake for one hour. Serve with any fruit or cream and sugar.

It is nearly an axiom that people will not be better than the boots they read.

GOOD EGG DISHES

Eggs all over the country have been reasonably in price and plentiful. As a food eggs are rich in nutriment and if liked may be prepared in many ways, just as eggs. For the member of the family who needs eggs but does not care for them, it is necessary to make them with other foods. A piece of sponge cake will be eaten by the child who will refuse eggs; as this cake is rich in eggs it is good and wholesome.

Spanish Eggs.—Take one-half can of tomato, pour off nearly all the liquid and heat the tomatoes in a saucepan, seasoning with salt and cayenne, with a little chopped onion, and cook ten minutes. Then break in four eggs and stir with a fork until the eggs are cooked and have the consistency of scrambled eggs. Serve this immediately on rounds of buttered toast.

Supper Dish.—Spread slices of stale bread with butter, place in a baking dish, sprinkle each layer generously with cheese. Beat two eggs, add one cupful of milk, salt and paprika to season and pour over the bread. Bake in a moderate oven until the custard is set. More eggs and milk will be needed for a larger dish.

Macaroni and Eggs.—Cook macaroni of any kind until tender in boiling salted water. Drain and place in a well-buttered baking dish a layer of the cooked macaroni; over this put a layer of sliced hard cooked eggs, using five eggs for a dish serving six. Sprinkle with cheese, add a bit of onion juice or grated onion and then a layer of thick white sauce made by cooking together two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour and one cupful of rich milk. Repeat with more macaroni, cheese, egg and white sauce and finish the top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven until well heated and the crumbs are brown.

Egg Lemonade.—Prepare the lemonade as usual and just before serving beat up one or two eggs, add to the pitcher of lemonade and beat well with an egg beater. This is a refreshing drink and a good way for those who do not like eggs to take them in an active form.

Tractors Reduce Horses and Labor.

The effect of the addition of the tractor to the farm equipment was shown in changes recorded after the purchase of the tractor. On an average, these farms had been increased by 50 crop acres and there had been a reduction of 14 months in the amount of regular labor used. Three and one-third head of work stock in addition to those on hand at the time of the investigations would have been necessary if the work had all been done with horses. The tractor owners considered that they needed in addition to their tractors an average of only 0.5 head, whereas they were actually keeping 5.3 head.

Effect of Use of Tractors on Power Costs.

There was a net increase of $200 per farm in the combined cost of power and labor due to the use of the tractor, after deducting the cost of rearing the work stock which had

Cost of Power on Horse Farms.

A group of 85 farms where tractors were not owned, but comparable in size to those where tractors were used, were surveyed in order to obtain a direct comparison between costs on farms where tractors are owned and costs on farms of similar size and type where tractors are not owned. There was an average of 10.5 head of work stock on these farms, of which 10.1 head were needed for the work. One horse was needed for each 83 crop acres while the tractor owners were keeping one for each 42 crop acres and needed, in addition to their tractors, only one for each 54 crop acres.

Cost of Power on Horse Farms.

The cost per head of keeping the work stock was $30 per year where tractors were not owned and $04 where they were owned. The horses worked 152 hours per head on the tractor farms and 624 hours on the other farms. The cost per farm of power for drawbar work where tractors were not used was $701 as compared with $1,025 where both tractors and horses were used.

What Farmers Think of Tractors.

The owners' opinions regarding the use of tractors showed that 73 per cent of the farmers interviewed believed that their tractors would be profitable investments, and 72 per cent of them intended to buy others when needed. The principal advantages mentioned were the ability to do more work in a given time, and the saving of horses in hot weather. Among the disadvantages, the first cost and depreciation and the running expenses were mentioned most frequently. The tractor was used as the primary source of power for field work by 69 per cent of the owners, while 41 per cent used the tractors as supplementary to horses. In 21 per cent of the cases the tractor owners believed that the tractors had been responsible for some increased yield per acre.

SURVEY SHOWS DIFFERENCE IN COST OF TRACTOR AND HORSES

Horses Being Used to Prepare Seed Bed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The cost of power on tractor farms in the winter wheat belt is somewhat greater than when horses are used for all the work, according to the results of a survey by the United States Department of Agriculture. A preliminary report just issued shows, however, that three-fourths of the tractor owners were of the opinion that their tractors were proving profitable.

This survey shows differences in the cost of power and labor due to the use of tractors, the work done with them, and the cost per acre for different operations both with horses and tractors. Some 354 tractor owners in northern Oklahoma, Kansas and southern Nebraska were visited and a complete record of all work done with tractors and horses during the year was obtained, together with statements concerning the farmers' opinions of the advantages and disadvantages of using tractors. The farms averaged about 500 acres in size, on which 852 acres of crops were grown in 1921, nearly three-fourths of the crop area being in wheat.

The cost of using tractors for drawbar work on these farms averaged $434 for the year, or $1.00 per hour. These farmers were keeping an average of 8.3 head of work stock in addition to their tractors and the cost per farm of keeping the work stock for the year was $541. Thus the total annual cost of power for drawbar work was $1,025. The tractors furnished the power for 40 per cent of the drawbar work.

There were great variations in the practices and costs on individual farms and the results indicate that often the cost of using the tractors and keeping the work stock was exceeded by the amount of work done. Many tractor owners have not determined exactly what work they can use their tractors for most profitably and what should be done with horses.

The average cost per crop acre was $357 per year for drawbar power for all the farms. This cost ranged from $221 as the average for the fourth of the farms with lowest costs to $470 for the fourth of the farms with highest costs.

The tractors had been in use for 23 months on an average and the first cost had been $1,470, about one-third higher than the present price of tractors of the same size and type. During the year covered by the investigation the cost of fuel and oil was also somewhat higher than at present. On account of these lower prices it is estimated that the present cost of operating tractors purchased at current prices would be something like 25 per cent below the 1921 cost on these farms.

Lest We Forget

Only a few more weeks and the "glorious fourth" will be upon us and as yet no meeting has been held for the purpose of appointing the various committees and outlining a general program. Best for the barbecue has already been pledged, and the majority of both town and country people are strongly in favor of the celebration. Let's go ahead.

Members of Corona's "I wont work" club are still very much in evidence on our streets. You, verily I say unto you, they are with us from break of day until evening the sun goes down. And they talk to us, through the day, "of many, many things. Of sailing ships and sealing wax and of cabbage and kings". What we want to know is—how do they do it!

Talk good roads to your neighbors, and don't just talk. Get busy and help put the road leading into Corona from your neighborhood in the good road class.

One of our farmers, Mr. Robert Hudson, certainly shows the right spirit. He says he has 260 acres of land broken and is going right ahead planting beans in spite of the present dry weather.

And by the way—What be cause of those rural mail routes!
