

THE LIBERTY BANNER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY ALLIANCE PUBLISHING CO.
J. E. WHARTON, Editor and Business Manager.

Entered at the post office at Nogal, N. M., as second class mail matter.

The president has signed the Mc Kinley tariff bill and it is now a law.

The majority against the constitution is estimated at about nine thousand.

The Manzano resolution providing that a congressional committee visit
New Mexico and report as to our fitness to become a state, failed to pass.

Nevada has no governor. The governor and lieutenant governor are both dead and there is no provision in the constitution for such an emergency, so their successors can not be elected until the next election.

We have received the first number of the Chaves County Herald published at Roswell by Erwin & Fallon.
The Herald is to be independent in politics. Two papers ought to satisfy Roswell a few months longer any way.

Secretary Noble says no more Indians shall accompany Wild West or other shows. The reason assigned is the corruption of their morals.
He might learn something from the San Carlos Indians.

Mr. T. C. Tillotson, of Lower Pennsylvania, is not a candidate for the Territorial legislature, having declined the nomination of his party. Mr.
Tillotson is, however, an applicant for appointment as U. S. Indian Agent at Mescalero. A strict integrity and thorough business qualifications are worth anything at Washington, he should have the appointment. He is a straight republican; but would go into office with no entangling alliances. His appointment would give satisfaction regardless of politics. Let us have
Mr. Tillotson by all means.

The Silver City Enterprise, since the defeat of the Santa Fe Constitution, advocates the organization of a new Territory, or a state, out of Socorro, Dona Ana, Lincoln, Eddy, Chaves, Sierra and Grant counties, and the counties of Cochise and Graham, of Arizona. The Enterprise gives the population as over 50,000 or larger than the population of Idaho at the time of its admission. No doubt this new Territory could take care of itself, but how about the remaining portion of New Mexico and Arizona?

Much is now being said about the Stewart bill. It provides that no person in the Territories shall hold office or serve on juries who cannot read and write the English language.

The remainder of the bill refers only to New Mexico and provides a thorough American public school system.
One thing now seems certain, that congress will provide a public school system for New Mexico and that statehood will not be granted until our population is Americanized to a greater extent than at present.
This is just what should be done.

The free traders are very good at theories, but facts are against them.
The wealth of the United States is estimated at $1,500,000,000 an increase of 42 per cent. In 1880 the wealth of Great Britain was placed at $51,000,000 divided however among a smaller population than that of the United States. The wealth of France is put at $30,000,000. Taxes in free trade England average $20 per capita and in the United States $12.
—Enterprise.

Yes, but the men who profited from this vast increase are not the free traders. The protected capitalistic borders who control the money supply the railroad and telegraph monopolists and the speculators in farm products — these are the parties benefitted and yet this increased wealth is pointed to as a reason why protection should be continued. The entire money wealth of this country is being absorbed by a few individuals and a high protective tariff is one of the greatest aids to them. To the devil with protection to this country on comes the McKinley bill, wean us from it.

The Lottery Dodge.

Congress recently enacted a law prohibiting lotteries from doing business by using the U. S. mails. News papers publishing lottery advertisements are excluded. The El Paso Times has a large white space and in it in small type says: "This space is contracted for by the grand Juarez lottery but a recent United States law prevents the appearance of the advertisement in this paper intended for the mails." The New Orleans papers carrying lottery advertisements publish one edition for the mails and another for distribution by news boys in the city and on steamboats and railroads. The latter edition carries the lottery advertisements and is marked "excluded from the U. S. mails."

Court at Las Cruces adjourned for want of funds to pay expenses.

Evans Gonzales was shot and killed by Edward McEntire at San Juan last week.

The bear are depopulating the hog ranches over in the White Mts. in Lincoln County.—Socorro Chieftain.

The senate refused to confirm the appointment of Mr. Bennett, Indiana Agent at Mescalero. A new appointment will doubtless be made soon.

Congress has adjourned and it is expected that the excentric Editors who have been kicking because An-THONY Joseph was in New Mexico will shut up.—Western Liberal.

The Synod of the New Mexico
Presbyterian church met at Silver City. $73,000 were expended within the bounds of the Synod for missionary purposes the past year.

A New Mexico stock man was swindled out of $250 by seven bunco men on a train near El Paso.
The stock man informed the conductor who, under threat of arrest made the gang return the money. People should not gamble on the tricks of strangers.

The officers of the World's Fair
at Chicago are comfortably fixed.
Here is the salary list: Gage, president, $6,000; Bryan, vice-president, $4,200; Butterworth, secretary, $10,
000; Palmer, national president,
$12,000; Davis, director general,
$15,000; Dickenson, secretary $10,
000. This makes a sum total of $70,000.

The governor is in receipt of a letter from Hon. C. H. Eddy calling attention to the fact that the dividing line between New Mexico and Texas has never been established, and stating that this fact is causing a great deal of trouble to settlers. Mr. Eddy has talked to these settlers and finds that very many of them, actual residents of New Mexico, are paying tax es in Texas.

That Indians are abroad in the land in considerable number there is no reason to doubt and owing to the very rainy season and abundant grass crop everywhere, it is more than likely that their pilgrimage will be prolonged for an indefinite period.
Already four citizens in Grant and Mora counties have met death at their hands, and the end is not yet.
Enterprise.

THE
COLORADO FARMER
AND
LIVESTOCK JOURNAL
OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE
State Farmers' Alliance, State Horticultural and Forestry Association,
State Poultry Association, State Farmers Protection Association, State Wool Growers Association, State Dairy Association and State Bee Keepers Association.

A LIVE FARM JOURNAL,

published weekly at Denver, Colorado, established in 1878, and giving twenty-four pages, and sixty-six columns, well filled with fresh matter of interest to farmers and ranchmen.

REGULAR PRICE OF COLORADO FARMER..... $3.00 per year.

" " " " " both papers..... $1.00

" " " " " both papers..... $1.25

We will send both papers..... $1.25

New Advertisements.

W. A. JENKINS. P. F. GARNETT.

W. A. Jenkins, & Co.
Calls the attention especially of the readers of the Banner to the fact that they keep on hand Machinery and Plows. Such as,

The Osborne Mowers,
Self Binders, Full Circle
Hay Presses, Hay Stack-ers, Rakes, Spring tooth
all steel Harrows, Cultivators, Corn Planters, Check Rowers, And the most complete stock of Plows and lowest prices in New Mexico away from the

R. R. And we mean
just what we say,
COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELVES.

Roswell,
N. M.

THE ODELL
TYPE WRITER.

We noticed in attendance at the Democratic speaking last Saturday
Moors, D. W. Roberts, Geo. Curry,
W. J. Talintero and Manuel Cisner
os, of Lincoln; John Y. Hewitt, Paul Mayer and J. A. Allen, of White Oaks, and G. A. Richardson, of Roswell. Mr. Richardson's speech was good — no effort to deceive or mislead, but an honest statement and a fair comment upon the political issues of the day. Mr. Richardson made many friends here by the objective fairness and justice which characterized his utterances.

$20 will buy the ODELL TYPE WRITER with 78 characters, and $15 for the SINGLE CASE ODELL, warranted to do better work than any machine made.

It combines SIMPLICITY with DURABILITY,

RAISE OR LOWER,

WEARS LONGER

WITHOUT COST OF REPAIRS than any other machine. Has no ink ribbon to bother the operator. It is NEAT, SUBSTANTIAL, nickel plated, perfect and adapted to all kinds of typewriting. Like a printing press, it produces sharp, clean, legible manuscript. Two or ten copies can be made at one writing. Any intelligent person can become an operator in two days.
We offer $1,000 to any operator who can equal the work of the DOUBLE CASE ODELL.

Reliable Agents and Salesmen wanted

Special inducements to Dealers.

For pamphlet giving Encouragements, &c., address,

ODELL TYPE WRITER CO.,

85 and 87 5th Ave. CHICAGO,

ILL.

is the obligation of matrimony, that's why the man had no show when he brought his wife back, claiming she was "all worse and no better."

We take Goods Back

when they don't turn out as represented. But we are not troubled much that way,

as our goods are

All Better and No Worse.

Our record for good goods is unimpeachable and stands Side by Side with the record for

You may regret wedlock, but you'll never regret trading with,

Young & Taliaferro

WHITE OAKS.

MANDELL BROS. & CO.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.

Agents For

John Deer Plows

AND

Agricultural Implements.

All kinds of
HARDWARE

A. Henley & Son,

— DEALERS IN —

Dry Goods, Groceries and

Miner's Supplies,

Wines, Liquors and Cigars,
Nogal, New Mexico.

Our Motto,

"Quick Sales and Small Profits,"

Shall be strictly adhered to.

We keep everything in the general mercantile line, and when you want anything that you can't see in the house, ask for it. We propose to treat all our customers alike in every particular. Call on us when you come to town.

Goodman, Ziegler & Co.,
EXCHANGE DEALERS

In Dry Goods, Clothing,

Boots and Shoes, Hats, Caps,

Carpets, Cent's Furnishing

Goods, &c., &c.

White Oaks, N. M.

Mail Orders promptly attended to.

FOR BETTER OR WORSE.

is the obligation of matrimony, that's why the man had no show when he brought
his wife back, claiming she was "all worse and no better."

We take Goods Back

when they don't turn out as represented. But we are not troubled much that way,

as our goods are

All Better and No Worse.

Our record for good goods is unimpeachable and stands Side by Side with the

record for

You may regret wedlock, but you'll never regret trading with,

Young & Taliaferro

WHITE OAKS.

MANDELL BROS. & CO.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.

Agents For

John Deer Plows

AND

Agricultural Implements.

All kinds of
HARDWARE

THE LIBERTY BANNER.

Nogal, Lincoln County, New Mexico
PRICE - $1.00 PER ANNUM

Advertising rates will be made on application. With yearly advertiser liberal arrangements will be made.

Local News.

Alliance Organizing Officers.

E. D. Sharp—Atac, San Juan County, appointed for San Juan and adjoining Counties.

Candido Barcia—Toson County, appointed for Toson and Colfax Counties.

J. P. Nelson—Upper Penasco, N. M., appointed for Lincoln and Dona Ana Counties.

J. W. Mallens—Roswell, N. M., appointed for Chaves and Eddy Counties.

Rev. S. L. Barker—Ruidosa, N. M., appointed for Mora and San Miguel Counties.

ALLIANCE INDEPENDENT TICKET.

For Sheriff,
D. W. ROBERTS,
of Lincoln.

For Assessor,
A. C. STORM,
of Little Creek.

For Probate Clerk,
Geo. A. SAUNDERS,
of Ruidoso.

For Probate Judge,
Josk MONTANA,
of Lincoln.

For Treasurer,
CHAR. WEIDMAN,
of Lincoln.

For School Supt.

For Co. Comptor,
J. H. SKINNER, of Bonito.

For Commissioners,
Dist. No. 1, J. N. COE,
of Ruidoso.

Dist. No. 2, Jose VEGA, of Nogal.

Dist. No. 3, HARRISON YORK, of Lower Penasco.

Messrs. T. C. Tillotson and A. T. Gunter, of Lower Penasco, visited Nogal during the week.

Boots and shoes, a complete assort ment at goodman Zeigler & Co's.

Rev. Gibbons, of White Oaks, was over last Sunday and preached to an appreciative congregation.

Take your eggs to A. Ridgway, White Oaks.

Thos. W. Henley is at Lincoln attending commissioner's court.

Go to P. G. Peters for pure sapce.

Miss May Goodin and brother, from the I.-X ranch were at the Placer last Saturday.

New goods at A. Henly & Sons. Dry goods, groceries, hats, boots, shoes, and, in fact, most everything.

Amos Eaker, of Bonito was in town last week to arrange for making proof on his homestead.

1 box and 3 upright heating stove for sale—$100. Stewart of White Oaks.

R. C. Russell, clerk of our school board, says the late census shows that Nogal district has 100 children of scholastic age.

Lots of new goods arriving at P. G. Peters.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ave Bourne, of Bonito, died last week. Mrs. Bourne is a daughter of W. J. Henley.

1 very fine mounted grindstone for sale at cost. Stewart of White Oaks.

Notwithstanding it has been said I have withdrawn, I am still a candidate for probate clerk and set no consideration of my claims by all voters regardless of politics.

Geo. A. Saunders.

Flour $3.00 at P. G. Peters.

Messrs. Aloock and Scott, from the Capitano ranch, were in town this morning reporting a further report as to the illness of W. C. McDonald, but up to the time of going to press, nothing had come.

Notwithstanding increased rates of postage and taxes I yet have a large variety

Dr. Bearup and wife spent a couple of days in Nogal last week. Doc was doing some dental work for Mrs. Thos. W. Henley.

Hats and caps in great variety, and will be sold at reasonable prices. Young & Taliferro.

Mr. P. G. Peters and wife who are spending a time east sightseeing, are expected home about Nov. 1.

John Y. Hewitt passed down to Lincoln Monday to look after legal business in which he is interested.

"Whither are we going?" screamed a candidate for the legislature. "Whither are we going?" "I can tell you," answered one of his hearers. "Most of us when the meeting is through, are going to buy groceries at Young & Taliferro's".

Mr. Jack Thornton, independent candidate for sheriff, accompanied by Mr. Peppin, both of Lincoln were in town Tuesday and went over to the Oaks. We acknowledge a pleasant call from them while here.

Rev. John Hunter of James Canon Pastor of the James Canon, and Eagle Creek Baptist churches, will preach at the Baker school house on the Bouito, on Monday night after the first Sunday in November, and at Parsons City the following Tuesday at eleven o'clock and will continue services there as long as the proper interest is taken.

Parsons, N. M., October 11, 1890. Editor BANNER: I desire to thank the alliance membership at Roswell for their kindness to myself and my mother during my illness at that place, and especially do I feel thankful to miss Eliza Fountain.

Jose Mary Turner.

Judge Friedrichs and Demetrio Ferea came up from Lincoln yesterday. They remained over night at the Placer and went over to White Oaks this morning.

Now has reached us of the serious illness of W. C. McDonald at Liberal, Kan. We have no particulars and so hope for the best, but fear the worst. Mr. McDonald is a man among men—one whose loss would be felt. We hope he may recover this out of danger.

Democratic Rally at Nogal October 11, 1890.

Meeting called to order by Paul Mayer, chairman of D. C. C. J. E. Wharton elected chairman and Alf C. Watson Sec'y. The chair stated the object of the meeting to be to listen to speeches from Messrs. Richardson and McDonald, democratic candidates for territorial legislature, and others. Mr. Richardson was introduced and made quite an interesting and entertaining speech, touching upon the political issues both national and Territorial. Mr. McDonald was not present. John Y. Hewitt was called and in a brief, but interesting speech, discussed the school question. Other talks appropriate and seasonable, were made by Thos. W. Henley, Geo. Curry, A. T. Gunter, republican candidate for assessor, and the chairman. Mr. Allen, of the White Oaks Interpreter was called and in a few well chosen remarks proposed three cheers for Joseph, Richardson and McDonald. Mr. Curry put the suggestion in the form of motion which carried. After three cheers the meeting adjourned.

J. E. Wharton,
Chairman.
Alf C. Watson,
Secretary.

Well, yes, we went bear hunting last week. We were accompanied by B. E. Brown, Dr. Bearup, Thos. W. Henley and R. J. Nugent. Ramble was also a member of the party. We went to the Tatti ranch—got there at noon and took the trail from the goat corral where the bear had fed the previous night. About one half a mile and the game was roused. Ramble told to go and the hunters to ride. The first mile was exciting in the extreme and resulted in the death, all on the ground, of three cubs, all Silver Tip and fine ones too. The old ones and one cub distanced the others and apparently were gone. We slow-trailed to the top of the Tucson, when feeling refreshed, we again gave the word to Ramble to go. The horses now only two, followed slow and after a hard climb of a mile the cub was sighted. He succeeded in reaching the top of the mountain side of the mountain and again escaped. We went round and down the mountain to a spring watered ourselves and the dog and rested, then returned, took the trail and soon had his cub ship No. 4. The party spent the night at the Tatti ranch and bear stories, each man's experience, were in order. Bear meat, well, I should remark. Who can beat this? He has the floor.

Pillsbury & Co.,

CITY DRUG STORE.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN DRUGS PAINTS AND OILS,

Albuquerque, N. M.

Mail orders solicited.

1-33

Notice For Publication.

LAND OFFICE AT LAS CRUCES, N. M. }
OCTOBER 6, 1890. }

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before Register and Receiver at Las Cruces, N. M., on October 22, 1890, viz: Dionisio Gielzel of Tularosa, N. M., who made Hd. Entry No. 1051 for the W. 1/4 S. W. 1/4 Sec. 8; and E. 1/4 S. E. 1/4 Sec. 4; Tp. 14, S. of R. 0, E.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of, said land, viz: Pat F. Garrett, John W. Poo, Lucius Dills and J. Smith Lee, all of Roswell, N. M.

WINFIELD S. COBAN, Register.

SAMUEL P. McCANN, Register.

Notice For Publication.

LAND OFFICE AT LAS CRUCES, N. M. }
OCTOBER 11, 1890. }

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before Register and receiver at Las Cruces, N. M., who made Hd. Entry No. 1034 for the N. 1/4, S. E. 1/4, & S. W. 1/4, E. 1/4, & S. E. 1/4, S. W. 1/4, Sec. 5, Tp. 13, S. of R. 0, E.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of said land, viz: Beneslado Dominguez, Isobel Lopez, Victor Duran, of Tularosa, N. M., and Jose D. Gutierrez, of La Luz, N. M.

WINFIELD S. COBAN, Register.

SAMUEL P. McCANN, Register.

Notice For Publication.

LAND OFFICE AT LAS CRUCES, N. M. }
OCTOBER 11, 1890. }

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before George Curry Probate Clerk at Lincoln, N. M., on November 7, 1890, viz: Jesus M. Brazil, Hd. 30 (R. S.) for the S. 1/4, S. E. 1/4, & S. W. 1/4 Sec. 14, Tp. 10, S. of R. 0, E.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of said land, viz: John Holdor, William McBride, Charles Littlefield and Amos Linker, all of Ft. Stanton, N. M.

WINFIELD S. COBAN, Register.

NOTICE.

By virtue of an execution issued, directed and delivered to me out of the Honorable District Court of the Third Judicial District commanding me to cause to be made out of the property of James E. Slight the sum of Seven hundred and Fifty-four dollars, ($754,) the amount of judgement recovered in said Court by Nathaniel Moore against the said James E. Slight, together with the further sum of Two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) cost of suit. I have this day levied upon and taken into my possession the following described property of the said James E. Slight, to wit: Lots 8 & 13, Blk. 19; Lots 1-5 & 9, Blk. 22; Lots 1-4, Blk. 23; Lots 2 & 4, Blk. 40; Lots 2-3 & 12, Blk. 41; Lots 1-9 & 11, Blk. 42; Lots 1-9 & 12, Blk. 47; Lots 1-3-5-7-9 & 11, Blk. 55; Lots 2-4-6-8-11, Blk. 73; Lots 2-6 & 10, Blk. 94; Lots 2-4-6-9-10 & 12, Blk. 100; Lots 1-3-5-7-9 & 11, Blk. 103, all in the town of Nogal, in Lincoln county, New Mexico, which I shall expose to sale at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, before the Court House door, in the town of LINCOLN, on Saturday the 18th day of October, A. D. 1890, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 3 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of satisfying judgment and all costs.

Witness my hand this the 23rd day of September, 1890.

D. C. Nowlin,
Sheriff of Lincoln County, New Mexico.

1-28

YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

Persons who desire a first-class magazine or farm paper should at the earliest date possible take advantage of our clubbing arrangements with the COSMOPOLITAN MAGAZINE, or the COLORADO FARMER. They are both first-class in every particular. Sample copies can be seen at our office.

J. E. Wharton,
Chairman.

Alf C. Watson,
Secretary.

We went bear hunting last week. We were accompanied by B. E. Brown, Dr. Bearup, Thos. W. Henley and R. J. Nugent. Ramble was also a member of the party. We went to the Tatti ranch—got there at noon and took the trail from the goat corral where the bear had fed the previous night. About one half a mile and the game was roused. Ramble told to go and the hunters to ride. The first mile was exciting in the extreme and resulted in the death, all on the ground, of three cubs, all Silver Tip and fine ones too. The old ones and one cub distanced the others and apparently were gone. We slow-trailed to the top of the Tucson, when feeling refreshed, we again gave the word to Ramble to go. The horses now only two, followed slow and after a hard climb of a mile the cub was sighted. He succeeded in reaching the top of the mountain side of the mountain and again escaped. We went round and down the mountain to a spring watered ourselves and the dog and rested, then returned, took the trail and soon had his cub ship No. 4. The party spent the night at the Tatti ranch and bear stories, each man's experience, were in order. Bear meat, well, I should remark. Who can beat this? He has the floor.

Notice For Publication.

LAND OFFICE AT LAS CRUCES, N. M. }
OCTOBER 11, 1890. }

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before Register and Receiver at Las Cruces, N. M., on October 22, 1890, viz: Jose D. Gutierrez, of La Luz, N. M., who made Hd. Entry No. 929 for Lots 4 & 5, Sec. 80, Tp. 15 S. of R. 11 E.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of, said land, viz: Jose Torres, Sister Garcia, Concepcion Gonzales and Gregorio Gonzales, all of La Luz, N. M.

SAMUEL P. McCANN, Register.

Notice For Publication.

LAND OFFICE AT LAS CRUCES, N. M. }
OCTOBER 11, 1890. }

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before Register and Receiver at Las Cruces, N. M., on October 22, 1890, viz: Jose D. Gutierrez, of La Luz, N. M., who made Hd. Entry No. 929 for Lots 4 & 5, Sec. 80, Tp. 15 S. of R. 11 E.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of, said land, viz: Jose Torres, Sister Garcia, Concepcion Gonzales and Gregorio Gonzales, all of La Luz, N. M.

SAMUEL P. McCANN, Register.

Notice For Publication.

LAND OFFICE AT LAS CRUCES, N. M. }
OCTOBER 11, 1890. }

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before Register and Receiver at Las Cruces, N. M., on October 22, 1890, viz: Jose D. Gutierrez, of La Luz, N. M., who made Hd. Entry No. 929 for Lots 4 & 5, Sec. 80, Tp. 15 S. of R. 11 E.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of, said land, viz: Jose Torres, Sister Garcia, Concepcion Gonzales and Gregorio Gonzales, all of La Luz, N. M.

SAMUEL P. McCANN, Register.

Notice For Publication.

LAND OFFICE AT LAS CRUCES, N. M. }
OCTOBER 11, 1890. }

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before Register and Receiver at Las Cruces, N. M., on October 22, 1890, viz: Jose D. Gutierrez, of La Luz, N. M., who made Hd. Entry No. 929 for Lots 4 & 5, Sec. 80, Tp. 15 S. of R. 11 E.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of, said land, viz: Jose Torres, Sister Garcia, Concepcion Gonzales and Gregorio Gonzales, all of La Luz

A REPLY.

You set too much to let you see How I'm a joy will be to me,
For then we'll be, and all be thine,
And all thy charms will then be mine
Alone; my sweet.

When to my heart thy heart is pressed,
When on thy loyal, lovely breast
My head is laid;
When quivering lips and eyes shall tell
What words can never reveal so well—
Can love be weighed?

Link'd then the number can be taken
All the leaves by breezes shaken?
Deep in the sea,
Its deepest place was never sounded;
Its furthest shore is still unbound'd—
So I love thee!

A SEA SIDE ROMANCE.

"But how can I help feeling neglectful and miserable, Ned? You scarcely look at me when Miss Lovel is near, and she is your preferred partner in all things, now. You walk with her, you run with her, you drive with her, you dance with her, and it makes me very wretched."

"Now, Mollie, if you're going to be jealous!"

"I'm not jealous, Ned. If I thought you cared at all for any one else, I don't think I'd remonstrate with you at all. I would just take off this," touching a diamond on her hand, "and hand it to you. I'm not jealous, but you are very kind to me, Ned."

"Little pet, you do not see things quite as I do. One owes something to every one, especially when one is at the beach. If you would only remember that you are too well to find fault with me, I know you can do, and if you do, come a little more of a society woman for yourself, I would be perfectly happy. Why, you scarcely take any attention from any one but me, and so many are willing to offer attentions to you. Now, dear, kiss me again. I must be off; I am to drive to town with Miss Lovel; not feeling well?"

"Notation, Ned; no;" and she turned him, but without giving him what he had asked for.

"A jealous, though!" the young man thought, smiling as he watched the straight figure going away. He took in which he had found out to the stretch of sand, against which the waves were rolling, receding, leaving now a mass of seaweed on it, coloring and bearing it away—a picture in the of an ocean, now kind brown cold, and always fair in the sun.

Lee Stone hurried over the beach, Lee Stone went, and he presently came up to his affianced, who, in pretty dress of cream and black, the wide sun hat pushed a little back on her blonde head, was looking out full and animated—and smiling. The face of Lee Stone, the most beautiful girl at the beach, Lee Stone, now, Trenimino's! the latter said, as, with a nod, he pursued his drive on the beach; will see Lee Stone, and Ned had gone by, rearing his whistle.

Lee Stone smiled a little and spoke a word to Mollie. She colored slightly, followed the tall form of her companion with her eyes, then a precious answer, and half an hour later, when Ned and Miss Lovel were in a pretty light carriage on the beach, in which Lee Stone took his place, they received a pleasant kiss from pretty Mollie, who was his friend, and who looked as though she was thoroughly enjoying his society.

"She certainly lost no time in following our conversation," Ned told himself, in surprise, "and she has evidently lost the society of Stone anything but Lee Stone."

"What a handsome couple they make," Miss Lovel said, with a certain gleam in her steady gray eyes. Ned colored slightly, and didn't quite know why.

"I only wish that Miss Lovel were my promised bride," he said, truthfully.

"Or but so many engagements are made, a number of the cascade; one is a realist very much," the last he said, indifferently.

"At least there was a hop at the last, and Ned had made up his mind while driving to be a little more attentive to Mollie; but, to his surprise, he did not. Mollie Annex, shrinking under her mother's wing, as had been customary. A number of her old friends had arrived with Lee Stone at dinner, and they were about her; beside, Lee Stone was quite pronounced in his attachment to her, and while she gave him a smile from the distance, he found it quite difficult to get near her; for a light tap on his arm informed him that Miss Lovel was asking him why he was so preoccupied, said, as Mollie's of Stone was circling by, joining the women, he followed them with Miss Lovel.

"A rather pronounced flirtation," Lee Stone, a little later, when he and Mollie stood on the hotel terrace, watching the moonlight on the sea and strand, and one solitary couple pacing slowly along beside the waters. Both knew who they were, for a few moments before they had seen Ned Tremain place that impudent scarf about the shoulders of Miss Laura Lovel as he led her across the terrace, to much engrossed in his task, it would seem, to notice Mollie's other companion.

"Oh, everybody flirts more or less at a social party; one has nothing else to do, you know." Mollie answered Lee, with a light tinkle of laughter, and he looked down on the pretty face he which he meant it was so tender, his voice failing to catch a whisper as he spoke to her.

"It's a coward's pastime for a man," he said to her, "and a woman it is a the bracelet on her arm; a touch a mockery was in the rippling voice.

"And you— it's pleasant to know that you are cruel or cowardly?" she questioned. "One is tempted to become personal when such remarks come from one who is said to count his conquests with a cruel pride, and to whom the world gives no higher aim than to fascinate, and—remain carefree. Am I too plain? Forgive me."

"I forgive you freely—as I would forgive you all things, Miss Anne; but neither you nor the world fully understand. I may seem a trifler; but, were the woman I love to love me in return, no smile would be to me so sweet as hers, no presence half so dear."

Mollie had been watching the couple on the sands, going slowly back and forth, back and forth in the moonlight; now she lifted her sweet young face and looked at him with a sort of wondering pity.

"Do we all wrong you, then?" she asked gently. "Have you failed in your wooing? Can you not win your love?"

His face flushed a little at her words, and she, watching it, was struck by its strength and beauty. How did it chance that she had never noticed it before?

"I am not left the chance to woo or win her," he said slowly; "she is another's promised wife."

"Ah," she said, pityingly, and she gave him her hand to sweet, womanly sympathy, never for an instant connecting his words with herself. He lifted the small hand reverently to his lips, and, drawing it through his arm, turned toward the beach. As he did so he found himself facing Ned Tremain and Laura Lovel, who were coming from the moonlight, and he noticed that the young man's face was quite white, while there was a half scornful smile on the lips of the fair belle of the seaside. But the two couples passed each other in silence, the one going down to the stretch of glittering sand, the other going in to the dancers.

A week later, and Mollie had just come in from a long hour, peaceful and calm, spent with Lee in quiet nook among the rocks that overhung the ocean. He had been reading to her there some of the sweetest poems given to the world by genius. Her heart had thrilled as he read, and new, strange feelings had stirred it. When he closed the book he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he had looked up and found her eyes filled with tears. And now in her own room she was asking herself how it was that what she had but commenced for the purpose of annoying Ned had in one brief week slain all her old resentment against Miss Lovel, and made her thoughtful turn constantly, not to Ned Tremain, who was her affianced husband, but to Lee Stone, who was termed the greatest male flirt at the beach. What was changing in her life? When she now met Ned and Laura it did not pain her as it used to. Was it because he