AT LAST!
The long expected illustrated History of Utah by the eminent historian, Hubert H. Bancroft, has at last appeared. It is absolutely a revelation. After visiting the field in person, taking testimony impartially from all sides, critically reviewing the enormous number of 1000 different authorities, and searching many of the secret archives of the Mormon Church, Mr. Bancroft now gives to the world this wonderful and remarkable work, the only true history of Mormonism.

The work reads like a romance—the wonderful adventures of trappers and travellers, the bloody Indian wars, the thrilling accounts of massacres and miraculous escapes, the famous Danite Association or Destroying Angels, the story of Brigham Young—all this fresh from the pen of the brilliant and gifted author, forms a narrative of exciting interest, as fascinating as a novel, yet true to the letter. Above all in surpassing interest is the unfolding of the great Mormon Question and the mysteries of Polygamy which will be read with equal interest by all classes of people throughout the English speaking world. The work is published in one large handsome volume of over 800 pages, bound in red and gold and grandly illustrated with steel plate portraits of the great Mormon leaders, exquisite half tone engravings and dazzling colored plates. It is issued by the great Publishing House of the Pacific Coast, the History Co. of San Francisco, and can only be procured through their authorized agents. We call attention to the advertisement in another column, under the heading of $25.00 Reward.

A Rare Loan.

Mr. McCormack, general agent of the Chicago fair, through Messrs. Higginbotham and Ives, who are now in Rome, has secured, as a special favor of the Pope to the United States, the loan of the second Borghian or Diego Ribero map of the world begun in 1494 and finished in 1520, and a contemporary copy of the same map containing the famous bisecting lines which Pope Alexander VI drew across it to settle the claims of Spain and Portugal to American territory.

This is the first map of the whole world as then known.

It was bequeathed by Cardinal Borghia to the Vatican Library, and is the same which Pope Pius IX refused to allow the American Government to have even a copy of.

It is three feet by seven, and is in an excellent state of preservation, clean and unworn. It begins with the Molucca group and ends with the other half.

The Nile is traced to three lakes Russia and Siberia are put down as barred and unknown countries.

America makes a showy appearance with Yucatan, Brazil and New Spain distinctly indicated, the north terminating with Labrador. London cable to N. Y. Commercial.

The rich men who during their lifetime carry out their philanthropic intentions are the ones who alone are sure that their wishes will be regarded as to the disposition of their property. Another millionaire has shown his practical wisdom as well as his philanthropy by founding under his own practical supervision a great school for practical education in the sciences and arts. Anthony J. Proxel, of Philadelphia has just had the satisfaction of attending the dedication of the Drexel Institute, a building he has erected and endowed at a first cost to himself of $1,500,000. It is to be an institution something like that founded by Peter Cooper in New York. The money spent in equipping such schools as these, and in founding public libraries and hospitals, is far reaching in its beneficence. Rich men owe it to the communities in which they acquire their wealth to devote a large share of it to public purposes, and it is a good sign of our times that so many sagacious business men are turning their attention to the educational needs of the country. They can in no better way hand down names that will be honored by many generations of beneficiaries—Portland Transcript.

His Truthful Record

A boy of 12, who went from New York to England with his father on a short trip, was asked by his mother to keep a diary of all he saw and heard while gone. Below is given an extract relating the incidents while on shipboard.

June 1. Left New York at noon and am having a glorious time. Have been all over the ship and have got acquainted with the captain and mate. But I like to sit on deck best, and I am going to sit there most of the time. It's glorious.

June 2. Sick.
June 3. Sicker.
June 4. Awful sick.
June 5. Still sick, and don't know as I'll ever live to get home, and don't care if I don't.
June 6. Some better; ate a cracker.
June 7. Pa helped me up on deck, but I ain't well yet.
June 8. May I will get to Queenstown to-morrow. I wish we were there now. Am going to bed.

June 9. We can see the Irish coast, I wish I could walk home or else stay aboard forever. I've had a terrible time.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

She was a fresh-air fiend. That is, she imagined she never could breathe unless there was a window open, and if she could feel a draught believed she was getting fresh-air no matter what color it might be given by soot or other foreign substance. She was riding on a railroad car and, of course, she had to hold the window open. It was a cold day. The wind blew a gale. The chilly air which came into the car was mixed with smoke from the locomotive till you could have cut it into blocks with a meat-ax. The other passengers coughed, changed their seats and made savage remarks, but the fiend was happy. If she heard any of the mean things which were said about her she didn't mind them, because she thought she was doing humanity a service by teaching a degenerate portion of it the delights of oxygen.

Of course she had no means of knowing that the black soot which drifted in was settling on her face and changing it to a color which would deceive her best friend as to the race she belonged to. Finally, when the passengers were becoming desperate, a young man entered the car with a window which proclaimed him to be a mild variety of tough. He took a seat behind the fiend, which had been deserted by every one else. The cold draft struck him when the train started. He glanced at the open window, then at the person who had opened it. Then he reached over and shut it with a bang, saying:

"Let's have the window closed, Sally."

The fresh-air fiend was so astonished at his familiarity that for a moment she could not speak.

"Sir," she finally gasped.

"Say y'know, we gotta have that window shut," repeated the loud young man.

"This seat, sir, belongs to me and I shall do as I please with the window beside it. You will have the kindness to raise that sash again."

"Well, I guess not. I ain't goin' to sit here in no freeze or choke for no nigger girl."

"No, what?" fairly shrieked the young woman, and then burying her face in her handkerchief, she began to weep and complain that she was never so insulted in her life, and that if there was a gentleman on the car he would surely protect her. When she raised her head she discovered that her handkerchief had changed to a surprising color. A horrible suspicion came upon her. Hastily opening her handbag she produced a small mirror. One glance was enough.

She began rubbing her face with her handkerchief, which was already too black to help matters any. Then she tried her gloves, and that only made her complexion streaky. At last she drew a thick veil over her face, and thus disguised left the car at the next station and took a closed carriage for the nearest hotel. The passengers all smiled grimly, hoping that for once she had fresh air enough.—Buffalo Express.

Edison is endeavoring to solve for Chicago the rapid transit problem. For two weeks experiments have been made over a trial track at Menlo Park. Edison proposes to run a short railway by electricity, but without wires. He is not prepared yet to say that his scheme will work, but he hopes in a few months to have it completed successfully.

Four times a year the Probate Court sits at the same time as the County Commissioners and the Probate Clerk is also Clerk of the Board. As it is impossible for a man to be in two places at once, Manuel Sisonos acted as Clerk of the Board, at the last meeting, while Mr. Sosa assisted Judge Cronin with the probate business.

WHITE OAKS WHISPERS

Everything has been rather quiet during the past week, in the "Golden City" and yet the boom is unabated and the people generally have unbounded faith in the coming of the Denver & El Paso Short Line.

The front of the stone building occupied by Goldman, Zeigler & Co., looks as if a Kansas cyclone might have struck it. A false front has been put in and the main one torn down preparatory to putting in a front which will correspond with the Exchange Bank, adjoining, which is in course of erection. When finished the Howitt block will be as handsome and at the same time as substantial an edifice as can be found in the Territory. The front will be finished and done with his article from the White Oaks, in the lay-out of the article.

Mr. John Y. Howitt, one of our best prominent lawyers and all one the owner of the O.P.A. mine will soon let a contract for another business house which will be situated next door to L. W. Stewart's store on White Oaks Avenue. It is a two-story building with a front of granite and a side of brick. The building is probably for a residence or a store.

The closing of the public school is felt to be a serious misfortune. Mr. Baca is a thorough teacher, is perfectly at home in both the English and Spanish languages, and gives instruction in either or both as desired. This opportunity to learn Spanish was being improved by several pupils, and it is to be hoped that the school may soon open again under the same teacher.

PARISIENNES AT THE BATH.

Public bathing in the River Seno-Hany is a fashionable pastime.

The bath is a narrow, greenish, muddy stream, and it is not a very pleasant place to bathe in.

But on other days, when the water is clear and cool, it is a very pleasant place to bathe in.

There is a great deal of bathing done here, and it is a very popular place.

The water is very pure and the air is very fresh. It is a very pleasant place to bathe in.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 14, 1892

The Lincoln Independent.

The last issue of the LINCOLN INDEPENDENT was dated January 10, 1891. To-day, one year later, the publication of the paper is resumed on the old basis. It will be independent in every sense of the word; independent in political opinion, on all matters of public interest, in county politics will be carefully governed by circumstances, and in all contingencies which may arise it will claim the privilege of saying what it pleases, and when, how and where; while in the not improbable event of a local or county earthquake, each and every side will have a right to a hearing in its columns. Like the town in which it lives, moves and has its being, it will travel on in the same sober jog-trot which has hitherto characterized it, undisturbed by the avantecent blazes of yea and nay and more bustling towns, waiting for the good time coming with serenity and equanimity, telling the truth as well as it knows how, and working for the interests of town and county according to its best judgment and ability.

A lot of job work, which came in early in the week, caused some delay in issuing this number of the INDEPENDENT. This paper, this week, is partially made up from advertisements in the year-old forms still standing in this office, and which came in very conveniently to save time. As fast as possible these will be removed and other matter inserted.

President Diaz urges through Minister Romero that the Garza revolutionists shall be allowed no neutral ground and that an agreement be entered into between Mexico and the United States by which the revolutionists might be permitted across the boundary line by Mexican troops should they seek refuge or American aid. The privilege of passing the border in pursuit of Indians has long been accorded to the troops of both countries, but his never been asked in a case like the present one. It is understood that an action will be taken by this government unless the matter is forthwith presented. The sympathies of the Mexican in Texas are with Garza and large quantities of his rattle have been made from the American side of the Rio Grande. He is supported by wealthy Mexicans and is supplied with money and provisions. He is showing many of the qualities of a leader, and his movements are regarded with fear and consternation along the lower Rio Grande.

We learn from our exchange that Postmaster General Wanamaker's report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, is out. It is said to be clear, concise and comprehensive, showing up the manifold weaknesses of this branch of the public service and suggesting many improvements. The report contains 188 pages of matter which will repay a careful perusal. The subjects of parcel posts, government telegraphs, are discussed and compared with those of other countries. The report is replete with statistics, showing the volume of business transacted during the year, and as a book of reference is invaluable.

The Governor of Kansas has appointed ex-Congressman Bishop W. Perkins to succeed Mr. Plumb.

Gaxarior Boyd, of Nebraska, who was deprived of his office on the plea of non-citizenship, has been reinstated by a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

By an explosion in a coal mine at Krebs, I. T., on the night of Jan. 8, 200 men were killed, 40 fatally hurt and as many more badly burned. The explosion was caused by firing a shot when gas was in the mine. At the time 350 men were in the shaft, forty-two of whom were saved.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 8.—The latest reports from the Rio Grande frontier indicate that numerous bands of revolutionists are moving toward Mexico, and unless their march is interfered with within the next few days by United States troops or Mexican military authorities the men will have reached Mexican territory. They are all thought to have one objective point in Mexico where they hope to join forces, and Monterey is said to be the city upon which the combined assault is to be made. The Mexican government has been informed of this plan and during the last two days there has been general shifting of troops from the garrison of the state of San Luis Potosi, and the lower part of the state of Nueva Leon to the Rio Grande frontier of the state of Tamaulipas. The main army of the revolutionists is reported to be within a day's march of the border and the United States troops are being hurried to intercept them.

A Rowell, butter—when there is any—is selling at 60 cents and 65 cents a pound. Mr. D. of this place, is about to take down a load which will probably supply the demand for some time to come. Are the people of the "Beautiful Roswell Country" so busy engaged in hauling their town that they cannot find time with all their vast herds, to make their own butter, nor to gather the apples from the orchards of that wonderful fruit country?

Mortgagee's Sale.

Whereas, Avery M. Clenny and Antoinette Clenny, his wife, of the County of Lincoln and Territory of New Mexico, by their certain mortgage deed, dated the second day of December, A. D., 1890, and recorded in the Probate Clerk's office of Lincoln County, in book A, of the record of mortgages, pages 374, 375 and 376, did convey to the undersigned, James J. Dolan, as mortgagee, the following described real estate, situated in the County of Lincoln and Territory of New Mexico, as follows, to-wit: All of the Southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of Section Thirty-three Township Ten South Range Seventeen East, and all of lot three of Section four, Township eleven South Range Seventeen East, that is situated on the North side of the Bonito River, to secure the promissory note of said Avery M. Dolan, one year after date, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from date until paid.

And, whereas, it was provided in and by said mortgage deed, that if default should be made in the payment of said note, when the same should become due and payable, then and in such case the said mortgagee, his heirs and assigns in person, or by his or their agent or attorney, might sell or dispose of said mortgaged premises at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, first giving notice of the time and place of said sale, by publishing a notice in some newspaper published in the County of Lincoln, for twenty days before the date of such sale, and in their names might make and deliver to the purchasers at such sale, a good and sufficient deed of said premises. And, whereas, default has been made in the payment of said promissory note, due one year after its date, as aforesaid, which default still continues,

Now, therefore, public notice is hereby given, that on the 13th day of February, A. D., 1892, between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and three o'clock p. m. of said day, at the front door of the Court house, in the town and county of Lincoln, the said James J. Dolan, his agent or attorney will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the premises herein above and in said mortgage deed described, payment to the powers and provisions of said mortgage deed.

Kimball, his wife, to David C. Kimball, his wife, to the extent of one acre and one-half. To secure the promissory note of said George Kimball and Patricia Kimball, his wife, dated August 15th, 1891, for One Hundred and twenty-five and 00/100 Dollars, payable to the order of the said James J. Dolan, one year after date with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from date until paid.

And, whereas, it was provided in and by said mortgage deed, that if default should be made in the payment of said note, at the time and in the manner specified in the same when the same should become due and payable, then and in such case the said mortgagee, his heirs and assigns in person, or by his or their agent or attorney, might sell or dispose of said mortgaged premises at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, first giving notice of the time and place of said sale, by publishing a notice in any newspaper published in the County of Lincoln, for twenty days before the date of such sale, and in their names might make and deliver to the purchasers at such sale, a good and sufficient deed of said premises. And, whereas, default has been made in the payment of said promissory note due one year after its date, as aforesaid, which default still continues,

Now, therefore, public notice is hereby given, that on the 13th day of February, A. PUSET SOUND FORESTS. Some of the finest ways of Pacific Coast Wood-Choppers.

The height of the stumps in the logging regions of the Sound parallels the contour. It is from five to fifteen feet from the ground to where the woodman has piled his axe. One man readily understood why it was expedient to cut above the bulging knecs at the base of the tree. But why did the chopper go, in so many cases, three or four times as high as was necessary? The Governor thought, who has at his tongue's end the explanation for more strange things in Washington, than has any other man, tells how this happens. To get above the bulging base of the tree the choppers had to have something to stand on. Instead of talking a chair or a step-ladder or a platform, they cut notches in the tree, put in a narrow spring-board with a clamp, balanced themselves upon that, and pulled the axe. They were amazements. They chopped on one side and then on the other. "Throwing down" or "killing these big trees, as it is called, became an art. The choppers began by putting in their spring-boards three or four feet from the ground. That was enough to avoid the butt. It was taxing work to begin with. It was still more tricky to go a little higher from the ground. Rivalry sent the choppers up and up, until often they would stand as high as fifteen feet from the ground to chop. At twenty feet the owners of the trees protested. They could not afford to throw away more than one season's stock log to let the choppers risk their necks in trying to build each other in what was foolish daring. In these after days the saw is taking the place of the axe, and the new stumps are of more reasonable height.

The theory of the ex-Governor's was repeated interrogatively to a lumberman. He laughed and declined to confirm or deny it. But he told a story. Said he: "A friend of mine was out here some time ago, and he walked through the timber eyeing these stumps pretty closely, as if he was trying to make out why they were cut so high. All at once a light seemed to dawn upon him. He turned to me and said: 'I thought you told me you didn't have any new on the Sound? Look at these stumps. See where the men were standing when they cut all this timber? Oh! and You don't have any more, do you?'—Oh, St. Louis State Lumberman.

THE LOCAL BUDGET

Fires are building under various political hats.

Sherrif Roberts has seven boarders in the County Hotel.

T. C. Tillotson was in town last week, attending the Probate Court.

Walker W. Paul, of Lower Pecos, passed through on Monday.

W. E. Blanchard will teach the first school in District No. 14, Agua Azul.

Dr. Blazer was over from the Agency on business for the Dowlin estate, of which he is administrator.

The County Superintendent was in town last week and together with Mr. Bace, examined several teachers.

Jose Amalia, of Pinalco, is recovering from a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

Jesus Mes, N. A. Zumwalt and Virginia Sanchez were down from Agua Azul, last week.

Mr. Ericson, for Cross, Blackwell & Co., was calling on our merchants, Monday.

At last accounts, Mr. Michael was in New York and his friends will be glad to know he is recovering rapidly.

Mr. Stewart, representing the great Las Vegas wholesale house, the Brown & Alvarado Co., was in town the first day of the week.

A sort of impeachment of a teacher was tried by the County Superintendent, while he was here. The teacher resigned.

Mr. J. B. Matthews and family returned to their home on the Pecos last week, after spending the holidays with the family of Mr. J. J. Dolan.

Mails for the last two weeks have been from one to three days, habitually, owing to the snow storms and consequent blocking of roads in Lucas and Colorado.

Sherrif Roberts went to Nogal Monday, to attend Justice's court in the case arising out of the trouble between the paymaster's agent and many citizens, last week.

Messrs. George Sena and M. W. Needham were appointed School Directors in District No. 1 vice Messrs. Dolan and Montano, resigned.

D. R. Hume, after ten days' struggle, got the Bantam roof on the court house, and when the painting now under contract is completed, it will look quite respectable on the outside.

J. J. Dolan is to clear out the remainder of the Dolan & Vail stock in a lump, at auction. The whole lot of ranch horses, cattle and stock of goods are to be sold without reserve to the highest bidder.

On account of the failure of funds the School Board will be compelled to close the school to-morrow. Only $23 will remain in the treasury after meeting outstanding obligations.

A slight "unpleasantness" occurred, last week, between the U. S. soldiers quartered at Nogal and the inhabitants of that thriving little burg. Troops were ordered from Fort Stanton to quell the rebellion and peace was speedily restored. At last accounts the soldiers had returned to the Post and all was quiet at Nogal.

Probate Clerk Sena was busy all day and far into the night, Friday, taking testimony in a land contest, to which Solomon Montano and Mrs. Senora Padilla were parties. About fifteen witnesses were examined and over 1,000 words were taken. Most of it had to be interpreted.

The lawyers employed were Geo. B. Barber for protestant Padilla, and D. J. M. A. Jewett for respondent Montano. Manuel Sierros acted as interpreter.

Four times a year the Probate Court sits at the same time as the County Commissioners and the Probate Clerk is also Clerk of the Board.

As it is impossible for a man to be in two places at once, Manuel Sierros acted as Clerk of the Board at the last meeting, while Mr. Sena assisted Judge Cronin with the probate business.

Report of Business transacted at the Lincoln, N. M. post office by W. Rosenthal P. M. during the quarter ending December 31st, 1891.

WHITE OAKS WHISPERS.

Everything has been rather quiet during the past week, in the "Golden City" and yet the boom is unaltered and the people generally have unbounded faith in the coming of the Denver & El Paso Short Line.

The front of the stone building occupied by Goodman, Zeigler & Co., looks as if a Kansas cyclone might have struck it. A false front has been put in and the main one torn down preparatory to putting in a front, which will correspond with the Exchange Bank, adjoining, which is in course of erection. When finished the Hewitt block will be as handsome and at the same time as substantial an edifice as can be found in the Territory. The front will be of iron and stone with black marble from the White Oaks quarries, in the hey-noon of the ash.

Mr. John Y. Hewitt, one of our most prominent lawyers and also one the owners of the O. & A. will soon let a contract for an other business house which will be situated next door to L. W. Stewart's store on White Oaks Avenue. It is to be 35x55 feet with a basement and is to be of stone with an iron and plate glass front. The building when completed, will probably be occupied by O'Connell & Armstrong as a clothing and goods store.

Mr. Frank R. Sage is preparing to build a stone residence on Lincoln Avenue in the Hewitt addition, which will be occupied by himself and family. It will be a two story building with five rooms below and three above, and will be furnished with modern improvements, such as steam heating, etc.

After waiting patiently several months, Mrs. Finney, our efficient postmistress, is now located in the new post office building and we challenge any one, without fear of being "taken up," to show us a nicer one more neatly arranged post office building in New Mexico. The front is occupied by Mrs. Finney's book store and J. L. Zimmerman's drug store.

The Santa Fe R. R. sent an "express" to this place Monday, but whether he will do any thing or not remains to be seen. H. L. Dotwiler, of El Paso, is in town and is looking over the country to see what he can find, and we would judge from what we can learn that there is a good deal of talking going on abroad about a railroad to this point.

Messrs. Engala and Lillis Roberts the beautiful and charming nieces of Capt. D. W. Roberts, left for Lincoln, their home, on Monday morning after spending a very pleasant week with Mrs. J. P. C. Langston, of this city.

Frank Parker, a son of E. W. Parker, left for Albuquerque, on Sunday's stage, where he expected to be joined in wedlock to Mrs. Bruce Lane, formerly of this place on the 13th inst. May long life and prosperity be theirs.

The closing of the public school is felt to be a serious misfortune. Mr. Bace is a thorough teacher, is perfectly at home in both the English and Spanish languages, and gives instruction in either or both as desired. This opportunity to learn Spanish was being improved by several pupils, and it is to be hoped that the school may soon open again under the same teacher.

PARISIENNES AT THE BATH.

Public bathing in the River Salmo-Mary is a fashionable winter amuse-ment. The Salmo is a narrow, greenish, sparkling river, and it does not last far from a distance. But on entering the Salmo, but a few rods but the water containing the dressing.

Parisians like to bathe and cool, says a Paris correspondent of the Providence Journal. Bathing in the Salmo is a favorite resort for the French, and hundreds of ladies with their dresses, hats and gloves, are seen at the bathing place. There is a great deal of bathing, and the water is very pure and cool. The bathing place is a beautiful one, and the water is very pure and cool.
