Why the Las Vegas Free Press wishes to exile Governor Prince to New York is a mystery. It has an item to that effect in yesterday's issue. Governor Prince has been a resident of this city nearly fourteen years, and when his term of office expires, next April, he will simply move back to his own house from the rooms in the palace which he has been temporarily occupying. He has been urged to move to both Las Vegas and Albuquerque, but he has never had a thought of leaving Santa Fe since he first settled here in February, 1879. He thoroughly appreciates the beauty and salubrity of the capital city, as well as the historic interests that center here; and as to leaving New Mexico, any one must be very ignorant not to know that the governor is such an enthusiastic New Mexican that he would not willingly leave the "Sunshine State" even to go to Paradise.—New Mexican.

The Pecos valley is the best irrigated section naturally on the face of the earth. No other place has the capital, the soil, the climate, the water in such abundance as this valley. Any farmer who cannot be pleased with the climate, soil and opportunities here, would not be pleased in paradise. Difficulties there are, but minor compared with those found in the north and farther west. Land in California ranges in price from $300 per acre for raw, unimproved, to $1,000 per acre for improved. It is only in the Pecos valley that fruit lands can be obtained by the poor man on long time. One or two years will suffice to pay for a farm by the industrious person who understands or is willing to learn how to irrigate and raise alfalfa and fruit.—Eddy Daily Current.

About a year ago, H. U. Wallace's twenty five year old son, A. D. Wallace, our popular grocery man, fitted up a hack here with a photograph outfit and a magic lantern show, and taking a good team left overland to visit the various cities of New Mexico and Arizona, doing photographic work and giving exhibitions with his lantern. He corresponded for awhile with his parents here, but they finally ceased to hear from him. The last heard of him was at Escobedo, where he left word to have his mail forwarded to Pinos Altos. Letters sent from here to both these points were returned as unclaimed for. This was in May last. Although his father has made diligent search and inquiry, nothing to indicate his whereabouts has been discovered, and it is feared he has met with foul play. His parents are very much worried at their son's long silence and grave fears are entertained as to what has become of him. A report was circulated some time ago that he was found dead, but could not be traced to any reliable foundation.—Eddy Daily Current.

There will be a meeting at Chicago in a short time, of representatives of the Territories of New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma, for the purpose of letting the contract for the erection of a joint territorial building on the World's Fair grounds.

It is recalled by a Denverite as a remarkable coincidence that the two editors of the 'New York Tribune, Horace Greeley and Whitelaw Reid, the former as candidate for president and the latter as candidate for vice-president, should, exactly twenty years apart, have been the losers in the two most disastrous defeats in the political history of the United States. Greeley carried only eighty electoral votes out of 306 in 1872, and Mr. Reid will probably not have over 112 out of 444 in 1892.—Raton Range.

A Topeka dispatch of the 29th inst says that Mrs. Lease today for the first time made an authoritative statement concerning her candidacy for the United States senate. She arrived in town late last night and early this morning was besieged by callers. She hastily turned her quarters into a reception room and held an informal public reception. She announced to all callers that she would accept the senatorship if it were offered to her, but that she would not engage in any scrambling for the place.

It is reported that the Navajo Indians do not look for any severe weather this winter, and as the Indians are noted for the correctness of their weather-forecasts, the sheep and cattlemen are inclined to feel a little easier.—Raton Range.

The city of Prescott, Arizona, is made up of ex-officials. The Courier says: "Day before yesterday, on one of the principal streets of Prescott, an ex-governor, an ex-mayor, an ex-sheriff, and an ex-postmaster were seen chasing a small stray chicken, and they do say that the chicken escaped."

The talk in Washington now is that an extra session of congress will be called in the spring, and New Mexico and Arizona will then be admitted. This is what the Optimist intimated some days ago.—Optic.

The Denver papers have a Washington telegram announcing that the headquarters of the military department of Arizona will probably be changed from Los Angeles to Denver.—Optic.

A dispatch from El Paso to the Albuquerque Democrat, states that Hon. Thomas B. Catron will contest the recent election of Hon. Antonio Joseph. Mr. Catron, who is in Eddy on legal business, declares most emphatically that he would not contest were the majority even but one.—Eddy Argus.

Little Girl. Mrs. Brown, ma wants to know if she could borrow a dozen eggs. She wants ter put 'em under a hen.
Neighbor. So you've got a hen sitting, have you? I didn't know you kept hens.
Little Girl. No, ma'am, we don't; but Mrs. Smith's girl ter lend us a hen that wants ter set, and ma thought, if you'd lend us some eggs, we'd find a nest ourselves.

All About Shorthand.

This is the title of a 22 page pamphlet of information, containing answers to all the questions an inquirer would be likely to ask about books, instruction, salaries of stenographers, how to secure positions, etc., etc. It will show what young men have done at home on farms and in work shops; how from the humblest beginnings the highest success has been reached by learning this art at piece meal study, and while pursuing other occupations. The success of stenographers as compared with the success of young men in any other vocation in life, will be seen to be marvelous and encouraging. The author of this system was himself a farmer's boy and learned the art while following the plow. The information he gives in this pamphlet will be of interest and value to every young man or young woman either who must earn their own living. The pamphlet is mailed for 5 one cent postage stamps to anyone writing for it and enclosing the paper in which this article appears.

THE REPUBLICAN
MRS. A. J. MCGINNIS,
 Local Editor and Publisher.
 FRIDAY, DEC. 3, 1892.

THE LOCAL BUDGET

Yesterday was the first day of winter.
 Santa Claus opened up, yesterday, at the store of Rosenthal & Co.
 The machinery for the Ellis flour mill arrived Monday.
 Messrs. Curry and Guyse returned from White Oaks, Monday.
 A fine lot of Christmas toys have just been received by Michaelis & Co. Call and see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Langston returned to White Oaks Wednesday, after a short visit to the family of Sheriff Roberts.
 Mrs. Brainard, wife of Lieut. Brainard, at Fort Stanton, is very sick and there is little hope of her recovery.

Mr. Ed. Dowlin made a flying trip to the county seat, Saturday, and returned home with a supply of provisions.

Vorbonas, nasturtiums, potunigs and chrysanthemums are still blooming in Mrs. Woudman's garden.

Miss Elvira Koenoy, who is teaching in the Dow schoolhouse, was in town, Saturday.

The house of Mr. J. V. Tully, at Fort Stanton, was burned to the ground, Saturday night. Supposed to be the work of incendiaries.

Mr. B. Flecher sold, before 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, $75 worth of goods. How is that for a "burro town" like Lincoln.

Mr. George Curry, a former well known citizen of Raton, was elected sheriff of Lincoln county on the Democratic ticket, at the late election.—Raton Range.

Mr. Riley, at the postoffice, says all the aristocracy of Lincoln was at the baile, Saturday night. We are glad we stayed at home. We never did aspire to be a society leader.

The new camera purchased by Mrs. Albright for taking views throughout the territory for the World's Columbian exposition, cost $500, and is the only instrument of the kind west of Kansas City.—All. Dem.

The Eddy Daily Current W. H. Mullans, editor, made its appearance two weeks ago. It takes for its motto, "Eddy and Rio Pecos Valley to the Front, Croakers to the Rear," and is Democratic in politics. May it meet with success.

Send twelve cents in postage stamps to 29 Corcoran Building, Washington, D. C., and you will receive four copies of Kate Field's Washington, containing matter of special interest. Give name and address, and say where you saw this advertisement.

It is now stated on good authority that "Brown" never "bought a mule," that "that mule" never existed, that there never has been a mule in Lincoln, and more yet it is a fact that "Brown" sold "that mule" to Mr. Riley who, not having stable-room in the postoffice, turned him loose on the streets, and he has been poking his nose in everybody's face,—or at least, he has been in everybody's mouth—ever since. There is strong talk of impounding the "critter" and making the owner pay damages.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
Weather Bureau,
 Fort Stanton, New Mexico,
 November 25th, 1892.

The Chief of the Weather Bureau directs the publication of the following data, compiled from the record of observations for the month of December, taken at this station during a period of seven years.

It is believed that the facts thus set forth will prove of interest to the public, as well as the special student, showing as they do the average and extreme conditions of the more important meteorological elements and the range within which such variations may be expected to keep during any corresponding month.

TEMPERATURE.
 Mean or normal temperature, 37°
 The warmest December was that of 1880, with an average of 44°.
 The coldest December was that of 1890, with an average of 30°.
 The highest temperature during any December was 68° on 7th and 4th, 1885 and 1880.
 The lowest temperature during any December, was -18° on 22d, 1887.

PRECIPITATION.
 (Rain and melted snow.)
 Average for the month, 0.55 in.
 Average number of days with .01 of an inch or more, 4.

The greatest monthly precipitation was 1.23 inches in 1891.
 The least monthly precipitation was 0.04 inches in 1893.
 The greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any 24 consecutive hours was 0.61 inches on December 30th and 31st, 1890.
 The greatest amount of snowfall recorded in 24 consecutive hours (record extending to winter of 1894-5 only) was 14.5 inches on March 19th and 20th, 1898.

CLOUDS AND WEATHER.
 Average number of cloudy days, 17.
 Average number of partly cloudy days, 11.
 Average number of cloudy days, 3.

WIND.
 The prevailing winds have been from the northwest and west.
 The highest velocity of the wind during any December, was 50 miles on the 30th, 1887.

M. H. BAILEY,
 Observer, Weather Bureau.

The jury in the case of the Pacific Gold company, of St. Louis, vs. William Skillicorn and Leason A. Snyder, which has been on trial for nine days in the district court, this morning returned a verdict for the defendant, after having considered the case since 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The value of the ground in dispute is from $50,000 to $75,000. This was an action to eject the defendants from 835 feet of mining ground at Pinos Altos, Grant county. It appears from the evidence that three mining claims are involved though this case related only to a portion of two. The claim of defendants lies to the east of that of plaintiff, and the defendant's vein of ore has a dip to the west, while the vein of plaintiff goes down nearly vertical. At a depth of about 200 feet under the earth's surface there appeared a point of junction or intersection, where the vein of defendants and plaintiff's came near together, and, as the jury by their verdict have found, where the defendant's inclined vein went on down into the earth, that of the plaintiff was cut off and ceased to exist. Messrs. T. B. Catron and H. L. Pickett were counsel for plaintiff, and Idus L. Fielder, assisted by A. B. Fall for the defendant.—Eddy Argus.
