

WATER FILTERS

INFORMATION OF PRACTICAL VALUE TO RURAL READERS.

Advantages of Pure Water for Country and Residential House.—The Late George Goddard's Plan for Filtering Rain Water Illustrated and Described.

As this season of the year much impure water is used, causing a great deal of sickness which prevails in summer. Boiling the water before using it reduces the danger. If used for tea or coffee the process is quite simple. If for drinking water it may be boiled and kept till wanted in a cold apartment or ice house in corked bottles or jugs. When there are mineral impurities that cannot be removed by boiling the water it is safest to use filtered rain water.

The late George Goddard for more than a quarter of a century used filtered rain water for all domestic purposes in his family, and during that time there had been no disease of a character resulting from the use of bad water. For several years he had used a brick filter, a section of which is represented in the accompanying cut. It was twelve feet long, and four feet wide, in covering only six feet wide. It would hold 4,000 gallons. The lower course of the constructed stone walls projected four inches into the center to prevent any water flowing through the walls with any force. The covering with six inch flag stones, fitted to the walls with cement, left no entrance except through the main hole and the ladder from the roof. A foot of earth rested on the cover, and the main hole large included an air space admitting out from the roof. The roof should be kept clean, and the first water after a long drought excluded. The filter was a hollow brick cylinder, 6 x 6, with an inch air hole, and containing the pump. The water soaking through the four inches of brick became perfectly filtered, and was as pleasant to drink as any we ever tasted. The overflow, 6 x 6, carries off all sediment. A self acting valve, closed when no water is passing, prevented the entrance of mice. Thanks are due to County Gentlemen for the foregoing cut and its description.

Three Classes of Fowl.
For many years old flocks have been expected to furnish all the meat required. One of the names is derived from the old Danish "Angard." One of Capt. Maggari's ancestors was the Gyldegaardjeans mentioned in Blake's speech.

There are three classes of fowl—game, table fowl and general purpose fowl. Game fowl are differently constituted, and for different dispositions, and contain their food into different products. It is probable that general purpose fowl may be discovered, that the present balance between their qualities has not been found, but the ideal general purpose fowl will never exist outside the imagination of the admiring.

There is need of all three classes of fowl. The man who raises poultry for sport requires the table fowl; the one who produces eggs for general consumption needs the great fowl, and hundreds and thousands of families which keep fowl to produce eggs and poultry demand the general purpose fowl. The general purpose is unquestionably the most popular fowl in the country, but the other two classes are steadily growing in favor, and as the number of those who make a business of keeping fowl increases the popularity of these classes will increase. H. S. Babcock is Shook.

Thistles and Quebec grain.
I had a nice acre lot that was completely overrun with Canada thistles, besides a part of it there was a good deal more quick grass than made it agreeable to farm. In the spring, four years ago, I put in under barley, and when the crop was out scarcely any barley could be seen, so thick and high were the thistles; but the yield of barley was thirty-five bushels to the acre. Just as soon as the crop was secured the plow was started and we plowed deep. Then dragging and rolling followed. The weather was dry. In this condition the land was left till about Sept. 1, when the sulky plow was started around the lot, plowing with two horses at the rate of three acres per day. The plow was set to run about two inches deep; after that we dredged manure and covered to winter. The result was that thistles and quick grass are no longer to be seen in that lot. Of course the operation is needed to perform the operation successfully, although the correspondent who related the foregoing in Rural New York.

A New Name.
Can't you settle that account now, why I mailed you the money long ago."

"Well, I saw in the newspapers that letters containing $60,000 have gone to the dead letter office in the last twelve months. Yours must be among them.
See the government about it!"—Epopee.

A Wind Blower.
A blower has been discovered in South America which is only visible when the wind blows. The shrub belongs to the cactus family and is about three feet high. The shrub is covered with downy reddish hairs in calm weather. These hairs, however, need but a slight breeze to make them stand like arrows of a strong white, which rise and appear as high as noon as the wind increases.—St. Louis Republic.

Seed Wholesalers.
We estimate making fifteen thousand pounds of seed, and need to have a well equipped warehouse with a large quantity of seed, and where the seed can not only be stored but also have it well prepared and packaged.

SHOOTING AT HASKELL.
HASKELL, Tex., Dec. 8.—On yesterday our quiet little town was thrown into a frenzy of excitement by the report of a gun. Hugh Hunt and Tom Potts were quarreling over a game of some kind, when Hunt procured a pistol and threatened to kill Potts. Sheriff W. B. Springer, and his deputy, Wit Springer, appeared on the scene and attempted to arrest Hunt, who got the drop on Anthonay, leveling his pistol on him and delaying arrest, and threatening and attempting to shoot the sheriff, when Springer shot Hunt in the side, inflicting a very serious if not dangerous wound. Hunt is doing well, but may yet die.

D. Egan, an iron worker on the dome of the state house at Topeka, Kan., fell on the morning of Dec. 8, and was immediately killed. He leaves a wife and two children.

John P. Chow, one of Denver's noted pugilists, was shot and instantly killed Dec. 8, by F. E. Marshal, of that city.
The trouble grew out of a quarrel over a fine horse.

Isabel, went into the paddle-box Dec. 6, to oil the wheel when the engineer turned on the steam, bruising him severely

North Carolina, Holloway Wall shot and instantly killed his wife formerly Miss Eva Haynes, then shot her brother, Wyatt Haynes, and wounded as she was disolute, and his wife had left him, which caused the tragedy. Haynes is dangerously wounded.

Six days before Thanksgiving a Kansas man instructed his wife to make a pumpkin pie six feet in diameter and six inches deep, because he had six acres planted in pumpkins and made two to the acre. The pie was made. He ate six pieces. He died six days after eating them.
Haynes' intestines six feet long, and his spleen is #4, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11.

A rather good story is told at the expense of the Travellers in regard to their connection of the North Star ditch.
Some three or four years ago the company sold the right of way across their lands for this canal for $40. Within the past week the Travellers have attempted to buy the North Star ditch, and all there is to the ditch of consequence is the Travellers in this right of way, for $20,000. Business ventures of this sort are what make eastern companies weep and wail while western companies weep and wail.

A man near the mouth of the Gila recently discovered an immense stone containing a number of specimens of old aboriginal pottery.

Mr. W. D. Matthews, of Joshua, Tex., cape.

Aaron, one of the best known citizens of this county, was murdered at his store at Roebuck Landing, Yucca River today. The murderer was a negro named Dennis Magill. The cause of the trouble was a game of craps. The colored people of this vicinity caught Martin and strung him to a limb and riddled him with bullets.

A VICTORIAN MERCHANT DEAD.
VICTORIA, (B. C.) December 8.—James Fell, a well-known merchant of this city, died this morning, aged 70 years. He came to Victoria in 1862 and was a member of the Municipal Council for several terms, being first elected in 1864.
He was Mayor during 1866 and 1867.
His death is deeply regretted. The flags on the City Hall and other public buildings are at half-mast.

A DOUBLE KILLING.
DOUGHERTY, I. T., Dec. 9.—Jess Brown and step-daughter were murdered last night in a brutal manner. Brown lived with his step-daughter in a small cabin on Oil Creek four miles from this place. Last night some unknown parties called him to the door and fired upon him with Winchester; one ball striking his heart, the other his step-daughter in the head, killing both instantaneously.

SHOOTING AT HASKELL.
HASKELL, Tex., Dec. 8.—On yesterday
our quiet little town was thrown into a frenzy of excitement by the report of a
gun. Hugh Hunt and Tom Potts were quarreling over a game of some kind,
when Hunt procured a pistol and threatened to kill Potts. Sheriff W. B. Springer,
and his deputy, Wit Springer, appeared
on the scene and attempted to
arrest Hunt, who got the drop on Anthonay, leveling his pistol on him and delaying arrest, and threatening and attempting to shoot the sheriff, when Springer shot Hunt in the side, inflict-
wound. Hunt is doing well, but may yet die.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Advised from Chung King, by steamer China, which arrived here yesterday, state that the trouble at Tschu Hien arose from the massacre of Chinese Christians at Loeng Tay Tsui by members of the Loo Huy Foo Society during a celebration in honor of the society's patron deity.

After the celebration had lasted several days the brotherhood consulted their gods as to whether it would be safe to plunder the Christians. The response being in the affirmative, the brotherhood made a raid on a number of well-to-do Christian families and carried off a lot of booty.

A few days later they made a fresh attack and massacred over twenty persons, nineteen bodies being counted in the streets and several more are known to have been cut to pieces and thrown into the river. The mission buildings and many others were burned and corporal thrown into the flames. On the following day the brotherhood proceeded to another market town and made an assault on the Christians there. The latter fled, but one of them was killed.

A WEALTHY WOMAN'S FALL.
TACOMA (Wash.) December 8.—Lillie Campbell was arrested and fined in a few weeks. She is 22 years old and 58 inches high. She has a faultless form and a charming address. Her intended husband has lately come of age and will disregard the protests of his family and marry the beautiful midget. He is unusually tall, and as the couple walk along the street the young lady can hold to the end of her lover's coat tail, provided it is a long one.

ANOTHER SMALLPOX DEATH AT YOKOHAMA.
YOKOHAMA, Tex., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Lyons died at the pest house yesterday after a bout of smallpox. Mrs. Lyons kept the boarding house in which the smallpox first broke out. She leaves a husband, a grown daughter and several little children, all of whom are in quarantine.

A NARROW ESCAPE.
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., December 8.—The four-year-old son of Charles Waller, a prominent citizen of Italy, Texas, was playing in the yard of his father's home yesterday morning, when a large eagle descended and bore him away in its talons. Mr. Waller pursued the bird on horseback, and rescued the child in a deep ravine two miles away, where the eagle had alighted. The child was unhurt.

In the case of Juan de Dios Ortega, charged with the murder of W. E. De-vane, at Anton Chico, Justice Aragao, of Las Vegas, held the man without bail till the meeting of the hard grand jury, six months hence.

Last Sunday night between the hours of 12 and 1, thieves broke into the drug store of A. M. Howell, at Socorro, and blew eggs the safe and robbed it of its

He also thinks Roswell will hear the whistle of the iron-horse inside of twelve months. ### OBITUARY.

On the evening of the 18th inst., at the home of Judge H. T. Stone, Little Johnny, the eighteen-months-old son of Mr. Jno. Stone, of spinal meningitis, caused by some kind of poison, which the child had gotten hold of. Little Johnny was loved by all who knew him. He was buried Wednesday. Opening month to our school, Last Monday morning the sporting fraternity of Roswell made up funds to purchase a gift dictionary for the Roswell public school, and turned the money over to Mr. Geo. Ovard, one of the trustees, who purchased the book and presented it to the teacher. This is a good showing for the "gamblers" who are caused by so-called "moral" people, as being a menace to education. Some two or three constituted who were not gamblers, but all were men who claim the name of "sport." This money, was made up in fifteen minutes, and we are told that some sports in town are now anxious to start a fund to purchase a bell for the new school building. Let people see to this, and start the ball to rolling, and if every voter in this place will donate 50 cts. we will soon have a town bell on our new school house. Our "devil," says he will start with a half, now, who will follow suit!

George Ovard on Top.

Last Monday morning our fellow-townsman Geo. T. Ovard, school director, in company with our two school teachers, Mrs. Zimmerman and Miss Stoops, took formal possession of the new Roswell public school building. The contractor refused to surrender the keys, owing to some technicality in the contract, but George Ovard told them that keys he wanted, and keys he was going to have. He got them, and Roswell now has the best equipped public school building in New Mexico. The attendance Monday was about 90 but the rolls call for 110 scholars.

WE DO THINK.

That Henry right will get there all. That the fire frightened everybody. That it was a put-up job on the "old."

That the boys are tough during vacation.

That we will have the best courthouse in New Mexico.

That Skipwith & Keeper's new store is an ornament to Roswell.

That Roswell has the best public school building in the territory.

That the wood pile rampay was a reflection on midnight maulers.

That the sporting men of Roswell deserve credit for the interest taken in our public school.

That the manure set at Skipwith & Keepers would make a good Christmas present for a printer.

A nice present for your Husband, Brother or Friend, is a nice pipe and smoker's set—Zimmerman's Drug Store has them.

Roswell Minstrel Company.

Will exhibit at Well's building, next door to Hotel Pauli, Tuesday night, December 23d, proceeds to be applied to purchasing bell for the new school house.
