GRASPING AVARICE OF MONOPOLIES.

No friend of his race can contemplate without painful emotions those heartless monopolists exhibiting a grasping avarice which has dried up every sentiment of sympathy, and a sordid selfishness which is deaf to the cries of distress. Their sole aim is to realize large dividends without regard to the paramount claims of justice and Christian charity. These trusts and monopolies, like the car of Juggernaut, crush every obstacle that stands in their way. They endeavor, not always, it is alleged, without success, to corrupt our national and state legislatures and municipal councils. They are so intolerant of honest rivalry as to use unlawful means in driving from the market all competing industries. They compel their operatives to work for starving wages, especially in mining districts and factories, where protests have but a feeble echo, and are easily stifled by intimidation.

In many places the corporations are said to have the monopoly of stores of supply, where exorbitant prices are charged for the necessities of life; bills are contracted which the workmen are unable to pay from their scanty wages, and their forced insolvency places them entirely at the mercy of their task masters.

To such Shylocks may well be applied the words of the Apostle: "Go to, now, ye rich men; weep and howl for your miseries which shall come upon you. * * * You have stored up to yourselves wrath against the last days. Behold the hire of the laborers, * * * which by fraud hath been kept back by you, crieth, and the cry of them hath entered into the ears of the God of Sabaoth."

How forcibly this language applies now to our own country, and how earnestly the warning should be heeded by the constituted authorities! The supreme law of the land should be vindicated and enforced, and ample protection should be afforded to legitimate competing corporations as well as to the laboring classes against unscrupulous monopolies.—Cardinal Gibbons in Chicago American.

HE INDICTED PRESIDENT

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Cornelius Harris, the only negro member of the jury which indicted President Davis, of the Confederacy, after the civil war, died here, aged nearly 70 years. He was said to be the only surviving member of that jury.

Harris was a strong democrat, and an admirer of Bryan. After the latter's defeat in 1896, he wrote Bryan a letter telling him not to become discouraged; that the battle was only begun. He received in reply a lengthy letter from the presidential aspirant.

After the war Harris settled in Richmond, and later was elected a justice of the peace in Richmond's famous Jackson ward. He remained there until ten years ago, when he came to Newport News. He opened a barber shop here, and as fast as he earned money he put it into property, and at his death he owned considerable real estate here, as well as in Richmond. He was elected a justice of the peace here four years ago.

An effort was made to oust him on account of the peculiar manner in which he wrote his warrants, going by his own law instead of that of the state. He won out in court, however, and held his office until defeated in election. He was one of the best known negro characters in this section of Virginia.—Newport News special to Washington Post.

SENATOR HOAR'S INCONSISTENCY.

Senator Hoar, who is now one of McKinley's active supporters, has said of the republican policy of imperialism:

"I believe that perseverance in this policy will be the abandonment of the principles upon which our government was founded; that it will change our government into an empire; that our methods of legislation, of diplomacy, of administration must hereafter be those which belong to empires and not those which belong to republics."

Senator Hoar's change of base—so he says—came through the fact of his having been a republican so long that he cannot now leave the party. Although it forces him into the position of an accomplice to the crime of throttling the vital organism of the republic of which he is a citizen, he feels that the republican party owns him, and that he must render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's.

"I believe that perseverance in this policy will be the abandonment of the principles upon which this government was founded." These words convict their author of insincerity to the people of his country, and of the idolatrous worship of a political party, the success of which he admits to be fraught with danger to the republic.

Like the president he desires to elect, he changes his convictions at the dictations of his party and worships where the gods of trusts and plutocrats invite him, without question or protest of why he should render homage to a party whose principles are adverse to his idea of a free government.

President McKinley, whose examples of inverse ratio have been emulated by Senator Hoar, when a senator from Ohio, said:

"Human rights and constitutional privileges must not be forgotten in the race for wealth and commercial supremacy. The government of the people must be by the people and not by a few of the people; it must rest upon the free consent of the governed and all of the governed. Power, it must be remembered, which is secured by oppression or usurpation or by any form of injustice, is soon dethroned. We have no right in law or morals to usurp that which belongs to another, whether it is property or power."

Now Mr. McKinley champions the promulgation of the very dangerous theory he then condemned. However, it remains to be seen whether the voters of this government become a party to the perpetuation of the theory by returning him to the White House another four years, or whether they will let him down for a leader who adheres to the principles of government under the constitution.

STEVENSON ON THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

Imperialism means first a great standing army, for distant provinces cannot be protected and their people held in unwilling submission except by armed force.

The American people are not willingly a military people. It is doubtful whether the army now in service, numbering 100,000 men, can long be maintained by voluntary enlistments. Such an army as an acceptance of the McKinley imperialistic program would necessitate can only be maintained by conscription. The hundreds of thousands of foreign born citizens of the United States who came here that their sons might escape the tax of the best years of their lives, bearing arms under an aristocratic and insolent body of privileged officers, will look askance upon the plan already apparent to transplant this European monstrosity upon our shores. Workingmen will recognize that the trusts and monopolies, at whose dictation the administration has rushed into this imperialistic career, will find use for a great body of troops at home; use which will not be of a sort friendly to the interests of labor, and taxpayers of all kinds will readily appreciate that great armaments are not maintained without heavy revenues, and that the revenues are not drawn from those who profit by the armaments, but fall most heavily upon the workingman, whether he be laborer, mechanic or clerk.

Imperialism will compel us to mingle in all the intrigues of European politics, to maintain a costly and perilous diplomatic service, to enter those entangling alliances which George Washington declared to be one of the chief dangers to be avoided by the republic.

It will stunt and dwarf out manhood among nations, as indeed in its incipency it has already done. When in the history of this republic before this year did we fear to express words of friendship and encouragement for a nation struggling toward freedom? We spoke bravely for the Greeks, for the Poles, for the Irish, for the Cubans, but after having linked our fortunes with those of imperial Britain we are compelled by the heavy hands of the administration to stent and supine while England crushes out the political life of the South African republics. When a republic becomes indifferent to the fate of republican principals in other lands it is time for its citizens to take account of the danger that menaces them.

Under imperialism we declare in the cases of Porto Rico and the Philippines that the complaint of the Declaration of Independence against taxation without representation was an unjust complaint and that the revolution which made this nation independent among the peoples of the earth was a blunder if not a crime.

That is but one illustration of the way imperialism reacts upon the nation given over to it. Subtly and insidiously it undermines the principles of free government.

Just as Lincoln saw that no nation could exist half slave and half free, so clear-sighted men to-day recognize that a republic cannot govern subject people who have no voice in the government and remain a republic. Inevitably it will fall as Rome fell.—Adlai Stevenson in Chicago American.

BRYAN ON ENCOURAGING THE FILIPINOS.

The Filipinos do not need any encouragement from Americans now living. Our whole history has been an encouragement, not only to the Filipinos, but to all who are denied a voice in their own government. If the republicans are prepared to censure all who have used language calculated to make the Filipinos hate foreign domination, let them condemn the speech of Patrick Henry. When he uttered that passionate appeal, "Give me liberty or give me death," he expressed a sentiment which still echoes in the hearts of men.

Let them censure Jefferson; of all the statesmen of history none have used words so offensive to those who would hold their fellows in political bondage. Let them censure Washington, who declared that the colonists must choose between liberty and slavery. Or, if the statute of limitations has run against the sins of Henry and Jefferson and Washington, let them censure Lincoln, whose Gettysburg speech will be quoted in defense of popular government when the present advocates of force and conquest are forgotten.—From Bryan's speech of acceptance at Indianapolis.

If McKinley prosperity has given Kansas the largest wheat crop in her history of agriculture, why has this some prosperity withheld its blessings from King Corn? The Kansas corn crop is 150,000,000 bushels short. There is no getting around the fact that McKinley prosperity has produced the greatest trust crop during the past two years the American people have ever seen, but it is yet a question whether it can control the seasons or not. It rains alike on the just and the unjust, and no combination has ever been able to get a corner on the grasshopper curse in Kansas or the worm that destroys the cotton boll of the South. Neither do the metals of the earth become easier of extraction nor grow in quantity sufficient to burst the rocks, etc., that encase them, nor does the tin composing that famous dinner bucket, or the food it holds, cost less (but much more) since the introduction of this classified fraud of patented prosperity, of which the trusts and their attendant train of plutocrats are the recipients, while the man who carries the bucket is paying for the patent.

COPPER IS GOING TO TAKE A LEAP UPWARD.

New York reports state that things are beginning to look somewhat serious regarding supplies for the home trade in the months to come, and where they are to be obtained, says the Los Angeles Review, in its last letter on copper. It is said that the market may become subject to acute conditions if copper continues to leave the country at the rate it is doing at present. Home consumers want their deliveries prompt, and their requirements may become more imperative later on. As things look at present the flow of copper Europe-ward will not be checked for a long time, and sellers evince no eagerness to take orders for filling earlier than next month. It is believed that from now on to next January will be quite an interesting period for copper.

A New York brass manufacturer is quoted as saying: "There is almost a scarcity of copper at the moment. The outlook for the industry appears to be the best ever known. The demand for electric purposes is very heavy and constantly increasing, and will, I believe, take care of any increase which may occur in the output of the metal. There does not seem to be much prospect however, as few mines will become producers for some time yet."

Mr. John Stanton, of Boston, is also quoted as saying: "I look for a very active winter in the copper trade. Manufacturers are quietly adding to their plants, which indicates that they will want more copper. The export demand continues very heavy, and a great deal more copper will be wanted abroad. There is almost no limit to the ultimate expansion of the electrical industries, which means, of course, an accompanying increase in the demand for copper. The old French syndicate were correct in their predictions of electrical development, but they were in too great a hurry to secure higher prices for copper. I do not wish to see any sensational advance in copper, as that would undoubtedly result in a curtailment of consumption."

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY PRECINCT NUMBER 8.

A democratic primary will be held in the band room, Bank building, at 7:30 p. m., Saturday September 22nd, 1900, for the purpose of selecting 12 delegates to the county convention to be held at Lincoln, N. M. Saturday, September 29th, 1900.

A. RIDGWAY, Committeeman Precinct No. 8.

About the only quotation from the republican platform used by the party craft is: "We favor home rule for and early admission to statehood of the territories of New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma." This is an elaborate discussion of the national platform, and it appeals touchingly to the voting population of New Mexico, who want everything else rather than statehood. The courts are corrupt enough at present, and if home rule such as many of the statehood politicians want should prevail, our judges would be a mongrel of everything in the vocabulary from Alpha to Omega. Too much of Mr. McKinley's dinner bucket inconsistency exists in New Mexico now, and more of it is on exhibition in the anthracite coal regions, where more than 100,000 miners are asking for a sufficient increase in wages to enable them to meet the additional cost of the necessities of life incurred by the approaching winter season. If we had statehood under the present political status we would have to follow the example of North Carolina as a protection against the class of citizenship who would otherwise direct the affairs of state. Let us not be premature in the demand for statehood.

A NEW DISEASE PREVALENT AMONG CATTLE.

The cattlemen around Clayton have noticed a disease spreading among their cattle, and last week applied to the sanitary board for examination and relief. The disease is a peculiar one, causing sores to form on the mouth and udders; also affecting the hoofs and at times causing great pain while walking. The sanitary board, after examining the ailment, called it Epizootic Apthia. It is not fatal, but drags the cattle down in flesh and causes them to go dry, if milch cows. Green feed and laxatives of various kinds, especially salts, are recommended as treatment for afflicted cattle. There is no great danger from the affection, except the cattle may get so weak they may not be able to take care of themselves and get food.—Optic.

GALVESTON RELIEF FUND NOT AS LARGE AS REPORTED.

AUSTIN, TEX. Sept. 16.—Governor Sayers gave out the following:

"Reports sent our from this place by whomsoever may, that eight or nine hundred thousand dollars has already been paid in are absolutely false and made without authority and calculated to do great harm to the needy sufferers along our coast. No such sum of money has been received or anything approaching it. It is believed that the stories have done great harm in that they have prevented the contribution of money which is sorely needed at Galveston."

OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Another good shower Tuesday. The public schools open, Monday, 24.

The South Homestake people are making a mill run this week.

The White Oaks nine will cross bats again with the Alamogordo team—this time at Alamogordo—on the 30th inst.

Miss Ula Gilmore is here ready to begin her duties as first assistant in the public schools which open Monday, the 24th.

A number of people from Capitan were here Sunday to witness the ball game between the White Oaks club and Alamogordo.

Rev. T. L. Adams and family left Tuesday morning via El Paso for the Gila River circuit, to which place he was assigned by the Methodist conference.

Jap Coe was in town Wednesday with a load of fine apples. The apples produced by Mr. Coe show that Lincoln county is second to none as a fruit section.

A Capitan man won $125.00 on the ball game played here Sunday between Alamogordo and White Oaks. He bet his money on the White Oaks team—cinch—give it back.

Isidro Analla, county clerk, and Acasio Gallegos are in the city from Lincoln. The nominating conventions are drawing near and office seekers are becoming interested.

Geo. E. Sligh was in from Nogal yesterday. Mr. Sligh tells us that out of 200 head of horses which he was able to count a few months ago, he has been unable to gather only about 80 head, which he has sold to W. C. McDonald.

W. C. McDonald of the Carrizozo ranch and his range foreman P. M. Johnston were in the burg Tuesday. Mr. Johnston while here made arrangements to move his family to town in order to send his children to school.

When Jim Lee throws away his cap every thing on a line from the pitcher's box over the home plate to the back stop is in danger. Jim took his time Sunday until the last inning when he played the whole Alamogordo nine by himself, fanning three men out as fast as they came to the bat. Rattled—craps—the batters couldn't see'em let alone hit'em.

Mrs. E. W. Parker, who has solicited funds here this week for the Galveston sufferers has reported to the EAGLE $52.75, which show the results of her labors up to Wednesday noon. A number of White Oaks people had sent different amounts to the relief fund before a paper was started here, and there are others who will subscribe whom Mrs. Parker has not yet seen.

BOTH WATER AND GOLD.

The American Placer Co. is meeting with very satisfactory results in the search for water in the Jicarillas. They have reached a depth of 200 feet and have already developed sufficient water for almost any other use than the operation of the immense hydraulic machine they are putting in. They are going to sink the well to 1000 feet of depth no matter what amount of water is developed. Three streams of water have been cut already before reaching 200 feet, also free gold has been taken out at the bottom of the well, which proves that the Jicarilla camp contains gold far below the surface placers.

QUICKLY HEALS.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald or like injury will instantly allay the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not leave a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, pains, swelling and also lameness. Sold at Dr. Paden's

Dr. Paden's Pain Balm and Balm for Burns promptly cured. El Paso, Texas.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Parker visited Capitan Friday.

Dick Shanklin, went to Capitan with W. M. Reily Monday.

Ira O. Wetmore and wife of Capitan, spent Sunday here.

W. M. Reily of Capitan was in White Oaks Monday on business.

A. Schinzing is moving into his new residence on the south side.

Born: To Mr. and Jos. Capuano, Wednesday, the 19th. a 11 pound boy.

T. C. Jacobs and son, Harry Jacobs, were in from the ranch Monday for supplies.

Frank J. Sager and family are now in possession of their residence, and are glad to be at home in White Oaks again.

ALAMOGORDO VS. WHITE OAKS.

The Alamogordo nine reached the city Saturday evening to be ready to cross bats with the local team on the home diamond Sunday, 16th. inst.

At 2 o'clock W. R. Ellis, of Lincoln, who had been selected as umpire, called out "play ball." The visiting team went to the bat, making 4 runs before the side was retired, and it looked like the home team was "up against it." Our boys came to the bat and scored only 1 run, when they again sought the field.

The score for the first inning standing 4 to 1 was a stunner, but the mountain boys did not become discouraged, but started out with the grim determination to retrieve the disastrous first inning, and succeeded so well that the boys from the White Sands received a goose egg in each of the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th innings. The home team was white-washed in the 2nd, but scored once in the 3rd and twice in the 4th; thus tying the score; and in the 5th they made 7 runs, the game standing at the end of the 5th 11 to 4 in favor of White Oaks.

At this time the home team and all the rooters felt confident that Alamogordo could never reach them, but in this they were disappointed; for in the 6th inning the visitors made 7 runs, again tying the score.

Thus twice in the game was the score a tie, but the home team had their 1/2 of the 6th to play to even up the innings, and succeeded in rolling up 4 tallies. Now, again, all felt sure, but the visiting team was equal to another surprise and made 5 scores, now leading the home team by 1. But White Oaks placed 2 scores to her credit at the end of the 7th, which gave them the lead by 1.

Interest in the game at this time was intense, and an error on the part of one nine might easily decide the game in favor of the other. However, the Alamogordo team went to the bat for the 8th time, made 1 score and was retired. The score again was a tie, and again the home folks had their half inning to play to even up the innings, and right nobly did they meet expectations; for four more men were sent around the diamond and over the home plate, leaving Alamogordo in the lurch. The visitors came in for the 9th and last time, and went out in 1, 2, 3 order, White Oaks having won the game by 4 tallies and not playing their last half.

Forester, for the visitors, made a home run, while Stewart and Haley, for home team, each made a home run.

The following shows the position of each player and the number of scores each made:
