ORES, MINES AND MINING.

ALUMINUM WOULD DETHRONE COPPER.

The Market Price of Aluminum is About Equal to Copper at 16 and 17 Cents Per Pound.

Aluminum and copper are competitors in the markets. Aluminum is trying to make an inroad on copper's usefulness in electric appliances, but it has been only partially successful. Aluminum has failed to meet the requirements in standing the stresses of snow, ice and high winds of a northern climate, equal to copper, now being generally used for transmitting. The price of aluminum is given by the mining journals, as about equal to copper at 16 to 17 cents per pound. The total production of aluminum in the world in 1900 was 5,590 metric tons, the United States furnishing about 2,053 tons. The E. and M. Journal of Nov. 9, says:

"The price of aluminum at present is about on a par with that of copper, allowance being made for the respective weights. The aluminum quotations, however, have not been regulated by those of copper, but have been based, as we understand, upon the cost of production. They have shown little change during the past year. There is no competition tending to lower them, but on the other hand it is to the interest of the producers to keep them as low as possible in order to dispose of their output. The main point to be considered, therefore, is to what extent the production can be increased. There is a general indefinite idea prevalent that as aluminum is so abundant and so universal in its occurrence, it ought to be possible to extend the extraction of its metallic base indefinitely. That this is not the case is shown sufficiently without going into details, by the fact that present production is so small, although the best metallurgical skill has been for years concentrated on the problem of separating the metal.

We do not mean to say that cheaper and more expeditious processes of furnishing aluminum may not be discovered hereafter. That is a problem which may be worked out by some investigator to the great benefit of the world—and himself. It has not been done yet, and considering present conditions, we must, we are unable to foresee, continue for the substitution of aluminum for copper or for any other metal on a commercially important scale."

Demand For Copper Enormous.

The condition of the copper market continues unchanged, prices showing no decline, in spite of repeated rumors and predictions of such action. The demand for copper is enormous, and consumption is on a greater scale than ever before in this country. The stock exchange reports of accumulating stocks are not founded on the facts. The depression in business in Europe still continues, and orders received for export continue light. Stocks in manufacturers' hands abroad are extremely small, however, while the so-called visible supplies are to a considerable extent composed of inferior material.

In other metals, trade continues good, with only small changes in price. In most of these metals also, consumption is very large. E. and M. Journal.

Lively at White Oaks.

Chris Yaeger writes from White Oaks to the Herald to say that things are lively in the White Oaks camps. He ships another car of ore to El Paso next week. El Paso Daily Herald.

Klondike Gold Receipts.

One of the heaviest shipments of gold ever recorded from the Klondike region arrived at San Francisco last month from Nome. The gold was valued at $1,250,000.

Non-Metallic Ores of Kansas. Kansas produced in 1900, $12,000,000 in coal, salt, clay and gypsum, of which gypsum contributed $252,000.

The United States produced 27,326 metric tons of copper in 1900. The world's production reached 492,625 metric tons. This gives the United States a little more than 55 per cent of the entire production of the world.

A shortage of the coal supply this winter is certain. The car supply in the anthracite region is hindering a better production.

There is an undiminished activity in the iron and steel markets. Consumption continues extremely large.

Beaumont Oil Falling.

Geologists and scientists and capital have for some time been baffled in the study of the action of the gushers at Beaumont. The flow has become jerky and at times ceases almost entirely. Drillers have noticed the spasmodic flow in a number of new wells in the district and attributed it to gas pockets, thinking the real basin had not yet been reached. This condition has become so very common, however, that oil men and dealers generally are admitting that the volume is decreasing and that the result is due to the numerous wells that have been bored in close proximity and the subsequent decrease in the pressure in the basin of oil. Such conditions have not been met with in other fields, and geologists are at sea when they try to explain these peculiar demonstrations in the wells of the Beaumont district.

It is claimed that the Atlantic sea board coal trade shows a tremendous shortage. The shortage is due to one of the worst car famines experienced in this country for years. A shortage in the coal supply demands a premium of 10 to 25 cents per ton.

A persistent effort is being made by scientists to discover the lost art of tempering copper. It is thought by those who are making a special study of the question that it is now a reasonable certainty.

While there is no special demand for silver, producers say they are having no trouble to dispose of the output, and that there is no accumulation of stocks.

Gold and Silver.

The World's production of gold for 1900 aggregated $257,000,000 in value.

Of this amount $79,171,000, or nearly one-third is credited to our American mines.

Next to the United States as a producer of the yellow metal Australasia, whose total output for the year aggregated $74,260,000.

In the silver mining industry the United States also heads the list.

For the year 1900 the total output of silver in this country aggregated $35,741,000. Mexico came next with an output valued at $35,611,400, only a fraction less.

United States' Copper Production.

The Mineral Industry says: "The production of copper in the United States showed a moderate increase in 1900, the total being 600,832,505 pounds, as compared with 581,319,091 pounds in 1899. There was an unexpected falling off in the output of Michigan and Arizona mines, which with but few exceptions, failed to maintain the productive rate of the previous year. On the other hand, Montana continued to advance, and the output for the year exceeds by nearly 17,000,000 pounds the record figures of 1899. Among the other copper producing states, California and Utah were the most prominent, the former contributing to the total nearly 30,000,000 pounds and the latter over 18,000,000 pounds. The reports of the American copper refiners show a total production for 1900 of 466,092,663 pounds of electrolytic copper, as against 386,410,356 pounds in 1890.

The stock of copper on hand at the end of 1900 was 93,050,230 pounds, as against 88,722,559 pounds at the beginning of the year. These figures include copper in the course of treatment at the electrolytic works, but not the mineral carried at Buffalo by the the Calumet and Hecla company, nor the stock at railroad depots in second hands.

The production of copper in the United States during the past two years, together with consumption, stock on hand, etc., are given as follows in pounds:

Oil in La Luz Canon.

An oil find is reported in La Luz Canon, Otero county. The discovery was made in blasting rock to rip-rap the Sacramento road bed. The little pockets of oil in the rock contained from a spoonful to a half pint. There are two distinct formations. One a black oil similar to that found at Beaumont, the other a bright kerosene. The find as reported by the Otero County Advertiser, is near the old grist mill in La Luz Canon, about three miles from La Luz Station.

THE EAGLE CREEK MINING AND MILLING CO.

A Chicago Syndicate, Represented By J. M. Rice, of Parsons, Buys Several Groups of Claims at Nogal.

George W. Hust of Nogal, called at the EAGLE office Monday and informed the EAGLE that he had just closed out a group of nine claims in the Nogal district to J. M. Rice of Parsons City for the snug consideration of $15,000. The group is situated near the head of Nogal canyon, and three of them are located on the same lead. The assays show gold values of $4.00 to $7.00 per ton average, and the lead is wide and increases in value with depth. He has been steadily engaged in developing these claims for the the past seven months, and good ore values are shown up on each and every one of them. The consideration was spot cash, and was taken in preference to an offer of mill and machinery to develop the property on lease and royalty. The ore is a free milling quartz and can be successfully handled by the ordinary stamp mill.

Mrs. Anderson also sold a group of claims to the same syndicate, receiving a consideration of $6,000. Others whom the EAGLE has had no opportunity to secure their names have sold to the same company and still others are negotiating.

This means a renewed vitality for the Nogal mining district, which the people of that camp so richly deserve, and will be a great inducement for the resumption of work on a number of properties there, which are now idle.

The Nogal district embraces one of the most extensive gold ore deposits in New Mexico, and but for the hard knocks she's had would in all probability have been long ago producing dividends of the yellow metal to extensively invested capital.

Treatment For Scab.

True scab is a familiar disease to sheep raisers in every part of the world. The most prominent symptom is an itchinness of the skin, compelling the sheep to rub, scratch or bite itself whenever possible. It will scratch and kick itself with its hind feet, thus destroying the wool wherever the feet can reach. It will also bite itself, and will become extremely restless, more particularly at night, preventing the animal from resting and making it nervous and irritable.

The treatment of scab is a very simple matter, if taken in the start, before there is much irritation of the skin. The parasite does not penetrate the skin, like those producing mange in the horse and dog. The parasites producing scab in sheep live on the surface, like lice, so most any of the ordinary dips applied to them will come in contact with the parasites and kill them, but may not kill the eggs, which will hatch out in from ten days to two weeks, when the application must be repeated. If the disease has been allowed to become chronic, then there will be scabs formed so that the parasites will get under and not come in contact with the medicine, and they will live on to perpetuate their kind.

In order to treat scab successfully the wool should all be clipped off, so as to expose the skin as much as possible to the air. Like mange in the horse, the diseased animal should be separated from the well and should be well fed to build up the physical strength as quickly as possible, as it is a well known fact that parasitic life lives at the expense of physical life. Build up the physical strength and the body offers greater resistance to parasitic life.

After the animals have been dipped they should not be turned into pastures where they suffered from the disease. The parasite is not long lived, consequently animals kept out of an infected pasture for a couple of months can then be turned in again.—Dr. William McLean, State veterinarian of Oregon, before the Northwest Wool Growers' Association.

The Rothschilds have just purchased a copper mine in Mexico, paying $2,000,000 for it. All told the Rothschilds now employ 27,000 men in their various copper mines.

DON'T DO IT.

It is doubtful, very doubtful, if the naming of the Phillipine Islands for McKinley would add any lustre to his much revered name. Even those who think most of our insular possessions are not quite sure that our management of the Phillipine Islands will ever add prestige to the federal government. In fact our boasted liberty and constitutional prerogatives are being put to shame by a total disregard of their application as regards these and our other acquisitions. According to the late interpretations of our constitution, it does not mean what it did in our earlier history; its former application is now twisted so that it fits only such conditions as are subservient to the interests of a class of American citizenship, who have revised the chart by which the ship of state is navigated so that she sails only in the seas of the money lenders. Who can tell but that when old father time has added twenty-five years more to his cycles that our control of these islands will not drag even the name of William McKinley, with its innocent goodness and manly character, into partial oblivion, forgetting the source from whence the name came in the hatred of rebellious subjects. Don't do it.

ASTRONOMICAL.

There is an astronomical event of importance to take place on the night of the 27th. The rings and moons of Saturn are going to be mixed with the moons of Jupiter in a manner that only occurs centuries apart. A high tide of 7 feet 3 inches is predicted on the Pacific coast at 8 o'clock and 45 minutes, morning.

FROM LINCOLN.

The Grind of the District Court is Slow, Few Cases Tried and Much Work Left Over For Next Term.

Correspondence.

District court is grinding along continuously, but owing to the time consumed in trying the Vega-Leslie civil suit, and in trying the Hall murder case, but few other cases have been tried.

Sisario Pineda was tried and convicted for resisting an officer at Picacho and Bartolo Burreolo for stealing a saddle. These were the only criminal cases tried. The Hall case is now on trial and will go to the jury this evening. There will be but two more days in which to try cases as court must adjourn on Friday in order for Judge McMillan to be at Socorro to open U. S. District court there next Monday. Much business has been disposed of by pleas of guilty, yet we shall have much business left over for next term of the court.

I notice in your last issue a reference to the verdict of the jury in the case of Jose Vega vs. Elisha Leslie, made by your Alto correspondent. I wish to say that your correspondent is mistaken as to facts stated by him. He refers to W. C. McDonald as a party to this suit when in fact, Mr. McDonald had nothing to do with it except as a friend of Mr. Vega. Mr. Vega replevined the cattle on the ground that they were stolen from him by the defendant, Elisha Leslie, and a jury selected by the parties to the suit to try the case, said by their verdict that the cattle were stolen, and were the property of Jose Vega, the plaintiff. Now this ought to satisfy all fair minded people.

Again, your correspondent gives some statement made to him by Mr. Bastion, in which he refers to the persecution of Judges in New Mexico, in speaking of this Vega-Leslie case. Now I will simply say that so far as this applies to judge McMillan, there was not the slightest reason for such a statement as his rulings are made at all times without partiality and with the utmost fairness to all parties.

As for the statement reflecting on Mr. McDonald, or the men in his employ, I will say that they are all too well known for it to affect them in the least.

SHELERVILLE.

Correspondence.

Weather fine and every one happy.

The work on the Ia. N. M. M. and M. Co. property is progressing nicely. They have a force of men drifting east on the lead on the south side of the dike in the Homestake and are taking out some good ore. Are cutting through the dike to the north in same shaft. In cutting through the dike they encountered some good leads which show good values in gold, silver and copper. This company's property here, with depth will show up one of the richest mines in the southwest.

Manager S. S. Doak, who has charge of the Schelerville and Turkey Creek properties of the Ia. & N. M. M. and M. Co., spent two days last week at the Turkey Creek camp looking after the Co.'s business there and reports everything in good shape and that they are getting out some good ore. He also reports the weather a little crispy over there.

Mr. N. O. Rowland of the Hotel De Rowland at Schelerville, made a flying trip to Bonito, Saturday, returning Sunday evening.

Mrs. E. L. Chase of White Oaks made us a short visit, returning Saturday evening with her husband. She is always welcome. Mr. C. is interested in the Ia. & N. M. M. and M. Co.

Mr. John Lamb and Harvey McElvanie, of Nogal are doing the annual assessment work on The Flower Girl, for Geo. E. Sligh and Ed. Homan, the owners. They board at the Hotel De Rowland.

Forest H. Smith, Supt. at Schelerville, is home on a visit to his old home in Mo.

T. L. Harrington and Manager Doak were at Nogal, Sunday.

Rich. Hust, one of our proficient miners, made his usual visit home to his ranch in Nogal canyon, Sunday.

Mr. Ollie Emmerson was a visitor at camp, yesterday.

W. A. McIver, Supt. of the Ia. & N. M. M. and M. Co.'s property at Turkey Creek, is moving to Nogal.

Mr. Walker Hyde, the manager of the Hyde cattle ranch, was a caller yesterday.

CAPITAN NEWS.

Correspondence.

A little thing sometimes produces a great effect, and the people of Capitan and surrounding country are very much worked up over the actions of the grand jury. They made a report against Mr. Lutz because he did not deposit his money in the White Oaks bank. The Court and every good citizen will have to admit that Mr. Lutz has made the best Treasurer and Collector Lincoln County ever had. When I reflect on these questions presented by this grand jury I hesitate not for a moment to believe that the Almighty will finally separate us from White Oaks. Call it what you may—it is the cause of God and humanity. We will go on just the same.

Geo. Ulrich and Jas. Brent were on the streets of Capitan a couple of days last week.

A. C. Austin from Angus was in town today, doing business with our merchants.

Ed C. Pfingsten was in town today shaking hands with his many friends.

J. T. Keogh the friendly representative of Simmons Hardware Co. left Capitan today after selling our merchants a quantity of hardware.

Jesse Rogers from Bonito City came in this morning after officers to go on the head of Bonito Creek, after Col. Strayton, who is wandering around in the woods, a raving maniac.

The Capitan people are jubilant over the prospects of a bank in the near future, as news came from reliable parties. We feel certain that this would help us more than anything else.

FROM ANGUS.

Correspondence.

Rev. B. B. Scroggins, a former resident of the valley, has been visiting his old haunts. He came from Las Cruces. He is a successful apiarist of the Rio Grande valley.

Col. John Strayton, who lives in bear canyon, has become insane; is supposed to have wandered off southward, and a posse of neighbors are out hunting for him. It is feared that he may freeze to death these cold nights. This is the third case of insanity in this vicinity this year.

In the zinc and lead regions of Missouri, many cases of this kind are reported; Statiscians are curious to know if this trouble occurs more frequently in this than other countries. I have thought it might be caused by some subtle mineral gases, or magnetic influence, originating from ore lodes—these mental derangements seem to attack all classes of people alike.

It is rumored that J. M. Rice's company is on the eve of constructing a tunnel 2,200 feet long, or from the Hopewell to the Rio Alto of group mines.

The feathered covey of mines, notably the Bird, Eagle and Turkey, are expected to make a showing of the yellow metal the coming season, that will rival Cripple Creek.

The increasing number of eastern people visiting our section the past few months have been surprised at the fine large pears, peaches and plums they have seen here. Sample of pears sent to Kansas City and Chicago occasioned general comment by all who saw them for their mammoth size, great beauty and exquisite flavor.

John H. Skinner is treeing a large number of our landed people of the county from the Stark Bros. Nurseries. In the course of half a decade our conservative citizens will have a chance to get their eyes opened to the possibilities of these intermountain valleys of the White Mountain range as a fruit region that is unexcelled.

At the Buffalo Exposition a prominent fruit grower of Western New York, when looking at the display from New Mexico, was astonished at the large size, brilliant colors and good fruit, said to the attendant that "we are not afraid of you, but we are afraid of your fruit. We must grow better fruit than we do, if we expect to successfully compete with the fruit of that distant region."

W. A. Taylor, assistant U.S. "pearologist," brought home from Paris a pear weighing 26 ounces. He says the variety is called Belle Angevin, and "it not infrequently attains a weight of two pounds." In dessert quality, this fruit is of low rank, however, and is of but second quality for cooking. He says apples were selling in Paris for 35 cents apiece; they also were of a poor quality. The French have a preference for yellow russet and dull colored apples. Varieties in the American exhibit that attracted the most attention were such as Grime's Golden, Huntsmen Favorite, Yellow Newtown Pippin, Golden Russet, Stark and York Imperial. The English, Germans and Hollanders, were on the contrary more favorably inclined towards the red apple, such as Jonathan, Wine Saps, Ingram, etc. Much of the fruit around Paris is raised under the Cordon and Espaten methods, which gives the fruit high colors.

Report of Supt. Pub. Instruction.

The superintendent of public instruction has made his annual report to Gov. Otero. Out of a total of 59,008 children of school age, 47,700 are enrolled in schools. This report shows 11,308 children of school age not attending school. Still New Mexico has a compulsory school law.

There are 800 schools and 1,000 teachers in the territory. Illiteracy has decreased from 85 per cent in 1870 to 68 per cent in 1880 to about 45 per cent in 1890, and probably 18 or 20 per cent in 1900. Many of the New Mexico cities have erected handsome schools within the year.

Enjoined By Taxpayers.

The treasurer of Chaves county has been enjoined by taxpayers of that county from collecting the 10 and 15 per cent additional taxes levied by the territorial board of equalization. The case was to have been heard at Lincoln before Judge McMillan on the 18th. The decision will establish a precedent, and probably determine whether the board of equalization has any authority to make a blanket raise, such as is being attempted, or not.

Drinking Money.

J. Pierpont Morgan's wine costs him $4.00 per glass. The rector of his church has just reprimanded him for extravagance.

THE ARMY CANTEEN.

General Miles in a recent report commends the law abolishing the army canteen. He explains that the canteen originated from the ordinary reading room and post club, in which light refreshments were served. Later beer was introduced, and then wines, the evolution of which was the modern army canteen.

Referring to the act of congress which prohibited the sale of intoxicating liquors in the canteen, General Miles says: "No injury has resulted therefrom, and the law in the main has been beneficial."

"Since the law was approved Feb. 2, 1901 the recruiting stations have been thronged with men seeking enlistment for the service, 25,944 men having enlisted since that date, and the percentage of desertions is now far less than in former years. Desertions most usually occur during the first six months of enlistment, and a much larger percentage of enlistments has been made during the last six months than heretofore. In many cases the men that have deserted, belong to a class whose presence in the service was not desirable under any conditions, and whose real character was not known at the time of enlistment."

General Miles further declares that anti-canteen regulations have been enforced at West Point and at the National Soldier's home with gratifying results, and he is sure that the present law in its effect upon military garrisons must also be beneficial.

No Politics In It.

Washington, Nov. 14—President Roosevelt today announced that in making civil appointments to the insular possessions he would adhere to the principles of the civil service. He declared this policy to Clinton Rodgers Woodruff of Philadelphia, of the the national civil service reform league.

Woodruff called to see what the president's policy would be.

President Roosevelt in a most emphatic manner told him that absolutely no appointments to the insular possessions would be dictated or controlled by political considerations.

Maclay Will Take It Back.

Edward S. Maclay has given out a statement that he intends expunging that part of his history detrimental to Schley if the court of inquiry vindicates his (Schley's) action at the battle of Santiago. Maclay says: "I am awaiting the decision of the court presided over by Admiral Dewey before putting out a revised edition of my history. If the court exonerates Schley and clears him of all discredit I will expunge all that portion of the third volume which is detrimental to Schley."

JUSTICE COURT.

Ignacio Gonzalez and son, Nicolas, of Jicarilla, were brought before Judge Collier here last week on a charge of the theft of clothing from a stranger passing through Jicarilla. The strangers' evidence was to the effect that the defendants entered his camp in his absence and took several articles of clothing. When arrested, a vest identified as the stranger's was found on the boy Nicolas, Nicolas claiming that he had found it, and so testifying in court. Judge Collier bound them jointly in the sum of $250 to appear before the grand jury, then in session at Lincoln. The EAGLE has not learned the result before that body.

Our Apple Crop.

In recent years our apple crop has become one of the leading industries in this country, and the great national fruit is more generally distributed throughout all parts of the country than anything else raised on the farms. The apple, or some varieties of it, succeeds in nearly every state. Even California, with its tropical soil and climate, has become a leading apple producing state, while Washington and Oregon promise to outrival the Eastern New England States in this respect.

There are two things essential for the success of this industry. One is to see that the distribution is general and wisely made, and the other is to cultivate the orchards so that fair crops can be depended upon every season. We cannot afford to raise big crops of apples one year and almost nothing the next. There is no reason to accept the old idea that after a full crop year of apples the next year will be an off year. It will be a poor year following a good year if we permit the trees to exhaust their vitality in ripening a larger crop than they can profitably produce. The remedy for this is in the pruning and thinning. The trees that set an abundance of fruit should be carefully looked after. Prune them off to a fair number, and then the apples will be larger, much better and far more profitable than a load of inferior fruits. Besides that, the pruned tree does not use up its vitality. It ripens up the crop thoroughly and stores up strength for another year. There are not off years in such trees. It is exhaustion of vitality that produces a poor crop after a year of good harvests. The trees should also be nourished and cultivated, and especially be protected from insects and diseases. But these latter are more often the results of bad management than anything else. The trees get run down in vitality, and they become easy targets for enemies. Keep the trees up to a high state of efficiency, and then never rob them of their vitality by greedily trying to get more from them than nature intended. It is better to split the big crop into two seasons than to have it all one year and nothing the next. If divided into two crops the apples will be larger and more profitable.

The distribution of apples must be more general. The export trade must be encouraged, and growers as well as shippers should co-operate in this. The Pacific coast apple states should build up a trade with the Far East. There is no doubt but this fruit could be profitably introduced in the Oriental countries. The natives there would pay double for an apple that they would for a tropical fruit raised at home. It is the novelty of a new and strange fruit. There are opportunities in this direction that may in the next few years prove very remunerative to the Far Western apple growers. Certainly the markets are worth trying for.—S. W. Chambers, in Massachusetts Ploughman.

The Carnival.

El Paso is preparing for another great Mid-winter Carnival to be given January 14, 15, 16, 17, and 18, 1902. This will be the second annual event, and will be the greatest entertainment ever given in the southwest.

The "sunshine in January" that so delighted the thousands of visitors in El Paso last year will take thousands more there and the coming event is expected to surpass anything ever given in the southwest, you can get a glimpse of Mexico at El Paso and this, with the Mexican bull fights, is something that other cities can not afford. To see the ancient city of Juarez Mexico is worth the expense of the trip and since the railroads have promised a very low rate from everywhere thousands will attend, there will be a miners' convention, medical and teachers' conventions, the largest cattle exhibition ever given in Texas, besides the regular program.

El Paso is a famous town and has become famous as an entertainer and at the coming Mid-Winter-Carnival the border metropolis promises the most extravagant free show, fiesta and general jubilee ever seen between New Orleans and Los Angeles. The Carnival association is now preparing the program, which will be published soon.
