RECORD OF CONGRESS ON BILLS THAT WERE DISCUSSED AT THIS SESSION.

The first session of the Fifty-seventh Congress was a billion-dollar session, the total appropriations footing up to nearly that sum. The most important measure of general importance which failed of action is the Cuban reciprocity bill. Following is a list of the more important bills which passed, in addition to regular appropriation bills:

Bills Which Have Become Laws.

Isthmian canal.	Permanent Census Bureau.
War tax repeal.	Oleomargarine.
Chinese Exclusion.	Cuban diplomatic.
Philippine tariff.	Irrigation.
Bank charter extension.	$200,000 for Martinique relief.

Bills That Failed of Passage.

Bills which failed to become laws include the following, several of which may receive favorable action at the next session of Congress:

Ship subsidy.	Immigration.
Anti-anarchy.	Labor conspiracy.
Omnibus Statehood.	Department of commerce.
Southern forest reserve.	Pure food.
Marine hospital service.	Fowler currency.
Popular election Senators.	Hill silver coinage.
Army reorganization.	Anti-trust.
Babcock low tariff.	Bankruptcy law changes.
Revenue cutter.

Cleveland And Bryan.

From the Boswell Record.

A week or two ago one Grover Cleveland, some time president of the United States, a resident of New York, and a skilled fisherman, attended a democratic love feast and read himself back into the party, taking pains at the same time to get in a few digs at one William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, twice candidate for president and now editor of a newspaper in Lincoln. Thereupon the said Bryan proceeded to remove the hide from the said Cleveland and hang it on the fence, whence it was taken by one Henry Waterson of Louisville, which is in the state of whiskey and blue grass, and when the said Waterson returned the pelt it was beautifully tanned.

All of which is interesting, but rather of a bore, of which the country tires. The democratic party is bigger than any two men on top of earth, and the rank and file, while they may have their sympathies, are grown tired of hearing the fuss. There is nothing to warrant the importance that is given these men. Waterson is a burned-out political volcano. Cleveland is interesting as a monumental hog, who was never really a democrat at all, but who, when elected by the party, insulted and betrayed it, laughed at the constitution, and sold his soul to the power of Wall street. That he did not include his country in the sale was simply owing to the fact that it was too big to deliver. His whole executive career was a reproach to the republic and a deep insult to the party of Jefferson, Jones and a million other honest men. When some one else was nominated he had not the manhood to accept the will of the majority, in convention expressed, and did all that he could to elect the candidate of the republicans. Taking all his public life from his election as constable in Buffalo to his being palmed off as a gold brick on the democrats and the country, he never did one noble, patriotic or democratic thing. Intolerant, dictatorial, querulous, he ruled with a rod of iron, and when his rule ended delivered the keys of the citadel to the enemy. That is Grover Cleveland, and that any democrat in the possession of his senses, should wish such a political beast back in the party is beyond understanding. Bryan is infinitely the greater man. While he is nine parts wind to one of music, he is undeniably honest, and assuredly patriotic. No one can blame him for skidding Mr. Cleveland after the banquet in question, but the papers of the country have given too much space to that interesting operation. It is giving too much prominence to a corpse. Mr. Bryan practically forced upon the party an issue, that, while great, was insignificant compared to others, and it was the issue of silver that defeated our party at the polls the last two presidential elections. In the light of his accomplishments, Mr. Bryan is a beautiful mirage. He led us on over sunlit plains to a beautiful city. The plains turned out to be a mud flat and the city proved a slaughter house. It was no fault of his, perhaps, but in the light of history Mr. Bryan should go way back and sit down. He is a has-been the same as Cleveland, the only difference being that Bryan has always been an honest man and Cleveland never was.

Mr. Bryan is doing a great and useful work for his party, while on the contrary Mr. Cleveland has always worked the party and not worked for it. That difference is fairly illustrative of the two men.

The time has come when there should cease to be either "Cleveland democrats" or "Bryan democrats." Both have been weighed in the balance and found wanting—one through no fault of his and the other because he sold his kingdom to the Medes and the Persians. The effect was the same in either case.

It is time that the party cast aside the leadership of tried failures, such as Cleveland, Bryan and Hill and returned to the lead of the majority, which is the intent and meaning of real democracy. When the time comes to choose a leader for the presidential fray, there is plenty of good timber to choose from, such as Richardson of Tennessee, Bailey of Texas, Harrison of Illinois, Gorman of Maryland, or any one of a dozen others who are too modest and too democratic to believe that the whole party should sneeze every time they catch cold or applaud when they scalp each other. With any of these men, and the issue of trusts, the tariff and militarism, there will be a democratic victory in 1904 such as the country never knew. The people are beginning to see the bloodstains on their hands, to realize that the many are being taxed for the few, and that the trusts must be suppressed if liberty lives. Every day they are growing stronger in the faith and when the time comes they will show it by their votes. In the meantime give us a test both as to Bryan and Cleveland and talk to us of real democracy, that existed long before the star of either rose above the political horizon, and which will live to bless humanity and the nation after they are dead, gone and forgotten.

CHARGES AGAINST McMILLAN.

The New York Herald says: Judge Daniel H. McMillan, of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, formerly one of the best known State Senators of New York and for years a prominent resident of Buffalo, will this week answer charges which have been filed against him in the Department of Justice. He came all the way from New Mexico to disprove the charges, has been in Washington for a week, and left this afternoon for Buffalo to attend the wedding of his son, Ross McMillan.

These charges are directed at Judge McMillan's morality. They have been filed, with numerous affidavits, by persons whom Judge McMillan says he does not know.

Judge McMillan went to New Mexico more than three years ago for the benefit of his health. He had been there about a year when he became a candidate for appointment to the Supreme Bench. There was considerable opposition to him on the ground that he was a "carpet bagger," but he was appointed by President McKinley.

Still in the land-of-the-living.

Good rains have greatly cheered the disposition of farmers throughout this section—Good crops are now assured.

Indians, from the Apache reservation are a source of great annoyance to the stockmen of this locality. They raid the settlements at night and drive stock onto the reservation, then take them to the Agency where the Indian agent allows them a dollar per head for gathering them, the agent being willing to believe them found inside the reservation boundaries. This practice has reached the point where it is working a hardship on our people and should the agent fail to try to remedy the matter it must sooner or later result in serious trouble with the Indians.

Star Route Mail Service

Notice is hereby given to the public that the contracts in effect July 1, 1902, for the performance of mail service on the star routes in the States and Territories hereinafter named provided that in addition to carrying the mails to the various post offices, the carrier will be required to deliver mail into all boxes and hang small bags or satchels containing mail on cranes or posts that may be erected along the line of the route, under the following regulations of the Department:

Any person living on or near the route and not within the corporate limits of any town or within 80 rods of any post office, who desires his mail deposited at a given point on the line of the route by the carrier may provide and erect a suitable box or crane on the roadside, located in such manner as to be reached as conveniently as practicable by the carrier without dismounting from the vehicle or horse, and such person shall file with the postmaster at the post office to which his mail is addressed (which shall be one of the two post offices on the route on either side of and next to the box or crane) a request in writing for the delivery of his mail to the carrier for deposit at the designated point, at the risk of the addressee. The small bag or satchel described above, as well as the box or crane, must be provided by the person for whose use it is intended without expense to the Department.

It shall be the duty of the postmaster at every such post office, upon a written order from any person living on or near the route, to deliver to the mail carrier for that route any mail matter—placing in the respective satchels, where such are used, the mail for the persons to whom the satchels belong—with instructions as to the proper mail box or crane at which said mail matter shall be deposited; but registered mail shall not be so delivered, unless expressly requested by the addressee in his written order. No mail matter so delivered to the carrier shall be carried past another post office on the route before being deposited into a mail box or hung on a crane or post.

The carrier on the route will be required to receive from any postmaster on the route any mail matter or private mail satchel that may be entrusted to him outside of the usual mail bag, and shall carry such mail matter or private mail satchel to and deposit it into the proper mail box or hang it on the proper mail crane placed on the line of the route for this purpose; such service by the carrier to be without charge to the addressee.

The mail carriers must be of good character and of sufficient intelligence to properly handle and deposit the mail along the route.

The Department does not prescribe any particular design of box or satchel to be used for this service, but the person providing either should see that it is of such character as to afford ample protection to his mail. If there is a lock attached to the box, a key is not to be held by the carrier, as he is expected to deposit the mail without the necessity of unlocking the box. The box or crane should be so located on the roadside that the carrier can deposit the mail without leaving his vehicle or horse, and yet not where it will obstruct public travel.

The carrier is not required to collect mail from the boxes, but there is no objection to his doing so if it does not interfere with his making the schedule time. The law provides that every carrier of the mail shall receive any mail matter presented to him if properly prepaid by stamps, and deliver the same for mailing at the next post office at which he arrives, but that no fees shall be allowed him therefor.

The box delivery above described is required by the contracts effective July 1, 1902, on all the star routes (with but few exceptions) in Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, California, Alaska and Hawaii.

CURRY RESIGNS.

As Chief of Police of Manila Will Go Into the Mercantile Business.

From the Albuquerque Citizen.

It will be seen from the following clipping taken from the Manila Daily Freedom that Captain George Curry, formerly a well known politician of the southern section of the territory, has resigned his position as chief of police of Manila, for the purpose of going into mercantile pursuits. Business condition must be good in the Camarines, as Chief Curry received $5,000 per annum.

"Chief of Police Curry yesterday tendered his resignation, and the same will take effect from the first of July. Captain Curry intends to go into business in the Camarines on relinquishing command of the city police department and will assume the management of the Camarines Mercantile company. He will go in a few days for a short trip to Camarines, having been granted leave of absence by the municipal board, and while there will make arrangements for the erection of buildings for the new company. Captain Curry was previously governor of the Camarines and is fully impressed with the commercial possibilities afforded in that section of the archipelago."

Indiana furnishes a unique breach of promise case. A young woman betrothed to a young man of means, who died prior to the date fixed for the marriage, sued the estate for breach of promise of marriage, claiming $7,000 damage. The jury reappraised her disappointment and allowed her $6,000.

MURDER AT CLOUDCROFT.

A murder occurred at Cloudcroft sometime Thursday night. Arthur McIntosh, the negro porter at the Lodge, was found in the road Friday morning laying dead with his head split open, presumably by an ax or some similar weapon. The dispatches to the authorities here at Alamogordo Friday morning stated that the party who did the killing was unknown.

Special officer Billy Smith immediately left for Cloudcroft on the special train to make any necessary arrests in the case.

The body of McIntosh was brought down to Alamogordo Friday evening. He had been in the employ of the railroad company for some time, formerly being employed before the completion of the extension to serve lunches on the train between here and El Paso and was well thought of. — Otero County Advertiser.

THE NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

Time has demonstrated that the Thrice-a-Week World stands alone in its class. Other papers have imitated its form but not its success. This is because it tells all the news all the time and tells it impartially, whether that news be political or otherwise. It is in fact almost a daily at the price of a weekly and you cannot afford to be without it.

In addition to news, it publishes first-class serial stories and other features suited to the home and fireside.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and WHITE OAKS EAGLE one year for $2.00.

THE COMMONER.

[Mr. BRYAN'S PAPER.]

The Commoner has attained within six months from date of the first issue a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic, and social problems. To the columns of The Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his reviews of political events as they arise from time to time can not fail to interest those who study public questions.

The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and WHITE OAKS EAGLE together for one year for $2.00. The regular subscriptions price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $2.50.

Reports of the Marine Hospital service states that there are over twelve thousand cases of smallpox in the United States, as compared with the 4,395 at the same period in 1901. The number of deaths was respectively 290 and 55.

In the twenty odd palaces of the German Emperor some 3,500 servants are employed, about 2,000 of these being women. A huge income is, of course, required for keeping up establishments on this scale, and the Emperor's total expenditure is estimated at $250,000 a day.

LITTLEFIELD'S TRUST REMEDY.

Mr. Littlefield of Maine interrupted Congressman Ball of Texas to ask, "What is the democratic remedy for trusts?" Mr. Ball at once replied: "To place all trust-made articles on the free list; to deny trusts the power of interstate transportation and the use of the mails, and to inaugurate an administration which will resort to penal statutes and not to injunctions in the prosecution of trusts." The press dispatches do not report what Mr. Littlefield thought of the reply, but it is to be hoped that he will be as free to commend the democratic remedy for the trusts as he has been to condemn the attitude of the republican party on the colonial question. Mr. Ball condensed into a sentence the anti-trust plank of the Kansas City platform. That platform criticised the republican administration for not enforcing existing laws and then advocated the free list for trust-made articles and urged a federal statute denying to monopolies the privileges of interstate commerce. These remedies cover the entire ground and yet the republicans, while pretending to oppose trusts, refuse to apply these remedies or to suggest others. Mr. Littlefield ought to profit by the information received.—The Commoner.

What was called the billion dollar Congress was not in it with the one just closed in which $800,000,000 were appropriated.

History Made And Unmade.

Philadelphia American.

Reference to official reports of the capture of Manila reveals the significance of Admiral Dewey's remarkable testimony before the Philippines committee. Admiral Dewey testified that the Governor General of Manila virtually surrendered to him on the first day of May, immediately after the destruction of the Spanish fleet, but he refused to occupy the city until he should have troops enough to hold it and preserve order.

Manila was "taken" by General Merritt on August 13 with a loss in Anderson's and Greene's brigades of 35 killed and 169 wounded, according to official reports. The Filipinos who took part in the assault were not permitted to enter the city for reasons which appear in Admiral Dewey's testimony. The Admiral's words are these:

"The Spanish authorities were very fearful about that. The Governor General arranged that he would surrender the city to me. I was to make signal demanding surrender, and he would hoist the white flag. I said: 'If you are going to surrender, why must I fire a shot?' He said that his honor commanded that. So that I had to fire and kill a few people. The Spaniards did not fire a shot. They had 15,000 troops in the city, and forty-seven rifled guns on the city front, but they did not fire a single shot."

Without doubt the Admiral meant to say only that the Spaniards did not fire a shot at the American ships. They did fire at the troops, and more than 200 American soldiers were shot to "save the face" of a Spanish officer who had surrendered three months before and did not want the world to know it.

The official reports, read in the light of Dewey's revelations, show that the secret arrangement for surrender after a sham fight was unknown to the Filipino insurgents, and that their ardor for a battle caused partial miscarriage of plans and loss of life. The business of saving the alleged honor of a Spaniard began on August 7 with a pretended notification of bombardment. General Greene says in his report:

"After that date not a shot was fired on either side until the assault was made on August 13. It was with great difficulty, and in some cases not without force, that the insurgents were restrained from opening fire and thus drawing the fire of the Spaniards during this period."

When the prearranged farce of an assault was played the insurgents proved troublesome, and persisted in making a genuine fight. They fired on the Spaniards after the white flag had been raised as arranged, and in returning their fire the Spaniards accidentally hit some California soldiers. They pushed into the city at one point, and General turned his forces against them. He says: "Feeling satisfied that there would be no attack from the Spanish troops lining the walls, I put the regiments in motion toward the bridges, brushing aside a considerable force of insurgents who were in the main street with their flag expecting to march into the walled city and plant it on the walls."

All the reports show clearly that American commanders knew there would be no genuine resistance by the Spanish, and that their efforts were directed chiefly to keeping the insurgents out of the affair. An Idaho battalion was sent to prevent the insurgents from getting to the front at a bridge. General MacArthur says: "Several hours before the operations of the day were intended to commence there was considerable desultory firing from the Spanish line, both of cannon and small arms, provoked, no doubt, by Filipino soldiers, who insisted upon maintaining a general fusillade along their lines."

But General MacArthur has sworn that he knew nothing about any arrangement for the surrender of the city. He and the Filipinos were equally in the dark, and evidently the American soldiers who were killed and wounded in the assault did not know that they were sacrificed to the "honor" of a Spanish poltroon.

Admiral Dewey testifies that he communicated the plan to General Merritt. He says:

"It was fully understood among my squadron that there was to be no resistance by the city, and I supposed until later that it was known in the army."

Heretofore any one who has ventured to hint that the "glorious feat of arms" performed by General Merritt at Manila was a glorious fake has been howled down for a "traitor," a "defamer of the army," an infamous slanderer of heroes." Now that the blunt old sailor has blurted out the truth, some history will have to be rewritten, and General Wesley Merritt may find it difficult to explain satisfactorily why the army did not know it was going into a sham battle, and why American soldiers' lives were less valuable than the "honor" of a false pretender in Spanish uniform.

When a trust injoins a public official against the exercise of a public duty which is damaging to trust interests, action in the matter is tied up, the injunction is a stay, but when the trust is injoined the court order is only so much hot air.

Last Thursday Wm. Kilpatrick, Grand Chancellor, Order Knights of Pythias of New Mexico, instituted a new lodge at Nogal with the following list of charter members:

 Col. G. W. Prichard and wife left this week for Southern California. He goes for a much needed rest from long continued court work, and to try the ocean climate of Santa Monica. Mrs. Prichard will visit her mother in Los Angeles. The Colonel says the report that he is to move to Socorro grew out of a statement of his that he would probably pass the most of the coming winter there. He regards the Socorro water the finest in the territory, but he has too much interest in Baxter mountain to leave White Oaks for the present.

"The Best is the Cheapest."

Not how cheap, but how good, is the question.

The TWICE-A-WEEK REPUBLIC is not as cheap as are some so-called newspapers. But it is as cheap as it is possible to sell a first-class newspaper. It prints all the news that is worth printing. If you read it all the year round, you are posted on all the important and interesting affairs of the world. It is the best and most reliable newspaper that money and brains can produce—and those should be the distinguishing traits of the newspaper that is designed to be read by all members of the family.

Subscription price, $1 a year. Any newsdealer, newspaper or postmaster will receive your subscription, or you may mail it direct to THE REPUBLIC, St. Louis, Mo.

Counting The Stars.

Two clerks at the observatory are essaying the extraordinary task of counting the stars. They are attempting in all seriousness a feat which has always been used satirically to typify the impossible. So far they have counted 212,507 stars, which, if astronomical calculations be correct is about one-fifteenth of the total number to be found in the firmament.

The method of the tabulation is a new evidence of the far reaching scientific possibilities of photography. The enumerators do not sit out in the starlight and strive to count the infinitesimal spots of light outlined against the blue background. Instead, they have made a great photographic chart of the heavens. This chart consists of a number of plates exposed at different times in order to get all the planets and heavenly bodies.

After the entire chart was complete the two astronomers began the work of counting with the aid of microscopes. It is estimated that before the task is completed, some three years must elapse, for to insure accuracy the greatest care must be exercised, and any attempt at speed is out of the question.

More than a dozen lines of steamers run from New York to Europe, all but one of which fly foreign flags. The one American line is said not to be a financial success.

Mr. Bryan's Conditioner seems to be prospering, as the announcement is made in this week's issue that 4 pages will be added beginning with July 11, making a 16 page paper.

Most Inhuman Cruelty.

A horrible deed of cruelty took place Tuesday afternoon near the corner of Twelfth street and New York avenue. The wife of Capuano, an Italian shoemaker, and a Mrs. Coulter who was stopping with her, deliberately wrapped a little dog that had been annoying them, with cotton rags, applied a match, and in this manner slowly tortured the little animal to death. A railroad man who saw the whole performance said he did not realize what they were doing until it was too late to prevent the inhuman deed. Chief of Police Stone arrested both women and they were taken before Justice Phillips Tuesday on the charge of cruelty to animals, who assessed the costs to them. The decision is generally deemed rather lenient for such extreme cruelty.—Otero Co. Advertiser.

Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage has accepted the presidency of the United States Trust Company of New York City and will assume office April 1. The institution was organized in 1853, has a capital of $2,000,000 and a surplus of $11,432,995.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

One (1) Star Well drilling machine and all drills, bits, belts, cables and tools belonging to said well drilling outfit:

And notice is further, hereby, given that I will on Thursday, the 7th day of August, 1902, at the hour of 11 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the well of the defendant near the head of Ancho Gulch, in the Jicarilla mountains in Lincoln County, New Mexico, offer for sale at public vendue and sell to highest bidder for cash the said goods and chattels so levied upon, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said execution and costs of sale.

The amount which will be due on said execution on the day of sale is $301.77 and the costs of this execution and sale.

Sheriff.

Twenty Thousand Locomotives.
The Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia celebrated their seventieth anniversary and the completion of their twenty thousandth locomotive February 27. Mr Baldwin built the first practical locomotive engine in America in 1832. The works now cover sixteen acres of ground 11,000 men are employed and the capacity of the plant is five complete locomotives a day for 300 days in the year.

Chicago, which first introduced "sky scrapers" to the country, has not lost its ambitions in the building line. A permit has just been issued for a projected building, which, it is claimed, will be the largest office building in the world. It is to be built by the First National bank, corner of Dearborn and Monroe streets, will cost $3,000,000 and will house 9,000 people.

A patriotic association has purchased the house in Philadelphia, in which the first American flag was made by Betsy Ross. The purchase price was $25,150 and the amount was raised by individual subscriptions of ten cents.
