DEMOCRATIC RESOLUTIONS.

Want Omnibus Statehood Bill Amended by the Senate.

At the meeting of the New Mexico democratic central committee, last Saturday, Aug 2, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, at the non-partisan statehood convention, held at Albuquerque on the 16th day of October, 1901, it was among other things,

Resolved, That it is the sense of the convention that the enabling act of this territory shall provide for a constitutional guarantee of minority representation of election boards, and

Whereas, The bill introduced in the house of representatives by Hon. B. S. Rodey on the 2nd day of December, 1901, contained, in pursuance of the action of said convention, the following provision:

"Fifth—That the constitution of the proposed state shall contain a guarantee of minority representation on election boards, provide for a system of uniform and equal taxation of all property in the state, and that personal property shall be taxed in the county where located, and for a reasonable limitation upon the rate of taxation," and

Whereas, The provision last quoted is omitted from the so-called omnibus bill which has passed the house of representatives and is now pending before the senate committee on territories, and

Whereas, The omission of this provision from the said so-called omnibus bill is an obvious breach of the agreement entered into by the authorized representatives of each political party at the said statehood convention; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that the passage of the omnibus bill in its present form without the restoration of the omitted provision above referred to, will be destructive of every hope of fair elections, and will result in intolerable conditions.

Resolve, That it is the sense of this committee that the representatives of the democratic party, when in convention assembled, should request democratic members of the senate of the United States, when the omnibus statehood bill come before that body for consideration of the said bill in so far as it affects New Mexico, by the restoration of the omitted provision, or the insertion of a provision of similar import.

IMPORTANT RULING.

Collector Garrett Notified of the Solution of a Knotty Problem in Collection of Mexican Duties.

Collector Pat Garrett has been notified by the treasury department that a decision has been recently rendered by Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, which made free of duty articles purchased abroad, to the value of $100, by tourists from the United States, under the provisions of paragraph 697 of the act of 1897.

The matter was brought to the attention of the secretary of the treasury, by the application of A. G. Hancock of Washington, for the refunding of duty of $2.40 assessed and collected by the collector of customs at Eagle Pass when Mr. Hancock was returning from a trip to Mexico. The articles held in question were some drawn work handkerchiefs, which Mr. Hancock had purchased as presents for some of his lady friends. These were held to be dutiable by the Eagle Pass official. The ruling was sustained because they were not for use of Mr. Hancock.

The regulations provide for an exemption from duty of all wearing apparel, articles of personal adornment, toilet articles or similar personal effects, not exceeding $100 in value for the personal use of the tourist.

ALL ARTICLES FREE.

The decision of the secretary now is that under a recent construction of the law, it seems to be the intention to allow American tourists to bring with them on their return $100 worth of foreign purchased articles, for the "personal use of the passenger."

The secretary therefore holds that articles so purchased abroad are not strictly confined to those in the nature of wearing apparel, articles of personal adornment, toilet articles and personal effects, but must be for personal use. But professional implements, tools of trade, etc., are free only when brought by persons immigrating to the United States, and household effects, to be free, must have been in use for a period of a year or more. The decision is of great importance to this port, as the collector has constantly had to deal with questions of the same nature.—Alamogordo News.

Roosevelt and the Trusts.

Talk is cheap. As President Roosevelt says:

"Words are good if they are backed up by deeds, and only so."

And that well stated truth applies to Mr. Roosevelt, summer trust hunter, with no less force than to his trust-owned party when it talks about depriving monopoly of the shelter of the tariff.

How about the FOOD TRUST, for example?

Though the whole country called for a removal of the tariff duties which shelter the worst monopolies from competition, there was no response from President Roosevelt, and the Republican Congress strangled the bills, introduced by Democrats, that, if passed, would have at once relieved the American people from the Food Trust's robbery.—N. Y. American.

A VOICE FROM IOWA.

The republicans of Iowa are pulling the hoodwink from their eyes.

The most important happening in politics recently was the action of the Iowa republican convention held at Des Moines, July 31. That convention under the leadership of Governor Cummins and against the united protest of two cabinet officers from Iowa, the United States senators, and the members of the lower house broke away from the old time republican doctrine and declared in effect for tariff revision. The convention went a bit farther and asserted that the people's sovereignty over corporations and aggregations of wealth could not properly be disputed.

The Iowa platform declines to regard the Dingley tariff as a sacred thing.

"We favor any modification of the tariff schedules that may be required to prevent their affording shelter to monopoly," say the resolutions, which also declare for legal action to curb the trusts. And further: "We favor such amendment of the Interstate Commerce act as will more fully carry out its prohibition of discriminations in rate-making." All good democratic doctrine.

Edward VII and Alexandra
Crowned King and Queen of the British Empire.

London, Aug. 9.—Edward VII, R. I. by the grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the British dominions beyond the seas, king, defender of the faith, emperor of India, was today crowned without hitch or harm and to night London is noisily celebrating the event for which the world has awaited as perhaps it never awaited any other coronation.

In all respects the coronation was impressive and it was carried out with a perfection and lack of accidents that rarely characterized similar displays.

At break of day this morning the ceremonies began with a salute of twenty-one cannon shots, and almost at the same time the church bells throughout London began ringing. Before the rising sun had peeped over the house tops the thoroughfares in the vicinity of the abbey and along the route of the royal procession were packed with people. Men, women and children swarmed like bees and progress through the streets was utterly impossible. Persons who previously had engaged windows and other places of vantage from which to view the pageant were unable to reach them, while boys and men clung tenaciously to a square foot or two of space they had occupied for hours and in many instances all night. Withal, it was an orderly mass, as English crowds usually are. The good nature of the people undoubtedly was responsible in a great measure for the excellent behavior and lack of disturbance than was the presence along the route of the hundreds of metropolitan police, reinforced by regular troops.

The ceremony of the crowning took place in Westminster Abbey. It began at 11:30 a. m. and lasted until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The ceremony was conducted in strict accordance with all the religious forms and ancient rites. The king looked rather paler than when he arrived from Cowes, but withal he stood the ceremony extremely well, in fact much better than was expected.

There were over 7,000 people within the walls of the abbey and the magnificent uniforms of colonial representatives, the picturesque garb of the Indian princess, the gorgeous robes, chains and jewels of the dignitaries of state, the bright uniforms of the army and naval officers, the regalia of the bishops, the velvet knee breeches, white hose and buckled shoes of the privy councillors, and the brilliant toilets of the ladies, combined to perfect an ensemble that was overpowering in its majesty and sublimity.

A year ago representative Babcock, of Wisconsin, wrote an exposition of his views on the tariff, in which he asserted boldly "that, if congress maintains a tariff on articles of export produced in this country and sells cheaper than any other nation in the world, the whole theory of protection falls to the ground, and it simply inures to the benefit of those who may secure the control of any such commodity, since by its aid they can fix exorbitant prices in the domestic market."

Mr. Babcock was then pressing a free steel and iron bill, which was aimed directly at the Steel Trust. Recently this same Mr. Babcock has been placed at the head of the republican congressional campaign committee, and was compelled to make a full and abject recantation of this political heresy. He now telegraphs all over the country that the tariff has nothing to do with trusts, and that it is truly a beneficent thing, if it enables American manufacturers to keep up prices at home while selling cheaper abroad. He forgets the popular phrase to which he gave currency "It is part of the policy of protection to protect the consumer," and that significant statement of president Haver-meyer of the sugar trust "that the tariff was the mother of the trusts."

A Negro Clergyman, Rev. W. W. Lucas by name, recently delivered an interesting Sermon at Macon, Ga. In this sermon the negro was urged to cultivate ambition and to "do things." Mr. Lucas said: "I have decided that the only way to get rid of the 'Jim Crow' car is to get rid of the 'Jim Crow' negro. If I could use 200,000 bars of soap on the unwashed negroes that travel on trains and hang around depots I would solve the negro problem about 20 per cent. Lazy, ragged, bare-foot fellows, longing for silver slippers and long white robes and counting themselves worthy; neglecting to provide a home for their families on earth, and yet claiming a house not made with their hands in God's heaven! The white man is trying to make this earth blossom as a rose, and the negro is getting ready to die. The white man is organizing business enterprises and the negro organizing societies to turn out at their funerals. Now I object to a $100 funeral for a fifty-cent negro. The negro eats up and dresses away all he makes. One square meal on Sunday sweeps away all the wages of the week. He reminds me of the mule which ate the shipping tag from his leg. An old negro exclaimed: 'Gee, at mule dun eat up his whar-he's-gwine!' That's what the negro does; he eats up his living."

Sunday we had a drizzling rain all day, while it did not penetrate very deep, only two or three inches it will start up the grass and make our fodder crop, should have more like it for the best interest of tree fruits, apples, while fine, will hardly be as large as last year. It drizzled all day Monday but little fall of water.

Our County Commissioners have given us a good business administration, and if they should be renominated for a second term will give them a hearty support as I expect they deserve it.

Some of us think they were tricked into depriving us of a free highway to Capitan, the gates seem to work well, but they will soon get out of order.

There has been some wonderful engineering done on the road down the valley to the Sanitarium, it is a species of goat lane. The dozen of citizens that were to work on it last week were all men that do not expect to travel that unique route over once a year.

The severest earthquake ever felt in Southern California visited Santa Barbara county. Shocks lasted for fifteen minutes and much damage was done to buildings and surface pipe lines, the latter being twisted and broken and much oil wasted. The Santa Yuez river, which was nearly dry Saturday, was flooded.

A further earthquake shock in the valley of Los Angeles, California, caused a strip of country fifteen miles long by four miles wide to be rent with gaping fissures dotted with knolls, the buildings of the village to be ruined and hundreds of people to flee for their lives.

John Owen came in Monday from a trip over the country. John is making a great fight for the democratic nomination for sheriff and it is pretty generally conceded that his nomination is assured, and if successful he may justly and proudly consider himself very highly complimented, as Lincoln county contains no more worthy nor honorable citizen than J. W. Whiteside, who is also a candidate for this nomination. Lincoln county's best citizenship is among the friends of each of these candidates, and believes that either of them will make us a good sheriff.

Time has demonstrated that the Thrice-a-Week World stands alone in its class. Other papers have imitated its form but not its success. In addition to news, it publishes first-class serial stories and other features suited to the home and fireside.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and WHITE OAKS EAGLE one year for $2.00.

[Mr. BRYAN'S Paper.]

The Commoner has attained within six months from date of the first issue a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic, and social problems. To the columns of The Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his reviews of political events as they arise from time to time can not fail to interest those who study public questions.

The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and WHITE OAKS EAGLE together for one year for $2.00. The regular subscriptions price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $2.50.

New Orchard Irrigation.

The principal of capillary attraction is being used for the first time in Colorado to irrigate fruit orchards. It is found that a twig held in a pail of water will rapidly absorb the liquid particles until every part of the tree is satisfied. This plan is much more economical of water than the usual method of watering the roots.
