National Live Stock Association.

The sixth annual convention of the National Live Stock Association, which assembled at the Century theater in Kansas City January 3, was one of the most notable bodies of men ever brought together.

It will stand for money and enterprise to a greater extent than can be easily realized.

There will be 8,000,000 stockmen in the United States represented, who, if they were of one mind politically, could elect every office holder in the country from the highest to the lowest. No just conception of its significance can be formed, but Secretary C. F. Martin, of Kansas City, has given out some figures which are interesting.

Comparatively, the live stock industry in America is young. In the year 1850 its total valuation in the United States was a little less than $1,200,000; now it is $4,555,827,375. Then there were but 17,000,000 cattle, 21,723,220 sheep, and 4,806,050 horses, and mules as against 67,804,414 cattle, 21,623,551 horses and mules, and 61,605,000 sheep today. If all these classes of live stock were disposed of at cash, the transaction would take out of circulation every dollar of money in the country, and it would be necessary to borrow $2,225,000,000 from other countries to pay the bill.

If the combined wealth of the stock growers of the country were put to that purpose all the private and national banks in the United States and England could be bought, and nearly a billion dollars would be left over at the end of the deal. The stock yards companies, packing houses and commission houses are only incidental to the business of growing live stock. Were the cash from sales of the live stock in this country combined and put into stock yards the size of the Kansas City stock yards, such an institution might be established in thirty-three cities with a capital of $30,000,000 each. Three great railroad lines reaching across the American continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific could be built and still have $750,000,000. All the ocean steamship lines could be bought up and run at a loss for ten years on the money which the live stock of the country is worth.

The real growth of the stock raising business in the United States dates back only about fifty years to the time when breeders began looking about with the end in view of improving the class of the stock which they handled. It was not so much a matter, at first, of buying more head of cattle, sheep or swine, but of grading up that which they had already. Then, as the class was improved, the number of breeders multiplied until at present the industry is one of the very first and still in its youth. The possibilities of its future cannot be foretold no more than can the men who are engaged in stock production foresee what power they may exert fifty years hence, if only they choose to pool their interests.

Around-the-globe time table of forty days is predicted for next year. It rather dodges the issue though, by making the travel in latitudes as high north as possible—the further north you go, the less distance it is round the world from east to west, until six feet south of pole you ought to be able to make it in ten seconds. The schedule will be Paris-Vladivostok, thirteen days; to Nagasaki, two; to Yokohama, two; Vancouver, twelve; to New York by the Canadian Pacific, four; and back to Paris in six to seven days.

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan 8.—The case of Calvin Mortimer, serving a sentence in the penitentiary for larceny, may bring the territory of New Mexico into trouble with Great Britain. Mortimer is an English subject. He was sentenced by Chief Justice Mills to serve one year in the penitentiary for larceny. When sentence was passed upon him, Mortimer arose incourt and yelled, "This is an outrage, why didn't you make it ten years while you were at it!" Chief Justice Mills thereupon added two years to the sentence, for contempt of court. Mortimer's year for larceny expired recently and he wrote to the British consul at El Paso asking that the British government takes a hand in releasing him from serving two years in the penitentiary for contempt, which he claims is not a penitentiary offense. The consul has refused the matter to the British embassy, which however, is disposed to interfere in the course of justice in New Mexico although no definite reply has yet been received by Mortimer.

National Live Stock Association.

The sixth annual convention of the National Live Stock Association, which assembled at the Century theater in Kansas City January 3, was one of the most notable bodies of men ever brought together.

It will stand for money and enterprise to a greater extent than can be easily realized.

There will be 8,000,000 stockmen in the United States represented, who, if they were of one mind politically, could elect every office holder in the country from the highest to the lowest. No just conception of its significance can be formed, but Secretary C. F. Martin, of Kansas City, has given out some figures which are interesting.

Comparatively, the live stock industry in America is young. In the year 1850 its total valuation in the United States was a little less than $1,200,000; now it is $4,555,827,375. Then there were but 17,000,000 cattle, 21,723,220 sheep, and 4,806,050 horses, and mules as against 67,804,414 cattle, 21,623,551 horses and mules, and 61,605,000 sheep today. If all these classes of live stock were disposed of at cash the transaction would take out of circulation every dollar of money in the country, and it would be necessary to borrow $2,225,000,000 from other countries to pay the bill.

If the combined wealth of the stock growers of the country were put to that purpose all the private and national banks in the United States and England could be bought, and nearly a billion dollars would be left over at the end of the deal. The stock yards companies, packing houses and commission houses are only incidental to the business of growing live stock. Were the cash from sales of the live stock in this country combined and put into stock yards the size of the Kansas City stock yards, such an institution might be established in thirty-three cities with a capital of $30,000,000 each. Three great railroad lines reaching across the American continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific could be built and still have $750,000,000. All the ocean steamship lines could be bought up and run at a loss for ten years on the money which the live stock of the country is worth.

The real growth of the stock raising business in the United States dates back only about fifty years to the time when breeders began looking about with the end in view of improving the class of the stock which they handled. It was not so much a matter, at first, of buying more head of cattle, sheep or swine, but of grading up that which they had already. Then, as the class was improved, the number of breeders multiplied until at present the industry is one of the very first and still in its youth. The possibilities of its future cannot be foretold no more than can the men who are engaged in stock production foresee what power they may exert fifty years hence, if only they choose to pool their interests.

Around-the-globe time table of forty days is predicted for next year. It rather dodges the issue though, by making the travel in latitudes as high north as possible—the further north you go, the less distance it is round the world from east to west, until six feet south of pole you ought to be able to make it in ten seconds. The schedule will be Paris-Vladivostok, thirteen days; to Nagasaki, two; to Yokohama, two; Vancouver, twelve; to New York by the Canadian Pacific, four; and back to Paris in six to seven days.

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 8.—The case of Calvin Mortimer, serving a sentence in the penitentiary for larceny, may bring the territory of New Mexico into trouble with Great Britain. Mortimer is an English subject. He was sentenced by Chief Justice Mills to serve one year in the penitentiary for larceny. When sentence was passed upon him, Mortimer arose incourt and yelled, "This is an outrage, why didn't you make it ten years while you were at it!" Chief Justice Mills thereupon added two years to the sentence, for contempt of court. Mortimer's year for larceny expired recently and he wrote to the British consul at El Paso asking that the British government takes a hand in releasing him from serving two years in the penitentiary for contempt, which he claims is not a penitentiary offense. The consul has refused the matter to the British embassy, which however, is disposed to interfere in the course of justice in New Mexico although no definite reply has yet been received by Mortimer.

THURSDAY JAN. 15, 1903.

The territorial legislature convenes the 19th inst.

In commissioners' proceedings read from page 1 to 7, 7 to 6 and from 6 to 3.

The Cerillos smelter will be kept running this year—so the owners have announced.

Las Vegas is soon to have an electric railway.

There is a demand for better election laws in the territory of New Mexico and the present term of the legislature is going to be asked to consider this very matter. Why not adopt the Australian ballot system?

"The fight for statehood for New Mexico must be kept up until successful. That is all there is of it and to it," says the Santa Fe New Mexican (republican). Why have the people of New Mexico, and of the other two territories, for that matter, to fight for statehood? The only fight that could be made is against the republican party itself, and that party has in its national platform repeatedly promised statehood to the three territories. Must we fight the republican party to make it keep its promises? If you had received an invitation to dinner, would you immediately proceed to fight your host, that you might be successful in securing the dinner? Perhaps you might if he were running for office and had given the invitation to catch your vote, and had caught it, and then had repudiated the dinner. The republican party, your host, has got your vote; now get your dinner—if you can.—Sierra Co. Advocate.

What They Say About Us.

The White Oaks Eagle has reached out its talons, seized, carried off and absorbed the Nogal Republican and the Capitan Progress, and seems to have fattened somewhat. "The only paper in Lincoln county," the Eagle may be until somebody ships in a she box full of material, a hay press and goes into the printing business on a cordwood subscription basis. There is ever a man ready to fill each long felt want.—El Paso Daily News.

There are two newspapers in Lincoln county, the Eagle at White Oaks and the Progress at Capitan. Both these publications are property of The Eagle Printing Co. The Nogal Republican, after its demise was added to the Capitan Plant. Power will be put in at Capitan and that publication continued by The Eagle Printing Co. until some inspired craftsman comes along with cordwood to buy it. See?

The White Oaks Eagle celebrated the New Year and its 12th anniversary by coming out on book paper, illustrated with the shades of the recently elected county officers of Lincoln county. It starts on its 13th year with every evidence of maintaining its usual breezy and newsy columns up to the standard heretofore held.—Optic.

The White Oaks Eagle is a very neat little paper and showed considerable enterprise in the printing of half-tone cuts of the new county officials in its last issue.—Otero County Advertiser.

Judge Bellomy passed through en route to Lincoln.

Quite a number of our people have gone to El Paso's big carnival.

T. W. Underwood's little infant has pneumonia.

The people of Nogal and vicinity are to be congratulated in having a good physician, a help which we have long needed. Dr. Cooper, of Detroit, Mich., has located here.

Martin May and Mrs. Littleton were married here on the evening of the first. Rev. Pope officiated.

W. E. Dudley and wife spent their holiday vacation in Texas, visiting relatives. They greatly enjoyed the trip.

We had a tie between W. E. Dudley and T. W. Henley for Justice. D. Roberts was elected constable.

A cake was raffled at the dance here Friday night, given to the most skillful lady dancer. The prize was awarded to Miss Lucy Henley. It brought $59.00.

Santa Fe Cut-off Contract Let.

B. Lantry & Sons, the big railroad contractors of Kansas City, have secured the construction contract for the Santa Fe Central. Work is to begin immediately.

The Santa Fe has asked Langtry & Sons to suspend all other work on its lines and rush all their available force to work on the Santa Fe cut-off. One hundred cars of grading outfits we unloaded at Belen this week. The rock cuts of Abo Pass and the Rio Grande bridge will receive attention first. It is estimated that it will take 1,000 men and 800 teams fifteen months to do the work in the canyon and 300 men nine months to build the bridge.

The Compromise Trial.

The supreme court of the territory is in session at Santa Fe. The trial of the noted Compromise case is set for tomorrow, the 16th. It sincerely hoped by the people of this community that this litigation may be settled now, as the welfare of the mining district has been greatly affected by the tying up of this mine for the past 24 months. Such conditions are greatly regretted and White Oaks has certainly had her share of such miserable obstacles.

Robert McMains's Murderer Jailed.

George English, the murderer of Robert McMains, is now in jail at Socorro. The murder of McMains, of which he is charged, occurred at Magdalena Oct. 20, 1902, and Eagle readers have informed of the circumstances.

Later—This English has proven to be the wrong man. He is a cousin of George English.

Died Of Joy After Finding Gold.

Owen & Hall have finished the Ramsdale well and at a depth of 204 feet have plenty of water. Mr. Ramsdale says he must have water for his cattle now, and will consider the oil proposition later.

The physicians think that no serious consequences will result from the awful pounding which they received, as all are now doing well and the pastor is occasionally heard to murmur: "The best people in the world live right here in White Oaks."

Geo. Ramsdale and Ernest Seber, two fourteen-year-olds, fought in the street in front of the barbershop, Monday. Ramsdale struck Seber on the head with a piece of a barrel stave and inflicted a wound that came near causing his death. He is reported out of danger, but it will be some time until he entirely recovers.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 15, 1903.
To C. D. Mayer, White Oaks:

Have Tobe Long in jail here. Come for him at once. Answer Hotel Shelton.

PAUL MAYER.

Mercilessly Mobbed.

Monday night a mob gathered at the Methodist parsonage, and when the pastor appeared at the door he was rudely pushed aside; his wife sought refuge behind the heater, the small room, which answers the double purpose of sitting room and pastor's study, was over run, and the mob surged into the kitchen, where it proceeded to unload sugar, coffee, canned goods and all manner of good eatin's. Then a rush was made for the church, where, after a few songs by the young people, Rev. Tompkins read a scripture lesson and Dr. A. G. Lane led in prayer. Then followed more singing, at the close of which the pastor expressed in vigorous language his opinion of people who would treat a poor preacher and his family as he and his had been treated.

This office has received the Governor's annual report to the secretary of the interior. It is a voluminous document to say the least.

South Home Will Start Up.

Information has just been received here, direct from Chicago, that the South Homestake up right away. The mill will be fitted to mill the ores. With four gold and two coal mines in operation 1903 should be a prosperous year for White Oaks.

At The Old Abe.

Concentrators, cyanide plant, boilers, etc, in shape, the full force went to work at the Old Abe Wednesday. The Old Abe, forever the salvation of White Oaks, at the bottom is richer than ever. The development under the management of A. P. Gann, is showing good results, and during this year, the mine will push her record up towards a quarter of another million of gold.

(BONITO VALLEY ITEMS.)

Mr. Green who lives on the Bonito, just above South Fork, broke his leg, last Saturday. Could not learn the circumstances that caused the accident.

Dame rumor has it that the Eagle company is going to install a 300-stamp mill on the Parrons' property, right away.

The Egypt

The granaries of Egypt have ever been famous from the days of the Shepherd Kings and the dawn of history. "The bark of the war dogs of Egypt have rolled down forty centuries"

In Holy Writ it is recorded that they went down to Egypt to buy corn."

The Egypt of the present day is the soil of Texas and California. But only two and one half acres in a hundred are arable. A narrow ribbon-like strip of agricultural land upon either side of the Nile. One standing on either side of the desert can see directly across the whole of the cultivated land, from the edge of the desert on one side to the great sand hills on the other.

The soil contributed to the river from the west by mountains and hills in Abasynia, where silt laden flood waters enrich the fields with "red mud" which the farmers so much desire.

Egypt is virtually rainless, their limitless deserts, their hills and valleys contribute no lateral streams, are doomed for all time to remain of uniform burnt earth hue, bear no trees, verdure or the many colored groths that adorn a rainy country.

The Nile Valley which bisects the heart of the African desert has a population of ten million, a small fraction less than 1,000 square miles, a density not equaled by any European country.

The estimated value of the Nile bottom of cultivated land is $115.00 an acre, the foreign bonded indebtedness of Egypt averages about $75.00 acre of these available lands. The government tax is about $4.00 per acre. These vital statistics exhibit the present status of the land of the Pharos.

In contrast the Physical geography of New Mexico displays a system contiguously arranged in paralleled sections to two large river systems, that they afford a perfect net work of streams from the mountain sides, ramifying through a large extent of the the territory.

The mountains prick the clouds; our rain fall is sufficient to grow forests, and for agricultural needs in their foothills without the aid of irrigation. The numerous streams make available a large extent of grazing land and the many other natural resources will give New Mexico a large and diffused population.

New Mexico has double the percentage of irrigable lands than Egypt. The soil is essentially the same, consisting of the disintegration of primary rocks, liberating feldspar, volcanic ash and iron, etc., excellent mineral constituents that silt-laden the flood waters from the mountain sides. These natural conditions decree that as th ages roll by New Mexico will take an advanced part in the new civilization.

Oklahoma Opposes Omnibus Bill.

Oklahoma City, January 6.—Two thousand delegates representing all sections of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, paraded the streets here today, preliminary to a single statehood convention this afternoon. The resolution to be urged says:

"Our deliberate, final declaration is, that as far as the interests of Oklahoma and Indian Territory are affected by the Omnibus bill, we are unalterably opposed to it, and prefer no statehood to this bill"

Gallina Ore.

A new lead of very fine silver and lead ore has just been opened on what is generally known as the Taliaferro copper Group, in the Gallina Mountains. The strike was made last week by one of Mr. Taliaferro's men, and a small amount of the ore expressed to him at White Oaks. A small quantity of the ore may be seen at the Mercantile company's store.
