If you were not a Republican with a big B, what would you rather be?

There are Rodey democrats now apparently by the million, but I don't think they are.

There are some people who are trying to beat Capt.
Rodey. They seem to forget that there are others, and that he is only the minority member.

In conversation with Senator Andrews he showed himself to be pretty well posted as to the resources of this locality. He has promised to come again after the campaign is over and give the country a thorough looking over and the OUTLOOK believes that he will.

Col. Francisco Chavez, that careless old republican war horse came Wednesday night, too late to speak to the people of White Oaks and went out to Raventon Thursday, prepared to give it to the people of that community hot from the crater that evening. He will address the people at Lincoln Friday evening, just for luck and wind up his pilgrimage in this county by one of his characteristic speeches at Capitan Saturday night. This notice is given that our democratic friends in those particular localities may have an opportunity to hide out.

This is the most healthy climate in the world. Even butter will grow strong here, as many of us can testify after our recent food experience.—Albuquerque Sunshine.

Mr. Rodey is flooding the territory with circular letters, sort of hit or miss, among republicans and democrats, asking that on election day they scratch the head of their tickets and substitute his name. The OUTLOOK's advice to voters in this county is, to scratch their own heads and leave the head of their ticket alone.

Republican newspapers are pretty apt to reflect the political sentiment of their immediate communities. If the feeling is so strong for Delegate Rodey as he represents, isn't it a little strange that some of them are not endorsing his course and advocating his cause somewhere in New Mexico?

No matter where your lot is cast, no matter in what secluded corner of the county you may sojourn, no matter where you are hiding out, sooner or later, the candidate with the eagle eye is bound to run you out of the brush and catch you goin' and comin'; so that you won't have a chance to eat more than two meals a day until after election.

Our democratic friends seem to have lately discovered the wonderful abilities of Mr. B. S. Rodey as a delegate in congress. During the four years he held that office down and up to the time of the Albuquerque convention their compliments were all of the negative order. But it does make a difference whose pay is used when the chestnuts are well roasted.

Grover Cleveland, the ponderous, has an article in a late issue of the Saturday Evening Post, giving his reasons why young men should vote the democratic ticket. Out of this mass of elaboration lxxiviation leaks, the one single idea that they should support that ticket on the ground that the present candidate for the office of President of the United States, is the prototype of the man for whom he first voted, James Buchanan, a man who was above all things conservative and safe. That Alton B. Parker resembles Buchanan the un-ready, more perhaps than any other person ever nominated for President since that time no one will be disposed to dispute. But are the American people ready to have repeated the vacillating conservatism of that time rather than the positiveness and vigor of the Andrew Jackson and Theodore Roosevelt types? Let us see!
Of the long list of men who have filled the presidential chair since Washington, Buchanan comes as near being the weakest and most unreliable of them all, utterly without decision of character, in great emergencies his conservatism leaned decidedly to inaction when prompt action was demanded his administration was certainly the most disastrous in results this country has ever experienced for under it developed the extreme sectional bitterness which culminated in Civil war. Even the conservatism of Cleveland which pulled down the American flag at Honolulu, called forth almost universal execration and condemnation from the patriotic American people. As a safe political dry nurse for young men about to cast their first votes, Grover Cleveland is hardly a success.

The Compromise mining suit which was decided by the territorial Supreme Court a short time ago in favor of the White Oaks claimants, will undoubtedly be taken by appeal to the highest court of the land, which needs but one step more to make the title good against all comers. It is to be hoped that this case will be ground out at no very distant day as well as that of the North Homestead and these two promising mines released from the bondage of litigation which has held them in its clutches for so many years. This will quiet title to about the last of the producing mines White Oaks district, thus held and will set the wheels to running again in the old time way, it is to be hoped, giving the camp at least ten workable mines well opened up.

Hon. B. S. Rodey, the man with a grievance and a life long political hunger in his heart, has finally started out on his melancholy tour, peddling sorrow and sowing dissension by the bucketfull.
The world loves a man who can take as well as give, but it hasn't much use for a kicker. That Mr. Rodey had some cause for complaint outside of that which he brought on himself there is not the slightest doubt, but if he had laid low and munched the root of bitterness all by himself for a season, composing his soul in patience, the meantime, and worked for general results, no man in the territory would have stood higher in the estimation of the people or received more prompt recognition at their hands in future emergencies. But at the very critical test of his life to degenerate into a common scold and malcontent is beneath the dignity of one who has been elevated to his present high estate. Instead of going the country over rehearsing your real or fancied troubles, you had better halt, look up, contemplate the distance you have dropped and then figure out the best kind of lifting machine needed to put you back.

The Coming of New Mexico's Next Governor.

Senator Andrews with Governor Otero and party, reached Capitan Monday evening last and were given a rousing reception by the wide-awake people of that place. When the meeting was called to order it looked as if about all the people of that town and Coalinga had assembled to do honor to these distinguished citizens and hear them talk on the issues now before the voters of New Mexico.

As to the speeches made, there was no fuss and feathers, about them, but they were all straight forward and loaded with good business sense. Words fitly spoken that could not fail to leave a good impression.

The next day they were driven down the beautiful valley of the Bonito to the county seat, where an ovation was accorded them.
They were met several miles up the valley by citizens in carriages and on horseback, who escorted the party into town. Here a mass meeting had assembled at the court house to await their coming, the democrats apparently taking as much interest in honoring these distinguished guests as the republicans.

Short speeches were here made by Senator Andrews, Governor Otero and others of the party.
The enthusiasm at this point reached high water mark and reminded one of the old time political meetings when people were swayed more by sentiment than now. At the close of the meeting an hour or two was spent in handshaking and getting acquainted.

After leaving Lincoln the party came back to Capitan for the night, making a diversion however, by way of the Sanitarium at Fort Stanton, which was a genuine surprise to the visitors on account of its extent and beautiful location.

Wednesday morning the party divided, part of them going to Carrizozo by way of Nogal, where the band waked up the hills with patriotic airs and some short speeches were made, and the Governor, Senator Andrews, Col.
Pritchard and Mr. Sena, coming to White Oaks, where they arrived about noon.

After a bountiful dinner at the Hotel Ozanne and a short rest the party were taken to the hall where about all the people of the town were assembled, including the school children who had come, many of them to have their first look at a real, live governor.

The meeting here partook more of a business character than one of politics. The good people of White Oaks are intensely interested in anything that goes to further the material interests of their town, and as Sen. Andrews is interested in railroad building and the development of the varied resources of this section of the country, he, as well as the other speakers, seemed to drop naturally into this line of thought and he surprised his audience somewhat by his intimate knowledge of their needs and the hidden wealth at their very doors awaiting development. In this connection he took occasion to remark that if the El Paso & Northern railroad did not soon get a move on itself and build a road in here, he would, to real live people this sounds, not only like good politics but good business.

The remarks of Governor Otero and Col. Pritchard were mainly on the same line, the Governor however, taking occasion to show up some of the shortcomings of the the figures and statements in reference to finances of the territory during his administration.

At the close of the meeting in honor of the Governor and Senator at which they had the pleasure of taking about everybody, big and little, by the hand, and many a future voter will carry the memory of that friendly smile and hand touch through all the formative years of his life, while his others will be glad that the first official visit of these two distinguished citizens of New Mexico to White Oaks was not marred by one disagreeable word or incident.

GENERAL BARTLETT'S DEATH.

Solicitor General Edward L.
Bartlett died of typhoid pneumonia at St. Vincent's Hospital, at Santa Fe, Wednesday evening, October 19, 1904.

He came to New Mexico in 1880 and has made this territory his home ever since.
He has had a very prominent position in its political and social affairs. He was adjutant general of the territory under Governors Sheldon and Ross and took an active part in the Apache Indian campaigns of 1883 and the years following, and in suppressing cattle thieving in the southwestern part of the territory. He was appointed solicitor general in 1889 and has filled that office up to the time of his death with the exception of three years, during the Thornton administration.

General Bartlett was a member of the Masons, Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias organizations, in all of which he has always taken an active part, having attained the 32d degree in the Scottish Rite and was the first grand commander of the Grand Commandery of the Knights Templar of New Mexico, and has held prominent official positions in the Knights of Pythias for nearly thirty years.

He was a capable and conscientious man in all the official positions he has held a sociable and companionable friend and universally beloved by all.

In his death New Mexico loses one of its very foremost citizens, his party an earnest and untiring worker in all its legitimate lines, and his friends a genial companion.

May the Maker and Taker of us all give his soul peace.

kindly, tender sympathies of our better nature that he takes the liberty of giving it to the public, well knowing it will meet with a when things were raw and rollearn that there are to be more of the "Heart's Desire" stories.

LEE H. RUSSELL,
EDITOR THE OUTLOOK,
White Oaks, Lincoln Co., N. M.

MY DEAR SIR:—I have a copy of your paper mentioning Heart's Desire. I cannot tell you how this thing touches me. While I must disclaim any attempt at the exact portraiture which you mention, I want to say that every man and event of my life in White Oaks is perfectly fresh in my mind. My experience there forms the base of these stories, which I do not call photographs, but simply remote likenesses. There may be some more Heart's Desire stories, and perhaps, someday, a book. I think you will search in vain to find in any of this work the first note of caricature or ridicule or injustice, because none of that is in my heart; and I detest those eastern writers who gaze to the West and, seeing things different from what they are used to seeing at home, fall to understand them and so caricature them. For my own part, I loved my town of Heart's Desire, and the men in it, and I do today and always will. So far from our old town being a small place, it is one which might well teach bigness to many an eastern man, and I believe that today I am a bigger and better man, even after twenty years, for having lived there.
These memories are strong.
Heart's Desire is safe in my hands. Sincerely Yours, E. HOUGH.

Consolation.

There, there, dear heart, don't cry!
'Tis only your first pie!
And though the under crust is tough,
And tho' the pie's not done enough,
I truly like the doughy stuff—(O, what a lie!)
cry!
No use to fret and sigh Ope wide again the drooping lid—Those eyes are too bright to be hid—
'Tis just as well as mother did,
With her first pie.

Miss Sadie Robinson, 4 Rand street, Malden, Mass., writes:

"Peruna was recommended to me about a year ago as an excellent remedy for the troubles peculiar to our sex, and as I found that all that was said of this medicine was true, I am pleased to endorse it."

Beauty and the Babies.

As a guardian of children, no human being ever surpassed "Beauty," an Irish setter dog, says Daniel Lee of 350 South Fifteenth street, her owner. Lee has trained his dog to take care of the little pickinians which call him pap. He says that the dog is better than a nurse to keep the children from harm and would willingly sacrifice her life to save that of his children. Lee has one little girl who likes to play in the street. She occasionally tries to do this, although her mother has strictly forbidden it.

"Beauty knows that the children should not go out of their own yard," said Lee yesterday, "and whenever my little girl tries to go through the gate she has a rough and tumble fight with Beauty. Beauty will run in front of her and if she refuses to stop grasps her dress and pulls her back. She holds on in spite of any efforts she makes to get away. Some times the child in her innocence resents the dog's actions and cuffs and kicks her. When she hurts her the dog whines pitifully, but still holds on. The other day the child in her rage took hold of the dog's ear with her teeth and bit it. The dog howled in pain, but did not offer to do her injury."

"Beauty is a very valuable dog and has no faultless praises. Some time since she gave birth to twelve little beauties and is not out of the yard much now, as she has children of her own to care for."—Denver Republican.

SAFEST FOOD

In Any Time of Trouble is Grape-Nuts. Food to rebuild the strength and that is pre-digested must be selected when one is convalescent. At this time there is nothing so valuable as Grape-Nuts, for the reason that this food is all nourishment and is also all digestible nourishment. A woman who used it says:

"Some time ago I was very ill with typhoid fever, so ill everyone thought I would die, even myself. It left me so weak I could not properly digest food of any kind and I also had much bowel trouble which left me a weak, helpless wreck."

"I needed nourishment as badly as anyone could, but none of the tonics helped me until I finally tried Grape-Nuts, food morning and evening. This really surprised food that I thought as good as could be, but it also made me perfectly well and strong again so I can do all my housework, sleep well, eat anything without any trace of bowel trouble and for that reason, now Grape-Nuts food is worth its weight in gold."—Miss Alice, by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Typical fever, like some other diseases, attacks the bowels and frequently sets up bleeding and makes them for weeks incapable of digesting the starches, and therefore pre-digested Grape-Nuts is invaluable for the well-known reason that in Grape-Nuts all the starches have been transformed into grape sugar. This means that the first stage of digestion has been mechanically accomplished in Grape-Nuts food at the factories and therefore anyone, no matter how weak the stomach,

JAPANESE GETTING NEARER

Sortie of Russian Torpedo Boats Rejected—Garrison Much Reduced in Numbers—Winter Clothing is Scarce.

Chgo. Oct. 21.—The most important recent events at Port Arthur include the capture by the Japanese of further minor positions near Rihlung mountain and the severe damage of a Japanese torpedo boat destroyer by striking a floating mine.

The importance of these captures lies in the fact that they curtail the Russian fire in harassing Japanese who may attempt to advance on the trenches located on the slope of Rihlung mountain.

It is asserted that the Russian force at Port Arthur now numbers 5,000 men, excluding the militia, which is not engaged in the fighting, but patrols the streets doing provost duty, and guards the arsenals, etc.

Winter clothing is scarce at Port Arthur, shoes particularly. The Russian soldiers are wearing Chinese shoes, and some of them are unable to obtain these and wrap rags about their feet. The garrison is greatly worn out by the many months of exhausting, anxious labor and fighting. The town is full of wounded. Flour is plentiful and the slaughter of horses, mules and donkeys continues.

The Japanese have practically completed immense warehouses between Port Dalny and Port Arthur and have therein supplies sufficient to last them until spring. Similar preparations have been made at Newchwang, and therefore the Japanese expect the release of sixty transports next month.

It is said that the Port Arthur garrison is frantic for news of the operations of General Kuropatkin, from whom the defenders expect relief.

The news that the Baltic fleet had sailed for the Pacific was announced to the garrison and greatly encouraged the Russians.

WORLD'S FAIR PRIZES

Large Number Awarded to Colorado Exhibitors.

Denver, Oct. 21.—A portion of the prizes awarded to Colorado exhibitors at the World's Fair have been awarded and the announcements made of the successful exhibitors. The state mineral exhibit as a whole took the grand prize over all other states.

Gold medals were distributed as follows: To Summit county on crystallized gold, Teller county on sylvanite, the Wood mine on pitchblend, Hageman on silver nugget, Montrose county on carnotite, the Portland company on sylvanite, the Denver Fire Clay Company on clay and the School of Mines on general exhibit.

The silver medals went to the Independence company, the Hazelton Santiago Mining Company, Gold King Consolidated Gold Mines Company, Pitkin county for native silver, Colorado Onyx Company, Gilpin county on gold quartz, state of Colorado on photographs, Denver Northwestern Fuel Company on coal, Boulder county on gold in quartz, Woods Investment Company on sylvanite, El Paso Consolidated Company on sylvanite and United Oil Company on its Florence oil.

The bronze medals went to the Big Five Mining Company, Meadow Mountain Mining Company, La Sal Copper Company, Boston-Colorado Copper Mining Company, Beulah Mining Company, Fremont county on rhyolite, Chaffee county on marble, and the Kerr Marble Company.

In the educational awards the three grand prizes went to the State Industrial School for Boys and Girls, State Home for Dependent Children, Juvenile Court and Detention House.

Twenty gold medals as follows: School of Mines, Agricultural College, Normal School, University of Colorado, Colorado College, Department of Public Instruction of Y. M. C. A., Y. M. C. A. farm, National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives; Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Leadville, La Junta, Black Hawk and Weld county schools; Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs, Colorado Mineral Art Club, special exhibit of East Denver High School on the evolution of the school house; Lottie Sullivan, individual work at fair.

Gunnison Tunnel.

Denver, Oct. 21.—Work on the Gunnison tunnel project will start this month. District Engineer A. L. Fellows of the reclamation service has received a telegram from Chief Engineer F. H. Newell stating that bids for $1,100,000 for construction work have been formally approved in Washington. This telegram, Mr. Fellows says, is equivalent to notification to the contractors to proceed with the work at once.

On their part, the contractors are eager to begin work without delay. Men will be rushed to the site of the project and ground broken before winter sets in.

W. A. Hess of Iowa is the contractor who received the contract for installing the telephone system. The Taylor-Moore company of contractors of Texas received the contract for boring the immense tunnel. The work on the canal was awarded to three firms who will excavate separate portions simultaneously. Kellogg & Worley of Gunnison will dig one section, Orman & Crook of Pueblo will work on three sections and Kawitow & Bolles of Fort Collins will undertake five sections of the work.

Clark Road Opening.

On that day through trains will be operated between San Pedro, San Diego and Los Angeles and Salt Lake with through stopovers between the California coast and Denver from February 1st through Fall.

Man and Boy Killed at Yellowstone Lake Hotel—Campers and Private Conveyances in Danger.

A Cody, Wyoming, dispatch says that a man and boy employed in the Yellowstone National park were recently killed by bears. The names cannot be obtained, but the victims were in the employ of the Lake hotel, on Yellowstone lake. The authorities endeavored to keep the matter from the public, but the news was brought out by campers. The authorities say the man and boy were teasing the bears and were to blame, but the campers tell a different story, as follows:

One day the door of the meat house at the hotel was left open and the man and boy were sent to close it. When they reached the small building they heard a commotion inside. Before they could escape they were attacked by two huge cinnamon bears. The boy was killed instantly and the man so badly injured he died.

The park officials are alleged to have done much to cover up the details of the affair and have left the impression that death did not occur. They now admit that the two men were killed, but say they were to blame.

The time is not far distant when it will be impossible for the poorer class of people to visit the Yellowstone park owing to the constantly increasing number of bears. Many parties en route home from a visit to the park say that the journey through the wonderland was most dangerous.

It is alleged that the park transportation company and the hotel proprietors are doing everything possible to discourage campers and private conveyances from making the trip.

The bears have become so numerous and bold that even the park guards are frequently compelled to shoot the beasts to save their own lives.

Recently a freighter from Gardner in passing through the park was attacked by bears and he shot one of them. A mounted police immediately placed the freighter under arrest, despite the fact that the bear climbed onto the wagon. The major in command released the freighter.

A formal protest will be made to President Roosevelt, who will be asked to decrease the number of bears in the park, have them confined in an inclosure, or make arrangements for the better protection of tourists.

Greater Than the Romans.

A very interesting discovery has been made in the Etruscan metropolis of Tarquinia. It consists of a coronet of modern shape 3,000 years old. Two hundred tombs containing helmets, a breastplate of gold, amulets, vases, etc., have been opened, showing that Etruscan civilization was far superior to that of the Romans. The collection will be offered for sale after the Italian government has appropriated one fourth of it under the law.

Could Get No Rest.

Freeborn, Minn., October 17 (Special)—Mr. R. E. Goward, a well-known man here is rejoicing in the relief from suffering he has obtained through using Dodd's Kidney Pills. His experience is well worth repeating as it should point the road to health to many another in a similar condition.

"I had an aggravating case of Kidney Trouble," says Mr. Goward, "that gave me no rest day or night but saving a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills put new life in me and I feel like a new man."

"I am happy to state I have received great and wonderful benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills. I would heartily recommend all sufferers from Kidney Trouble to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial as I have every reason to believe it would never be regretted."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make you feel like a new man or woman because they cure the kidneys. Cured kidneys mean pure blood and pure blood means bounding health and energy in every part of the body.

HENRY AND BEAMAN TESTIFY

Possibilities of Water Storage in Kansas—Use of Water by the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company.

Denver, Oct. 22.—At the close of its afternoon session yesterday the commission now investigating the merits of Colorado's contention in the Kansas-Colorado water suit adjourned to meet in Denver the first week in December.

This adjournment is taken at the request of the federal government, as its attorney, A. G. Campbell, has important legal business to transact elsewhere. While the adjournment has disarranged Colorado plans considerably, the attorneys have decided to use it in securing additional information.

Prof. L. G. Carpenter, state engineer, and one of Colorado's most important witnesses, will make further experiments along the Arkansas river, investigating particularly as to various water levels along the stream.

T. C. Henry of Denver concluded his testimony yesterday afternoon. Mr. Henry testified to the rapidly-increasing investments which were being made in Colorado ditches and irrigated farms; and said that these investments would be ruined if the doctrine of irrigation should be reversed. He said the question was not local, but general to all streams taking their rise in the Rocky mountains, also that irrigation and extensive farming are the result of evolution in the science of horticulture and agriculture. Ten acres of irrigated land in Colorado, he said, would support a family of five persons, against 100 acres of western Kansas land, if not irrigated.

Mr. Henry also testified that many of the irrigation enterprises in Colorado were promoted by citizens of Kansas, who had taken up the question of farming by irrigation as early as 1877. That they visited Colorado and became financially interested in many of the ditches in this state on the Arkansas, and that they were now complaining because such ditches are taking water from the Arkansas. He drew a distinction between the high waters of the Arkansas, which may be stored, and the flood waters, which cannot be impounded in Colorado, but could be after they reached the less precipitous part of the stream in Kansas.

In answer to questions propounded by Attorney Campbell, Mr. Henry said that he knew of many reservoir sites near the Arkansas in Kansas. That, in his opinion, if a proper system of storage were adopted and a proper system of agriculture, preferably the Campbell system, the entire Arkansas valley might be reclaimed and devoted to successful agriculture.

Judge D. C. Beaman, secretary of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, was the next witness. The purpose of his testimony was to show the magnitude of the company's operations in Colorado, and how largely these operations depended upon the water supply drawn from the Arkansas and its tributaries. He said the company and its affiliated companies used 9,000,000 gallons of water daily, but that three-fourths of this was returned to the river.

The company expended much money in buying up farming lands along the river, to which water rights were attached, for the single purpose of getting its water supply, allowing the lands to lie idle. He said that the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company and its auxiliaries had $30,000,000 invested in the Arkansas drainage, and that about 96,000 persons were directly dependent upon their operations. The company, witness stated, had an authorized capital of $46,000,000, and a paid-up capital of $26,000,000. Its operations included eighteen coal mines, 2,402 coke ovens, two limestone quarries, besides the big steel works at Pueblo, which were valued at between $12,000,000 and $14,000,000.

The total value of products of the company for 1903, Judge Beaman said, was $16,650,000, but the earnings for the current year had been greatly decreased, owing to strikes in the steel works and coal camps. He made the point that to cut off the supply of water from the company would involve the entire retail coal trade of Colorado, and work disaster to the whole state.

LEADVILLE BANKER DEAD.

Albert Sherwin Dies Suddenly at a Hotel in St. Louis.

Leadville, Colo., Oct. 22.—A telegram from St. Louis last night says: While standing at a telephone in his room at the Buckingham hotel to-day, endeavoring to summon assistance, Albert Sherwin of Leadville, Colorado, dropped dead from heart failure.

Mr. Sherwin's son William was standing in the hotel office, when the operator called him to the telephone, saying: "Your father is dying, and he wants to speak to you."

Young Mr. Sherwin, without waiting to go to the telephone, hastened to his father's room and found him lying dead on the floor immediately below the wall telephone.

Albert Sherwin left here a short time ago to visit his son, who is engaged in the dairy business in High, Illinois. His wife, who remained in Leadville, this morning was apprised of her husband's sudden death.

Mr. Sherwin was one of the prominent citizens of this section. He was seventy-six years old and a native of Vermont. He went to Wisconsin when a young man and engaged in railroad construction work and also was engaged in the lumber business. Later he settled in High, Illinois, where he established a large dairy.

When the Leadville excitement broke out Mr. Sherwin organized a company of eight capitalists for the purpose of engaging in smelting operations in this district. He personally took charge of the venture and erected the High smelter, acting as its manager for many years. When the smelter closed down in 1917, Mr. Sherwin

In her palmy days an actress named Lottie Crabtree donated $30,000 for a beautiful fountain in the streets of San Francisco and it stands to-day as a benevolence to man and beast.

Mrs. De Long Finds That the Incurable Pains of Rheumatism Can Be Cured Through the Blood.

Mrs. E. M. De Long, of No. 160 West Broadway, Council Bluffs, Iowa, found herself suddenly attacked by rheumatism in the winter of 1898. She gave the doctor a chance, to help her, which he failed to improve, and then she did some thinking and experimenting of her own. She was so successful that she deems it her duty to tell the story of her escape from suffering:

"My brother-in-law," she says, "was enthusiastic on the subject of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a purifier of the blood, and when I was suffering extreme pains in the joints of my ankles, knees, hips, wrists and elbows, and the doctor was giving me no relief, I began to reflect that rheumatism is a disease of the blood, and that if Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are so good for the blood they must be good for rheumatism and worth a trial.

"I was in bed half the time, suffering with pain that cannot be described to one who has never had the disease. It would concentrate sometimes in one set of joints. When it was in my feet I could not walk; when it was in my elbows and wrists I could not, even draw the coverlets over my body. I had suffered in this way for weeks before I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Two weeks after I began with them I experienced relief and after I had taken six boxes I was entirely well. To make sure I continued to use them about two weeks longer and then stopped altogether. For several years I have had no reason to use them for myself, but I have recommended them to others as an excellent remedy."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills furnish the blood with all the elements that are needed to build up healthy tissue, bearing the strain that nature puts upon them. They really make new blood and cure all diseases arising from disorders of the blood or nerves, such as sciatica, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, nervous prostration, anemia and all forms of weakness in either male or female. They are sold by all druggists.

THE VERA CRUZ MINE.

A Lincoln County Enterprise That Bids Fair to Become a Bonanza.

Once in a while a mining man wanders into Lincoln county and stops long enough to learn what old timers here have known for twenty years or more, that this region possesses golden opportunities for experienced men with a little capital at their back to develop untold wealth from the mineral veins and deposits lying only about half hidden away in these mountain ranges.

Several years ago Mr. L. S. Davis, a man who has had considerable experience in mining matters in Colorado and elsewhere, came to this section and made an examination of the Vera Cruz property lying between this town and Nogal. This mine was supposed to be a considerable body of very fine low grade ore, containing a large per cent of silicon, rendering it difficult to save by any of the ordinary methods. After giving the ore a thorough test Mr. Davis concluded that the task was not as great as generally supposed and began to lay plans for its treatment. Not being able at that time to get control of the property at a reasonable figure, the matter was deferred until about a year ago, when, after procuring title and the necessary capital to go ahead, he began putting in a reduction plant which is now complete, and a test run has already been made.

The plant consists of a wonderfully complete dynamo of 300 horse power, situated at their pumping station near the base of the mountain and about 3000 feet from the point where the mine and mill is located. This dynamo furnishes power to pump water up to the mill, and in connection with two other dynamo in the mill, furnishes power to run the entire plant.

This plant consists of five Huntington mills, capable of reducing sixty tons each of Vera Cruz ore per day. They are supplied with four tables instead of one as usually provided, rendering it almost impossible for any of the gold to escape. Underneath these mills are supplied with an extended shaft so that the operator can have complete control of them from a room well lighted with electricity and having a constant flow.

Above the mill is the crusher room. The ore is fed to the crusher automatically and drops into a large bin and is carried from there by elevators, not unlike those used in an ordinary flouring mill, and dumped into an immense screen or after, located in the room over the crusher. All the ore which will not go through this screen works down into a chute and is carried to a set of rolls which completes its disintegration and it is again carried back to the screen where it is dropped down into the bin and finds its way directly into the mills.

The ore is brought from the mine into the mill by a tramway and is also dumped automatically from the car.

The mine is simply a mountain of ore, soft and easily worked, with over a million tons in sight. Mr. Davis has had the thin layers of soil scraped from the side of the hill thereby exposing over 250 feet of the ore body and all he has to do quarry the soft porous rock, which is done by electricity and send it to the ore bin. This vast deposit of mineral averages $3.87 per ton with a saving of eighty-seven percent on a test run and may be increased when the machinery gets in smooth working order.

Together this is by far the most complete mining and milling plant ever brought into Lincoln county and probably one of the best in all its points ever installed in the southwest and Mr. Davis deserves, and no doubt will have, great success in his enterprise.

John Leno came up for a few days visit with home folks a few days ago. Johnny has located at Cannonville where he is engaged in assaying and is doing well.

It will be observed that right in the midst of this political campaign some one has put a head on the OVRLOOK and it isn't the big head either.

Paul Mayer returned last Saturday from his visit with friends in the east and—alone. Paul says the people back there are getting so thick their elbows get caloused knocking against each other, and they don't know what a breath of free unadulterated fresh air tastes like. He now smiles like a fellow who knows where he is, at and is glad of it.

Mr. N. B. Brown, still wife of lower Gallo county were in town for a day or two this week on business and recreation. Mr. Brown is proprietor of the O X ranch and reports everything in the eastern part of Lincoln county prosperous. There is the finest grass they have been favored with for years and both cattle and sheep are in as good condition as could be desired.

Roy Trent has at last been heard from. His parents have just received a letter from him saying that he is now at Tuscosa, Texas. It seems he has been on the move most of the time since leaving Kansas City, over a month ago, visiting various places in Oklahoma and the Indian Territory, and is now stopping at this Texas town long enough to write. It is a great relief to his people to receive this good news as they began to fear he had been foully dealt with.

Little Gracie Chew, who has been attending school here was taken sick some time ago, and after a partial recovery relapsed into a state of extreme nervousness, from which she is still a great sufferer. Her many friends and the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Chew will join in heartfelt wishes for her speedy recovery. It is always pitiful to see childhood suffer and in one so bright as she the suffering and sorrow becomes more intense.
