Governor Wants Single Statehood.

A Santa Fe dispatch of May 24th says: Governor Otero to-day sent the following telegram to W. S. Sturgis member of the Republican national committee, in answer to an invitation to attend the anti-joint statehood convention at Phoenix on Saturday of

"I appreciate fully your very kind invitation and would be with you at Phoenix on Saturday, but official duties prevent. Can say, however, that I am heartily with you in spirit thoroughly sympathizing in your movement. While New Mexico has a most friendly feeling for Arizona, we will appose jointure. I have never haited or hesitated in my declaration for single statehood for both territories. This, I believe, is the sentiment of a very large majority of the people.

"Hon. Solomon Luna, our member of the national committee, and Hon. H. O. Bursom, chairman of the Republican central committee, are of the same opinion. We will join with you

"Arizona is large enough, prosperous enough, and rich enough to maintain and support a separate state government, without being annexed to any territory. We know the good people of Arizona believe the same condition exists as to New Mexico. May great success attend your convention is my carnest wish."

New Mexico Crop Bulletin.

The crop bulletin for New Mexico. issued May 23d, says that showers are needed in upland and eastern plains districts, but generally moisture is abundant elsewhere and streams are running high. The growth of crops has been rapid. Range grass especially shows fine growth and stock of all kinds is improving steadily. Losses have ceased in northeastern countles. Lambing shows a large per cent. of increase and shearing is about finished in the central counties. The calf crop is light thus far, but cattlemen expect a good increase later. The first cutting of alfaife is well along in southern counties and is beginning in the central counties with a large crop. Frost has thinned fruit somewhat in the northern counties, especially in Union and San Juan counties. Strawberries are being marketed in the lower Pecos valley. Sheepmen are complaining of the loss of large numbers of sheep from poisoning from a new weed that is appearing on the range.

New Automobile Line,

Dr. Thomas M. Michaels of Torrance

spent Thursday in Santa Fe on business. He has been a resident of Torrance for three years and is thoroughly acquainted with the surrounding country. The town already shows improvements on account of the pected building of the Eastern railw. of New Mexico, which will cross the El Paso & Northeastern road at that point and also connect there with the Santa Fe Central. "One of the greatest things for my section," said the doctor, "has been the establishment of the automobile line between Torrance and Roswell. Vehicles have commenced to run regularly and are now making the trip daily, going and coming in about eight hours.

"It is expected that with improvements of the road between the two towns the time will be cut down to six or seven hours. The fare is $10, which, considering that the distance is 101% miles between the two points, is very low. The automobiles now making the trip have been patronized to the fullest capacity and it is believed that the business will increase so as to necessitate an increase in the number of vehicles. This will be done just as soon as the company owning the automobiles finds it can do so profitably and this will be within a few weeks. The road is straight across a love range of country and is being improved constantly, although it is a very good natural road already. "There are at present no stopping places on the line, although there are cattle and sheep ranches to the right and left of it. The company expects to put in several stopping places where meals will be served and passengers taken care of, as well as for use in case of emergency. Heretofore if passengers from Roswell wanted to go to any towns in the central part of the territory on the Santa Fe railway system, they either had to go from Roswell to Pecos City on the Pecos Valley & Northeastern railroad, a distance of about 180 miles, from Pecos City to El Paso on the Texas Pacific railroad, distance of 276 miles, and from El Paso to whatever towns in the territory they wanted to reach, a distance of several hundred miles: or they could make the northern trip by going to Trinidad vid the Santa Fe, from Trinidad to Amarilla, via the Colorado & Southern railroad, and from Amarilla to Roswell via the Pecos Valley. & Northeastern. * This, with stoppage, etc., took up a space of time of about two days and two nights, provided there were no delays or interruptions in train service. Via the automobile line passengers, say, from Santa Fe will leave here at noon reach Torrance the same evening, remain there over night and get to Roswell the secton afternoon about o'clock, saving money, travel, time and expense. It looks as if the automobile line will develop much business, and in the near future will carry mail and express from the central parts of New Mexico to Roswell and other points in the Pecos valley."-Santa Fe New Mexican.

LEWIS AND CLARK EXPOSITION

Vice President Fairbanks Makes Principal Address at Portland-President Roosevelt at Washington Touches Electric Button and Starts Machinery.

Portland, Ore., June 2.—With the gentle touch of a hand upon a golden telegraph instrument President Roosevelt, from the White House, yesterdaygave the signal which formally ovened to the world the Lewis and Clark centennial exposition, a monument to the memories of Captains Merriwether Lewis and William Clark, the pioneers who, 100 years ago, blazed the trail which opened up to the world the "old Oregon country."

A more auspicious day for the opening of the exposition could not have been desired. The literary exercises which preceded the formal opening of the fair were of extraordinary excellence. The speakers were Vice President Fairbanks, Speaker Joseph Cannon of the House of Representatives, Senator Clark of Wyoming, Congressman Tawney of Minnesota, Mr. H. A. Taylor, assistant secretary of the Treasury Department, Governor Chamberlain of Oregon and Mayor Williams of Portland.

When President Goode of the Lewis and Clark Exposition took his position on the speakers' stand to announce that the ceremonies were about to commence he was greeted with terrific applause from tens of thousands of people, and similar demonstrations of a happy people greeted all the speakers of the day, perhaps the greatest enthusiasm being aroused by the appearance of Mayor Williams and Speaker Cannon upon the rostrum.

The program was carried out with but few changes in the original idea. A feature which was looked forward to with great expectancy, the playing of "America" upon the chiming bells in the government building, was unavoidably omitted, the electric apparatus by which the chimes are operated being found out of order at the crucial mo-

When all was in readiness for President Roosevelt to give the longawaited signal fro the White House President Goode of the exposition forwarded him the following telegram:

"President Goode of the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition extends greetings to the President of the United States, and has the honor to pleasure in transmitting the electrical energy to ring the chimes in the years ago from Switzerland. United States government building and start the machinery of this exposition.

Almost instantly, through thousands of miles of wire, flashed the single "click" which formally opened the exthe breeze and setting the machinery in motion.

Mr. Goode received the following telegram from President Roosevelt: "I congratulate you and those assoclated with you in commemorating this occasion. I hope and trust that the great enterprise you have undertaken will be a fitting memorial to the sturdy explorers, who, in the service of their country, faced the perils and hardships of a vast unknown territory. I send greeting to the representatives. of foreign countries who are co-operate ing with us in fittingly celebrating the 100th anniversary of this event, which means so much for the expansion of

FIXING RAILROAD RATES.

Making railroad rates is like playing a game of checkers or chess. Communicles to be benefitted, producers, position, releasing hundreds of flags to manufacturers or shippers to be sided represent the pleces used. Every posalbie move is studied for its effect on the general result by skilled traffic managers. A false move in the making of freight rates may mean the ruin of a city, of a great manufacturing interest, of an agricultural community. Railroads strive to build up all these so that each may have an Lequal chance in the sharp competition of dusiness. So sensitive to this rivalry are the railroads that in order to build up business along their lines they frequently allow the shipper to practically dictate rates. Rate making has been a matter of development; of mutual concessions for mutual benefit. That is why the railroads of the United States have voluntarily made freight rates so much lower in this country than they are on the government-owned and operated railways of Europe and Australia that they are now the lowest transportstion rates in the world.

Acetylene gas is one of the simplest as well as the most perfect of artificial lights. It is made by the contact of water and carbide, (a manufactured product for sale at a nominal price), is absolutely safe and gives a beautiful white light soothing to the eyes and nerves. It can be produced anywhere—in the farm home, the village store, the town hall, the church-and so easily maintained as to be practical for all classes.

It is a matter for national congratulation that in beautifying so historis a spot as Chickamauga, nothing but the best, including the lighting system, has been deemed good enough for the American people.

Are the Packers Receiving Fair Play?

When the Garfield report on the business methods of the packers aption, it was severely criticised ar l roundly denounced. After three months of publicity it is significant that those who attempted to discredit it have failed to controvert the figures contained in that exhaustive document. The public is beginning to notice this omission, and the feeling is rapidly growing that the sensational charges out of which the "Beef Investigation" arose were without foundation. If the official state tents of the report are susceptible or contradiction, a good many people are now asking why the facts and figures are not furnished to contradict them.

The truth seems to be that most of the charges contain unfounded sensational assertions. MEANT DEATH TO SLEEP

Day by Wolves A grewsome tale is told by the Pittsburg Dispatch of the bringing of the body of the late Mayor of Seattle from the interior of Alaska. M. A. Mahoney, who had charge of the body, started alone from Fairbanks to draw the coffin over the snow road by sledge. Two days out of Fairbanks he was crossing a level bit of country over which the trail made way through forests of giant pine and fir. With the first shadows of night there came a long, low wall. It was ical Chickamauga battlefield where followed by another and another, thirty thousand Union and Confederate each unmistakably nearer. The man, soldlers were lost in the memorable standing on a lonely Alaskan trail, A right of action for malicious battle of Sept. 19 and 20, 1863, contains hundreds of miles from the nearest habitation, and with a burden on his seventy-five principal ones of which are hands that he had sworn to bring safely to civilization, knew what it

He turned off into the woods, and under the shelter of the pines built a big fire. It was well he acted quickly for he had scarcely fed his dogs and snatched a morsel of supper himself when the wolves arrived.

All night long that lonely camp was surrounded by a row of gleaming eyes. Mahoney sat alone, the coffin for his seat, with every nerve strained. Once nature took revenge, and his heavy eyes drooped. While he dozed the fire died down and Mahoney woke with a start. A gaunt gray wolf was poking his nose very near to him. The man hastened to throw on more wood, and the beasts slunk away until only the gleam of their eyes told that they were keeping watch.

With the morning sun the wolves vanished, and Mahoney once more took up the trail. Not once all day did he see a sign nor hear a sound from the pack that he knew was sil ently following. With the sunset however, came the long, bloodcurdling wail.

The second night was a fight against sleep. He tied a pine knot to his right hand. As he dozed off, the flames would burn and waken him. As the day before, the wolves departed with the dawn and gave no sign until evening. Then for a third time Mahoney went without sleep.

The wolves, their hunger increasing, grew bolder, and crept closer and closer. Every now and then one would jump forward and snap at the feet of the silent watcher. Then Mahoney, with a blazing brand, would strike at the glowing eyes and drive back his foe. When morning came, the man, half-crazed with fear and loss of sleep, once more took the trail and at noon came to a roadhouse, where he was cared for. He slept steadily for eighteen hours, then resumed his journey.

The number of patients was reduced to twenty, those in whom the disease was most active being retained and the others being returned, for the time being, and much against their will, to the buildings. One large tent suffices for the housing at night of the reduced number of patients. and one was set apart as a sittingroom for day use, with the accessory tents before mentioned, and large stoves were placed in them, here and there, with wire screens surrounding them to protect the patients, and a liberal use of aubestos and other fireproof material and arrangements for the prevention of fire.

To make a long story short, it has through the two succeeding winters and intervening seasons, up to the date of the present writing. The scope of its employment has been gradually enlarged until all patients in whom there are active manifestations of tuberculosis—an average of fortythree out of a total census of about 2.000-are isolated therein, and there has been parallel enlargement of the elements of the plant.

The isolation of the tuberculosis patients has reduced to a minimum the danger of infection of other patients and of employes. The patients themselves have suffered no injury or hardship, but have, on the contrary, been unmistakably benefited. This is shown, among other ways, by a decrease in the death rate from pulmonary tuberculosis, both absolute and relative, and by a marked general increase in bodily weight, amounting in the case of one patient to an actual doubling of the weight-from eighty-three to one hundred and sixty-six pounds—in fourteen months of camp residence. Mental Improvement has as a gener-

The question of medication may in the present writing be dismissed with a very brief reference. It has been found unnecessary to extend it greatly, and it has been limited mainly to the treatment of symptoms. Stimulation-alcoholic and the like-has been found of but little demand or use, and the quantities consumed—always under individual medical prescription have been insignificant. Now Free from Suffering and Actively at Work. "Yes," said Mr. Watkins to a reporter,

"it is true that I have been cured of ataxia by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." "Are you sure you had locomotor ataxia?"

"The doctors themselves told me so. Besides I recognized the symptoms." "What were they?"

"Well, the first indications were a stiffness about the knee joints that came on about four years ago. A few months after that appeared, my walk got to be ancertain, shaky-like. I lost confidence in my power to control the movements of my legs. Once, when I was in the cellar, I started to pick up two scuttles of coal, and my legs gave way suddenly. and I tumbled all in a heap in a basket. I couldn't close my eyes and keep my balance to save my life. Then I had fearful pains over my whole body and I lost control over my kidneys and my bowels."

"How about your general health?" "Sometimes I was so weak that I had to keep my bed and my weight fell off twenty pounds. Things looked pretty bad for me until I van across a young man who had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and who advised me to try them."

"Did these pills help you right away?" "I didn't see much improvement until I had used six boxes. The first benefit I noticed was a better circulation and a picking up in strength and weight. I gradually got confidence in my ability to direct the movements of my legs, and in the course of seven or eight months all the troubles had disappeared."

"Do you regard yourself as entirely well now?"

"I do the work of a well man at any rate. I can close my eyes and stand up all right and move about the same as other men. The pains are all gone except an occasional twitch in the calves of my legs."

Mr. James H. Watkins resides at No. 72 Westerlo street, Albany, N.Y. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained at any drug store. They should be used as soon as the first signs of locomotor ataxia appear in a peculiar numbness of the feet.

What a satisfaction it is to go through life radiating sunshine and hope instead of despair, encouragement instead of discouragement, and to feel conscious that even the newsboy or the bootblack, the car conductor, the office boy, the elevator boy, or anybody else with whom one comes in contact, gets a little dash of sunshine, It costs nothing when you buy a paper of a boy, or get your shoes shined, or pass into an elevator, or give your fare to a conductor, to give a smile with it, to make these people feel that you have a warm heart and good will. Such salutations will mean more to us than many of the so-called great things. It is the small change in life. Give it out freely. The more you give the richer you will grow.—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

Alcolohi Light

Wood alcohol is coming into quite general use for lighting in France and Germany, where it is as inexpensive as kerosene. The alcohol is led to a special burner by a wick, which does not require trimming, and with a small Weisbach mantle in a slender glass chimney, a smokeless and steady light of forty-five candle power is produced This very brilliant light can be regu lated perfectly and is quite odorless.

Save the Babies.

NFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twentytwo per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirtyseven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

- We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly prisons. In any quantity they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. A. F. Peeler, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy." Dr. E. Down, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in my practice for many years with great satisfaction to myself and benefit to my

Dr. J. E. Waggoner, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I can most heartly recommend your Casteria to the public as a remedy for children's complaints. I have tried it and found it of great value." Dr. Edward Parrish, of Brooklyn, N. T., says: "I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild lazative effect and freedom from harm."

Dr. J. B. Eillott, of New York City, says: "Having during the past six years prescribed your Castoria-for infantile stomach disorders, I most heartily commend its use. The formula contains nothing deleterious to the most delicate of children." Dr. C. G. Sprague, of Omaha, Neb., says: "Your Castoria is an ideal medicine for children, and I frequently prescribe it. While I do not advocate the indiscriminate use of proprietary medicines, yet Castoria is an exception for conditions which arise in the care of children."

Dr. J. A. Parker, of Kunsas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact, it is the universal household remedy for infantile aliments."

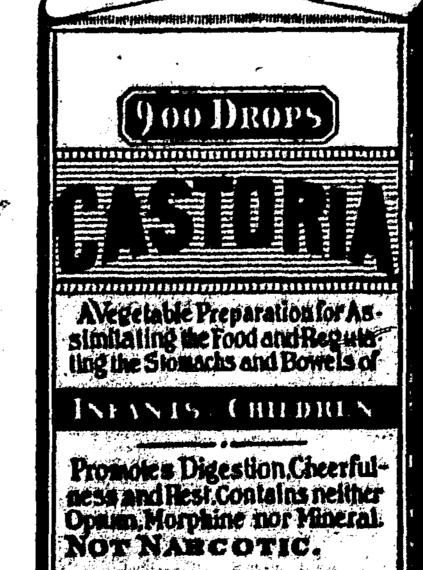

Dr. II. F. Merrill, of Augusta, Me., says: "Castoria is one of the very finest and most remarkable remedies for infants and children. In my opinion your Castoria has saved thousands from an early grave. I can formish hundreds of testimonials from this locality as to its efficiency and morits.

Dr. Norman M. Geer, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "During the last twelve years I have frequently recommended your Castoria as one of the best preparations of the kind, being safe in the hands of parents and very effective in relieving children's disorders, while the ease with which such a pleasant preparation can be administered le a great advantage."

Dr. F. H. Kyle, of St. Paul. Minn., says: "It affords me pleasure to add my name to the long list of those who have used and now endorse your Castoria. The fact of the ingredients being known through the printing of the formula on the wrapper is one good and sufficient reason for the recommendation of any physician. I know of its good qualities and recommend it cheerfully."
