Statement.

Of the condition of the Exchange Bank, White Oaks, New Mexico, at the close of business, June 30th, 1905.

Table with 2 columns: RESOURCES and LIABILITIES. Includes items like Cash and Sight Exchange, Loans and Discounts, Deposits, and Undivided Profits.

I, Frank J. Sager, Cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of July A. D. 1905.

Corrected Attest: W. C. McDonald, Director, Geo. L. Clarke, Director.

NOGAL ITEMS.

Quite a number of stock holders in the Wiggins mining deal on the Rio Bonito are here looking over their property. There seems to be no lack of funds to make the enterprise a success.

The principal stock holders of the Vera Cruz mine are expected daily to straighten matters and start the mine in full force again.

The summer school under the management of Prof. Harper is progressing nicely, and quite a number in attendance.

Bony Baca passed through Nogal last week en route home, says he is going to stay here now.

P. M. Johnson had the misfortune to get his barn, hen house and corral burned last week—supposed to have caught fire from a smudge placed in the hen house to remove the mites.

Mr. Wid Corn and family are now at their old place on the Bonito for the purpose of regaining their health. The climate at Roswell cannot compare with the Sierra Blancos.

Miss Mae Burleson, daughter of our old friend Pete Burleson, is stopping at the Brown hotel and attending the summer school. Miss Mae is preparing herself for teaching.

Advertised Letter List.

The following is a list of unclaimed letters lying in the post office at White Oaks, N. M. for the month ending June 31st, 1905, which if not called for within 30 days will be sent to the dead letter office at Washington, D. C.

Place gold bought.

S. C. Wiener. John Y. Howitt went to Lincoln Tuesday on legal business and will be gone several days.

The latest in White Oaks is the story of a young man in this community who recently took his girl to a neighboring town to get married in a very sly way, and had to telegraph back to the old folks to find out his age before the knot could be tied.

There is another story of a society young man who took two ladies to a party some miles from town recently, when the latter insisted on occupying the back seat, leaving him the whole front one for elbow room.

And still another one, where the young man's mother found a wad of, apparently, well manipulated chewing gum and half a tozeuge carefully wrapped up in a last week's handkerchief, bearing his girl's monogram, snugly stowed away in the side pocket of his best coat.

You can now get the very best quality of kerosene shipped from El Paso at the Taliaferro Mercantile Co's.

The many old friends of Mrs. Ella Kempton in White Oaks will be pained to hear of her death at Montgomery, Alabama, on the 13th of this month. None of the particulars are known, only that she had gone south a short time ago to visit her daughter.

NEW MEXICO NEWS SUMMARY

Sugar Beet in New Mexico.

Sugar beet raising and beet sugar making have within the past seven years become leading industries of the state of Colorado. What is now being done in that state can with proper effort be done in New Mexico. New Mexico's sugar-beets, especially those grown in the Santa Fe valley, are richer in saccharine matter than are those grown in the Continental State. The day will come and it is not far distant when there will be thousands and thousands of acres of land in this territory cultivated in sugar beets and when New Mexico will make beet sugar that will be among the best produced anywhere and in great quantities. The example set by Colorado will be followed, and that before long. The sugar beet manufacturers will come to the conclusion sooner or later that New Mexico is a very inviting field for their operations and will come here with their factories and their employes. When the irrigation systems now being constructed, or under contemplation by the reclamation service of the United States Geological Survey shall be in active operation there will be many thousands of acres ready for the planting of sugar beets, and that they will be used for that purpose cannot be doubted by those who know the great chances for the successful cultivation and raising of the beet and for the making of sugar therefrom presented by New Mexico.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

License Fee Question.

In the case of Bernalillo County vs. Frank A. Hubbell, treasurer and ex-officio collector, which involves the right of the collector to retain four per cent. on the liquor and gaming licenses paid over to him by the sheriff of the county, no his fees, which has been pending in the District Court of the Second judicial district of Bernalillo county for some time, Judge Ira A. Abbott has decided that the collector was not entitled to this four per cent. commission and that only the sheriff, who is charged by law with the collection of the liquor and gaming licenses, was entitled to four per cent. commission on such collections. The case is important, as the collectors generally have claimed four per cent. commission on such licenses as their own, the law being somewhat ambiguous in the matter. An appeal to the Territorial Supreme Court will likely be taken, but in the meantime Judge Abbott's decision will stand. The judge's opinion is clear and to the point and seems to be good law. If upheld by the Territorial Supreme Court, it will save the taxpayers considerable money and will augment the school funds in the several counties. Treasurers and ex-officio collectors are well paid officials for the work they are doing and for the responsibility resting upon them. Indeed, the policy should be to cut their fees and commissions rather than to increase them. The decision of Judge Abbott is therefore in the right direction and pleasing to the people.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

The Oldest Homesteader.

There was no question asked as to whether he was old enough, when Jose Zamora came to this city this week from the Sweetwater valley to make entry on a homestead. Before United States Land Commissioner Tower, for Mr. Zamora is ninety-six years of age and the oldest settler in Colfax county, says the Springer correspondent of the Santa Fe New Mexican. He has never used his homestead right. Commissioner Tower is himself not a young man, being seventy-seven, and the oldest inhabitant he has previously had to deal with was seventy-four, but when confronted with ninety-six he felt that he was at least twenty years younger than he is. When Mr. Zamora makes final proof on his homestead he will be 101 years of age, and, taking his present physical condition into consideration, he bids fair to be alive and hearty at that time. Mr. Zamora's wife is still living. She is ten years his junior, and, with the exception of slightly falling eyesight, is well preserved.

Indians Look for Homes.

An Albuquerque dispatch of July 5th says: Thomas B. Ketchum, a wealthy Delaware Indian, residing at Vieja, Indian Territory, is in the city for the purpose of looking over New Mexico preparatory to making a report to leading members of the tribe as to the feasibility and practicability of their migrating to this territory and taking up farms. The Delawares are probably the most thrifty of all Indian tribes and are very wealthy, 750 of them owning 158,000 acres of rich farming and oil and gas lands in Indian Territory. In a short time a delegation of the most prominent members of the tribe will visit New Mexico and select a place to form a Delaware colony. They have become disaffected with the Cherokee nation, where they have resided for many years, and only a few years ago came near migrating to the state of Sonora, Mexico.

Arrested for Libel.

An Albuquerque dispatch of July 5th says: Meliton and Anastasio Torres, president and editor, respectively, of El Defensor del Publico, a Spanish weekly published in Socorro county, were arrested yesterday on warrants sworn out by District Attorney Elfigo Baca of Socorro, charging them with libeling Frank Parker, associate justice of the New Mexico Supreme Court. The warrants were issued within an hour after the issue of the paper containing the alleged libel appeared. The arrests caused considerable excitement. This is the first suit for libel under the libel law passed by the recent Legislature, which law is sweeping. The article charges Judge Parker with accepting bribes and allowing politics to influence him in his decisions.

Will Contest Tax Law.

By reason of the law passed on March 16, 1903, by the Territorial Legislature providing for the assessment of sheep in counties in which the animals graze, instead of where they are owned, the assessment of the county of Bernalillo was reduced something like $100,000 this year. At the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners July 7th District Attorney F. W. Clancy was instructed to appear before the Territorial Board of Equalization when that body meets at Santa Fe and present against the law on the ground that it cannot become effective, as it was passed March 16th, and the assessment of all property in the territory is based on property that was owned on March 1, 1902. The point raised is an interesting

Killing the Army Worm.

A number of sections in New Mexico have been infested with a large number of worms (caterpillars) this summer, which are doing a great deal of damage to the alfalfa. This is the crop that the worms prefer. These worms seem to belong to what is known as the fall army worm. The fall army worm is very similar in its destructive work to the true army worm; and in general appearance they look very much alike. Prof. Fabian Garcia, professor and station horticulturist at the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanics, Arts at Mesilla Park, counsels immediate action and gives the following directions:

Such mechanical means as the mowing of the crop on the edge of the field, where the worms are coming in, and burning this crop, are effective, since many of the worms are destroyed with the crop. The march of the worms from one grain field into another can sometimes be checked to a large degree by plowing a steep ditch between them and dragging a log back and forth through the ditch, killing the worms as they crawl into the trench. It is sometimes recommended to dig holes in the bottom of the ditch every few feet. The worms, falling in these holes are not able to climb out, become accumulated, when they can be killed. The ditches may be filled with water and the addition of a little kerosene so as to form a scum, is enough to kill the worms which fall in. Large numbers of worms can also be destroyed by spraying with Paris green or some other poisonous mixture. This, however, must be used with great care and stock must not be allowed to pasture in fields thus sprayed. On annual crops deep plowing, thorough harrowing or rolling help very materially to destroy the hibernating worms and prevent their attack the following season. In the case of perennial crops, such as alfalfa, fall plowing is not practical, but a thorough dicing and harrowing will give practically the same results as fall plowing.

Cattle Prospects.

W. C. Barnea, of Dorsey, Colfax county, secretary of the Territorial Cattle Sanitary Board, a committee of which met in this city Monday, said to a representative of the New Mexican that although the year would not be as good in the cattle business as it had been in the past years, that the cattle men had no cause for complaint. The past winter and spring have been so bad on the stock of the territory that the nucleus for commencing cattle raising this year was very small and that large results could not be expected. The calf crop will be small all over the territory and as a result the receipts from this side of the industry will be small. The ranges are in the best of condition and the stock that survived the winter is showing the good effects of plenty of food and water. Range has attacked the animals in the northern part of the territory and along the Texas line in the east. Other sections are apparently free from this disease and hopes are entertained that with proper precautions it can be kept away. The grass is green and water plentiful, and so long as the destructive worm does not arrive the cattle and stock of all kinds will thrive. Mr. Barnea also stated that the Cattle Sanitary Board would do all in its power, as a body and as individuals, to prevent the spread of mange and that with the prevailing conditions the prospects for next season are fine for a good year.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

New Mexico Bandit Captures.

An Albuquerque dispatch of July 5th says: The notorious Claude Deane, wanted for murder, horse stealing and highway robbery, and for whom officers all over the Southwest have been on the lookout for the past two weeks, was captured to-day after a running fight at Embudo, New Mexico, a small station on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, 150 miles north of this city. The capture was made by Ben Williams, special officer of the Santa Fe railway, and Fred Perno, United States secret service man. He was brought in this city and lodged in the county jail. Deane has served several terms in the penitentiary and only two months ago was released after having served five years for horse stealing. Soon after his release he organized a desperate band of cattle rustlers and proceeded to turn a few of his old tricks. He is charged by the officers with murdering Walton Lyon, a McKinley county school teacher, about the middle of June, and robbing the body of over $1,000. Soon after a mail pouch was taken from the Santa Fe train at Baker station and a package containing $3,000 in currency extracted. It is also suspected that he did this job. The most daring of his recent depredations, however, was two weeks ago, when he entered the outlying precincts of Albuquerque and drove off twenty-five head of fine stock. Other members of the gang escaped.

Stock Growers' Resolutions.

The Northeastern New Mexico Stock Growers' Association held its semi-annual meeting at Folsom July 4th. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, There is at present pending before the House of Representatives, the Senate of the United States, a bill calling for the enlarging of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and, "Whereas, We feel that such a law is necessary for the protection of the producers and consumers of this country; be it, therefore,

"Resolved, By the Northeastern New Mexico Stock Growers' Association, in meeting assembled, that we approve of the action of the President of the United States in his message to Congress asking for the enlargement of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission whereby such is found unreasonable or excessive.

"Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the territorial representative in Congress asking that he use all possible means to see that this bill is passed.

"Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States and to Senators Foraker and Elkins.

Preposterous Sheep Growers.

An Albuquerque dispatch says: T. B. Clements, who is in charge of 6,000 sheep owned by Joseph Nations and grazing near Magdalena, is in the city on business. Clements says that the sheep have just been sheared by machinery, and that the machines have hand-shearing beaten a thousand miles. It is his opinion that extensive rangers in a few years will have all their sheep sheared by machines. Clements says Magdalena ranges were fine for stock raising the past winter and spring, and that lambing throughout that particular section will average at least ninety-five per cent., and in some instances 100 per cent.

The county commissioners of Santa Fe county made the following tax levy for the year 1906: Territorial, 17 mills; county, 15 1/2 mills; city, 21 mills, making a total of 53 1/2 mills for the year. They also made a special levy of 7 mills for county and 7 mills for territorial purposes.

The Fourth of July was celebrated at Roswell by the Board of City Aldermen in presenting to the citizens a big reduction in the city taxes. One-third was cut off the taxes on the regular city levy. The high-scall liquor license that went into effect July 1st was the cause of the reduction.

The two automobiles which were purchased by Governor Otero and Secretary Reynolds have arrived and are receiving a good trial at the hands of the owners. The machines are of the best make and so far have fulfilled all the claims of the manufacturers. Both are of the same pattern, size and horse-power.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

The White Brokerage Company, with offices in Trinidad, Las Vegas, Albuquerque and El Paso, has sold out. Addison Walker has bought the Trinidad office and Messrs. J. P. Erickson of Las Vegas and M. H. Sabin of Albuquerque have bought the remainder of the business. The house has the largest commission business in the territory.

At Las Vegas Teofilo Martinez has been appointed guardian of Fernando Martinez, whose mother is a patient in the asylum for the insane; Nicholas Sandoval has been appointed guardian of Juanita and Candido Sanchez; C. E. Rudolph and Jacinto Redarte have been named administrators of the estate of Juan Rafael Martinez, deceased.

In the Fourth Judicial District Court for San Miguel county, an injunction was granted against Bernard Higgins restraining him from pasturing his cattle on the Fort Union pasture in the Moro grant. The pasture comprises about 40,000 acres and the injunction was granted on the application of Paul Butler, the Union Land and Grazing Company and the La Cueva Ranch Company.

A Roswell dispatch says: A. L. W. Nilsson, who came here from Sweden and established the first factory in the United States for the manufacture of Swedish cement shingles, has been appointed superintendent of the Roswell creamery. Mr. Nilsson can detect the cause of a fault in butter by simply tasting the milk from the different cows. He has such a wonderful taste that he can tell, blindfolded, by tasting the milk, what cow gave it.

Miles Darrow, a cowboy, while participating in a broncho-busting contest at San Marcel on the 8th inst., had his right hand badly lacerated by a fractured horse and one finger bitten off. While trying to mount it he got what he thought was a good hold of one of the horse's ears, but when the animal reared and raised its head, Miles lost his hold. His hand slipped down the horse's face into its mouth, and a finger was bitten off by the angry animal so suddenly that the owner did not notice the loss.

The Territorial Fair Association has contracted with an Eastern manufacturer for one ton of red fire, and by an arrangement now planned propose to keep the streets of Albuquerque aglow every evening during fair week from 8 to 11 o'clock. It is also its intention to set off 200 pounds at one time on the top of the Sandia mountains and at other distances from Albuquerque on some night during the fair, the reflection of which will probably be seen from Rincon to Las Vegas, north and south, and from Gallup to Santa Rosa, east and west.

The Roswell Country Club has perfected an organization. It has seventy-one members and the membership will be limited to seventy-five. The club will be incorporated under the name of the Roswell Country Club and the capital stock will be $10,000. The new club was organized solely for pleasure and its members are the most prominent men of the city. The club has purchased a tract of land north of Roswell which has water in abundance and is adjacent to a fine golf course.

CZAR NAMES WITTE

LIBERAL WILL HEAD MISSION

Successe Muraviev, Who Advocated War—Appointment, Will Make for Peace.

St. Petersburg, July 13.—Emperor Nicholas has signed the appointment of M. Witte, president of the committee of ministers, to be chief plenipotentiary representing the Russian government in the peace negotiations to be conducted next month in the United States.—The appointment clothes M. Witte with plenary powers. Official notification of the designation of M. Witte to head the mission was forwarded to Washington this morning. M. Witte will take passage on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which sails from Cherbourg July 26th.

It has been intimated that Japan formally objected to certain utterances attributed to M. Muraviev reflecting upon the Japanese nation, but inquiries made here have failed to obtain any confirmation of the rumor.

The remarks credited to Japan are attributed to the time when Muraviev was president of the arbitration tribunal at The Hague, which decided against Venezuela the claims of the blockading powers for preferential treatment.

After the delivery of the decision M. Muraviev reviewed the decision and said the arbitration, begun in times of peace, had ended amid the sinister acts of war, which was a terrible obstacle in the path of light and progress. In spite of all good will, no one was secure against an unexpected hostile attack. A nation was obliged to accept a war when the legitimate defense of honor and liberty was involved. The just Providence which ruled over battles would distinguish between right and unfounded protestations. At the end of this war between an European and an Asiatic people the right would shine out afresh.

The Japanese minister at The Hague asked his government for instruction in regard to M. Muraviev's speech, but the outcome of this step has never been made known.

The peace party is overjoyed at the fact that the negotiations have been placed in M. Witte's hands. It is the firm belief that this not only insures a successful termination of the negotiations, but that M. Witte will secure the best possible terms for his country. Some of the grand dukes and courtiers of the Emperor's entourage, however, are reported to be furious at M. Witte's selection.

CZAR ENDANGERED.

Plot to Dynamite His Summer Palace at Moscow.

New York, July 14.—A World dispatch from London contains the following from the Vienna correspondent of the Telegraph: "Private letters from St. Petersburg state that the police have discovered elaborate preparations for blowing up the castle of Hlinskofe, near Moscow, where the czar with the imperial family intended to take up a brief residence. Beneath the apartments designed for his majesty's use, a subterranean passage is said to have been found leading to a cellar where 250 pounds of dynamite lay concealed.

"The police have made many arrests, apprehending, among others, two engineers who conducted the cleaning and decorating of the apartments at the castle. "This intelligence, associated with the murder of Shuvaloff has made a deep impression. "The czar has now given up all idea of staying at Hlinskofe."

Denver Delegation Happy.

Buffalo, July 14.—Denver Elks in this city are still indulging in the jollification over the victory in capturing next year's convention. As for the Dallas delegation, its members took the result with the best grace possible and extended congratulations to the winners. Cook's Drum Corps, accompanying the Denver Elks to the grand lodge session, gave a novel entertainment in front of the revolving stand at Lafayette square at 9 o'clock last night, consisting of a faithful reproduction of the snake dance of the Pueblo Indians, and the death dance of the Shoshones.

For each of these dances there were special music, arranged by Herman Bellstedt from the original Indian airs.

Cripple Creek Filling Up.

Denver, Colo., July 14.—Richard Malone, receiver of the Fidelity Savings Association, returned from Cripple Creek yesterday, where he had been looking after the property of the association. "Last March, we were taking in $200 a month on the dwelling houses that belonged to the association. To-day, the rents reach $400 a month. The miners are bringing in their families now and the houses are filling up. Immediately after the strike the miners were sending $100,000 a month out of camp to their families, but that money is held in the district these days," he said.

Price of Sugar Cut.

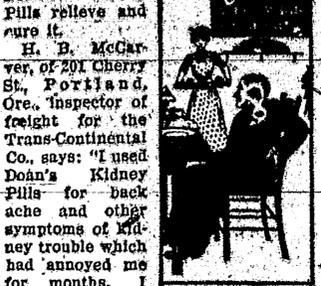

San Francisco, July 14.—A reduction of 20 cents per 100 pounds in all grades of sugar has been announced. The decline has been in a measure caused by the excellent prospects in Europe for a large increase in the beet sugar output, and the crop which forms a little more than one-half of the world's output, will come into the market in August.

Death of Scott Ashton.

Denver, July 14.—At Glicker Sanitarium, Colorado Springs, where he was taken from Cripple Creek by special train in an endeavor to save his life, Scott Ashton, a prominent attorney of Denver and the Cripple Creek district, died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Ashton was taken suddenly ill with acute pneumonia on Wednesday, and when it was found that his one hope lay in being removed to a better climate he was flown on a special train to Colorado Springs.

CONSTANT ACHING

Back aches all the time. Spoils your appetite, weakens the body, worries the mind. Kidneys cause it all and Doan's Kidney Pills relieve and cure it.

H. B. McCarter, of 291 Cherry St., Portland, Ore., inspector of freight for the Trans-Continental Co., says: "I need Doan's Kidney Pills for back ache and other symptoms of kidney trouble which had annoyed me for months. I think a cold was responsible for the whole trouble. It seemed to settle in my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills rooted it out. It is several months since I used them, and up to date there has been no recurrence of the trouble."

Gomez's Wonderful Eyes.

General Maximo Gomez, the Cuban patriot who died a few days ago, was thus described by one who campaigned with him before American interventions: "He is a gray little man. His clothes do not fit well, and, perhaps, if you saw it in a photograph, his figure might seem odd and ordinary. But the moment he turns his keen eyes on you they strike like a blow from the shoulder. You feel the will, the fearlessness and the experience of men that is in those eyes, and their owner becomes a giant before you."

ATAXIA FOUR YEARS

FOLLOWS MALARIA CONTRACTED IN SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.

Victim Had Become Helpless When He Tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but Was Cured in Four Months.

Because he did not know that there is a remedy for ataxia, Mr. Ariel endured four years of weakness, pain and the misery of thinking his case incurable. "At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war," he says, "I went with Company B, Eighth Regiment, M. V. A., into camp at Chickamauga, and while there my system became thoroughly poisoned with malaria. When I was mustered out, I carried that disease home with me. After a while locomotor ataxia appeared."

"How did the ataxia begin?" "I first noticed a pain in my ankles and knee joints. This was followed by a numb feeling in my legs. At times I had to drag myself around; my legs would shake or become perfectly dead. I had constant trouble in getting about in the dark. I kept a light burning in my room at night as I could not balance myself in the darkness. Even with the aid of a light I wobbled, and would reach out and catch hold of chairs to prevent myself from falling."

"How long were you a sufferer?" "Four years in all. During the last three years I was confined to bed, sometimes for a week, again for three or four weeks at a time. When I was lying down the pain in my back was frequently so severe that I had to be helped up and put in a chair to get a little relief. I had considerable pain in my bowels and no control over my kidneys. The worst of all was that the doctor could give me no hope of recovery."

"How were you cured?" "I read that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured locomotor ataxia and one or two friends spoke to me about them. In the fall of 1903 I began to take them for myself and I had not used more than one box before I found that the pains in my knees and ankles were greatly relieved. Four months afterward I became a perfectly well man, and I am today enjoying the best of health."

Mr. Edward H. Ariel lives at No. 43 Bowdoin street, Amesbury, Mass. Every sufferer from locomotor ataxia should try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills without delay. Any druggist can supply them.

BABY'S TERRIBLE SORE

"My child was a very delicate baby. A terrible sore and humor broke out on his body, looking like raw flesh, and causing the child untold agony. My physician prescribed various remedies, none of which helped at all. I became discouraged and took the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment with almost immediate success. Before the second week had passed the soreness was gone, not leaving a trace of anything. Mrs. Jeannette H. Block, 281 Rosedale St., Rochester, N. Y."

Why it is the best

The British Museum

(Special Correspondence.)

It is a popular and cherished belief among Englishmen that any book which cannot be found in the British Museum is not worth preserving. The museum has the greatest library in the world, in the variety and high quality of its books and manuscripts, and their perfect arrangement. The national library at Paris contains more volumes, but excels in this respect only the library of the British Museum, which contains fully 2,000,000 volumes, many of which are extremely rare, besides more than 50,000 priceless manuscripts, covering the history of the world from the earliest periods of antiquity as recorded through the medium of writings on material lighter than stone or clay.

Statue of Mausolus.

They have yielded their riches in relics to the British Museum.

The museum contains the world's greatest collection of instructive objects relating to the development of the human race. Room after room, in a seemingly endless gallery of chambers, is filled with cases containing the relics of past ages—the jewelry, the art objects, the weapons, even the clothing and household furniture of races long since extinct. Here we may look upon the preserved bodies of Egyptians who lived centuries before the advent of the Christian era; we may see their portraits painted on the coffins; we may view the raiment of those ancient kings and queens and their subjects. We are carried back on the wings of retroceding time, and stand among the ancients.

Here also we may see the evidences of the culture, the refinement, and the opulence of Greece and Rome. The finest marbles, the rarest jewelry, the most nearly perfect bronzes, the manuscripts, the clothing, the very household gods of those people to whom we owe our civilization, are here shown us. The crude, harsh and virile life of the middle ages and of early Britain are also portrayed through domestic collections preserved in the museum.

Delight of the Student

These collections, in connection with the library, make the museum a place in which the student would love to linger until the weeks became months and the months years. The essence of the world's knowledge is preserved here, a distillation that banishes all care or thought of the striving life of to-day from the mind of the scholar.

Visitors to the great library of the museum, expecting to enjoy immedi-

days of the museum, when persons were admitted only in parties, and conducted through the rooms in charge of an attendant, after first having made application in writing, "naming condition and place of abode of the applicant," as well as the day and hour on which admission was wanted. Persons thus applying had to present themselves at the porter's lodge for tickets of admission. Only ten persons were admitted at once, and they were obliged "to keep together, under charge of an officer."

Thousands Attend Daily.

Under such an arrangement only sixty persons could view the collection in a day. In 1808 it was ordered that eight parties of fifteen each, should be admitted in a day. These restrictive measures have long since been rescinded, and now the public enters the museum, for sight-seeing, to the number of thousands a day, the number of persons entering its portals on a holiday being not far from 50,000.

The British Museum owes its origin to a private individual, Sir Hans Sloane, a distinguished collector of books and antiquities who, by his will, in 1753, left the whole of his collection, valued at many hundred thousand dollars, to the nation. Parliament passed an act for the establishment of a repository for this collection. To defray the expense, $1,500,000 was raised by a lottery. The mansion known as Montagu house, one of the largest in London, standing on Great Russell street, in Bloomsbury, was taken for the home of the collection, and was opened to the public for the first time in 1755.

The museum has had many notable accessions of books and manuscripts, having been given, among others, the royal libraries of George II., George III., and George IV. Its great manuscript collections number about a dozen, from all quarters of the globe. It is especially rich in oriental and classic manuscripts.

In 1816, the accession of the so-called Elgin marbles—the sculptures from the Parthenon, secured to England through its ambassador to the Porte, Lord Elgin—made necessary the construction of a new wing to the museum, and in 1828 a general reconstruction was begun, which was brought to a termination in 1852.

The museum building is a great, low, massive granite structure of very plain exterior except on its south front on Great Russell street, which has an elaborate Ionic portico, facing an extensive courtyard.

The museum is more familiar, probably, than any other single building in Great Britain to American tourists, who frequent in great numbers the hotels and boarding houses that surround the museum.

Russian Soldiers Lost Nerve.

A curious phase of the struggle near Tieling last March is told by a correspondent, as follows: "The fight was short and decisive. The Russians could not stand in the open fields under the chrapnel and soon scattered like sheep, while many parties waved towels and handkerchiefs to surrender. During the rest of the day the Japanese were occupied hunting for Russians. The latter had broken up into small parties and were fleeing in every direction, many hiding in the ravines and in Chinese houses. However brave they were in fighting, when cornered some made spectacles of themselves hardly to be expected from men of a military race. The sight of stalwart soldiers armed with rifles kneeling before Japanese cart drivers, kissing their hands, bumping foreheads to the earth or reading prayer books aloud and

NOMADIC RICH AND POOR.

Two Classes of People That Are World-Wanderers. Only two classes of people spend their time wandering over the earth, the restless rich and the restless poor—the people who have so much that they don't know what to do with it, and those who have so little that it does not concern their minds—millionaires and tramps. The tramp's range of travel is not so wide as that of the wandering millionaire, but quite likely he draws the same surcease of soul weariness from change of scene that his wealthier fellow citizen does. He sleeps in a different haystack every night and the millionaire in a different hotel. He becomes a connoisseur in haystacks as the other does in inns and caravansaries. Travel becomes like opium or any other drug. Kept up long enough, one can't do without it. It is eternally living in one's trunk and grip-sack, which are at least vexatious which do not bother the tramp. He lives the freer life of the two. If it were not for the intermittent shaves, the occasional famine and the propensity of dogs to find fault with the tramp we should prefer his way of travel.—St. Louis-Globe-Democrat.

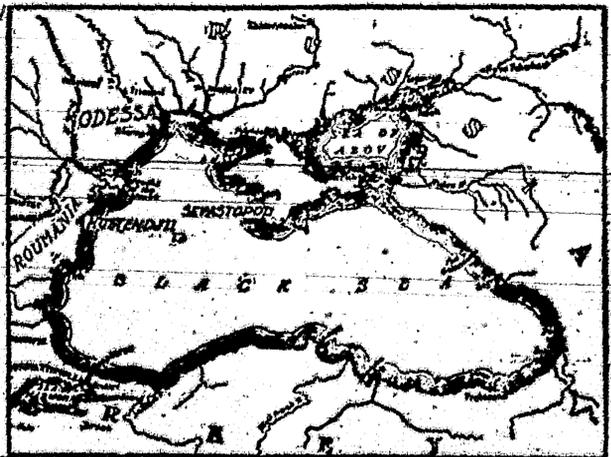

NEW FRENCH COAT OF ARMS.

Another Change in Heraldic Symbol of Republic. France has made, in the course of her history, so many changes in her heraldic symbol that the latest has escaped almost without notice. The Republic has just taken to itself a new coat-of-arms, which came into official use for the first time during the king of Spain's recent visit, the outcraunch being then quietly affixed to the ministry of foreign affairs, where, since his majesty resided there, they doubtless passed with many a worthy Frenchman for the Spanish coat-of-arms. The new design consists of the Victor's fasces, around which are twined sprays of oak and olive, the whole bound together with a band bearing the inscription, "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity," and around all a cartouch with the words "French Republic."

Four Facts For Sick Women To Consider

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has an Unequalled Record of Cures—Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Is Confidential, Free, and Always Helpful

FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, displacements of the uterus, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, sititine and ovarian inflammation, weakness and displacements, regulating menstruation perfectly and overcoming its pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

FOURTH.—Every ailing woman in the United States is asked to accept the following invitation. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills, Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Sincerely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

The Opportunity of Today

The opportunity for the man with little means is better today in the prairie states of the Southwest than ever before in the history of the section. The man who has the vision and the courage to take advantage of the "new" lands then taken up under Government laws are now prospering. Farms and ranches are being developed in the territory. In the Southwest—Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Texas—are vast areas of improved land for sale at prices of which it is capable. Practically the same thing is true of the South. Few times of business are so favorable as this. The man who has the vision and the courage to take advantage of all these opportunities, will be well paid for his efforts. BOAT ON GREEN RIVER

NEW STEAMBOAT, CITY OF MOAB

Had it not been for an obstruction in the Grand river, encountered by the steamer City of Moab, on its maiden trip, the little Utah city of that name would have held the greatest celebration in its history by this time, says the Denver Republican of June 1st. However, the enthusiasm of the residents over the opening of the Grand, Green and Colorado rivers to navigation by the Green-Grand Navigation Company has not waned in the slightest, and when the boat does reach the city, probably within thirty days, there will be a rousing demonstration.

J. J. Lumsden, president of the Green-Grand Navigation Company, and C. A. Anderson, captain of the "City of Moab," owned by the company and operated on the Green and Grand rivers between Green River station on the Denver & Rio Grande, and Moab, Utah, were visitors in Denver yesterday. In describing the new steamer, a most unique sort of a craft, Mr. Lumsden said:

"The 'City of Moab,' built last season and launched in April, is fifty-five feet long and nineteen feet deck beam, has two decks and can handle from fifty to sixty tons of freight and from fifty to sixty passengers. There are ten comfortable staterooms and the passenger accommodations are first class. The boat is operated by a gasoline marine engine of sixty horse-power and is capable of making from twelve to fifteen miles per hour. The distance from Green River station to the junction of the Green and Grand rivers is about 140 miles, and from this junction to the first cataract in the Colorado river the distance is about five miles. From the junction of the Grand and Green rivers to Moab the distance is about ninety miles.

"At the present time there is an obstruction in the Grand river about five miles above the junction which prevents the operation of the boat through to Moab. This obstruction, however, does not prevent the operation of the boat between Green river and the first cataract on the Colorado river, and as it is the intention of the company to dynamite the obstruction in the Grand, it is expected that within thirty days it will be possible to operate the boat through to Moab. The trip to the cataracts and return can be made in four days and this allows ample opportunity for stopping along the route, thus enabling the tourist to examine the Cliff Dwellers' remains and other interesting points.

"The scenery for the entire distance is magnificent, walls of the canyons in many places rising to a perpendicular height of from 1,000 to 3,000 feet. About twenty-five miles south of Green River station the river enters a stupendous canon and the boat does not emerge until Moab, on the Grand, is reached. The proprietors contemplate establishing a hotel at a point not yet determined on, in one of the canyons for the accommodation of tourists and excursionists. It is their expectation to provide these hotel accommodations before the present season is over.

"The navigation of the river is not attended with the slightest danger, as the current does not exceed three miles per hour.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 8-ounce packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking—Defiance never sticks.

Was ever a wicked man or woman especially fond of tea, do you think?

The Lord hasn't time to help a man who is too lazy to help himself.

The Union Pacific Railroad Passenger Department has put before the public a folder of the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland. It is wonderfully neat and attractive, colors having been employed in the printing. Contents embrace a very complete description of the Exposition and its attractions, including a bird's-eye view of the beautiful grounds and buildings, done in numerous colors. Scenes in and around Portland are strikingly portrayed, and all contemplating visiting the Exposition this summer should have a copy of the folder in order that they may know of points where the greatest enjoyment and satisfaction may be found.

MARKETING POTATO CROPS.

In line with the classic case of the oyster shippers, cited by President Hadley of Yale University in his book on Railroad Transportation, is the case of the Aroostook potato growers brought by President Tuttle of the Boston and Maine Railroad before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce. Nothing could better show how a railroad works for the interest of the localities which it serves.

A main dependence of the farmers of the Aroostook region is the potato crop, aggregating annually eight to ten million bushels, which find a market largely in Boston and the adjacent thickly settled regions of New England. The competition of cheap water transportation from Maine to all points along the New England coast keeps railroad freight rates on these potatoes always at a very low level.

Potatoes are also a considerable output of the truck farms of Michigan, their normal market being obtained in and through Detroit and Chicago and other communities of that region.

Not many years ago favoring sun and rains brought a tremendous yield of potatoes from the Michigan fields. At normal rates and prices there would have been a glut of the customary markets and the potatoes would have rotted on the farms. To help the potato growers the railroads from Michigan made unprecedentedly low rates on potatoes to every reachable market, even carrying them in large quantities to a place so remote as Boston. The Aroostook growers had to reduce the price on their potatoes and even then could not dispose of them unless the Boston and Maine Railroad reduced its already low rate, which it did. By means of these low rates, making possible low prices, the potato crops of both Michigan and Maine were finally marketed. Everybody eats potatoes, and that year everybody had all the potatoes he wanted.

While the Michigan railroads made rates that would have been ruinous to the railroads, had they been applied to the movement of all potatoes at all times, to all places, they helped their patrons to find markets then. The Boston and Maine Railroad suffered a decrease in its revenue from potatoes, but it enabled the Aroostook farmers to market their crop and thereby to obtain money which they spent for the varied supplies which the railroads brought to them. If the making of rates were subject to governmental adjustment—such radical and prompt action could never have been taken, because it is well established that if a rate be once reduced by a railroad company it cannot be restored through the red tape of governmental procedure. If the Michigan railroads had been subjected to governmental limitation they would have felt obliged to keep up their rates on the railroads of France and England and Germany under governmental limitation and let the potatoes rot. E. Hanra.

It is almost as easy to pick the wrong woman for a wife as it is to pick the wrong horse in a race.

Insist on Getting It.

Some grocers say they don't keep Defiance Starch. This is because they have a stock on hand of other brands containing only 12 oz. in a package, which they won't be able to sell first, because Defiance contains 16 oz. for the same money. Do you want 16 oz. instead of 12 oz. for same money? Then buy Defiance Starch. Requires no cooking.

CANAL WILL BE BUILT

SO SAYS PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Bearers of Discouraging Reports Likened to Skulkers Fleeing From Battle Field.

Oyster Bay, July 13.—President Roosevelt delivered a notable address yesterday before the Associated Physicists of Long Island.

He discussed in the course of his speech the relations physicians sustain with the people of the communities in which they reside and the work to be done by the medical experts in connection with the construction of the Panama canal, declaring that, despite all difficulties on the isthmus and here in the United States, the canal would be a success.

He referred to the achievements of the sanitary engineers who cleaned the cities of Cuba for the first time in 400 years, and closed by paying a tribute to the services of Gen. Leonard Wood, whose career as a military officer, he said, was flouted by some critics because he once had been a doctor.

In his address the President said: Just a couple of weeks ago there seemed to be a succession of people coming up from Panama, each one of whom had some tale or other to tell. You will always find in any battle, even if it is a victorious battle, that in the rear you meet a number of gentlemen that are glad that they are not at the front, who, if they have unfortunately gotten at the front have come away and who justify their absence from the front by telling tales of how everything had gone wrong there.

"Now the people who flee from Panama will carry up here just such stories as the people who flee from the forefront of a battle carry to the rear with them. The people to whom this country owes and will owe so much are those who stay down there and do not talk, but do their work, and do it well.

"Of course, in doing a great work like that in the tropics, in a region which, until this government took hold of it, was accounted to be a region exceptionally unhealthy, we are going to have trouble, have some yellow fever, have a good deal of malarial fever, and suffer more from the latter than from the yellow fever, although we will hear nothing like the talk about it. We will have every now and then troubles on a regard to hygiene, just as we will have trouble in the engineering problems. Just as occasionally we will have trouble in the administrative work.

"Whenever one of these troubles comes there will be a large number of excellent but timid men who will at once say what an awful calamity it is, and express the deepest sorrow and concern, and be rather inclined to the belief that the whole thing is a failure.

"It will not be a failure. It will be a success, and it will be a success because we shall treat every little check not as a reason for abandoning the work, but as a reason for altering and bettering our plans, so as to make it impossible that that particular check shall happen again."

POLAR EXPEDITION.

Peary Will Soon Sail in Quest of North Pole.

New York, July 12.—With $25,000 subscribed yesterday toward his expedition to reach the North Pole, Robert E. Peary announced that he will sail this week for the North. Commander Peary's new Arctic ship, the Roosevelt, has been waiting several days for supplies, which could not be bought on account of a lack of funds.

The Polar expedition, which has been in preparation since October 15, 1904, has cost $150,000, including subscriptions. The entire amount has been given by American business men to the Peary Arctic Club, whose members are anxious that none but Americans have a hand in this Polar expedition.

Morris K. Jessup, president of the club, subscribed $25,000, and Thomas H. Hubbard gave a check for $10,000.

Mr. Hubbard also offered to join with any other "believer" in the North Pole expedition in putting $25,000 into a fund to be divided among the members of the Peary party in case they succeed in reaching the pole and returning to New York within eighteen months after their departure from here.

In announcing that his ship is at last ready, Commander Peary yesterday made public for the first time a donation of $50,000 given by George Crocker in January last.

Mrs. Peary will probably sail with the expedition. From here the Roosevelt will proceed to Sydney, Cape Breton, where the New York crew will give up the ship to a picked crew, which is already waiting on the Erik, a coal ship, which will accompany the Roosevelt to latitude 73. The Erik will then return south, bringing Mrs. Peary with her.

Walsh Will Fight Scandal.

New York, July 13.—In speaking of the action brought by Tetef Hansen against Thomas F. Walsh, John D. Lindsay, counsel for Mr. Walsh, said yesterday:

"It was not the plaintiff nor his attorneys, but Mr. Walsh himself, who brought to the existence of these suits directly to the notice of the court. The material from which the reports published to-day were obtained was a remarkable affidavit made by the plaintiff, which Judge Dowling refused to receive, and of which, therefore, no notice was taken by us.

"You may say that the motion made before Judge Dowling is but the beginning of a line of aggressive action on Mr. Walsh's part, which he purposes to push to the end."

Czar Going to Moscow.

St. Petersburg, July 13.—The Czar positively announces that the emperor will travel to Moscow, where Wednesday he will issue a proclamation summoning the representatives of the people to the tsaritsyn palace, Krasny. Some of the officials of the court already have come to Moscow to make

The nut on the Chinese Exclusion Act should be given another half turn. First graduating honors at the Yale law school this year went to a Chinese student. While the Mexican took to sports and drama, the Chinaman gobbled his little diploma.

Gen. W. W. Blackmar, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, died at Boise City, Idaho, July 16th while making the rounds of the departments in the northwest. He was very popular with his old comrades and his death will be universally regretted.

Writers of railroad fiction do sometimes overdo matters. A late Rock Island folder classes Chicago among its summer resorts. Dry Tortugas and Devil's Island might also come under this head for people of a certain class, though not on the line of the Rock Island system.

Isn't it about time for those grand juries which have been indicting grafters to form a national association and elect Gov. Folger of Missouri its first Grand Embroider, Initiative Master, or something of that sort? The effects of the good work begun at St. Louis several years ago seem to be reaching out across the continent.

The entire Bon Ton restaurant was served up hot to the citizens of Santa Fe last Sunday evening. The building and contents were completely destroyed, and adjoining buildings somewhat damaged by the fire, which started in the upper story, no one knows how. The loss was almost entirely covered by insurance.

Notes to the Grand Army Camp at Deaver, Sept. 6th, will be one cent per mile over the Denver and Rio Grande, making the round trip from Santa Fe to $4.50. This will undoubtedly be met by the Santa Fe Central to Torrance. Efforts are being made to procure the route over the A. T. & S. F. and the Rock Island for all New Mexico points. If successful it will mean a large attraction

It is reported that the loss to the city of Odeasa, Russia's principal shipping point on the Black Sea, by the late mutiny and riots will reach the sum of $20,000,000 besides the months that it will take to repair the docks so that commerce can be resumed. It costs something for a civilized country to maintain an autocratic form of government at the beginning of this twentieth century and wage a war of aggression at the same time.

It now looks as if Chauncey M. Depew, instead of concocting cheap witticisms in regard to the primitive methods the people of New Mexico have of doing things, will now have about all he can do in making a witless defence against the charge of receiving $20,000 a year as attorney for the Equitable Life Assurance Company and then borrowing $250,000 of the association's money on insufficient security, to float one of his own private enterprises, well knowing the security was wholly inadequate. Put him in the boat with Burton, Mitchell and the others and set him adrift.

The scientists have now discovered that the only way to keep cool on a hot day is to keep moving, and not store up latent heat in the muscles and tissues. It is explained very clearly that the vaso-motor nerves and the secretory nerves of the sudoriferous glands are the thermostats of the body. Anything which starts an abundant perspiration carries off latent heat and minimizes the discomfort suffered. This makes it a little tough on us older codgers who all these years have labored under the false impression that the only way was to sit around in the shade, drink hard cider or mint juleps and sweat it out.

The little town of Farmington up in the northwest corner of the territory has a woman's club that does things. They have been a great factor in the improvement of the town schools, placed pictures on the walls, had the grounds and outhouses put in the best shape and planted any number of trees, and even paid the salary of one teacher who was badly needed, and for which there did not seem to be sufficient public funds. They have also provided a public reading room, and beautified the cemetery by planting trees and shrubbery therein. These women seem to realize there was a mission for them and that they have found it.

Kingly crowns and empty trappings of sovereignty have become so cheap in Europe that they will soon be hawked about the streets of the principal cities. The throne of Norway has gone begging for some one to hold it down for over a month past and no one has yet been found to plump down in it and become a target for bombs and things. A young prince of Denmark, out of a job, has been looking that way, but hesitates and will probably let the whole box of hot stuff slip through his fingers like piñata at a picnic. Little Billy, of Germany would like to farm it out to one of his numerous family of Hohenzollerns, but is afraid of a football mixup with England and Sweden, and so the matter rests. In the meantime the people of Norway are doing reasonably well trying to govern themselves, and if wise will take advantage of this their opportunity and establish a permanent government of their own, based on the principles of manhood and universal freedom, and transmit it as an everlasting inheritance to their children and their children's children forever. Truly the men who promulgated our Declaration of Independence laid their foundation deeper and broader than their forbears.

TEACHER'S INSTITUTE

Superintendent A. J. Smith of Otero County has issued the following information in regard to the coming institute which supplements what has already been said in this paper.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE JOINT SUMMER NORMAL OF OTERO AND LINCOLN COUNTIES.

To be held at Tularosa, N.M., beginning August 14th, ending August 25th, 1905.

Tularosa was selected as the place for holding the Otero County Summer Normal this year for the following reasons:

First: It was desirable to have Otero and Lincoln county teachers unite in a Summer Normal, thus lessening the expenses of the teachers of both counties, and Tularosa is the most central point available.

Second: Good accommodations can be had at Tularosa at more reasonable rates than anywhere else in the county.

A tuition of $3.00 will be charged at the beginning of the session to pay the expense of printing, and conducting the Normal. This may be cut down before the date of the meeting as it is desirable to make the expenses as light as possible for the teachers attending.

The conductor, Prof. J. S. Holaday, of Henrietta, Texas, is a man of deep learning, broad ideas, wide experience in institute and school work. He has been in the profession for thirty years, and enjoys the distinction of being superintendent of the same school for ten years. His presence is an inspiration to any institute, and no one can sit in his classes without being fired with renewed zeal, enthusiasm and love for the work. Prof. Holaday will be assisted by the County Superintendent and such other teachers of ability as are needed.

Per. Supt. Hadley has promised to be there and others have been solicited to give lectures on educational subjects. Excursions to the White Sands, Mesquero Indian Agency and Cloudcroft have been planned. Abundance of delicious fruit can be had at Tularosa at that time.

Board and room can be had at private houses at $5.00 a week and perhaps less. Rooms can be had at from $1.50 to $2.50 per week and meals at the hotel at 25 cents each.

Any one desiring further information on this subject will please correspond with Mrs. J. M. Blazer or Mrs. Lena Eldridge, both of Tularosa.

The people of Tularosa extend a hearty welcome to the teachers, and no pains will be spared to make them have a pleasant and profitable time.

The regular annual examination of teachers will be held at the close of the Normal, the 24th and 25th of August. No examination fee is charged.

Yours respectfully,
A. J. SMITH,
County Supt. Pub. Schools.

The El Paso-Herald of the 17th is authority for the statement that the Phelps Dodge system already has surreptitiously located a line from the Dawson coal fields by way of Las Vegas to a point on the Northeastern somewhere below Santa Rosa. This is said to make a saving in distance of from 70 to 100 miles in the haul to El Paso, and may result in the abandonment of the Dawson branch from Tucumcari or connect it into a mere local road. The reporter of the same paper, Mr. Simmons, general manager, who has just returned from New York, declared: "The Northeastern system is a thing of the past. Hereafter the lines of the Northeastern will be operated under the same head as the El Paso and Southwestern and be known as

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The OUTLOOK is in receipt of the fifteenth annual catalog of the New Mexico Agricultural College at Mesilla Park. This book, which contains 134 pages, was fabricated by the New Mexican Printing Co. of Santa Fe, and is constructed according to the most approved style of printer's art.

It appears to be padded out with about three times as much matter as was necessary to show the general public all they care to know about this, the most beneficial perhaps of our territorial institutions, aside from the University at Albuquerque.

A hasty glance through this catalog shows that during the year just closed there were 237 students enrolled, of whom three were in the graduating class.

To conduct these 237 young minds through all the ramifications of fractions, conjugation of verbs, hoeing corn, picking cherries, logarithmic two steps, Latin and other educational intricacies, it required, in addition to the Governor of the Territory Superintendent of Public Instruction and the five members of the Board of Regents, 27 professors and instructors of high and low degree, at an average salary of $100.48 per month each. This is a fraction less than nine students to one high priced educator.

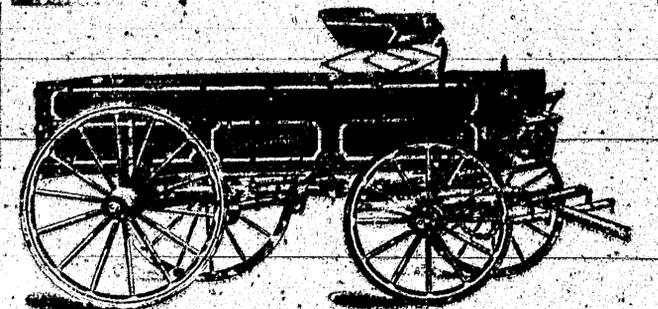

Of these students 57, or about twenty-five per cent., reside in either Las Cruces or Mesilla Park where the college is situated, and 21 of them are not residents of the territory.

We may boast of our territorial educational institutions in every town of three thousand people or over, supported in the main at public expense, but when we travel through the rural districts and find the doors of the little red school houses closed at least two thirds of the year, it looks as if the burro had been sheared for its wool.

This Chinese-Russo-Jap question of the "open door" is very simple when properly explained. You see, the Russians don't want an open door, but desire to keep a slice of China for themselves. Now, the Japanese want an open door and wish to keep Russia from keeping a slice of the country. On the other hand, Germany is trying to keep Japan from keeping Russia from closing the door, and also wants to keep her from keeping Russia's keeping a slice of China. Now, if America can keep Germany from keeping Russia from keeping a slice of territory, the door can be kept open. Besides, these hot days China has other reasons for wanting her door kept open. See?

The exposures of crookedness in the different governmental departments is no indication that this administration is corrupt above all others, but the reverse. It shows that there is an honest and strenuous effort being made to hunt the rascals out, and hie them out. Some of this graft had been inherited from former administrations, as shown by the disclosures in the Postmaster's department and the Interior department.
