NOGAL ITEMS.

Nogal is now pretty well hooked up or connected with the outside world. A telephone line from Lincoln by Capitan to Nogal has just been completed. It is expected that the Nogal Mercantile Co. will want a hello girl in the near future as Prof. Canning is a great stickler for style.

The daily rains have greatly relieved the farmers of this section. Corn crops on the mesa will be the largest ever raised. There must be many hundreds of acres under cultivation.

Since the Capitan branch of the railroad has been cut down to two trips per week, the mail coach has about all the passengers and express it can handle.

Another lot of sick people from Roswell came up to Nogal the 23d, but the rain turbed them back again. Sick lungs want dry air.

Prof. Koons had quite a severe attack Saturday but is recovering.

BE BRAVE.

"When you meet old Mr. Trouble Look him squarely in the eye; Grit your teeth and both fists double

And he'll surely pass you by. Make him give the road—he'll do it—

If he don't then make him rue it. Mark your path and then pursue it

Till you land where roses lie. When you see old Trouble coming

Set your shoulders square and firm. Cheery songs just keep a humming

And you're bound to make him squirm.

Tackle him and he'll grow humble Tangle up his feet and stumble. Then just scowl a bit and grumble

And go wriggling like a worm. Sunny sky or cloudy weather. Meet old Trouble on the square.

Never show him the white feather—

Show him that you'll do and dare.

Do this and you'll get him going. Slap his jaws, no mercy showing; Keep your courage ever growing

And you'll win out then and there."

Prof. Stephenson went up to Tucumcari Monday to look up school matters at that thriving town on the El Paso and North-eastern. The professor has secured the principalship of the schools there for the coming year and will take charge about the 10th of September. He has been in charge of the school here for the past two years and has given the best of satisfaction. He would have been retained only from the fact that the Quay county town offered superior inducements, financially and otherwise. Mrs. Stephenson and daughter Dorothy will follow him later.

John Gallacher last fall purchased about a thousand head of sheep down on the Rio Felix at an extremely reasonable figure, driving them to a ranch he has located out on the plains east of this town. By looking closely after his own interests his flock increased almost phenomenally the present season, affording him a very heavy clip of wool as well. He has lately sold 1500 head out of this bunch to M. E. Lovelace, of Tecolote, at the advanced price now offered, clearing up over $1,800 in the deal, with a fine bunch of young sheep left over for another starter. This is not so bad for a young man who cast his first vote last fall, and shows what pluck and energy, coupled with hard business sense, will do here in New Mexico. And John is distinctly a White Oaks boy, coming here almost a toddler years ago, and has passed the greater part of his life in this community.

Will Extend Electric Line.

A Las Vegas dispatch of July 17th, says: To-day W. A. Buddeke, president of the Las Vegas Electric Railway Company, which already has twelve miles of line in operation, announced the voting of $100,000 for extensions, a new power house and additional cars. The machinery for the power house and new cars have been ordered. The extension which will complete the line around the city and run to the hospital for the insane, is to be commenced at once. Mr. Buddeke, who has returned from a meeting of the stockholders in St. Louis, also brought back with him approved plans for a two-story pavilion to be erected at Gallinas park and to be completed before the northern New Mexico fair begins in September.

W. A. Buddeke, president of the Las Vegas Street Railway Company has been elected secretary of the Northern New Mexico Fair Association.

Raton wants free delivery of mail and is entitled to it. Many a town of much less consequence in other sections enjoys the free delivery of mail and all the adverse reports of postoffice inspectors to the contrary. Andrews, the Gate City will be given this privilege before another year has passed—Santa Fe New Mexico.

Mrs. Olive Corcoran, proprietor of the Columbus hotel at Albuquerque, has filed a claim against the Albuquerque Traction Company, through her attorneys, Klock & Dwyer, asking damages in the sum of $5,000 for injuries alleged to have been received recently while attempting to board an electric car. The trouble was caused by the carpenters' union in its demand for a 100% increase in its wages.

Delegates Appointed.

Governor Otero has appointed the following delegates from New Mexico: To the thirteenth National Irrigation Congress to be held at Portland, Oregon, August 21 to 24, 1905, inclusive: G. A. Richardson, H. J. Hagerman, Roswell; R. E. Twitchell, Frank Springer, R. H. Pierce, Las Vegas; C. J. Gavin, Raton; Luther Foster, Las Cruces; W. G. Tight, Albuquerque; D. H. Kedzie, Lordsburg; A. N. Pratt, L. O. Fullen, Carlsbad; A. B. Renehan, J. P. Victory, Santa Fe; W. H. Newcomb, W. B. Walton, Silver City.

To the sixteenth annual session of the Transmississippi Commercial Congress to be held at Portland, Oregon, August 16th to 19th, inclusive: R. E. Twitchell, Frank Springer, F. H. Pierce, E. J. Vert, Las Vegas; C. J. Gavin, W. C. Wrigley, C. M. Bayne, Raton; G. A. Richardson, H. J. Hagerman, Roswell; J. J. Corbett, Deming; Joe Prewitt, Aztec; Luther Foster, Las Cruces; W. G. Tight, Albuquerque; D. H. Kedzie, Lordsburg; A. N. Pratt, L. O. Fullen, Carlsbad; A. B. Renehan, J. P. Victory, Santa Fe; W. H. Newcomb, W. B. Walton, Silver City.

To the National Reciprocity Congress to be held at Chicago, Illinois, August 15th and 16th: Solomon Luna, Los Lunas; H. O. Bursum, Lovi A. Hughes, Santa Fe; H. W. Kelly, E. G. Austin, Las Vegas; Harry F. Lee, W. H. Greer, Albuquerque; Charles Schleter, Clayton; T. D. Burns, Tierra Amarilla; Charles L. Ballard, Roswell.

Elephant Butte Dam.

"When the irrigation works are constructed, there will no longer exist the anomalous condition of dry acequia madre while a great volume of water flows in the river.

"As soon as the requisite acreage of our lands is pledged to the main project, the engineers of the reclamation service propose to commence work upon the diverting dam near Fort Selden, which when constructed will furnish us a permanent ditch head and effectually protect us against such a condition as exists to-day."—Rio Grande Republican.

Therefore, says the Santa Fe New Mexico, the owners of lands in the Mesilla Valley out to lose no time in signing the agreements conveying their landed property to the United States under the Engle or Elephant Butte dam project now in contemplation by the United States Reclamation Service. The opinion of the Republican, as above expressed, is correct and based upon facts. Every land owner in the Mesilla valley should heed this, act accordingly and that promptly. The construction of the "Elephant Butte" or "Engle dam," and the irrigation systems under it, will make the Mesilla valley one of the most prosperous and most populous sections in the entire Southwest. Tens of thousands of people will make a good and comfortable living, where now there are not hundreds in the valley, as soon as the reservoir is completed and the system put into active operation.

Socorro Crops Suffer.

Sheriff Leandro Baca and Chief Deputy E. S. Stapleton of Socorro, who were in the city yesterday, says the Santa Fe New Mexican of July 12th, with prisoners from Socorro county to the penitentiary, are both fine specimens of manhood, being over six feet in height and well proportioned. Their mere presence should be sufficient to quell any disturbance that might be pending. They state that the county commissioners of Socorro county finished their regular labors yesterday.

The community ditch at Socorro is practically dry and there seems to be no chance of getting any water into it during the balance of the year, as the Rio Grande is too low now for water to be taken in at the head of the ditch. Crops have already begun to suffer for lack of moisture and the alfalfa, especially, is showing the results of the dryness. Unless rain falls shortly the farmers will lose a large part of this year's acreage.

Many cattle are being shipped from Socorro, gathered from the neighboring ranges. Most of these are in good condition and have brought good prices. The Santa Fe will immediately begin the reconstruction of its tracks through the town, raising the grade so as to obviate the disasters heretofore attendant on the floods in the Rio Grande.

Fleeces for the Fair.

An Albuquerque dispatch says: George Ariot, manager for Gross Kolly & Co., a wholesale firm in this city, during the week has received several fine fleeces from the flocks of prominent ranchmen throughout the territory. These fleeces are to be placed in a fleece exhibit at the twenty-ninth annual territorial fair to be held in September.

Up to date a dozen or more fine fleeces have been sent to Ariot to be kept until the fair. To-day he received six fleeces from the ranch of Governor Otero, located at Pastura, Guadalupe county. They are of fine quality and represent the highest grade of wool from the flocks of the Salado Live Stock Company. Rich prizes are offered for the finest fleeces.

Feminist Committee.

The American Pomological Society having appointed Hon. L. Bradford Prince as chairman of the fruit committee for New Mexico, with power to name four additional members, Governor Prince has appointed as these members: Hon. M. W. Mills of Springer, Dr. W. C. Harbourn of the New Mexico Agricultural College at Mesilla Park, and William Locke of Farmington.

A gasoline launch has been placed in commission on Springer lake in Colfax county, which will be used for fishing trips and the accommodation of pleasure parties.

Raton people claim that the receipts of the postoffice are sufficient to entitle them to free delivery of mail and the postmaster will take the matter up with the Washington officials.

The California limited on the Santa Fe, while running at full speed ten miles from Las Vegas, ran down and instantly killed James Wheeler, a pumper in the employ of the railway company.

The Pueblo Indians are gaining in enterprise. It is a regular feature at the Santa Fe depots at Lamay and at Las Vegas to see Pueblos all the way from Isleta peddling their pottery or other ware. It is a long distance from Isleta to Las Vegas for an Indian, but the love of dinero bridges distances even among the Pueblos.

A Las Vegas dispatch of July 15th says: A meeting of Las Vegas citizens to-day decided that in September the first Northern New Mexico fair will be held in Las Vegas. Five thousand dollars will be offered as prizes for races, base ball and cow boy contests and carnival features. It is proposed to make the fair an annual event.

New Mexico will have another incorporated town in the near future. Hagerman, Chaves county, while not an entirely new settlement, is still quite young and in the past few years has added considerably to its population and wealth. It will make the fourth incorporated town in the lower Pecos valley, which is large enough and commands sufficient resources for a dozen good sized cities.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Claude Doane, charged with the murder of Walter Lyons, a McKinley county school teacher, and who was captured Saturday, July 8th, in Taos cañon, in the northern part of the territory, was arraigned before a justice of the peace at Gallup on the 13th inst. He waived a preliminary hearing and was bound over without bail to await the action of the next grand jury. He will be confined in the McKinley county jail at Gallup until that time.

A Lawton, Oklahoma, dispatch says: Rev. Oliver B. Loud of Boston, pastor of the Congregational church of Lawton, is preparing a trip of adventure and exploitation through the wild and remotest portions of New Mexico and Arizona. He will make a study of the Navajo Indians and the habits of the Indians that dwell among the cliffs. Rev. Mr. Loud is a doctor of divinity from an eastern school and the results of his explorations will probably be given that school in lectures.

A correspondent of the New Mexican says: The first annual Torrance County Fair will be held the week before the Territorial Fair at Albuquerque and a selection of the best exhibits will be taken from here to that city. While the first effort of the youngest county in the territory may not rival the pumpkin and potato shows in Kansas, the indications are now that the display especially of garden truck will be a revelation to those unacquainted with this favored valley. The live stock display also promises to be interesting and attractive to the people from all walks and vocations of life.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Territorial Fair Association recently held at Albuquerque, the following appointments were made: Superintendent of parade, P. F. McCanna; superintendent of music, George P. Leonard; superintendent of base ball, E. D. Pickard; superintendent of sheep and wool exhibit, George Arnot; superintendent of fruit and vegetable exhibit, M. F. Stamm; superintendent of Montana, ball, J. H. O'Reilly. Over thirty carloads of graded and thoroughbred stock have already been promised by Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa breeders for exhibition at the big stock show.

Word comes from Laguna that Carlo Pino was found near Cubero on Sunday dead and with his body horribly mutilated. Pino was a young man and had left Cubero on horseback Saturday night to go to Acoma. Early yesterday morning his horse came back with the saddle empty and hanging on the side. Searching parties immediately started out and one of these found the body as stated. The indications are that the saddle turned and the boy's foot had caught in the stirrup. The body was dragged for a great distance and death must have been a very painful one. There was a clear trail of blood for half a mile.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

A Santa Fe dispatch of July 17th says: Another destructive fire visited Santa Fe last evening. The fire broke out in the second story of the Box Ton restaurant on San Francisco street, directly over the kitchen, and is supposed to have started from the fire and in a few minutes the whole east side of the building was a roaring mass of flames. After an hour's hard work the firemen got the fire under control, after it had done $12,000 damage. Both the building and the furnishings of the Box Ton restaurant and the rooming house on the second floor were completely destroyed. The First National bank building on the east side was slightly damaged and the Oxford club on the west side of the restaurant was damaged considerably also. The damage is fully covered by insurance.

The process used in the timber treating plant of the Alamogordo Lumber Company has recently been somewhat modified. Formerly the timbers have been treated with a solution of chloride of lime and later with a solution of lime and tannin. The former solution is used as a preservative and the latter as a protection against moisture, and it makes the timbers impervious to water. At present the lime and tannin are omitted. Most of the timber treated at the present time are for the El Paso & Northern and associated lines, and the new management has ordered the omission of the lime and tannin, and is based on the theory that timber

APPEAL MADE TO PRESIDENT

Denver Chamber of Commerce Asks That Right of Way Be Given to Moffat Road.

Denver, July 20.—A copy of the following resolutions adopted by the directors of the Denver Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade has been forwarded to President Roosevelt. The resolutions are a remonstrance against the action of the government Reclamation Service in closing Gore canon in Middle Park to the Moffat road.

"The Denver Chamber of Commerce was the first commercial organization in this country to urge the federal government to aid in the reclamation of arid lands. We rejoiced when the law establishing the bureau was enacted and we have watched its practical working with great satisfaction. It is destined to add immensely to the wealth and population of the state, and it is with much regret that we feel compelled to offer any criticism of its proposed work.

"Denver has always suffered commercially from the fact that it was not located on a trans-continental line of railway. The principal traffic between the East and the West passes through Wyoming or New Mexico, greatly to our disadvantage. In order to remedy this condition, D. H. Moffat, one of our most public-spirited citizens, conceived the idea of building a railroad directly west from Denver to Salt Lake City. This road would not only place us on a through line, but would shorten the distance between the two above-named cities by nearly 200 miles. It would also open up the vast resources of northwestern Colorado and its great coal fields, as well as the gilsonite and elaterite beds of Utah. Routt county is as great in coal resources as Pennsylvania. This railroad will open up these resources. Its construction means many millions increased values through all that vast region of untold wealth. About 100 miles of the line has already been constructed, and is now in operation. We are informed that the engineers employed by the road report that the Gore Canon route through the Gore range is the only feasible, economical and good line of railway that can be found for a road passing from Middle park west. We are also informed that the engineers of the reclamation service have selected this canon as the site of a proposed dam to impound the waters of the Grand river. We are informed that these two projects are absolutely incompatible, and that if the government insists upon building the dam, the construction of the road will be greatly delayed, if indeed not entirely abandoned. We are also informed and believe that no storage of water is necessary at this Kremmling reservoir site to irrigate lands in Colorado, but that there are other reservoir sites much nearer the point where it is proposed to use this storage water in Arizona and southern California, than is the Kremmling site. The proposed reservoir means no advantages but much detriment to Colorado, because of its standing in the way of this railroad construction. The reservoir also does not necessarily mean any advantage to other states that cannot be obtained fully as well by reservoirs constructed elsewhere.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the Denver Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade earnestly protests against any obstacle being thrown in the way of the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific railway by the reclamation department, and asks with all the earnestness possible that a speedy termination of this controversy in favor of the railroad be made.

"Resolved further, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the President of the United States, and to the secretary of the interior."

Loco Weed Concession.

Denver, July 20.—Cattlemen who have leases on the state land in the range districts lying to the east of Denver have been calling on the State Land Board for months for a decrease in their rentals on account of the decreased grazing value of the lands through the spread of loco weed upon it. Yesterday the Land Board gave a hearing to the leasers and after a careful consideration of the question, agreed to make a new lease for the lands between the state and the cattlemen.

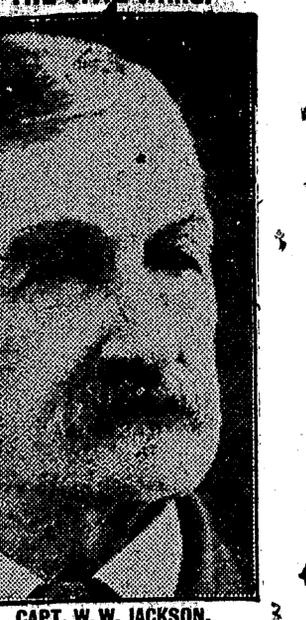

There will be a new contract made for ten years. This will provide that the women shall make an effort to kill off the loco weed and to partially reimburse them for this expense, the state to reduce the rental on the lands for the first five years of the lease from its present price of 5 cents to 2 1/2 cents an acre; after the first five years the price shall be restored to 5 cents an acre.

The leasers on these terms are Robert Long, 15,000 acres; Weaver & Boyd, 15,000; Harrison, Douglas & Douglas, 14,000; and William Holmes of Butte, 10,000. The board was emphatic in its declaration that no other changes would be made and no more land leased at less than the minimum of 5 cents an acre. The loco problem is becoming a serious one and this lease was made to the men named as an experiment, to see whether they can, as they claim, kill out the pest. The lands lie in El Paso, Kit Carson, Lincoln and Cheyenne counties.

Coyote Hunt Planned.

Denver, July 20.—A Republican special from Florence says: W. B. Green, special game warden of this district, said to-day that he has completed all arrangements for a coyote hunt in this vicinity. Dr. F. A. Hueschler of Cripple Creek will supply eleven greyhounds and M. G. Green of Rocky Ford will supply twenty. The hunt will start until the weather is cooler.

Eighteen crack riders of Cripple Creek will join the Florence party, and it is thought the hunt will be composed of seventy-five people in all.

CAPT. W. W. JACKSON.

Sufferings were protracted and Severe—Tried Every Known Remedy Without Relief—Serious Stomach Trouble Cured by Three Bottles of Peruna!

Capt. W. W. Jackson, 705 G St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I am eighty-three years old, a veteran of the Black Hawk, Mexican and the Civil Wars. I am by profession a physician, but abandoned the same.

"Some years ago I was seriously affected with catarrh of the stomach. My sufferings were protracted and severe. I tried every known remedy without obtaining relief.

"In desperation I began the use of your Peruna. I began to realize immediate though gradual improvement.

"After the use of three bottles every appearance of my complaint was removed, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as an infallible remedy for that disorder."—W. W. Jackson.

In London's Busy Streets

(Special Correspondence.)

It is a hard thing to get out of London. No matter in what direction one walks or drives, masses of brick and stone work surround one on every side; there seems to be no end to England's capital. This is natural enough when one considers that 6,000,000 people call themselves "Londoners." This army of humankind must live, and must work in order to house and feed itself. As evidence of the fact that it works London has street after street filled from one end to the other with stores and offices. There is the Strand running into historic Fleet street, Edgeware and Whitechapel roads, fashionable Regent and Bond streets; Oxford street, with its silverware; Piccadilly, for many blocks lined with shops and farther on with exclusive clubhouses, and other streets far too numerous to mention. There is much to be seen on all of these streets besides shops. Throngs of people and masses of vehicles fill the walks and roads. It is not the street car that distresses one here, it is the clatter of horses' hoofs, the slamming of cab-doors, the appeal of the street vendors, the slash of the horse-whip and the uncontrollable, never-ending procession of men and women.

Who is there who has not heard of London's omnibuses? You go to the park, to town, to church, to theater in London from any direction, and how do you get there? On an electric car that will transfer you to a cable car and to still another electric tram? Most probably not, for there are very few street car lines in London. You take a "bus," such as abound in London by thousands—a bus drawn by together with the splendid pavements, makes the worst of them bearable. The gutters and the street beyond out to about five feet from the curbstone, if a broad street, are sprinkled numerous times a day; if narrow, the whole street is sprinkled. Boys in white jackets are busy all the time sweeping and cleaning. In every block there is at least one large box for dumpings and waste paper and, what is more, the public has been so trained that it never throws papers about.

A strange sight it is to an American walking down the Strand between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning to see the shopkeepers leisurely opening their iron shutters or gates or the boy only just beginning to sweep out the store. The street is crowded, at this late hour, with men hurrying to their offices. And at 5:30 p. m. many close up again, so that the business day in London is very short.

Types of Street Venders.

Who can walk about in this city without noticing the wretched-looking men, women, young girls and little children standing day in and day out and often late into the night in the gutters trying to sell to passers-by a box of matches, a map of London, a twisting toy snake or a bunch of flowers tied to a stick? Who can forget those looks of appeal? And yet how little one can help them! London has a great many very poor people, and nowhere, not even in Paris, whose "dames de la halle" are noted for their vulgarity and brutality, are the women as unhuman looking as are those of the lowest classes in this

NO STATE OIL REFINERY.
Project of Kansas Legislature Declared Unconstitutional.
Justice A. L. Greene of the Kansas Supreme Court, who handed down the decision declaring the appropriation of $410,000 made by the last legislature for a state oil refinery to be unconstitutional, is one of the ablest jurists in Kansas. He is a native of Missouri. He served five years as county attorney. He was appointed to the supreme court from Newton. Judge Greene is a prominent man in the Presbyterian Church and an enthusiastic Shakespearean scholar.

THE PACE THAT KILLS.

City Dwellers Wear Themselves Out with Urelics Hurry.

The microbe of hurry, hurry, useless hurry, is in the air; so much so, in fact, that it is almost impossible for a city dweller, no matter how well balanced he may be, not to become inoculated with it. Wine, women and song are not the only influences that go to make up the "pace that kills." The average life of the business man or the society woman hurries people to catastrophe as fast as does that of the "rounder" or "dissipate."

Did you ever do anything on this order—rush your meals, rush your play, make a fool of yourself running half a block for a car already crowded to the guards? You plead guilty, do you? Then you are going a pace that kills just as surely as the more widely heralded pace.—Kansas City Star.

IS NEW RUSSIAN BEAUTY.

Baroness Rosen Takes Place of the Countess Cassini.

A new Russian beauty is in Washington to take the place of the dashing Countess Cassini, adopted daughter of the former ambassador and the warm chum of Alice Roosevelt. The newcomer is Miss Isabel Rosen, daughter of Baron Rosen, the newly named ambassador and one of the envoys who will endeavor to frame a treaty of peace between Russia and Japan.

Miss Rosen is fifteen years old, is very pretty and in the social gossip of the capital she already has been assigned a place similar to that occupied by the Countess Cassini.

Coat of Good Government.

The greater the responsibilities assumed by municipalities in administering public utilities, the greater are the knowledge and vigilance necessary for every citizen. Good government and protection from abuse of public trusts cost not only money, but personal study and service of every one concerned in these trusts. Bad political organization must be overcome by good ones as efficiently led, as well equipped with money and as vigilant supported by honest citizens. This is the most important lesson of American citizenship. Public business will expand and succeed just as fast as all the people enter into active partnership in it, and no faster.—Congressionalist.

Millionaire Marries Housekeeper.
George Baum, a 70-year-old Philadelphia millionaire who made his money in the leather business, has just married his housekeeper, a good-looking Irish woman 28 years old. The ceremony was performed in church, a crowd of over 2,000 being present, with nearly as many outside waiting to see the happy pair enter and leave. Mr. and Mrs. Baum will spend part of their honeymoon at Cape May, after which they will take an ocean trip

In Union is Strength.
"A man is but a cluster on the great human grapevine. He begins to dry up the moment he is cut off from his fellows. There is something in the solidarity of the human race which cannot be accounted for in the sum total of all the individuals. Separation from the mass involves a mighty loss of power in the individual, just as there is a loss of cohesion and adhesion involved in the separation of the molecules and atoms of the diamond. The value of the gem is in the close contact, the compactness, and the concentration of the particles which compose it. The moment they are separated its value is gone. So a strong, effective man gets a large part of his strength from the vital connection with his fellows.—Success Magazine.

Objections All Removed.

A Chicago lady wrote to a farmer over in Michigan where she spent last summer with her family and told him she would like to come again this summer, but that she objected to the kitchen methods of his hired girl and to the swine being kept too close to the house. She received an answer which contained the following: "You may cum all right, Hannah has went, and there hain't been no hogs on the place since you left last summer."

Reads Like a Miracle.

Moravia, N. Y., July 17th.—(Special)—Bordering on the miraculous is the case of Mrs. Benj. Wilson, of this place. Suffering from Sugar Diabetes, she wasted away till from weighing 200 lbs. she barely tipped the scales at 130 lbs. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Speaking of her cure her husband, says:

"My wife suffered everything from Sugar Diabetes. She was sick four years and doctored with two doctors, but received no benefit. She had so much pain all over her that she could not rest day or night. The doctors said that she could not live.

"Then an advertisement led me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and they helped her right from the first. Five boxes of them cured her. Dodd's Kidney Pills were a God-sent remedy to us and we recommend them to all suffering from Kidney Disease."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney Diseases, including Bright's disease, and all Kidney aches, including Rheumatism.

TEA

tastes good and makes one feel good besides.

Schilling's Best is the tea.

Your grocer returns your money if you don't think so.

Hanna and the Poor House.

An Ohio manufacturer tells this story of Mark Hanna. The Senator often walked through his mill, explaining this and that. One day while on such a tour he heard a boy say: "I wish I had Hanna's money and he was in the poor house." The senator smiled grimly, and on returning to his office sent for the boy. "So you wish you had my money and I was in the poor house, eh?" he said. "Now, supposing you had your wish, what would you do?" The youngster, one of the ready-witted Irish variety, said with a droll grin: "Well, I guess I'd get you out of the poor house the first thing." This adroit answer brought the lad an increase of pay the next week.

Negro Turning White.

A correspondent of the San Francisco Call says: The latest freak of nature and marvel of the medical scientists is the change of color which is gradually creeping over the body of a negro porter, Charles Hugo Bell, in Colusa. Mutation began several years ago. The spots of white have spread to the face and hands. Although the victim of this strange disease suffers no ill effects at present, he has been advised that as soon as the complete change takes place death will ensue. At present he is employed at hard labor and enjoys life, but is the subject of much curiosity.

Bell was born in Columbia, Georgia, in 1866. His parents were full-blooded negroes, coming direct from Africa as slaves to the United States.

COMES A TIME

When Coffee Shows What It Has Been Doing.

"Of late years coffee has disagreed with me," writes a matron from Rome, N. Y., "it's lightest punishment was to make me 'foggy' and dizzy, and it seemed to thicken up my blood.

"The heaviest was when it upset my stomach completely, destroying my appetite and making me nervous and irritable, and sent me to my bed. After one of these attacks, in which I nearly lost my life, I concluded to quit and try Postum Food Coffee.

"It went right to the spot! I found it not only a most palatable and refreshing beverage, but a food as well. All my ailments, the 'foggy' and dizziness, the unsatisfactory condition of my blood, my nervousness and irritability disappeared in short order and my sorely afflicted stomach began quickly to recover. I began to rebuild and have steadily continued until now. Have a good appetite and am rejoicing in sound health, which I owe to the use of Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

DISFIGURING ULCER.
People Looked at Her in Amazement—Pronounced Incurable—Face Now Clear as Ever—Thanks God for Cuticura.

Mrs. P. Hackett, of 400 Van Buren St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I wish to give thanks for the marvelous cure of my mother by Cuticura. She had a severe ulcer, which physicians had pronounced incurable. It was a terrible disfigurement, and people would stand in amazement and look after her. After there was no hope from doctors she began using Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and now, thank God, she is completely cured, and her face is as smooth and clear as ever."

It pays to be good; if you get in the penitentiary it shortens your term.

TEA

Let it be neither weak nor strong, at least good, if possible fine, and brewed by one who knows how.

Dress is sometimes a matter of form and form is often a matter of dress.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 2½ pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 oz." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

Capital's labor is one of love; that's why he can't afford to patronize a tailor.

TEA

Did you ever hear of a nervous Englishman? They drink more tea than we do, six to one.

Never place your clock at the head of the stairs; it might run down.

When You Buy Starch buy Defiance and get the best, 16 oz. for 10 cents. Once used, always used.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED
Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES. Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 519 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, O.S.A. She writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all-gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The luxury of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism, write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

two horses, a bus placarded with signs of every possible color and description, so that it is difficult to see its label—a top-heavy, clumsy, good-natured looking bus, which, if it goes your way, will stop to take you on or let you off at any point. If you do not want to inconvenience traffic by stopping the bus, you can jump on and off whether you are a man or a woman.

Role of the Hackney Cab.

Omnibuses, however, are not the only means of transportation in London. The number of hackney cabs, lately estimated at between 12,000 and 15,000—play a very important role in London street life. It is these cabs particularly which make crossing the streets dangerous, for they come upon one unexpectedly from all directions and from around unnoticed corners, at a rate that bewilders one, to say the least. However, the drivers are more careful here than in most cities, and they go out of the way of pedestrians when they see them in the road, uncertain whether to go backward or forward.

We must not forget to mention the underground railway, for it bears a large share of the burden of London's traffic; more than 2,000,000 people are said to travel on it every week, so that the underground does the important work of thinning out the crowded streets.

Now add to the thousands and thousands of buses, cabs, and delivery wagons the huge number of private vehicles used by the upper thousands who flock to the city every spring—elegant equipages with smartly liveried funkies—and imagine the pell-mell on a sunny May afternoon at Trafalgar square or near Hyde Park corner! It is a sight describable only by the pen of a Dickens or a Thackeray.

At the Street Crossings.

I said "pell-mell." It is that, and yet it is not, for the order in London streets is perfect. Every one drives to the left, down the center of broad streets, at frequent intervals, are small "safety islands," a small cement elevation upon which eight or ten people can stand. In crossing the street one makes for the "island," watching the horses, that come only one way, and from there to the other side one need watch only the other direction. If the crossing is an unusually difficult one a policeman is sure to be there, and he will stop all traffic to assist a few timid persons.

The cleanliness of the streets of London, a city generally spoken of as dirty, is very surprising. Dust naturally accumulates and on windy days, huge metropolis so full of culture and wealth, noblemen and Christian churches.

There is a street type, small, slight round-shouldered, dressed in black with the invariable black sailor hat; hair loosely knotted at the back of the neck and always about to fall, shoes terribly ragged—and a look so ignorant and vacant as to be more bestial than human. A very common type this is—it almost haunts one. There is a masculine type equally repulsive; he is the man we meet coming out of the alehouse or standing at the door wishing he had enough pence to go in—most unkempt, forlorn, neglected, helpless beings, and here without number.

Yet, if we can get away from this sordidness and misery London has a great fascination and charm. When the spring sun shines on the dear old abbey and the massive houses of parliament and the gayly dressed and happy people throng into Hyde Park and everybody seems to know that everybody else is full of the joys of springtime and the squares are full of delightful flowers and shrubbery,

Tower seen from the Thames. Then London is fair indeed. Fortune favors him who can be there. London has an atmosphere all its own, so well implied in the words which Ball Canine put into the mouth of Glory Quayle: "To be in London means to live and to live means to be in London."

There is no joy so great, no memory so full of sincere pleasure, as that of London in the springtime. One cannot have too much of it. Dr. Johnson said: "The man that is tired of London is tired of existence."

THE USE OF FAULTLESS STARCH

ABOUT DREAMS.

The study of dreams appears to lead to the following opinions:

That there is no such thing as a dreamless sleep.

That the will finds its rest and refreshment in sleep.

That thinking, when awake, is always to some extent under control of the will.

That the will's inhibiting and directing work brings fatigue and a demand for rest.

That thinking never ceases during life, and is essential to the continuance of life.

That thinking is involuntary—to the extent, at least, that we cannot cease to think under any order of the will.

That there are different qualities of thinking, depending on the original constitution, or the existing state of health of each individual.

That the frequent occurrence of a state of disordered mind occurring in sleep does not do us harm, but, on the contrary, does us good.

That thinking has various characteristics, these being mainly due to the amount of control and discretion exercised over it by the will.

That there are many degrees of sleep and wakefulness, and as many degrees of efficiency in the controlling and directing power of the will.

That thinking, like breathing or the beating of the heart, does not cause a sense of weariness, though all three, of course, have a wearing out effect on all the organs concerned.

That dream thinking is uncontrolled and undirected by the will, is never coherent and concentrated, is more or less of the same character as thinking in delirium, and constitutes a state of mental disorder which is not a state of disease.

ON BUSINESS.

In business it's every man for his own woodpile and a tub race for all.

The business man belongs to one of three classes—the successful, the unfortunate and the loose-jointed.

The last named variety predominates. He buys on credit and sells the same way. Not belonging to the financial "400" and therefore being morally responsible, he is ground between the upper and nether millstones of uncollectable accounts and unpayable bills.

The business man belonging to the unfortunate class starts out on borrowed capital or an inheritance.

Success reaches out an alluring hand which he never quite succeeds in grasping.

He skirts along the precipice of failure until he topples over its brink and joins the throng of brethren at the bottom who are all in.

The unfortunate business man is a approach to the eternal fitness of things.

If he is not ruined by a combination of untoward circumstances, his prosperity is exploded by a ruthless combination of korosone and other standard things.

"MAIL BANK" CLOSED DOWN BY POSTAL AUTHORITIES

EDWARD G. LEWIS

Edward G. Lewis of St. Louis, whose novel scheme of doing a banking business by mail exclusively has been stopped with a postal fraud order pending an investigation, had secured several million dollars in deposits and stock subscriptions. The postal inspectors have found that he did not use his own money in the organization of the bank, as he promised in his prospectus, and that he has been loaning the bank's funds to himself. Lewis claims the concern is perfectly solvent.

ALIEN INVASION OF CANADA.

Figures of Yearly Immigration Are Enormous.

The Canadian authorities estimate the total immigration into Canada up to June 30, the figures for June and May not being final, at 148,261, as against 130,330 for the preceding fiscal year. In proportion to population this is equivalent to an immigration of about two millions into the United States, or twice the volume the Republic is actually receiving. It represents a foreign dilution of the population of Canada by two and one-half per cent. of its total amount, and if it were maintained on the same scale it would eventually submerge the native Canadians in a foreign majority. The evidence of Mr. W. D. Scott, immigration superintendent, and Dr. P. H. Bryce, chief medical inspector, before a parliamentary committee conveys the rather surprising information that Canada sifts her immigrants more carefully than the United States. According to their figures Canada has rejected one applicant in every 290 and the United States only one in every 2,065.—Collier's.

HUXLEY LIKED HIS TOBACCO.

Scientist's Testimony Rather Disconcerting to Hearers.

Prof. Huxley was invited on one occasion to take the chair at an anti-tobacco meeting. In a brief opening speech he related a personal incident. He was visiting a friend, with whom he had animated discussions on a recent scientific discovery in which they were both deeply interested. "However, there was one point on which we differed," continued the professor. "My friend was a great smoker, while I detested tobacco in any form. (Great applause.) After dinner we usually retired to his study; but, finding myself once nearly suffocated with my friend's cigar-smoke, I expostulated. Thereupon, pushing the cigars before me, he said: 'Take one yourself; it's the best remedy.' As I knew I couldn't induce him to give up his, I reluctantly took a cigar and smoked it. And since that time, ladies and gentlemen, nothing on earth could induce me [renewed applause] to forego my afternoon cigar."

Sweden's Good Financial Position.

Judging by the position of Sweden's banks, that country must be in good condition financially. At the close of 1904 Sweden had sixty-nine banks in good working order. The aggregate capital was $100,000,000, as against $85,000,000 in 1903 and $75,000,000 in 1902. In addition the banks held very large reserves. The trade of the country is moving so rapidly that quite recently seven banks issued new shares at from 40 per cent. to 150 per cent. premium, thus increasing their reserves to the extent of $13,000,000, besides the capital increase. Last year the average bank dividend was 2.2 per cent. These figures show that the commerce and industries of the country are in good shape to stand a tilt with Norway. The prices commanded by Swedish government bonds in the principal money markets of the world show that the State finances are also in good shape.

Diary Kept Four Centuries.

The oldest diary in existence is said to be that preserved in the Japanese family of Hosaka. It has been duly maintained by the various heads of the family for four centuries. An English commentator notes that about twenty years ago a dispute over proceeds arose between two branches of the family and that this was promptly settled by recourse to the diary and the discovery of the record of a dinner given 100 or 200 years ago by the head of the family in the presence of

MOUNTED POLICE OF CANADA.

Have Made Splendid Record in the Northwest Territory.

Readiness for duty in any form has made the Royal Northwest Mounted Police what they are—the trusted guardians of life and property in western Canada, says the World To-Day. Their field is from the United States boundary to the arctic coast, and in this vast territory, a thousand miles from south to north, 800 scarlet-coated men keep peace and order. Through any part of it, prairie, wilderness or woods, a defenseless woman may go alone and have no fear. To make thus easy the traveler's way meant years of vigilant policing, and even of fighting. Those were stirring times when mounted police service had zest and glory. To-day there is less glory and more hard work: for, as the country is settling farther north, the police, too, are moving up and widening their beats. Smugglers on the border, thieves on the ranches, criminals in the settlements, fires in the forests, to guard against these and to represent the law—a land that would easily be lawless—their duties to-day; and to these have now been added the carriage of the mails in the extreme North and the protection of the whale fisheries on the arctic coast.

NOTHING BUT AN AMERICAN.

John Hay's Facetious Description of His Nationality.

Two years ago in a speech before the Ohio Society of New York, the late John Hay facetiously traced his derivation as follows. I was born in Indiana, I grew up in Illinois, I was educated in Rhode Island. I learned my law in Springfield, Ill., and my politics in Washington, my diplomacy in Europe, Asia and Africa. I have a farm in New Hampshire and desk room in the District of Columbia. When I look to the springs from which my blood descends the first ancestors I ever heard of were a Scotchman who was half English and a German woman who was half French. Of my immediate progenitors, my mother was from New England and my father was from the south. In this bewilderingment of origin and experience I can only put on an aspect of deep humility in any gathering of favorite sons, and confess that I am nothing but an American.

Political "Pull" Not Necessary.

Postmaster Wilcox of New York has given signal proof that political "pull" is not supreme in his office. Recently the superintendency of mails became vacant and the postmaster consulted one of his associates about eligible members of his staff, inquiring particularly about a Mr. Rooms. His adviser replied that the man mentioned was the best man for the place, but was not an applicant for the promotion. A further inquiry as to the reason for Rooms's modesty brought out this interesting bit of information: He had not applied because he knew he had no chance of getting it. He did not know a single politician. Mr. Wilcox sent for Rooms and after some conversation, which showed the latter's efficiency, named him for the vacancy and he is now superintendent of mails.

Political Conference Postponed.

Vice President Fairbanks was visiting in Marysville, Ohio, his boyhood home, last week, and while there sent for John Filokeros, the village barber, to shave him. When the barber arrived Mr. Fairbanks was holding a political conference with some local magnates and asked the barber to wait. "If you want to be shaved," said Filokeros, "I'll have to be right now. I'm pretty busy for you." The conference was postponed and the barber shaved the vice president.

Served Through Two Wars

(Special Correspondence.)

Capt. "Ed" Whitten sometimes becomes reminiscent, and everybody in Carroll county, N. H., knows what that means. Cap "Ed" is a man of leisure now; the experiences he delights to recall happened anywhere from forty to sixty years ago, and when he gets started—it doesn't matter whether it is on the depot platform at West Ossipee or in Sumner Garland's hotel—the company prepares to hear some thrillers about Mexican war times, sleuthing in the wild and woolly West, or up in Canada in the sixties, bringing back deserters from the northern country. But it is in the house in Tamworth, splendid cemetery they had there, and the elaborate monuments. Several of us got leave of absence, and securing cavalry horses, rode to the cemetery. We were looking things over when a party of Mexicans came up, seized the horses and took us prisoners. It was two or three months before I was exchanged, but all the time I was there I was well treated."

Hunting Down Noted Criminal.

The experience which Capt. Whitten takes most satisfaction in telling happened in the fifties, when he was in the employ of the secret service and was detailed, upon requisition of Gov. Williams of Maine, to hunt down David Stone, alias Amos Wilson, who was wanted in that state for forgery and horse-stealing and was suspected of murder.

"I had worked on this case all winter, without getting a trace of the man," said Capt. Whitten. "Finally I learned that Stone had once worked for Deacon Wiley, a lumberman at North Conway, who some years before had moved to Wisconsin. I made up my mind that Stone had gone out there to work for his former employer, and I went out to make sure. I found Deacon Wiley at Onalaska, twelve miles above La Crosse, and learned that Stone was then working in a lumber camp about thirty miles above on the Black river. With Sheriff Hall of La Crosse, I set out for the camp on a two-horse sled, and arrived there in the dead of night.

"We knew we had a rather desperate lot of men to deal with, and that they would probably attempt to rescue Stone, but it was decided to act at once. Gaining admittance to the lodge in which the men were quartered, on the pretext that we wanted shelter, I inquired of the keeper if Amos Wilson was there. The keeper apparently suspected that something was up, and gave an evasive answer, but just then I saw a man in one of the bunks raise his head and give me a quick glance. I recognized him as Wilson, and before the keeper could stop me I rushed to his side and had him out of the bunk where the veteran keeps bachelor hall, and is surrounded by relics of the past, that he finds inspiration. He has lived alone for a number of years, but is not a recluse by any means. There is hardly a day that he does not drive to one of the centers of population in the county, and at the age of 76 is still able to hold his end with the best of them when it comes to story-telling or a discussion of local political conditions.

Prominent at many of the Grand Army encampments, he is the central figure in several photographic groups of veterans in blue, and few have more to show for service performed for the country. He always wears a silver medal presented to him by Congress for meritorious service, on which is recognition of his work in the battles of Palo Alto, Buena Vista, Vera Cruz, Cerro Gordo, Churubusco, Chapultepec and San Pasqual Tabasco.

Mexican War Story.

His favorite story of the Mexican war is this: "One of the most exciting experiences I had was in getting into the castle at Vera Cruz. It is not a pleasant task to kill a man in cold blood in order to get past him, but that is what we were obliged to do in order to secure the information the commanders wanted.

"Vera Cruz was a walled city, supposed to be strongly fortified. I was detailed from the army and a midshipman named Rogers from the navy. We were to get into the fort and learn everything possible about it, the number of guns, their positions and anything else that would be of value.

"The place was supposed to be closely guarded, with sentinels placed at each landing on the stone steps leading up to the castle. In the darkness Rogers and I were rowed quietly up under the fort, and we succeeded in effecting a landing without being observed. Our plan was to advance as quietly as possible, surprise and kill each guard we came to, and thus reach the inside of the fort. I was to take the first man, Rogers the next.

"In the darkness we were successful in reaching the first landing without any suspicion of our presence being aroused. I waited an opportunity, rushed up, seized the guard and ran a knife into him before he could make any outcry. Assured that he was dead, we left him there, then silently ascended the steps until the next landing was reached. Here Rogers found his man, and disposed of him in the same manner.

"The second man laid away, we hurried along, and succeeded in getting inside the fort without much further trouble. In less than half an hour we had secured all the information we required, and got away in the boat before the bodies of the guards were discovered. A few days later the bombardment of the castle began and we succeeded in taking it.

"Not long after that I was taken prisoner, but I had nothing to complain of in this connection," said Capt. Whitten, emphatically. "We were in

Mrs. John L. Rue, of 115 Paterson Avenue, Paterson, N. J., says: "I was troubled for about nine years, and what I suffered no one will ever know. I used about every known remedy that is said to be good for kidney complaint, but without deriving permanent relief. Often when alone in the house the back ache has been so bad that it brought tears to my eyes. The pain at times was so intense that I was compelled to give up my household duties and lie down. There were headaches, dizziness and blood rushing to my head to cause bleeding at the nose. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me so much that I continued the treatment. The stinging pain in the small of my back, the rushes of blood to the head and other symptoms disappeared."

TEA

What is wealth to home happiness? Take a little more time for tea!

"Look Pleasant."

What would be the effect upon civilization if everybody would keep constantly in mind that suggestion of the photographer, "Look pleasant?" The most difficult part of the photographer's work is the effort to get the subject before the camera to rid himself of the cold, stiff, set expression of his face and to replace it by a genial, kindly look or a smile. He is not willing to reproduce the sitter until he succeeds, because he knows that the change of expression will transform the photograph.

How the habit of looking pleasant would revolutionize our natures, and civilization itself! If we could only get rid of the hard, eager, worried look habitual to many of us, not for the few seconds we stand before the camera, but for all our lives, how bright the world would grow! O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

Gypsies on the Sea.

In the archipelago of Meru, off the coast of Lower Burma, Asia, lives the "sea gypsies." Instead of carts they own covered boats, in which, with their families, dogs, cats, chickens and pigs, they float about on the sea and wander from island to island. By day they fish or harpoon turtle or dive for oysters. But every night they put back to the shore. If the weather is bad at sea, they land with their dogs and then poach, catching porcupines, squirrels, armadillos, hog, deer, and the like, of which they make savory stews, as American gypsies do.

FROM SAME BOX

Where the Foods Come From. "Look here, waiter, honest now, don't you dip every one of these faked breakfast foods out of the same box?" "Well, yes, boss, we do, all 'cept Grape-Nuts, cause that don't look like the others and people know 'zackly' what Grape-Nuts looks like. But there's 'bout a dozen different ones, named on the bill of fare and they are all thin rolled flakes so it don't make any difference which one a man calls for, we just take out the order from one box."

This talk led to an investigation. Dozens of factories sprung up about three years ago, making various kinds of breakfast foods, seeking to take the business of the original prepared breakfast food—Grape-Nuts. These concerns after a precarious existence, nearly all failed, leaving thousands of boxes of their foods in mills and warehouses. These were in several instances bought up for a song by speculators and sold out to grocers and hotels for little or nothing. The process of working off this old stock has been slow. One will see the names on menus of faked foods that went out of business a year and a half or two years ago. In a few cases where the abandoned factories have been bought up, there is an effort to resuscitate the defunct, and by copying the style of advertising of Grape-Nuts, seek to influence people to purchase. But the public has been educated to the fact that all these thin faked foods are simply soaked wheat or oats rolled thin and dried out and packed. They are not prepared like Grape-Nuts, in which the thorough baking and other operations which turn the starch part of the wheat and barley into sugar, occupy many hours and result in a food so digestible that small infants thrive on it, while it also contains the selected elements of Phosphate of Potash and Albumen that unite in the body to produce the soft gray substance in brain and nerve centers. There's a reason for Grape-Nuts, and there have been many imitations, a few of the articles itself, but many more of the kind and character of the advertising. Imitators are always counterfeiters and their printed and written statements cannot be expected to be different than their goods.

A Long Interest Term Ahead. The Hon. Francis Bayles, a historian of note, on returning from a meeting one Thanksgiving day, met Nicholas Tillingshat, one of the most humorous and eloquent of the members of the Bristol (Mass.) county bar. In the sitting room of Atwood's hotel.

In the course of the conversation which ensued, Mr. Bayles said to Mr. Tillingshat: "I have deposited a 10-cent piece in the contribution box, to be placed on interest until I reach heaven."

Mr. Tillingshat replied: "Ah, rest that will amount to a very large sum before you will be admitted there."

THE TEACHER'S FOE

A LIFE ALWAYS THREATENED BY NERVOUS EXHAUSTION.

One Who Broke Down From Six Years of Overwork Tells How She Escaped Misery of Enforced Idleness.

"I had been teaching in the city schools steadily for six years," said Miss James, whose recent return to the work from which she was driven by nervous collapse has attracted attention. "They were greatly overcrowded, especially in the primary department of which I had charge, and I had been doing the work of two teachers. The strain was too much for my nerves and two years ago the crisis came.

"I was prostrated mentally and physically, sent in my resignation and never expected to be able to resume work. It seemed to me then that I was the most miserable woman on earth. I was tormented by nervous headaches, worn out by inability to sleep, and had so little blood that I was as white as chalk.

"After my active life, it was hard to bear idleness, and terribly discouraging to keep paying out the savings of years for medicines which did me no good."

"How did you get back your health?" "A bare chance and a lot of faith led me to a cure. After I had suffered for many months, and when I was on the very verge of despair, I happened to read an account of some cure effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The statements were so convincing that I somehow felt assured that these pills would help me. Most people, I think, buy only one box for a trial, but I purchased six boxes at once, and when I had used them up, I was indeed well and had no need of more medicine.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enriched my thin blood, gave me back my sleep, restored my appetite, gave me strength to walk long distances without fatigue, in fact freed me from all my numerous ailments. I have already taught for several months, and I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Miss Margaret M. James is now living at No. 128 Clay street, Dayton, Ohio. Many of her fellow teachers have also used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are enthusiastic about their merits. Sound digestion, strength, ambition, and cheerful spirits quickly follow their use. They are sold in every drug store in the world.

IS ABSOLUTELY PURE

NATURE'S OWN RESTORATIVES IN FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION.

Dr. Pierce Announces the Ingredients of the Family Medicines Which Have Made His Name a Household Word in the World.

With all the recent talk about patent medicines and the determined effort in certain quarters to cast discredit upon all household remedies which come under that head, the fact remains that some of these medicines are so firmly established in popular favor and confidence, have so proved their worth and value, that all the denunciations of bigots cannot destroy the people's faith in them.

One of the best known of these remedies is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine which for years has been accepted by the people as a standard preparation for the cure of those ailments to which women alone are subject and which has proved to be a certain cure in nine cases out of ten and a sure relief in the other one.

There is nothing to conceal about the Favorite Prescription. It is an absolutely pure medicine—made of roots and herbs, Nature's own restoratives. Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know that his Favorite Prescription contains Blue Cohosh (Caulophyllum Thalictrifolium), Black Cohosh (Cimicifuga Racemosa), Lady's Slipper (Cypripedium Pubescens) and Golden Seal (Hydrastis Canadensis). Every doctor knows that such a prescription is beneficial in the diseases of women and when properly compounded is certain to effect a cure in practically all cases when given a fair trial. Hereafter every bottle of the Favorite Prescription will plainly tell of what the medicine is composed.

Thus Dr. Pierce will once more prove to the world his own confidence in the remedy which for forty years has borne his name and which is known all over the world as a sovereign cure for those diseases which, unchecked, make old women old before their time.

There is no alcohol in the Favorite Prescription. Dr. Pierce never believed in using alcohol in the preparation of his famous household remedies. As it he substituted chemically pure glycerine, which has wonderful properties for extracting the medicinal principles of roots and herbs and bark and preserving them at their full strength, without any deleterious effect whatever.

Your druggist sells the Favorite Prescription and also that famous alternative and blood purifier, the Golden Medical Discovery. Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is a well-qualified physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is Chief Consulting Surgeon.

ZEMSTVOS CONGRESS

CONVENES AT CITY OF MOSCOW

Effect Prohibits Meeting and Police Take Down Names of Delegates—But Congress Continues in Session.

Moscow, July 20.—The Zemstvo Congress opened at midday yesterday in the residence of Prince Dolgoroukoff.

The congress was attended by 225 delegates. Count Heyden, leader of the deputation representing the congress recently received by the emperor, presided.

M. Golovine, president of the organizing committee, had barely started a statement dealing with the obstacles placed in the way of the congress, announcing that Governor General Kosloff had promised that there would be no recourse to extreme measures, when the chief of police, with numerous commissaries and officials, entered the room.

The chief announced that the prefect had prohibited the meeting of the congress and ordered the seizure of the documents. Count Heyden protested against the proceedings, but the chief of police began taking the names of the delegates. Then cries were raised of "write down the whole of Russia."

Many persons present who were not delegates to the congress requested that their names also be taken. The police then departed in order to draw up summonses and the session was resumed.

The scheme of a national assembly on the basis outlined by the committee presided over by M. Boulligan, minister of the interior, was minutely and critically discussed and denounced as totally inadequate to remove Russia's internal grievances, because, including a property qualification and an electoral system by classes, it prevented the assembly from truly interpreting the will of the nation, while the exclusion of numerous categories of citizens from the franchise was a contradiction of the principles of equity and reasonable state policy.

At the same time it was recognized that the proposed assembly would comprise a considerable portion of the social forces of the empire, and serve as the center of a social movement which would tend to secure political liberty and regular national representation.

Therefore, it was considered desirable that, in the event of the carrying out of the Boulligan or a similar project, the delegates of the Zemstvos and municipalities should participate in the assembly to the greatest possible extent, with the object of forming a compact group and to obtain a guarantee of individual and public liberties.

GOOD ROADS MEETING.

Call for Convention at Denver Issued by Governor McDonald.

Denver, July 20.—Governor McDonald yesterday issued a proclamation calling upon the mayors and commercial bodies of the state to appoint delegates to the convention of the Colorado State Good Roads organization, to be held in Denver on July 27th and 28th. The paper reads as follows:

"Realizing the great need of better roads in the state of Colorado, and recognizing the awakened interest in the subject, a call has been issued for a good roads convention, to be held in Denver, at the Chamber of Commerce building, Fourteenth and Lawrence streets, July 27 and 28, 1905."

"The organization of the convention is as follows: 'The mayor of each city to appoint three delegates. 'The commercial organization of each city to appoint three delegates. 'The county commissioners of each county to appoint three delegates. 'Also all commissioners and road officials, city street committees, engineers and surveyors are invited to come as delegates, duly accredited by their official position.

"An invitation is also extended the local improvement associations, automobile clubs, driving and riding associations, and others interested in the purposes of this convention, to attend and participate in the proceedings.

"An excellent program has been arranged, which includes addresses by expert road builders, and the discussions which will follow will be invaluable to those interested in the subject of maintaining good thoroughfares for public travel.

"I therefore earnestly request that the officials above mentioned, at the earliest possible date, appoint their representatives, sending a list of the names of such delegates to the secretary of the chamber of commerce, Denver, without delay.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, at Denver, the state capital, this 19th day of July, A. D. 1905.

"JESSE F. McDONALD, By the governor's attest: 'JAMES COWIE, Secretary of State."

Another Finland Bombthrower.

Helsingfors, Finland, July 20.—Late yesterday afternoon, two hours after Karl Leonard Hohenhal had been sentenced to imprisonment for life at hard labor for the assassination of Procurator General Nolsalon Nolsalon, February 24 last, an attempt was made to assassinate Vice Governor Dserch as he was leaving the Senate. The vice governor had walked across the square when suddenly as he neared the police master's office a man on the curb threw a bomb from a distance of fifty paces. The bomb fell short but the vice governor was blown off his feet by the terrific force of the explosion, which shattered the windows in the neighborhood for a distance of hundreds of yards.

Vice Governor Dserch was hastily assisted to the police station. He was burned and otherwise injured about the legs and head, but he is recovering and is expected to be released in a few days.

CHINA TAKES A STAND

SENDS NOTES TO THE POWERS

Demands to Be Heard at Peace Conference—Expects Full Restoration of Manchuria.

Washington, July 21.—China's official notification to the powers that she will not recognize any arrangement regarding Manchuria concerning which she has not been consulted beforehand, has reached Washington and will be forthwith forwarded to the President at Oyster Bay. Before addressing this note to the neutral powers, China sent to St. Petersburg and Tokio an identical note, containing this notification. The Chinese communication is briefly worded and is so expressed that it calls for no delay.

The arrival of the text of the note disposes of the unofficial report reaching Washington recently from Europe, which found credence in official circles, that China had requested that she be allowed to participate in the conference.

China has not yet taken this step, for several reasons. The Chinese government is anxious that, so far as possible, the belligerents be allowed to negotiate directly with each other, and is adverse to being forced into the negotiations.

China's motive in addressing to Russia and Japan such a notification was to remind them that she had never acquiesced in the alienation of the province of Manchuria from Chinese sovereignty and that she expected as the first result of the war the full restoration to Chinese control of that province.

That this position might receive the continued support of the neutral powers, copies of the note were forwarded to the other capitals for presentation by the respective Chinese representatives.

Before sending this notification the Chinese government addressed to its viceroys, governors and diplomatic representatives abroad a long list of questions about Manchuria, asking their opinions regarding the steps the government should take to insure its restoration to China.

On one point these replies were singularly in accord—that this restoration should be made unconditionally. It was also suggested in some of the replies that China immediately declare open to the world's trade several additional ports in Manchuria for a limited number of years, and, provided in the meantime the Chinese legal code had been revised and regular Chinese courts had been firmly established, that the powers be asked to waive extra-territorial rights in Manchuria in favor of the Chinese government.

If this were done, it was recommended that the remainder of Manchuria be declared open to foreign commerce. This is only one of the many suggestions affecting trade in Manchuria now under consideration in Peking.

Advices reaching Washington indicate that the insistence upon the unconditional restoration of Manchuria finds favor from the Chinese capital and this, it is realized, opens up an important subject in connection with the Washington conference.

New G. A. R. Commander.

Washington, July 21.—Capt. John R. King has issued his first general order, assuming command of the Grand Army of the Republic. The order pays a tribute to the recently deceased commander-in-chief of the organization, W. W. Blackmar, and directs that the colors be draped for ten days at every headquarters and every post of the G. A. R.

A committee is appointed to draft suitable resolutions for the action of the organization at the next annual encampment at Denver. The committee consists of the adjutant general, inspector general, judge advocate general and E. B. Stillings of Boston.

The order announces that because of his urgent request, Comrade Schoonmaker is relieved as chief of staff and Comrade McCarty, past department commander of the Department of Minnesota, is appointed to that office. Announcement is made that the adjutant general is to continue in his duties until his successor is chosen at the annual encampment. All other officers of the staff are requested to remain on duty in accordance with their appointments.

Press Clubs Coming to Colorado.

Denver, July 21.—The International Association of Press Clubs, now in convention in Detroit, Michigan, has decided upon Denver for the next convention city. The convention will be held some time in July, 1906.

There are several thousand members to the International Association of Press Clubs, and each club sends a goodly number of delegates to the convention. In Denver next summer there should be 3,000 delegates and friends.

"Seventy-two in the shade," wired S. F. Dutton of the Albany hotel to his partner, William Maher, now in Detroit.

"Wire received. Press Association meets in Denver next year!" wired Mr. Maher to Mr. Dutton.

It was Denver's cool weather that was recognized. President Keating also received a message from the Denver delegation conveying news of the victory.

Equitable Investigation.

Albany, N. Y., July 21.—There will be a legislative investigation of the life insurance business as carried on in this state, both by New York state corporations and by those in other states doing business in this state. This investigation will be made by a special joint committee with ample powers, of which the chairman will be Senator William W. Armstrong of Rochester, Republican. The other members of the committee will be William J. Tully of Cortland, Repub-

You are welcome to Colorado. But why stop here when there is a new short line of railroad open through to the Pacific Coast. It is the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad, better known as the "Salt Lake Route." All Colorado roads lead to Salt Lake City, and stop-overs are allowed in that interesting spot. Partial vestibuled train—the finest from a Utah terminal—leaves Salt Lake City every evening at 8:30 o'clock. Every Colorado ticket agent has coupons over this new railroad, and be sure and see that they read via this line. Write J. L. Moore, D. P. A., Salt Lake City, for illustrated booklet.

A CHANCE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Edmund J. Vert, president of the Las Vegas Normal School, writes this paper that he has places for young men who wish to work up to a better education. He says:
"I have good places in Las Vegas for four young men where they can earn a sufficient sum to pay their way and attend the Normal University. All positions are suited to young men attending school, and are in every way desirable. One of them must be filled by August 2, and I am very desirous of securing at the earliest possible moment, a person to fill it. The other three positions may remain open until Sept. 9.
"I shall not consider any one who is less than seventeen years old, nor for a shorter term than the school year, namely, Sept. 12 to June 1.
"All these positions are permanent, affording the holders an opportunity to earn their way through a complete course which will prepare for business, for college, or for teaching. I have secured these positions personally, and now want ambitious young men who are willing to earn their way, to fill them. I do not wish to consider any one who does not possess moral backbone."
Yours truly,
EDMUND J. VERT.

THAT STATEHOOD QUESTION.

The Statehood agitation is on again with a large number of our territorial papers. This is simply jabberwock.
If the people of New Mexico seriously and in sooth want statehood there is no valid reason why they should not have it. The thing looks dead easy.
All they have to do is to simply meet, form a government of their own, adopt a constitution, elect state officers and set themselves up in business at the state capital.
Of course there might be some delay in the admission of our senators and representatives in congress, but this, no doubt, could be speedily brought about if we only maintained a bold and determined front. In the event, however, of a positive rebuff, we could politely request the government to recall its appointees, and their places could be filled with equally competent men, provided these officials did not choose to stay and cast their lots with us, and run their chances of being elected.

This is not treason. It is not even accession in its mildest form. For lol Have we not been trying to break into the Union for these past fifty years or more? If our persistence and our gray hairs are not entitled to respect from the Congress of the United States, then our self respect prompts us to throw ourselves on our dignity and our own resources and go into business all by ourselves.
It would not be necessary even for the Governor or his assistant adjutant general to mobilize the New Mexico militia, nor to fortify the Raton tunnel or Apache pass, but simply and quietly to compose our souls in peace, while the government of the United States did all the blustering. By and by, seeing this patch on the southwestern hem of her garment hanging only by a single thread, she would be willing enough without any further solicitation on our part, to gather us in and conceal the rent under the folds of the American flag.

The Santa Fe New Mexican has engaged a funny man and attached him to its editorial staff, which is something of an innovation as well as a diversion. Hear how he starts out:
The dynamiters of Moscow who hurled nitro-glycerine bombs at Count Shouvaloff did not succeed in making the Count "shovel off" this mortal coil. The Count is still alive.

A Garret Slave.

They thought not of him ever—in the garret far above,
As he toiled with all life's pulses ebbing slow;
How he dwelt there in the darkness with the solemn ghost of love,
And they all made merry down below.
(They cared for earthly treasure—
With joy the moments sped;
For they were there for pleasure
And he was there for bread.)
They thought not of him ever as the music rolled on high
Like a reckless rippled river in its flow.
What to them a toiler's dying?
"Let him live or let him die."
So they all made merry down below.
(Oh, they cared for earthly treasure,
Not aching heart and head;
For they were there for pleasure
And he was there for bread.)
But "Time hath his revenges"—
Unseen a dark day waits
The souls that leave the sons of God in woe
And there'll be a later echo from a dim realm's iron gates—
"They all make merry down below."
—Atlanta Constitution.

THE MARTIN RELIEF LAW KNOCKED OUT.

All honor to Judge John R. McFie and Hon. T. B. Catron. The one for rendering a most righteous decision and the other for advocating the rights of the people against special and vicious legislation.
After a careful and exhaustive hearing in the case brought by Hon. T. B. Catron enjoining the territorial auditor and treasurer from carrying into effect the provisions of what is known as the Martin Relief Law, Judge John R. McFie, of the second judicial district, before whom the case was tried, has rendered a very clear and comprehensive opinion, deciding the law unconstitutional and making the injunction permanent. The following is a syllabus of the opinion as given by Judge McFie:
First—The act of February 4th, 1905, known as the Flood Sufferers Relief Law, passed by the last legislature and which increases the territorial debt to the extent of fifty thousand dollars, is void because it is a violation of the third section of the Act of Congress known as the "Springer Act."
Second—Taxation, authorized by the act of February 4th, 1905, upon all of the taxable property of the Territory to purchase seed grain and supplies for farmers temporarily embarrassed in thirteen counties only, is unauthorized and void, the same being for a private and not for a public purpose.
Third—The act of February 4th, 1905, is special and local legislation, because of the arbitrary limitation of its operation to a single year and is therefore prohibited by the first section of the "Springer Act."

The El Paso and Northeastern has handled over 1,000,000 pounds of wool during the past three months.
Daniel Lamont, Cleveland's private secretary, and later his secretary of war during his second administration, died quite suddenly of heart failure at Millbrook, New York on the 23d.

Roswell is building a fruit canning factory in order to utilize its immense fruit crop of the present season. Up here that industry is confined principally to the surplus crop of dogs. But somehow the dogs are never put inside the cans.

An attempt was made to assassinate Constantine Petrovitch Pobodonesteff, one of the highest and holiest churchmen of Russia, at Moscow the other day, but his name was so long that the bomb only knocked off one end of it, and so the plot failed.

Diogenes while he was washing cabbages seeing Aristippus approach, cried out to him, "If you know how to live upon cabbages you would not be paying court to a tyrant." "If you know how to live with kings," replied Aristippus, "you would not be washing cabbages."

M. H. Dougherty and John E. Griffith have formed a law partnership at Socorro. Mr. Dougherty is one of the most prominent attorneys of Socorro county, and his ability is recognized throughout the territory. Mr. Griffith was formerly clerk of this judicial district, coming here from Ohio, having been a member of the state senate of that commonwealth. No one who is acquainted with these gentlemen will have any doubt about the firm being a strong one.

The secretary of agriculture has decided to charge so much per head for grazing on forest reserve lands hereafter, instead of granting free permits to those who are the first to apply, as at present. Owners of cattle will be charged from 35 to 50 cents per head; sheep 2 to 8 cents, and goats 8 to 10 cents. The government will derive considerable revenue from this source, and stock men a world of satisfaction cussing up the powers that be for this thrifty ruling.

The agricultural department in one of its bulletins asserts that bugs cost this country annually over seven and one half millions of dollars. And yet this does not include the ravages of the big bugs which usually infest our cities, and attach themselves to our growing industries, railroad management, manufactures and the like, nor the fire bugs which prowl at night with disastrous effect, to say nothing of the damage wrought by bug-juice. With all these to contend with the country appears to be pretty badly buggered up.

The remains of Paul Jones were safely laid to rest in the Naval cemetery at Annapolis the other day. Of course there cannot be the slightest doubt about this being the identical body of our great naval hero, as it was the only one in that underground graveyard over in Paris that could not be identified. This caring for his remains, if they are his, and giving them a resting place on American soil, is a patriotic duty we owe the man who gave our navy its remarkable prestige in those days when the world had not yet learned that we had a navy. No odds about the expense either, for as the Springer Stockman remarks: "Jones paid the freight many times over, long years ago, in the currency of patriotism and courage."

The Japanese may be heathens and all that this stands for. Nevertheless they are certainly very modern and progressive. The 72,000 Russian prisoners now on the Japanese Islands have been divided into classes according to nationality. The Russians, the Poles, the Jews, the Armenians, the Siberians, etc., have been classified, placed in camps according to race, language and religion, and are receiving instructions from the most intelligent of their own number under the supervision of competent Japanese teachers. The heathen Japanese barbarians are certainly showing up wonderfully well.—Santa Fe New Mexican.
