M. D. Gaylord returned from El Paso and San Andres to spend the holidays with his family, returning on the 3d to El Paso where he expects to close a large deal for some valuable mining properties to a party of wealthy eastern capitalists.

L. S. Davis returned from Chicago and other eastern points in time to spend Christmas with his family. Mr. Davis and family expect to move to El Paso at an early date.

L. W. Jackson has returned to Estancia, where he expects to take up a homestead, and raise pumpkins in the future.

The enterprising citizens of this town are preparing to start a private school to supplement the meagre public school apportionment of this year. The present tax levy for school purposes is entirely too small, and if nothing else would be an argument in favor of statehood of any kind, the fact that we would have better schools ought to weigh with the people who have children to educate.

Colonel J. C. Bender is preparing to install a hydraulic mining plant in Nogal canyon as soon as the snow melts.

A deputy sheriff from Corona brought a bunch of bad men to town the other day to be tried before Judge Moore. They were charged with shooting up the town, and were fined $5.00 each and costs, which was very light considering the gravity of the charge.

E. R. Cline came over from Persons on his way to White Oaks and stopped over long enough to thaw out.

NOGALES.

Frank Dockray and Miss Estella Meek were married at Capitan on New Year's day, Justice of the Peace, John A. Haley officiating. Mr. Dockray is a resident and sheep man of Richardson and the bride is a Lincoln county school teacher, and the daughter of T. B. Meek, who is running a store at Meek and also at Arabela, on the east side of the Capitan mountains, this county. May this short cut to happiness lead out to the sunny slopes in life's rocky road.

Tom Johnson and Oliver Burrous, two Nogal young men of wide reputation paid "Hearts Desire" a short visit Saturday.

Jim Woodland and Will Garrison came up from Carrizozo a few days ago to break the road—and succeeded.

S. C. Wiener is at Lincoln attending the meeting of County Commissioners and looking into the padded out condition of the roads between here and the county seat.

W. J. Dunn, the Ancho sheep man, stopped over here for a day last week on his way to Lincoln on business before the county Commissioners. Mr. Dunn reports that up to the time he left home he had not lost a single head of his sheep on account of the storm and cold weather which followed it. He was out on the range with them for fourteen days continually, while his herders were enjoying the holidays elsewhere.

As could well be expected our mails have been very irregular of late. Much trouble has been experienced by the Rock Island and the El Paso and Southwestern with snow blockades, especially between Santa Rosa and Torrance. These roads have done everything in their power to keep the track clear, but the snow has filled the cuts about as fast as it could be cleared out. A rotary snow plow, at last accounts, was stuck between two through freight trains near Epris, which failed to get through, and the company has several hundred men at work trying to shovel them out. The Rock Island has been running its passenger and mail trains up over the Dawson branch from Tucuman to the crossing of the Santa Fe, and down that road to El Paso. Regular trains are now expected to be running in a few days.

T. F. Chapman and R. J. Metcalfe were up from El Paso last week to view the beautiful dress the Chapman oil properties here had taken on. They only made a surface examination and bided themselves back to that blooming city on the western limb of Texas. Mr Chapman's eyesight has very much improved within the past few months.

Ed. E. Wilson, a Pecos valley young granger slipped into the Jicarillas over the snow drifts, by way of the back door and stole away a young and attractive bride in the person of Miss Josephine Brooking. From the manner of their speeding as they passed through White Oaks, a person might be led to believe some rival was hot on the trail and he didn't mean to go into camp either. Be that as it may, there are many good wishes following them, from friends here.

The present heavy mantle of snow which covers the whole of Lincoln county, while causing much inconvenience in getting about, and a shortage of fuel, as well as a slight loss in sheep, will eventually result in great good to this section of country. The heavy rains during the fall months and the heavy snow, which will be about all absorbed as it melts will put the ranges in better condition than for years. Those who depend on farming will be especially fortunate, as an abundant crop during the coming season is practically assured. Many worse things could have happened to us than the present snow pack.

How many of you have already broken your good resolutions made the first of January? Draw down the curtains to your windows and confess.

Santa Fe, Dec. 31.—The prosperity and growth of New Mexico during the year has been remarkable. An unpromising winter followed a year of drought and destructive floods. But out of the disaster came advancement and wealth. All classes have shared in the riches that the year has yielded.

An example of this growth is shown by the mineral production. The production of zinc last year scarcely exceeded in value $100,000. It is valued at $900,000 this year, with new mines in the Tres Hermanos district being opened and the output of the Magdalena and Kelly districts, which alone produced over $800,000 worth this year, being rapidly increased. The gold production was almost $400,000, an increase of 60 per cent over the previous year. The copper production was $650,000, with the promise that early next year the big copper mine and smelter at San Pedro, southern Santa Fe county, will resume, after an idleness of several years. The silver production was $125,000, with renewed activity in the silver mining districts of Sierra county. The lead production was $125,000, and the iron production 150,000 tons.

In ten years New Mexico has yielded almost $5,000,000 worth of gold and $5,000,000 worth of silver; while in 100 years New Mexico has added to the world's stock of gold $27,000,000 worth and of silver $30,000,000 worth, with every indication that the surface has been merely scratched, for New Mexico has no well developed gold camp like Cripple Creek, or gold, silver and lead camp like Leadville; or copper camp like Butte, although there are indications that sooner or later it will have rivals of these famous camps. The producing mines of the territory number as follows:

Coal, 30; gold and silver, 28; copper, 19; precious stones, 9; quarries, 14; zinc, 5; iron, 2; all others, 10.

The coal production last year was less than 1,400,000 tons. This year it was 1,672,400 tons. A new mine was opened in Colfax county that next year will produce half a million tons, while several of the older mines are increasing their output. The indications are that the coal mines of Colfax county next year will produce almost as much as all the coal mines of the territory this year.

With the completion of the railroad into the coal mining section of San Juan county, several mines will be developed in that section which can easily produce another million tons next year, for they have the largest coal seams in the Southwest, reaching a maximum of sixty feet in thickness.

In ten years New Mexico has produced 12,000,000 tons of coal, valued at $15,000,000, and 170,000 tons of coke, valued at $500,000, have been produced during the last five years, the production last year having been 76,737 tons, an increase of sixty per cent over the year previous. Several hundred coke ovens are under construction at present. The area of prospected coal lands is 1,499,000 acres. The amount of coal in sight is 9,000,000,000 tons, valued at $11,000,000,000.

Considering that New Mexico also produces the raw material for many kinds of manufacturing and has many thousand of horse power of unutilized water power, and is close to the markets of Mexico and of the Orient, it seems certain that manufacturing industries will locate here whenever railroad rates will permit of profitable operations. Even as it is, the manufactured products of the territory during the present year exceeded $9,000,000 in value.

Railroad construction affords proof of prosperity. During the year the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company completed the first railroad into the prosperous agricultural and coal mining region of San Juan county. It is a well-built, standard-gauge line from Durango, Colorado, to Farmington.

The Santa Fe company is pushing to completion the Eastern railway of New Mexico from Rio Puerco, on the Santa Fe-Pacific to Texico, on the Pecos Valley & Northwestern railway, which is practically a new transcontinental railroad that will take the Pacific coast traffic from the present mountain line via Raton and Albuquerque and send it on easy grades through central New Mexico, opening a region thus far unexploited and practically unsettled, although now towns are springing into existence at Mountair, Elnido, Willard and Sunnyside, while the ancient town of Belon, or Bethlehem, is becoming important as a railroad center, where, ultimately, big railroad shops roundhouses and railroad offices will be located, as was planned when the Santa Fe entered this territory twenty-five years ago.

In the northern part of the territory another important east and west line is under construction from Folsom on the Colorado & Southern, crossing the Rock Island and Dawson lines and the Santa Fe line, the latter at Raton, thence extending westward to the historic mining camp at El Establimento, which at one time was the most populous town in the territory and needs but railroad facilities to become the greatest producer of gold in the Southwest. From thence, a surveying corps is running an extension of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain & Pacific railroad, on this road is known, across Costilla pass to Taos, thence to a connection with the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, and beyond, with an eye to a connection with the proposed Colorado & Arizona railroad from Durango to Cochise, Arizona. A Southern Pacific railroad project, already surveyed and awaiting merely the decision of the litigation over the right of way with the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company, before commencing active construction of a line that will give western New Mexico a north and south railroad.

It is probable that the Denver & Rio Grande company next year will make its line from Santa Fe to Arboles standard gauge, for this year its narrow-gauge equipment was unable to handle all the traffic, much of which originates along the Santa Fe Central from Santa Fe to Torrance. A new line that is developing a part of New Mexico that will not only be an advantage to the general public as a central Arboles line, but also a very important connection.

With more homeseekers locating on its fertile valley lands than are settling in any other part of the territory.

Should the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company acquire this line, as it may, it would make Santa Fe the most important railroad center in the Southwest, for extensions to El Paso and Roswell would become a certainty and this city would become the largest and most prosperous city between Pueblo, Colorado and El Paso, Texas.

Not counting that portion of the New Mexico Eastern railway which is practically completed, New Mexico has 2,554 miles of railroad, with 350 miles under construction, and 950 miles surveyed for construction next year; this is against 1,679 miles which were in existence June 30, 1900.

Remarkable as has been the growth, it is eclipsed by the advances that New Mexico has made as an agricultural commonwealth. In 1890 the number of farms in New Mexico was 4,458. To-day they number 16,200. The value of farms has increased in that time from $33,000,000 to $62,000,000 and of farm products per year from $2,000,000 to $18,000,000. The value of the fruit crop this year exceeded $250,000 against $197,000 a few years ago. New orchards are coming into bearing every year.

The acres of alfalfa have increased from 12,139 in 1890 to 63,000 acres in 1905; the value of cereals from $379,000 in 1900 to $1,500,000 in 1905. The production of wool this year exceeded 22,000,000 pounds, and 2,000,000 sheep and lambs were shipped out of the territory. Two hundred thousand head of cattle and other livestock in proportion were shipped, and yet there remain on the ranges 6,000,000 head of sheep, 1,000,000 head of cattle, 150,000 head of goats and 100,000 head of horses. The grades are being constantly improved by the introduction of blooded animals.

During the last five years 1,705,000 acres were entered under the homestead act and 1,600,000 acres under the desert land and other acts. Still there remains 52,000,000 acres of public land, despite the fact that almost 6,000,000 acres are included in forest reserves; 3,500,000 acres in Indian reservations; 1,000,000 acres in Pueblo Indian grants; 250,000 acres under federal irrigation projects, 187,000 acres in military reservations and 1,300,000 acres belonging to the territory. One county alone, that of Socorro, still has 8,000,000 acres of public land, or an area exceeding that of the entire state of New Jersey.

That capital continues to invest in the many splendid industrial opportunities presented by the resources of New Mexico is shown by the fact that during the year 200 companies filed incorporation papers, their aggregate capital exceeding $100,000,000. During the last five years 927 companies have filed incorporation papers with a capitalization of $525,000,000.

The value of the public buildings of the territory, not including its 1,000,000 acres of public lands, is $2,250,000, while that of its public school buildings exceed $2,000,000. The school census taken in the beginning of September shows that the population of the territory to-day is 285,000, a gain of fifty per cent since 1890. When it is remembered that the population of the region which now includes New Mexico, Arizona and southern Colorado was only 61,647 in 1850, and is to-day in excess of 600,000, a gain of 1,000 per cent in fifty years, it must be acknowledged that the development of this country has been marvelous, especially when it is considered that most of this development has come since the advent of the railroads, in 1879.

Big Wolf Killed.

The largest lobo killed in this vicinity for a number of years was trapped a few days ago by Jose Leyba, a ranchman near Lamy. The skin of the animal measured seven feet, and the wolf weighed over 100 pounds. This animal had killed a number of sheep and cattle since the cold weather began, but all efforts made to shoot the brute were unavailing.

Finally Leyba secured a large trap which he baited and concealed. The following morning he found the wolf caught securely. The animal, however, was so ferocious that he was forced to shoot it from a distance before he could approach the trap. The skin is not for sale, but has been placed on exhibition at Candalaria's curio store.

If the old saying that heavy fur on wild beasts indicates a severe winter, then most any sort of weather can be expected here this season, for the animal's hair is very long and thick.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Would Marry an Indian.

News has reached the city that Miss Arnold of Denver is now in Espanola, and is there for the expressed purpose of marrying Albino Chivari, a full-blooded Pueblo Indian. The story of the efforts of an attractive woman to marry one of the red men is one that has attracted general attention. Some time since Chivari was a visitor in Denver, in the summer he met Miss Arnold and the two young women was fascinated by the brightness and other attributes of the man. She determined to marry the Indian and since that time has made a number of efforts to do so. Chivari does not seem to feel that he is sufficiently well fixed in this world's goods to take care of a wife and so the union as yet has not been made.

It is stated that there is a possibility that the difficulties that have heretofore been in the way of the marriage may soon be removed and that the couple may be united soon.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Sanillo McClure has been lodged in the penitentiary to serve a ninety-day sentence for killing Nicolas Sanchez and Carmel Suen in Bernalillo county last year.

Fire on the night of December 30th destroyed the depot of the Santa Fe Central railway at Progreso, Torrance county, but as the building has not been used recently, the station being abandoned, the loss did not exceed the cost of the building, which was about $2,000.

There are 342 pupils, male and female, at the United States Indian Training School at Santa Fe. There are also nine employees who are Indians. This means that Uncle Sam supports and feeds 351 of his dusky wards at the school and supports and feeds them well.

James Sanders, a trusty at the penitentiary, who has still a year to serve for burglary, and who escaped a few days ago, has been returned to the prison by Chief of Police George Barr of La Junta, Colorado. Sanders is the tenth trusty to escape within the past few years, every one of whom has been recaptured.

Jerome Martin, register of the land office at Las Cruces, died December 31st of peritonitis, after a brief illness, at the age of forty-four years. He was the son of a pioneer settler in Dona Ana county, on the edge of the Jornada Del Muerto, and was a stock raiser and farmer until appointed register in March, 1904, by President Roosevelt.

The National Bohemian Association has filed incorporation papers at Santa Fe for the purpose of planting colonies of Bohemians from Chicago and the Northwest in the Rio Grande valley. One such colony has been already located at Socorro. The capitalization is $1,000,000. The incorporators and directors are: Max Kirschman and Robert E. Pitts of Chicago, John Greenwood, William G. Hammel and Joseph E. Smith of Socorro.

Arrangements have been completed at Santa Fe for the inaugural ceremonies of Herbert J. Hagerman of Roswell, who will succeed Governor M. A. Otero on January 22d. Mr. Hagerman will take the oath of office on the afternoon of that day before the entire bench of the Territorial Supreme Court in the Supreme Court chambers at the capitol and in the presence of the public. In the evening the citizens of the capitol will tender him a public reception and inaugural ball.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the United States Reclamation Service, Roswell, New Mexico, until 2 o'clock p. m., February 1st, for the construction and completion of canals and laterals involving about 100,000 cubic yards of earth work and 1,000 cubic yards of overhaul, at a point about eight miles southwest of Roswell. Plans, specifications and forms of proposals may be obtained by application to the chief engineer of the reclamation service, Washington, or to W. M. Reed, Roswell.

Governor Otero, upon the recommendation of H. O. Bursum, superintendent of the Territorial Penitentiary, has commuted the sentence of Jose Campbell of Dona Ana county, who has served ten years in the penitentiary for murder, from ninety-nine years to twenty years, which, with his good time allowance, will release him in four years. Campbell is sixty-one years old. The commutation came as a Christmas gift to Campbell, whose conduct while in prison has been exemplary.

Howard Chenoweth escaped from the Grant county jail at Silver City about 7:30 o'clock on the night of December 25th. The night jailer had stepped outside, when he was held up by a masked man who forced him to open Chenoweth's cell and then looked the jailer in. Chenoweth was sentenced to fifty years in the penitentiary for the killing of Marshal Kilburn and Perfecto Rodriguez in that city some time ago. Two parties have been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the deed. Horses were evidently waiting for Chenoweth and he has a good start on the officers.

The National Fraternal Sanitarium Society will take over the Montezuma hotel at Las Vegas from the Santa Fe company February 1st. Already fraternalists numbering more than 3,200,000 are paying regular assessments for the support of the institution, and almost $200,000 has accumulated in the association treasury. This money will be used for the refitting of the big hotel and the building of 800 tents for its first section of the fraternal city. It is expected that before another three months 6,000,000 people will be paying assessments to the sanitarium funds.

TRADUCES THE NEGRO.

Governor of Mississippi Declares Negroes Not Fit for Education.

Jackson, Miss.—Gov. James K. Ardaman in his annual message to the Mississippi Legislature, which assembled today, again took a strong stand against spending public money for the education of the negro, saying in part:

"As a race the negro is deteriorating morally every day. Time has demonstrated that he is more criminal as a freeman than as a slave, that he is increasing in criminality with fearful rapidity, being one-third more criminal in 1890 than he was in 1880.

"In the South, Mississippi particularly, I know he is growing worse every year. You can scarcely pick up a newspaper whose pages are not blackened with an account of an unmentionable crime committed by a negro brute, and this crime, I want to impress upon you, is but the manifestation of the negro's aspiration for social equality, encouraged largely by the character of free education in vogue which the state is levying tribute upon the white people to maintain.

"It is your function to put a stop to the worse than wasting of $500,000 annually—money taken from the tolling white men and women of Mississippi—and devoted to the main purpose of trying to make something of the negro which the Great Architect of the universe failed to provide for in the original plan of creation."

Capt. William Mung, the companion of the celebrated Norwegian explorer, Roald Amundsen, on his recent journey across the Arctic ice fields, has arrived in San Francisco from the North. Captain Mung brought down 400 letters from the crews of the whaling fleet now imprisoned in the Arctic. The whaling crews are in no danger, and are well provided with supplies to carry them through the severe winter.

Hands of a Few Men.

Arraigning corporations and trusts as the greatest menace of the present time to American institutions, Representative Sulzer discussed the problem of "who shall rule America," at the Baptist Church of the Epiphany in New York City. In part he said:

"The total population of the United States is about 80,000,000. The total aggregate wealth is about $65,000,000,000, and it appears that out of that population less than 65,000 persons own more than one-half the aggregate wealth of the land. And this has all been brought about in the last twenty-five years by combination and conspiracies called trusts, fostered by special legislation and nurtured by political favoritism. If these conditions obtain in the next century, I predict that less than 5,000 persons will control more than three-quarters of the wealth of this country.

"Twenty years ago John D. Rockefeller was worth only a few hundred thousands of dollars. To-day his wealth cannot be estimated under a billion. I have searched the congressional library for statistics bearing upon the wealth of the great Croesus whose name has been handed down through the ages, and find that he possessed a paltry $10,000,000. Why, he could not sit in a poker game with John D."

Just Wonderful.

Vestry, Miss., Jan. 1st (Special)—The case of Mrs. C. W. Pearson, who resides here is a particularly interesting one. Here is the story told by Mr. Pearson, her husband, in his own words. He says:—

"My wife's health was bad for a long time. Last July she was taken terrible bad with spasms. I sent for the doctor, and after making a thorough examination of her, he said undoubtedly the cause of her trouble was a disordered state of the kidneys. His medicine didn't seem to be doing her much good, so as I heard about Dodd's Kidney Pills, I got her a box just to give them a trial. Well the effect was just wonderful. I saw that they were the right medicine and I got two more boxes. When she had taken these she was so much better that she had increased thirty pounds in weight. She is now quite well, and we owe it all to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Mrs. Chugwater—Josiah, I want to do something to encourage the hens to lay. Oughtn't we to take a poultry journal of some kind? Mr. Chugwater—Oh, yes, subscribe for one if you want to. But I can tell you right now the hens will never look at it.

BOY'S TERRIBLE ECZEMA.

Mouth and Eyes Covered With Crusts—Hands Pinned Down—Miraculous Cure by Cuticura.

"When my little boy was six months old, he had eczema. The sores extended so quickly over the whole body that we at once called in the doctor. We then went to another doctor, but he could not help him, and in our despair we went to a third one. Matters became so bad that he had regular holes in his cheeks large enough to put a finger into. The food had to be given with a spoon, for his mouth was covered with crusts as thick as a finger, and whenever he opened the mouth they began to bleed and suppurate, as did also his eyes. Hands, arms, chest, and back, in short the whole body was covered over and over. We had no rest by day or night. Whenever he was laid in his bed, we had to pin his hands down; otherwise he would scratch his face and make an open sore. I think his face must have looked most fearfully.

"We finally thought nothing could help, and I had made up my mind to send my wife with the child to Europe, hoping that the sea air might cure him, otherwise he was to be put under good medical care there. But, Lord, be blessed, matters came differently, and we soon saw a miracle. A friend of ours spoke about Cuticura. We made a trial with Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent, and within ten days or two weeks, we noticed a decided improvement. Just as quickly as the sickness had appeared it also began to disappear, and within ten weeks the child was absolutely well, and his skin was smooth and white as never before. F. Hohrath, President of the C. L. Hohrath Company, Manufacturers of Silk Ribbons, 4 to 29 Rink Alley, South Bethlehem, Pa., June 5, 1906."

Report of Trustees Shows Growing Fund for Stratton Home—Many Lawyers Well Paid—Litigation Delays Work.

Colorado Springs.—The annual report of the Stratton estate from January 1, 1905 to January 1, 1906, has been filed with the clerk of the County Court. The total receipts for the year were $344,771.56, less last year's cash balance of $40,444.73. The total expenditures were $269,801.44, leaving a balance on hand of $74,970.12.

The most important item in the report was that corroborating the report published this morning that the Stratton-Cripple Creek Mining & Development Company, on December 30th, declared a dividend of $50,000. The rate was 2 1/2 mills on the issued capital stock of 20,000,000 shares, the estate receiving $49,998 on its holdings of 19,999,200 shares. The directors of the company personally hold the remaining 800 shares.

Various attorneys of the state received large sums for legal services. The following amounts were paid to the respective attorneys: T. M. Patterson, E. E. Whitted and C. J. Hughes, all of Denver, $12,500 each; J. B. Bissell, Denver, $8,750; L. M. Goddard, Denver, $6,250; I. N. Stevens of Pueblo received $10,000, McAllister & Gandy of this city received $15,000, and W. S. Morris of this city $5,000.

In addition there was paid during the past year the sum of $3,451.61, eight per cent interest on the balances due the attorneys, from July 11, 1904, to January 16, 1905.

Of the receipts there were two dividends of $15,000 from the Colorado Springs & Interurban Railway Company, in addition to two payments of interest of $12,500 each on the $500,000 worth of bonds held by the estate. The Portland Gold Mining Company paid the estate in four dividends the sum of $181,559.88, on the 505,333 shares held by the estate. The Colorado Gold Mining Company paid $1,210 in dividends to the estate, and the Dillon company paid two dividends of $250 and $500 respectively. Stratton's Independence Company, limited, paid on the 100 shares held by the estate two dividends of $11.54 and $11.55 respectively. Minor receipts in rents, interest, etc., comprised the remainder of the revenue during the year.

Of the $269,801.44 expended, $150,000 was spent in purchasing from the Exchange National Bank of this city 150 $1,000 bonds of the Colorado Springs & Interurban Railway Company. The sum of $7,000 was expended in settling the claim of J. B. Belford of Denver, who secured a judgment of $3,000 and costs in the District Court for legal services to the late W. S. Stratton. This was the only lawsuit settled by the executors.

In addition to the $82,500 paid in balances due legal advisers and the $3,451.61 interest thereon, the largest remaining expenditure was that of $12,000 as premiums to four bonding companies which are sureties for the three executors, D. H. Rice and C. S. Chamberlain of this city, and Tyson S. Dines of Denver. Mr. Chamberlain also drew $3,000 on account of executor's fees. Minor claims which had been approved by the court, salaries and other miscellaneous expenses comprised the remainder of the report.

No information can be secured regarding the erection of the Myron Stratton Home, which was planned by the late W. S. Stratton, and to build which he left the bulk of the vast estate. Certain litigation pending must be cleared away and the estate then will be gradually transformed into cash, before the construction of the home is begun.

Record of Idaho Dynamite.

Denver.—Officers of Teller county, and the local men who have been at work on the assassination of former Governor Steunenberg, have come to the conclusion, after telegraphic correspondence with the officers in Idaho, that the men guilty of the crime in Idaho are the persons who took part in the dynamite outrages at Cripple Creek, and the murders in the San Juan district. The Colorado authorities are working with the Idaho police to unearth the latest conspiracy because they know that if the criminals are brought to earth in the one case, they will have to answer to other charges.

The Cripple Creek officers are certain that the man who gave the name Harry Orchard, arrested for the murder of Steunenberg, is one of the men who escaped from Cripple Creek after the explosion of the depot at Independence, resulting in the death of fourteen people. He was known under several aliases.

Western Live Stock Show.

Denver.—Arrangements are being perfected for the Western Live Stock Show to be held in Denver from January 23th to February 3d, and by the time that it is ready for the stockmen and public it is expected there will be a large exhibit in all classes. This is the first show and it is planned to make it an annual affair. Western stockmen have not been able to exhibit their cattle and stock at the show in Chicago with satisfactory results for the reason that the classes are not suitable, and because Chicago is too far away.

Wife Regains Confidence.

St. Petersburg.—The government's strongly worded announcement that it proposes to pursue to the bitter end the policy of putting down the "reds," following on the heels of the crushing of the revolt at Moscow, demonstrates the confidence of President Wilton's government that it has the ability to complete the task it has undertaken. The main cause of this confidence is the fidelity displayed by the troops.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is favoring to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. J. C. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, are recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has the BADGER on every bottle of the wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 51 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

KENTUCKIANS WANTED.

All Should Remember "Home Coming Week" Next Spring.

Judge Caldwell Yeaman of Denver, president of the Kentucky Home Club, has received from the Louisville Commercial Club the following communication:

"Home Coming Week. The Louisville Commercial Club wants to invite all former Kentuckians to visit the state next spring.

"Wanted—The names and addresses of all Kentuckians who have moved to other states.

"Did you know that the last census shows that there are over six hundred thousand Kentuckians living in other states?"

"Well, it's a fact! How many of these former Kentuckians do you know?"

"The Commercial Club of Louisville wants the names of as many of these as it is possible to get. It desires to extend invitations to every Kentuckian who has moved away to come back next spring and attend the 'Home Coming Week' festivities at Louisville.

"Plans are rapidly maturing for this great event. The Commercial Club hopes to make it a red letter week on Kentucky's historical calendar. There will be 'something doing' seven days and nights, and then the crowd will disperse and go to different parts of the state to remain as long as the low railroad rates are in effect, as the arrangement made with the railroads will include a low rate to all points in Kentucky for 'Home Coming Week' in Louisville.

"If you have any friends or relatives who have moved to other states, please send the names and addresses at once to the Commercial Club, Louisville, Kentucky."

Judge Yeaman would be pleased to have all Kentuckians in Colorado send him their names and addresses. He will then cause a complete list to be made of all native Kentuckians living in Colorado and will furnish it to the Louisville Commercial Club. He believes that such a list will be of great service in Colorado and in Kentucky, in promoting the Kentucky Home, which it is proposed to construct and maintain in Colorado for Kentucky invalids coming to the state for health.

Eulogizes Public Schools.

President Roosevelt, speaking at the celebration of the centennial of the establishment of the public schools of Washington, said:

"The public schools are not merely the educational centers for the mass of our people, but they are the factories of American citizenship. Incidentally to its other work the public school does more than any other institution of any kind, sort or description, to Americanize the child of foreign-born parents who comes here when young, or is born here. Nothing else counts for as much in welding together into one compact mass of citizenship the different race stocks which here are being fused into a new nationality."

MALARIA? ?

Generally That is Not the Trouble. Persons with a susceptibility to malarial influences should beware of coffee, which has a tendency to load up the liver with bile.

A lady writes from Denver that she suffered for years from chills and fever which at last she learned were mainly produced by the coffee she drank.

"I was also grievously afflicted with headaches and indigestion," she says, "which I became satisfied were likewise largely due to the coffee I drank. Six months ago I quit its use altogether and began to drink Postum Food Coffee, with the gratifying result that my headaches have disappeared, my digestion has been restored and I have not had a recurrence of chills and fever for more than three months. I have no doubt that it was Postum that brought me this relief, for I have used no medicine while this improvement has been going on." (It was really relief from congestion of the liver caused by coffee.)

"My daughter has been as great a coffee drinker as I, and for years was afflicted with terrible sick headaches, which often lasted for a week at a time. She is a brain worker and excessive application together with headaches began to affect her memory most seriously. She found no help in medicines and the doctor frankly advised her to quit coffee and use Postum."

HOW OTHERS SEE HIM.

An Austrian Professor, Dr. Jacob Miner recently visited the United States and attended a reception at the White House. This is the way he describes it in a Vienna paper.

"The White House of Washington," says the Court Doctor, "will always remain something never to be forgotten, not only on account of the honor paid us by the President at our reception, but also on account of its noble simplicity and the grand style in which it is furnished. It is the true pattern of an American house, in which every thing necessary is close at hand, but in which there is nothing superfluous. And with what simple formalities was our reception by the President carried out! A somewhat numerous but noiseless company of attendants in the ante-room, and no police, no military.

In the reception room itself there was no one present but we ourselves, the visitors introduced by the President and Vice President. Soon the doors open and Roosevelt appears between two civilians, evidently secretaries; adjutants perhaps, I should say.

"He showed great animation in his answer to the president of Congress, who first addressed him, leaning forward, with his right foot well advanced, gesticulating vivaciously and articulating his words sharply, almost snapping his teeth together while speaking. The impression one at once feels from him is that of some elemental force of nature, and this feeling is increased when the ordinary round of the visitors, with its accompanying handshakings, is begun. Only here it is not merely a case of a question put by the audience giver and a more or less sensible answer returned by the person receiving the audience. A very animated conversation is often developed, into which the President draws those who stand around him. Very soon he is heard laughing a bit too loudly; now he gives a man a hearty slap on the shoulder that is almost audible; then again he brings his hands together with a smack. There is nothing in the way of majesty about him; one feels that he lets himself go completely, and then again remarks that behind this almost savage nature force is concealed a consummate diplomatist. The President addressed me with a foreign accent, but said, in faultlessly correct German: "I don't speak a word of German, it is true, but I read German a great deal and like German poetry beyond anything."

Rev. I. R. Hicks, the St. Louis weather forecaster, has three severe storm periods down on his horoscope for January. One for the 7th 8th and 9th. Another, which is to be a regular swifter, is billed for the 14th and will keep the home folks wrestling coal and kindlings for a week or more. Then about the 23d, blizzard number three is to strike us and hold us shivering over the last remnants of the woodpile until the latter part of the month. Just what effect this will have on joint statehood legislation is hard to surmise, but it looks a little frosty.

"Be for the head of Snuggles and here weather."

Now should this cold,
Much longer hold,
Nor snow let up and thaw
We'll pack our grip,
And slyly slip
Clean down to Panama;

What a lot of bill fabricators the present members of Congress are. Up to the holiday adjournment 11,250 bills had been introduced since the beginning of the session. No one has yet heard of any important measure having been passed. No, not even a law making Gov. Otero, Hagerman, and the rest of us, citizens of the United States.

A visitor at a small resort on the coast, says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, asked one of the men whom he saw at the village store what he did all summer.

"Loat and fish," replied the native.
"What do you do in the winter?" continued the inquiring visitor.
"We don't fish!"

Herbert J. Hagerman, who will be inaugurated Governor of New Mexico on the 22d of this month is starting out about right. He has already put his veto on any elaborate preparations for that occasion, which the officers and others at Santa Fe were planning. He even cut out the military and civic parade with its pomp and peacock feathers, and will quietly take the oath of office in the Supreme Court room, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, which will be administered by Chief Justice Mills. The others, will have it out, however, by giving him a reception and ball in the evening at the Palace hotel, at which any one can have the privilege of wearing a spike-tailed coat and pants without pockets at $5.00 a strut.

THE KIND THEY UNRIN ALBUQUERQUE

A story comes from Albuquerque that a leading citizen of that city went to bed one of the severe cold nights during the past week, leaving a bottle of whiskey sitting by the kitchen stove. When he got up in the morning to kindle a fire, as the head of the house should he thought he would take something to warm up the inner man first, and taking up the bottle, which appeared to have shrunk considerably, tried to drink, but the thing would not give down its invigorating fluid. Then he discovered that the whole thing had frozen solid, the bottle had burst and fallen away leaving the liquid standing up like an icicle, which he saw held in his hand.

Just after having had their railway passes cut off, the worried legislators in Washington are assailed by a proposition to abolish their franking privilege. And with the grand juries so adamantly set against grafting, pretty soon all there will be in legislating is the salary and mileage.—El Paso Herald.

The El Paso Herald in giving events that happened fourteen years ago, notes an editorial in the White Oaks Eagle of that time which states that, "No power on earth can prevent the building of the El Paso-Denver short line through White Oaks." As the road was not built, it must have been knocked crochety and crooked by some power under, above, or inside of the earth.

Last week eighteen new attorneys were admitted to practice in the courts of the territory.

This is probably the result of the work done by our past territorial legislature. The more laws of that description the more attorneys it takes to unravel them, and the better opportunity for juggling. With the opportunities offered by the New Mexico statutes, this territory ought to be an attorneys paradise.

The president has been giving congressmen who call on him some very plain talk about rate legislation of late. He does not seem to take kindly to this talk of compromise which certain weak kneed ones are pleased to indulge in and gives it out plainly that action must be taken in this matter positively and speedily if they wish to retain the respect of the people who sent them there to enact just this kind of legislation. It matters not what course the railroads may take, there is no danger of the president weakening.

There is a growing tendency among congressmen in favor of letting the work on the Panama canal by contract. This looks like a practical solution of this matter. Almost any practical miner or railroad contractor can estimate the cost of removing a cubic foot of rock or earth, and would figure it down to a reasonable profit if they knew there was going to be competition. This would do away with an army of high salaried officials who do not seem to agree on anything except to make their job last as long as possible.

Do you punch the hollow hole through the injun rubber or will i have to do it myself? How do you stick the ends together after you get it done? It your injun rubber is already holler will it come any cheaper empty i can get all the wind i want out here in Kansas free.
