M. G. PADEN.

Attorney A. H. Hudspeth has purchased the residence of John M. Keith opposite Dr. Paden's home, now occupied by Justice Tompkins. As the gentleman is classed among the incorrigibles his friends are asking: "Why is this thus?"

W. H. DeRosear, J. H. Leighner, Will Tompkins and Frank Goff all returned Saturday from Carrizozo, where they completed the work on the big store building of the Mercantile Company at that place. This is one of the most complete business houses, in all its appointments, in Lincoln county.

One would hardly expect to find a case of hay fever at this time of the year, but the disease seems to be epidemic down about Lincoln and Capitan, judging from the marriage licences lately issued. Among the parties we find the names of S. Salizar, Walter Gray and Beatrice Montano. The parties had all been through the divorce courts.

CORONA CHRONICLES.

Bob Fitzmaurice is again at his post as water man at Gallinas. His many friends are pleased to see him back again.

Mrs. J. A. Simpson has the sympathy of her numerous Corona friends in her lingering illness.

The estimable wife of our popular Dr. Nelson, was on the sick list for several days but is now convalescent.

Postmaster Du Bois, has sold an interest in his mining claims, to eastern parties who will begin active development at once.

Mr. Beverly Jones, reported as a wild buffalo rider last week, would rise to explain that he is not a reverend. Such flops are not conducive to reverence. Bev. Jones, not "Rev. Jones," please.

Mr. Richardson, our good natured beef dispenser, lost, by fire, his house four miles northeast of town Saturday night. The family escaped but only a few household articles were saved.

Mr. Jim Brown and Miss Mary Drye, the best known and most popular young couple of this community, were married last week.

And now on this earth, Brown and Drye,

Bless their union in thiss,
And bring joy in that world up on hyc.

Col. Geo. W. Harbin, president, and Thos. Sinnock, vice president and treasurer of the Free Gold Mining and Milling Company, Jicarillas, have been in White Oaks frequently of late. They are trying to straighten out the affairs of the company, which were allowed to get into a tangle of late, and put its business on a better footing.

Clark Hust, a hustler from Nogal, stopped here for a day on his return trip from Tucumearri and reports a wonderful activity up in that country. He says the town is running up like wild, and all the land within fifteen or twenty miles located, and the people all busy turning it bottom side up ready to plant to beans, though a few are going to try self raising buckwheat so they wo'nt have to cultivate the crop.

Judge John Y. Hewitt and Chas. Spence returned from their El Paso trip Saturday, looking like two boys who had just been to the show. While stopping off at Alamogordo Mr. Hewitt and enough other prominent legal lights to throw the electric ones quite in the shade, were dined, and so forth, by judge Mann and and clerk Downs. Charlie was down town feeding pennants to the monkeys and the bear, got left on the victuals and went hungry to bed.

Guo Wingfield went to Tucumearri Monday evening to spy out that region which is said to be overflowing with prospective booms, beans and watermelons. He will probably be back inside of a week with his pockets bulging with posters, prospectuses and price lists of real estate. There is, no doubt, more real development now going on around the county seats of Quay, Roosevelt, and Torrance counties and in fact many of the other sections of New Mexico, than anywhere else in the Southwest.

CAPTAIN CURRY'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Geo. Curry, now governor of Samar, Phillipine Islands came near losing his life, March 25th. It seems he had arranged to receive the surrender of the only rebellious tribe on the island and while they were lined up at their own request near headquarters for a snap shot they made a rush for the little squad of Americans in an attempt to either capture or slaughter them.

Gov. Curry and his men escaped, however, by jumping in the river and thus escaped their murderous bolos, as well as the shots that were fired at them from the few guns in the hands of the rebels. The native constabulary, under the command of Captain Jones, though taken by surprise, opened fire on their treacherous countrymen, killing about thirty of them and driving the others back to the mountains.

Gov. Curry formerly filled the office of clerk, as well as that of sheriff of this county for two terms, was elected to the upper house of the territorial legislature and was made president of that body. He afterward became a captain in the Rough Riders and later in the 11th U. S. Cavalry with which regiment he was sent to the Philippines. He was made the first chief of police in Manila under the American rule and gave that place the reputation of being one of the best policed cities in the world. He has done much to bring order out of chaos among the turbulent population of the islands, and about one year ago was made governor of Samar where he has quieted all the dissatisfied elements except the one tribe now in insurrection.

The people of Lincoln county take just pride in the success of their distinguished citizen and congratulate him on his fortunate escape from the hands of the treacherous Puljajoesos.

DO YOU WANT COAL.

HOTEL CHANGE AT LINCOLN.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gunn have taken charge of the hotel at Lincoln and will renovate and refit it throughout, making it in every way a desirable stopping place. This is something that has long been needed and those who are acquainted with the new proprietors will have no fears but what their bodily comfort and the cravings of the inner man will be well looked after either during a term of court or while on temporary business at the county town.

James Simms, who has been helping to put the American Placer machinery in running order returned to Parsons a few days ago to superintend the placing of the new machinery at the Hopeful mine, which the Eagle Company is putting in.

The wife of Thomas Bragg an old resident of the Park, about eight miles east of town, died last Thursday, and was buried in the cemetery at this place on Saturday. The burial service was read at the grave by H. B. Tompkins and the body of the good lady was laid away attended by many of the sorrowing friends.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ANSWERS MEMORIAL OF LABOR LEADERS

Washington. — President Roosevelt received a large body of representatives of organized labor Wednesday at the White House and talked to them about their request for the enactment of labor measures now pending before Congress.

Samuel Gompers, president, and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, headed the delegation, which consisted of about a hundred members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor and officials of the organizations which comprise the federation. Practically all of the important labor organizations of the country were represented. Secretary Morrison read to the President a memorial of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor urging action on the various demands for legislation being made by organized labor interests of the country.

The memorial dwelt particularly on the nine-hour law and its enforcement on government works, including the Panama canal and the immigration laws, especially the Chinese exclusion laws.

President Gompers and James Dunne of Quincy, Massachusetts, first vice president of the federation and president of the Granite Cutters' union, followed with brief addresses on the lines of the memorial. President Roosevelt, after listening to the statements, replied in an extended address. On the subjects of general immigration and the exclusion of Chinese labor the President indicated that he was in practical accord with them, but on some other matters he differed from them radically. The text of the President's remarks follows.

"Mr. Gompers, if your body objects to the passage of the proposed anti-injunction bill I have no question that you can stop it, for there is not a capitalist concerned who simply as capitalist is not against it, though I believe that a goodly number both of capitalists and wage workers who are concerned primarily as citizens favor it. The law was worked over and substantially whittled into its present shape at a number of conferences between representatives of the railroad organizations and the Department of Justice and the Bureau of Corporations with me. It goes as far as I personally think it should go, in limiting the right of injunction, at any rate no arguments have hitherto been advanced which make me think it should go farther. I do not believe it has any chance of passing, because there has been great criticism in both houses of Congress against the attitude of the administration in going so far as we have gone, and if you think it is not far enough, why, you will have no earthly difficulty in killing the bill. Personally, I think the proposed law a most admirable one, and I very sincerely wish it could be put through.

"As for the right of injunction, it is absolutely necessary to have this power lodged in the courts, though, of course, any abuse of the power is strongly to be reprobated. During the four and a half years that I have been President I do not remember an instance where the government has invoked the right of injunction against a combination of laborers. We have invoked it certainly a score of times against combinations of capital. I think possibly oftener. Thus, though we have secured the issuance of injunction in a number of cases against capital, it has happened that we have never tried to secure an injunction against a combination of labor. But, understand me, gentlemen, if I ever thought it necessary, if I thought a combination of laborers was doing wrong, I would apply for an injunction against them just as quickly as against so many capitalists.

"The conditions of labor, such as we have to work with in the tropics, are so absolutely different that there is no possible analogy between them, and an eight-hour law for the Panama canal is an absurdity. Every one of you knows that we can not get white labor; can not get labor of the United States to go down to Panama and work. We are driven to extremities in the effort to get any kind of labor at all. Just at the moment we are working with negro labor from the West Indies. The usual result in the employment of those men is that Monday and Tuesday they work fairly well, Wednesday and Thursday there is a marked falling off and by Friday and Saturday not more than a half, sometimes less than a fourth of the laborers will be at work. The conditions that make the eight-hour law proper here have no reference to the conditions that make the eight-hour law entirely improper there. The conditions are so utterly different on the isthmus as compared to here that it is impossible to draw conclusions affecting the one from what is true about the other. You hamper me in the effort to get for you what I think you ought to have in this connection when you make a request that is indefensible, and to grant which would mean indefinite delay and injury to the work on the isthmus.

"As to the violations of the eight-hour law, Mr. Morrison, you give me no specifications. At your earliest convenience please lay before me in detail any complaints you have of violations of the eight-hour law. Where I have power I will see that the law is obeyed. All I ask is that you give me the cases. I will take them up, and if they prove to be sustained by the facts, I shall see that the law is enforced.

"Now, about the Chinese exclusion. The number of Chinese now in this country is, if I remember right, some 60,000 or 70,000. So far from there being a great influx of the Chinese, the fact is that the number has steadily decreased. There are fewer Chinese than there were ten years ago; fewer than there were twenty years ago; fewer than there were thirty years ago. Unquestionably some scores of cases occur each year where Chinese laborers get in either by being smuggled over the Mexican and Canadian borders, or by coming under false certificates, but the steps that we have taken, the changes in the consuls that have been made within the last few years in the Orient, and the effort to conduct examinations in China before the immigrants are allowed to come here, are materially reducing even the small number of cases that do occur.

"But even as it is, the number of these cases is insignificant. There is no appreciable influx of Chinese laborers, and there is not the slightest or most remote danger of any; the whole scare that has been worked up on the subject is a pure chimeria. It is my deep conviction that we must keep out of this country every Chinese laborer, skilled or unskilled—every Chinaman of the coolie class. This is what the proposed law will do; it will be done as effectively as under the present law, and the present law is being handled with the utmost efficiency. But I will do everything in my power to make it easy and desirable for the Chinese of the business and professional class; the Chinese travelers and students to come here, and I will do all I can to secure their good treatment when they come; and no laboring man has anything whatever to fear from that policy. I have a right to challenge you as good American citizens to support that policy; and in any event I shall stand unflinchingly for it, and no man can say with sincerity that on this, or indeed on any other point, he has any excuse for misunderstanding my policy.

"You have spoken of the immigration laws. I believe not merely that all proper steps should be taken to prevent the importation of laborers under any form, but I believe further that this country ought to make a resolute effort from now on to prevent the coming to this country of men with a standard of living so low that they tend, by entering into unfair competition, to reduce the standard of living of our own people. Not one of you can go further than I will go in the effort steadily to raise the status of the American wage-worker, so long as, while doing it, I can retain a clear conscience and the certainty that I am doing what is right. I will do all in my power for the laboring man except to do what is wrong; and I will not do that for him or for anyone else.

"Now I come to the general subject of your petition. I wish in the first place to state my regret that you did not divorce so much of the petition as refers to the action of the executive from so much as refers to the action of the legislative branch, because I can not consider any petition that reflects upon the co-ordinate branch of the government or that makes any charges whatever against it. I would not even receive it save for the fact that in part it affects the executive. Therefore, in what I have to say I shall limit myself solely to what you assert in reference to the acts of the executive.

"You speak of the eight-hour law. Your criticism, so far as it relates to the executive, bears upon the signature of the appropriation bill containing the money for expenditure on the Panama canal, with the proviso that the eight-hour law shall not there apply. If your statement is intended to mean that no opportunity was given for a hearing, then the statement is not in accordance with the facts. There was ample opportunity that any one could be heard, but not a single request for such a hearing came to me. I received, however, some hundreds of telegrams and letters requesting the veto of the entire appropriation bill because it contained that proviso. Frankly, I found it difficult to believe that you were writing and telegraphing with any kind of knowledge of the conditions in the case. I believe emphatically in the eight-hour law for our own people.

"We must not let our natural sentiment for succoring the oppressed and unfortunate of other lands lead us into the warped moral and mental attitude of trying to succor them at the expense of pulling down our own people. Laws should be enacted to keep out all immigrants who do not show that they have the right stuff in them to enter into our life on terms of decent equality with our own citizens. This is needed first in the interests of the laboring man, but furthermore in the interests of all of us as American citizens; for, gentlemen, the bonds that unite all good American citizens are stronger by far than the difference, which I think you accentuate altogether too much, between the men who do one kind of labor and the men who do another. As for immigrants, we cannot have too many of the right kind and we should have none at all of the wrong kind; and they are of the right kind if we can fairly say that their children and grandchildren can meet on terms of equality our children and grandchildren, so as to try to be decent citizens together and to work together for the uplifting of the Republic.

"Now, a word as to the petitioning of employees of Congress. That stands in no shape or way on a par with the petitioning of men not employed by the government. I can not have and I will not have, when I can prevent it, men who are concerned in the administration of government affairs going to Congress and asking for increased pay. Their business is to come through the heads of departments. This applies to postmasters, to army and navy officers, to clerks in the government departments, to laborers—it applies to each and all, and must apply as a matter of simple discipline.

Earlier in the day the delegation called on Senator Fry, president of the Senate, and Speaker Cannon, and laid before them the same memorial.

Dewey Wants Big Ships. Washington.—Great battleships like the 18,000-ton battleship Dreadnaught (English) are the crying need of the American navy, according to Admiral Dewey, who appeared before the House committee on naval affairs to discuss the future of the American navy. At least two of the 18,000-ton battleships with ten 12-inch guns each should be authorized at once, in Admiral Dewey's opinion. He would have these of American design, and thinks we should be creative, rather than imitative, in developing the navy. Admiral Dewey also believes extensive experiments with submarine boats should be carried on.

NEW MEXICO NEWS SUMMARY

Thomas M. Reynolds, fireman at the federal building in Santa Fe, has been appointed a ranger on the Pecos forest reserve.

Attorney Byron Smith was found dying of apoplexy in his room at Las Vegas March 19th, and lived only a few moments afterwards. He was a law classmate of Chief Justice Mills and came from the same town in Connecticut.

While crossing a steep arroyo the wagon driven by Leandro Martinez of Guadalupe, Mora county, overturned. Martinez was pinned under the wagon and was pulled out dead, his neck having been broken. One of the horses was also killed.

E. C. Allen, general manager of the Albuquerque Pressed Brick Company, recently telegraphed from St. Louis that he had secured machinery and equipment for the plant and would ship at once. This will be the first brick plant that city ever had.

A Santa Fe dispatch of March 12th says: Mrs. Hilario Trujillo of this city, aged thirty-one, died suddenly of heart disease while on a visit to Capulin, Colorado, to-day. Last week Mr. Trujillo's mother died suddenly while eating dinner and a short time before his father died in the same manner, at the table.

The commissioners of the Las Vegas grant have offered the Campbell Dry Farming Association of Denver two sections of land, on condition that a Campbell dry farm be established upon it. One million acres in this part of the territory can be cultivated if the system proves a success. The average rainfall is more than fifteen inches.

Anselmo Baca, an employe of the American Lumber Company, aged forty-five, and the father of three small children, was run down and instantly killed on the night of March 14th by a car of the Albuquerque Traction Company. The motorman claims the man was drunk when killed. The coroner did not place the blame for the accident.

While under the spell of an epileptic fit, Luis Gonzales, a young unmarried man at Santa Fe, suddenly jumped from a chair in which he was sitting and leaped into an open-hearth fire. His yells of pain brought assistance, but he was unconscious when rescued. His clothing was burned from his body and the upper part of his body was literally cooked, causing fatal injuries.

Graded sheep will shear from eight to ten pounds per head this spring if the present favorable weather continues. The wool thus sheared will bring to the growers an average figure of 20 cents per pound. Naturally, the sheep growers are prosperous; their prosperity means the prosperity of the Sunshine territory, and hence no one grudges it to them, says the New Mexican.

The directors of the Las Vegas Commercial Club have decided to make a thorough test of dry farming on the uplands of the surrounding region. Vast quantities of deep level land is now used only for stock ranges. It can never be irrigated, but has some fifteen inches of rainfall during the year. It is believed that crops can be raised to advantage by the dry farming system, and to that end the tests will be made.

Old residents of Santa Fe were pained to learn of the death of Brother Augustine, aged sixty-seven years, in the Christian Brothers' College at St. Louis, March 10th. Brother Augustine for formerly a teacher in St. Michael's College in Santa Fe, having crossed the plains in the early days with Archbishop Lamy after whom Lamy Junction was named. He taught in the old college for about four years; but later returned to St. Louis, where, for the past thirty years, he has been engaged in the educational work of his order.

A number of health seekers in the city who have recovered from their ailments to such an extent that they feel the necessity for active employment, are preparing to band together as soon as the weather man declares spring is here to stay, and will become settlers in the Estancia valley. There are about twelve now included and recruits are being secured daily and there will probably be a goodly number. Next month the health seekers expect to select their land and begin improvement work at once. This is a new idea which might be a welcome suggestion to many similarly situated.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

The Department of the Interior desires to sell the matured and merchantable timber on the Jicarilla Apache reservation in Rio Arriba county, and a bill authorizing it to do so has been introduced in the national House of Representatives. The measure should become a law. The matured and merchantable timber on the reservation should be cut and sold speedily. This is the time to do it. The longer it is allowed to stand the more it will depreciate in value. At the lowest calculation there are one hundred million feet of good pine on the reservation, but it is safe to assume that this amounts to over one hundred and fifty million feet. The proceeds from this vast quantity of timber unless appropriated by the government would go to the Jicarilla Apaches. They are pretty well off as it is. They have a reservation of about five hundred thousand acres and number about 850 persons. With the money value of the timber given them per capita, they would be very, very wealthy. No matter how the proceeds are to be disposed of, the timber should be sold.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Two Officials to Go Out. A Santa Fe dispatch to the Denver Republican says: What is acknowledged by local politicians to be the long-expected break between the new governor, J. H. Hagerman, and other territorial officials, occurred to-day, when H. O. Bursum, superintendent of the Territorial Penitentiary and chairman of the Republican central committee, submitted his resignation. It was promptly accepted by the governor, who said he had not decided upon whom to appoint as successor. It is understood the new superintendent will be a Leavenworth, Kansas, man, connected with the penitentiary at that place.

Simultaneously with Bursum's resignation, Attorney General George W. Pritchard made public the fact that he would resign June 1st. W. C. Reid of Roswell will succeed to the job.

Another resignation was that of W. C. Porterfield of Silver City, from the Territorial Board of Pharmacy, after thirteen years' service. The governor said he would appoint G. S. Moore of Roswell, his personal friend, to the place.

Politicians will not talk of the situation, but there is an ominous calm, preceding the storm, which all say is brewing. Governor Hagerman said it was his desire to maintain peace in the Republican party of New Mexico and that insofar as he was concerned, all would be amicably adjusted. The real crisis, it is said, will come at the meeting of the Legislature.

Murdered Her Babe.

Mrs. Mary Aiken, in the Carlsbad jail on the charge of having murdered her infant child, made a complete confession on Monday. She buried her child alive on January 7th, near Lake-wood, because her husband had deserted her. The grand jury now in session indicted her for murder in the first degree and she will be tried at this term of court. When arrested, she had maintained her innocence of the crime, saying that a masked man had kidnapped the seven-months-old child, which was found later in a rude grave near the house, with one hand clutching a mesquite root. A post-mortem examination showed that the child had been nursed just before it had been killed. The husband, Albert Aiken, was arrested near Gage, Oklahoma, and brought back to Carlsbad, but was released, the jury having found no true bill against him. The woman is about thirty years of age, very pretty, dresses stylishly and seemed unmoved when making the confession or when confronted with the body of the boy.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

New Mexican National Guard.

Arrangements have been completed whereby Company B, First regiment of Infantry, New Mexico National Guard, stationed at Roswell, will be assigned to the New Mexico Military Institute, also of that city. The company at present is not in the best of condition, but plans have been formulated to improve it as rapidly as possible. Two officers of the institute, Capt. C. D. Pearson, commandant of cadets, and E. A. Lohman, an instructor, who will be made first lieutenant, with E. A. Smith, the former second lieutenant of the company, who will retain that position, and will be in charge under the new arrangement.

According to Adjutant General A. P. Tarkington, National Guard affairs are in good condition throughout the territory. Company A, First regiment of Infantry, at Las Cruces, is reported ready for inspection. Companies E and G of the First regiment of Infantry, at Albuquerque, and the band of the First regiment are in good shape and awaiting inspection by an officer of the regular army detailed for that purpose.

Find of Hot Soda.

There is quite a bit of excitement this week over the finding of a vein of hot soda water by a man digging a prospect hole in the J. A. Eddy soda mine, out at the famous "White Sands" beds, near town, says the Alamogordo correspondent of the Denver News. Mr. Eddy is having development work done on his soda claims, and while a man was digging a hole in the soda deposits, and after going through a vein of cold water, he struck a vein of hot water, which, upon cooling, quickly crystallizes into almost pure soda. The men at work there attempted to bathe their faces and hands in this hot water, and found that it ate their skin as lime or potash will do, and had to use grease to stop the burning.

In that hot water solution of soda there is found a peculiar or tiny fish, just large enough to see with the eye. It is a strange looking little living thing, but you can see its fins and eyes, and its movements are that of a fish.

This discovery, no doubt, solves the mystery of the creation of the tons and miles of mountains of the now world's famous "White Sands," as this underground flow of hot liquid soda has for ages been cooling on its surface or where exposed, and thus crystallizing and forming deposits of the "white sands."

A bottle full of the hot liquid was sent in to town, and is now in the show windows of W. E. Warren. Also a quantity has been sent away for chemical analysis. Mr. Eddy has always claimed that there were millions and millions of dollars' worth of soda at the "white sands," and now the most skeptical are being converted to Mr. Eddy's belief, and to see in the future the largest soda manufacturing establishment on earth located at Alamogordo.

Gonzales Denied an Appeal.

A Santa Fe dispatch of March 15th says: Judge John R. McFie this morning denied the petition for appeal and writ of supersedeas asked for by former Assessor Anastacio Gonzales of Santa Fe county, who had been removed by Judge McFie for alleged incompetency.

This leaves the field to the other two claimants, Glenville A. Collins, appointed by Gov. J. H. Hagerman, and E. S. Andrews, appointed by the Board of County Commissioners. Governor Hagerman, who returned last night from a visit to his parents at Roswell, said to-day: "It will be a short time at the most, I think, before Mr. Collins will be placed in charge of the assessor's office. He shall have it if it takes the whole territory to give it to him, because it is his rightfully under the law."

Governor Hagerman also confirmed the statement that he would appoint Capt. W. G. Pritchard as attorney general of the territory.

COULD NOT KEEP UP.

Broken Down, Like Many Another Woman, with Exhausting Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. A. Taylor, of Wharton, N. J., says: "I had kidney trouble in its most painful and severe form, and the torture I went through now seems to have been almost unbearable. I had backaches, pains in the side and loins, dizzy spells and hot, feverish headaches. There were bearing-down pains, and the kidney secretions passed too frequently and with a burning sensation. They showed sediment. I became discouraged, weak, languid and depressed, so sick and weak that I could not keep up. As doctors did not cure me I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and with such success that my troubles were all gone after using eight boxes, and my strength, ambition and general health is fine."

Dam to Aid Niagara.

It is proposed to build a dam at the foot of Lake Erie in order to supply a more constant volume of water for Niagara falls. Such a dam would be of great benefit to the electric power plants about the falls and an important aid to commerce moving between the four upper lakes and the St. Lawrence river.

The World's Biggest Book.

The biggest book in the world has just been found in the British museum, where, like Turner's pictures in the National gallery, it lay unnoticed many years. The huge volume is a Dutch tome containing maps and descriptions of the world as it was known to the Dutch geographers of 1650. It is as tall as the average man, being five feet ten inches high and four feet eight inches wide. It is superbly bound and decorated with gilt tooling and gold clasps. The gigantic title page is hand-illuminated, the initial letter being gold.

The great volume was presented to King Charles II. before his departure from Holland to come to England to claim the throne in 1660. The book came into the possession of George III, who presented it with his library to the British museum. It is now one of the chief treasures of the museum, almost rivaling in value the Rosetti stone.

To Feed School Children.

The ministry of Campbell-Bannerman has already commenced the redemption of its debt to the British working classes, whose votes gave the Liberals their signal triumph in the recent elections. One of the earliest bills introduced in the House of Commons, at the instance of the labor group, proposes to empower the local authorities, which have now full control of elementary education, to provide meals for the underfed school children of indigent parents. The minister of education at once announced that he would, with the concurrence of his colleagues, endeavor to secure its passage into law during the current session.

GRAND TO LIVE.

And the Last Laugh is Always the Best.

"Six months ago I would have laughed at the idea that there could be anything better for a table beverage than coffee," writes an Ohio woman—"now I laugh to know there is." "Since childhood I drank coffee as freely as any other member of the family. The result was a puny, sickly girl, and as I grew into womanhood I did not gain in health, but was afflicted with heart trouble, a weak and disordered stomach, wrecked nerves and a general breaking down, till last winter, at the age of 38 I seemed to be on the verge of consumption. My friends greeted me with 'How bad you look! What a terrible color!' and this was not very comforting.

"The doctors and patent medicines did me absolutely no good. I was thoroughly discouraged.

"Then I gave up coffee and commenced Postum Food Coffee. At first I didn't like it, but after a few trials and following the directions exactly, it was grand. It was refreshing and satisfying. In a couple of weeks I noticed a great change. I became stronger, my brain grew clearer, I was not troubled with forgetfulness as in coffee times, my power of endurance was more than doubled. The heart trouble and indigestion disappeared and my nerves became steady and strong.

"I began to take an interest in things about me. Housework and home-making became a pleasure. My friends have marveled at the change and when they inquire what brought it about, I answer 'Postum Food Coffee, and nothing else in the world.'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

HAD HEART PAINS

A Critical Case of Rheumatism Cured By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. While Mr. W. S. Geisel, of No. 125 East Coates street, Moberly, Mo., was steadily working at his trade in a foundry at that place, he became the victim of an attack of rheumatism, and his experience is that of thousands who are compelled to work in similar surroundings. He describes his situation as follows:

"I had been at work for a long time in a foundry where I was exposed to dampness. First my feet began to hurt and to swell, then my knees and my shoulder joints began to be affected in the same way. Finally I could not walk without great difficulty and suffering and had to stop work altogether. My appetite was feeble and I grew very pale and weak. I began to have pains about my heart and it fluttered a great deal. I became greatly alarmed about my condition. My mother knew about the virtues of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they had given her back her health when she was nearly wasting to death, and when she found that they were good for rheumatism too, she began to give them to me about a month after I was attacked. That was in the early part of March, 1903, and by June they had driven away the pains and swelling and had restored my appetite and color. Then I felt strong enough to take up a line of outdoor work and now, in October, I regard myself as entirely well and I am about to go into a foundry again at St. Louis."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills also cure other diseases springing from impure blood or disordered nerves, such as sciatica, locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis and all forms of weakness in male or female. They may be had at all druggists or directly from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Monkeys at University.

"Monkey talk" is to be added to the curriculum of the University of Chicago. Cages are now in readiness for about thirty simians being imported for a novel experiment which will be conducted until definite results are obtained. The plan is to go thoroughly into the question of whether or not monkeys have a distinct language—one that may be mastered by humans. It is said the monkeys will be subjected to a series of experiments, pain, joy, hunger. In each instance a record will be kept of their expressions. The experiments will be repeated often enough to determine if the same expressions are used to voice the same emotion, and if this proves the case, the sounds will be classified and an alphabet worked out.

Panama Is All Right. Contrary to some reports which have been sent to the United States regarding the general condition prevailing in Panama, according to a letter from Preston King, Jr., formerly of Steamboat Springs, the Americans now in that country are in good health and there is little or no discontent among the people. Mr. King, who is now engaged as a civil engineer, writes from Bohem to a friend in Denver, concerning the white inhabitants on the isthmus. Mr. King states there are few of the small number, however, he says most of them are enjoying good health and are suffering no ill-effects from the climate. This statement contradicts in some respects dispatches which have been sent from the Panama country, many reports having been heralded of deaths from disease and lack of substantial nourishment. Mr. King speaks encouragingly of the conditions, and for his own part makes no complaint of illness.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN. Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From this Sad and Costly Experience. It is a sad but certain fact that every year brings a noticeable increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect. Every one of these patients, had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, pelvic catarrh, dizziness, flatulency, displacements or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not heeded the trouble may make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness, at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

Miss Luella Adams, of Seattle, Wash., writes: "About two years ago I was a great sufferer from a severe female trouble, pains and headaches. The doctor prescribed for me and finally told me that I had a tumor and must undergo an operation if I wanted to get well. I felt that this was my death warrant, but I spent hundreds of dollars for medical help, but the tumor kept growing. Fortunately I corresponded with an aunt in the New England States, and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was said to cure tumors. I did so immediately began to improve in health, and I was entirely cured, the tumor disappearing entirely, without an operation. I wish every suffering woman would try this great preparation."

Just as surely as Miss Adams was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from female troubles, inflammation, kidney troubles, nervous excitability or nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

The Albuquerque Journal and Industrial Advertiser will each receive additional advertisement through libel suits begun at the instance of J. W. Reynolds, territorial secretary, for articles derogatory to that gentleman while seeking confirmation in the office which he now holds. Instituting libel suits against newspapers is a good deal like handling frozen plain powder with hot tongs. One can't always tell whether the stuff is going to quietly go up in blue flame or jar you with a sudden detonation.

Capt. Arthur T. Freilord of the United States military prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, has been appointed superintendent of the New Mexico penitentiary by Gov. Hagerman, to fill the vacancy caused by the obligatory resignation of H. O. Bursum. Just what the governor has gone outside the territory for a man to fill this important post is best known to himself, although he has expressed a desire to have some one who is not too much hampered with political or private business.

The Santa Fe Eagle after being put through its roost and hloro formed by H. J. Loomis, its trainer, several years ago, has lately been aroused from its comatose state by that gentleman and is now screaming as loudly and shrilly as ever. And the wonder is, if long nap hasn't improved either its pitch, or its instincts. However, it is not so much to blame for being a little off on politics, owing to the mixed conditions in that line in and around the Ancient Roost.

BEVERIDGE THE GREAT.

From The New York Times.

"We have thought of the whole American people and what was just to, and best for them. Aye, and we have thought of the people of the territories themselves and what was best and just for them." The Hon. Albert Jeremiah Beveridge.

The whole American people, aye, and the people of the territories, don't know what is best and just for them. Mr. Beveridge does. As he says: "The thought has been planted in the minds of the people," and mighty rocky ground it seems to have fallen on. "Arizona the Great," cries Mr. Beveridge, meaning thereby Arizona swallowed up by New Mexico. In spite of Beveridge the Great, Arizona the Great seems destined to remain a vision, illuminating the convolutions of Indiana's Grand Young Man. Hear his modest, impersonal account of the genesis of the vision:

"The idea of Arizona the Great—of joint statehood for Arizona and New Mexico—like all great measures of statesmanship, did not originate with any one mind. Like most great measures of statesmanship, it was the composite result of the thought of many minds, and those the ablest minds in the legislative world—the oldest, wisest, most experienced men in legislative life."

Ablest, wisest, most experienced. The yell falls off. The originator of this great measure is disclosed.

TO THE LAND OF SUNSHINE.

A new 1906 edition of this book is now being sent out by the Territorial Board of Immigration. It has sprung mainly from the fertile brain of Col. Max Frost, ably assisted in the way of statistics by Paul F. A. Walter. The New Mexican issues the book in a manner that would do credit to any publishing house in the land. The only improvement that might be suggested would be that the title on the cover be done in gold letter.

The volume consists of 446 pages, every alternate one being a reproduction of some photograph of New Mexico life or scenery, thus bringing before the reader some of the different points of interest in all sections of the Sunshine Territory in panoramic view.

It would be hard for any one to make the literary matter in the book any more concise and to the point than has been done in this handy volume. It tells the whole story of the Sunshine Territory and does it well, in terse description and beautiful illustrations.

No other state or territory has ever issued anything that will compare with it in the way of artistic arrangement, or has shown such a wealth of varied resources. It is the distribution of just such matter as this by the Bureau of Immigration that has turned the tide of homeseekers this way, and which is filling up our territory with industrious and progressive citizens.

No matter how much people may differ with Col. Max Frost in other matters, they must admit that in his long and tireless efforts for the upbuilding of the territory he has proved himself a worthy citizen, and a public benefactor.

The very fact that our democratic friends, during these days when Gov. Hagerman is trying to adjust his administration to a new line of action, have not alluded to the officials who have retired in lurid headlines as: "The Barnacles Are Being Topped Off" is pretty good evidence that they consider them not such a bad lot after all.

WHY SO SAD?

One of our daily exchanges heads an article: "Coffin makers take a gloomy view of trade."

This reminds one of that poem of Bobby Burns in which Death complains most bitterly of one, Dr. Hornbrook, who by his medical skill had seriously crippled the business of the gentleman who is supposed to go around divested of his avoirdupois, in search of victims.

If these funeral furniture manufacturers will only take a more cheerful view of the matter and compose their souls in patience long enough they may receive the patronage of all of us except what the railroads cremate, as they did up in Colorado a few weeks ago, or what comes not out of the wreckage from bad handling of vessels on the ocean. With them the motto is reversed so as to read: "As long as there is death there is hope."
