THE DUTY OF FARMERS.
Carefully Examine All Questions of a Political or National Character.
Senator Stanford's Scheme for the Relief of the People Means More Money and Lower Interest.

Alliance Voice, Schoolcraft, Mich.
At the request of some of the readers of the Voice, we publish the bill of Senator Stanford's, called the land loan bureau. This is one of the questions for the relief of the farmers that is being generally agitated at the present time and ought to be carefully read and discussed by farmers, especially at the Alliance meetings. As we have said before, we believe it to be the duty of the farmers to carefully examine all questions of a political or national character and come to their own conclusions whether it is best for the interests of the majority of the people to adopt or reject them, and not be governed and influenced in their political action by office-seekers, political demagogues and monopoly newspapers as has been the case for many years.

This, as well as other questions of a similar character, will be strongly favored by some and as strongly opposed by others. To farmers badly in debt it would seem to be a bonanza, while the money-lending class see something dreadful in it. We are anxious to see the farmers of this country get out of debt, and are satisfied that the price of farm products must increase, or interest and taxation decrease before this can be accomplished. But just what is the best and safest course to pursue, for all interested, is not easy to solve.

Two conditions we believe are absolutely necessary to make better times.
More money in circulation and lower interest. This will not be brought about as long as the money-lending class has the control of the amount of money in circulation. We think it would be well for farmers to consider the different methods proposed for their benefit, examine both sides of the question, and probably out of the investigation something may be proposed that may be safe and bring about the desired result.

Wordy debates may be looked for most any day in the House sessions.
The list of speakers is increasing in the People's element in this body, which is destined to be historic in Kansas annals.—Advocate.

The money power holds it to be perfectly constitutional for the government to loan money to corporations, induce the bonds of corporations and pay interest to them, all for the purpose of swelling the coffers of wealth. But to loan the farmer money on his land, or wheat, or corn, or cotton, would be death and destruction to the constitution.— Statesman, Chicago, Kan.

Inflation.
More money! Call it inflation, if you please. But this is what the people want and must have. Through-all the west and north this is a foregone conclusion that has become well settled in the public mind, and there is no mistaking it. But the cry of "inflation," at this late day, will not do. It is a copious, specious and unreliable, for all present purposes.
Its day has passed and it will not scarcely worth a cent.

Let it be observed that Kansas is the only state in the union which made a clear, distinct, independent fight upon the St. Louis platform, by a political union of the industrial forces of the state, and it is the only state in the union that can to-day point to a decided clean cut victory.
The result affords an object lesson worthy of careful study by those who may be hesitating in their decision respecting the best policy to pursue in the future.—Advocate.

Local News.

The Banner is little but "gritty" this week. The "devil" being the only editor it has here.

We are forced to get out a half sheet this week on the account of our paper falling to get here.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jose Chavez, last Monday evening, a bouncing big boy. Mother and son doing well.

The beautiful weather for the past few days makes one, who is hemmed up in a print shop, wish he could be out and enjoy it.

We are informed that Frank Gibbons has sold his interest in the Anchor horse and cow ranch to the Provost Bros., who took charge the 1st of this month.

Some of the young folks of Nogal were royally entertained by Mrs. P. G. L. last Sunday evening who gave them some choice selections on the piano.

We are informed by Willie Henley, who just returned from Tolareco, where he went to ride the Charlie Moss race horse, that the race was won by Moss.

Tommy, in charge of wagon master, Russell, from Fort Stanton, passed thro' Nogal on the way to Carthage for a car load of beer that is to go to the post canteen.

We received a letter from the boss last week. He was at Upper Pecos at the time of writing a message from there to Nogal and would stop at any place of note he might see on his road, and would probably be at home by next Saturday or Sunday.

PERSONALS.

M. D. and A. L. Gaylord went to Lincoln this week to attend court.

O. H. Vell, of Fort Stanton, was in town last Thursday on his way to the railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Ellis, of the I. X. ranch, passed through town last Monday on the way to Lincoln.

A. M. Eastman returned from White Oaks one day last week. He and Bro. Allen are old comrades.

D. P. Brown is having a large curral built around his barn and will soon have his pump and windmill in operation.

Mr. J. J. Stone left last Sunday evening for Lincoln where he was summoned as a witness on a case pending in court there.

T. J. Moore and wife, of the Galada country, were in town last week. Mrs. Moore had some dental work done while here.

Mrs. L. W. Beane, son and daughter, of the Dunite, came over last Saturday and spent Sunday with Mr. John Oltman and family.

Billy Bourne, of Dunite, was a pleasant caller at the Banner office Monday. He informed us of a wedding over there last Wednesday evening.

Overfit D. W. Roberts, in company with Dr. A. A. Bearup, was in town last week on their way to White Oaks. They said the world had been doing them very lately.

E. D. Parsons, of Patterson, Kansas, arrived on the stage last Saturday. He was enroute to Lincoln where he has business concerning the Hospital case at Parsons city.

Mrs. Josh Hale, of the Dodson, was in town last week looking for a lady to take charge of her kitchen. She succeeded in getting Miss Becky Henley to accept the situation.

Mrs. J. C. Estbanks and daughter, of Parsons, were guests at the Plaza hotel last Friday and took the stage for White Oaks the same evening where they will spend a week or more.

T. S. Herdick, a dentist, has been stopping at the Plaza hotel for several days the past week. He has had about all the work he could do and has given general satisfaction to all his patients.

Mr. M. M. Gaylord was the recipient of a present in the shape of a newspaper, one day last week, which was a surprise to him as well as to all who saw it. It was a copy of The Saturday Evening Post printed in Philadelphia, June 18, 1893. The paper showed a splendid make-up and did not carry a single advertisement.

The Farmers and Liberty Banner.

LINCOLN, N. M. FEB. 23, 1891.

Ma. Emron: While you have as subscribers many good farmers on your list there are yet many who, for various reasons, do not take the Banner. Business men as a rule have subscribed liberally, recognizing it to be a farmers enterprise with the sole object of bettering the producers condition, in view, and knowing when the farmers prosper their business is more flourishing. They of course wish the paper success.

The paper when started by the Alliance was not intended for the order alone but was, and is yet, intended not only to promulgate the Alliance principles and demands of the order but to be devoted to the grand welfare of the country in which it is published. It was not the intention to devote much space to show the farmer how to propagate pumpkins and turnips, but it was the object of the paper to teach the farmers their duty as citizens. The Banner was not intended as a money making scheme, if such had been the case, we would not have put the subscription price at $1.00 per annum. Knowing that the education of the farmers and laborers was the only hope for the relief of our class, it was the object and hope that the Banner should reach every household in this county, among the farmers at least. So it is to that class we appeal to sustain the paper, by their moral and financial support, we need your co-operation in this enterprise, and you will get your reward in the shape of needed information.

We as a class are in a sad fix, and it will require an earnest effort to right the wrongs under which we groan, the result of our own pig headedness. How many farmers really understand why times are so hard with us while hundreds of men at the same time are piling up fortunes by speculation, men too, that never produce a dollar's worth of real value, but live in luxury with their heels on the table reading the daily papers, while it is nip and tuck with the average farmer, working hard twelve hours a day, six days in a week to keep the wolf from the door.

In working for the Banner last year I found several farmers who complained that they could not take the paper, times too hard, they said, could not spare a dollar yet they were hard working men who put in every hour that was light, requiring their wives and children also to help make a living. They wanted the paper, but they couldn't afford it. They seem to be ignorant of the fact, that there is another art, called human loaches who are waxing rich from them and their children's toil, they don't read nor think, therefore have no idea of the real amount they have produced. The speculator knows and he gets it too, that's why he lives so easy and has all the comforts while he has earned nothing. I want to say to the producers one and all, that it is the mission of the Banner, to show you where all your dollars go; to lay bare the vicious systems by which you are robbed, how your minds are befogged by oily tongued men and partisan papers, and why you should throw petty bickerings to the wind and come together as brothers in a common cause for self protection.

The great revolution is upon us. The toilers are boldly asserting their rights all over the land, and, though poverty stricken are pushing forward with determination, for justice. Every man and woman that labors is concerned in this struggle, and should lead a helping hand; our indifference to this reform movement is sending thousands to pauper graves, and their children to the penitentiary, asylums and prisons. Many say there must be something done, but don't know what to do. Throw your partisan papers to the fire, take and read the papers carefully that are exposing the unjust and dangerous systems, and educate upon the people by class legislation; learn how it is done and who has done it. It will put you to thinking in the right line, that will tell you who really is best, the remedy is not in getting up and making banners of our trade, that idea has been captured by people doing their own thinking; lately the trouble lays in the rotten systems, which give the land plowed, the grain, and we are left the shabby, for our toil and stupidity.

J. N. C.

The Capitol removal bill, was defeated in the house by a vote of 14 to 10.

We have received a copy of The Alliance Review. As might be expected, is full of good information for the farmer and laboring class generally. It is published at Kiowa, Kansas. Terms one dollar a year.

Senator Stanford says he receives an average of two hundred letters a day commending the bill he introduced in the senate by which money can be borrowed from the government on land at 2 per cent. per annum.

We would insist upon every eligible person joining the Alliance, as every honest member "helps the cause along," help the cause which will help you. But there are so many who fail to see this, and are opposed to the order because they think there is nothing in it. This kind of people are working against their own and every other laboring man's interest.

Give Us Justice.

"Give us justice" is the cry from the earth's toiling masses. Will the cry ever be heard by either of the political parties? Has either ever given evidence of heeding the cry? For us to get justice both old parties must agree on the principles of justice. Have they ever let the party line down enough to agree upon any issue coming from the masses? Yes, they let the strict party line fall and united in the cry of "unconstitutional" when they met our substitute treasury bill. They stand as one party in trying to 'defame the good name of our noble leaders. Let the cry of, Give us justice! come from every honest heart and be backed by every honest vote, though it sink the unfaithful old parties and their corrupt leaders to the lowest depth of oblivion. Then let us come to the rescue of our oppressed loved ones, on the grand platform of justice to all, and no favored few in Wall street or anywhere else. Free coinage of silver will do the masses no good; it will only enrich those that own the bullion. Give us a currency of any material bearing the stamp of the United States government sufficient to do the business of the nation. It is not the yellow metal that gives the gold coin value; it is the imprint of Uncle Sam's thumb-nail. So if the favored few own the bullion, just let Uncle Sam stick his fist to a few sheets and call them greenback dollars, and say, by way of parenthesis that he will receive them back on all debts, public and private, and loan them to us farmers, and all will go well. Just look: (Pay-rent-hes.) It will pay taxes and rent and buy hog and hominy for those that are hungry and cold. So hush about the McKinley tariff, it is not a party measure, but to the combined parties' measure. I don't believe in the Alliance men tearing off from old political rottenness and forming a new administration of just men made perfect by Alliance principles. We need Alliance men (honest) all along the line—Alliance men in the House to start the measure; Alliance men in the Senate to confirm; an Alliance man as President to give the finishing touch—Alliance men to execute that, and that alone, will give us justice.

The Alliance has now reached the danger line of its existence. It is too strong to be injured, and its principles are too just to be fairly and openly contested. Trickery and special pleadings on the part of its enemies are the only effective weapons that can now be used. The order should be prepared for this, and remember that unity of action and faith in each other is the only defense against such attacks. Let the membership stand together as one man, and make the fight for home and family.—The National Economist.
